

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I transmit herewith the Ninth Annual Report of the Commissioner of Labor. This report relates entirely to building and loan associations in the United States.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,

Washington, May 1, 1894.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR,
Washington, D. C., May 1, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith the Ninth Annual Report of the Commissioner of Labor.

This report relates entirely to building and loan associations, and all other associations having for their purpose the objects of building and loan associations as they exist in the United States.

In submitting this report I desire to acknowledge the valuable services of Mr. Oren W. Weaver, the chief clerk of the Department; Mr. G. Wallace W. Hanger, who has had charge of the tabulation of returns; Mr. M. D. Mull, who has worked out the different plans for the distribution of profits, Mr. A. Hildebrand, who has performed a like service as regards the premium plans, and Mr. V. H. Olmsted, who analyzed and prepared the withdrawal plans, and with Mr. S. D. Fessenden compiled the laws of the various states relating to building and loan associations. The Department was fortunate in securing the interest and services of Mr. Michael J. Brown, of Philadelphia, who has been interested in building and loan associations for many years and who saved the Department a great deal of labor in the collection of addresses of associations. State and national bodies, consisting of delegates from various associations, were of great service in the conduct of the investigation through resolutions adopted urging constituent bodies to furnish information as called for by the agents and experts of the Department.

Besides preparing this annual report, during the past year the Department has been engaged upon two special reports, one relating to the housing of labor and the other relating to the social statistics of cities, an investigation ordered by Congress. These reports will be forwarded to you in a few weeks. The field force of the Department is now engaged in collecting statistics relating to strikes and lockouts, the results of which, should they be gathered in time, will form the Tenth Annual Report. The Third Annual Report was devoted to that subject, comprehending data from 1881 to 1886, inclusive. The pending investigation will bring the record of strikes and lockouts down to June 30, 1894.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

CARROLL D. WRIGHT,

Commissioner.

The PRESIDENT.

INTRODUCTION.

INTRODUCTION.

Building and loan associations have existed in this country since about 1840, although the first organization of the kind of which there is any record was organized at Frankford, a suburb of Philadelphia, January 3, 1831, under the title of the Oxford Provident Building Association (a); but the decade from 1840 to 1850 can be considered as being the real period for the permanent inception of such associations. It is not essential in this place to trace the history of the origin, growth, and spread of these associations, for such historical data have been given in the works cited. The chief purpose of the investigation was to ascertain the financial and economic conditions accompanying these associations, the magnitude of the business conducted, and such facts as would tend to enlighten the public on a unique private banking business, of which but little has been known beyond the mere knowledge of the existence of such institutions.

In this investigation the term building and loan association has been used in a general sense, although institutions covered by the investigation and having like purposes, methods, and processes of business have various names—among others, mutual loan associations, homestead aid associations, savings fund and loan associations, cooperative banks, cooperative savings and loan associations, and other similar titles. The object of the building and loan association, using the term as stated to cover all kindred organizations, is to furnish a safe means for the accumulation of savings, accompanied with an opportunity to secure money at reasonable rates for the purpose of building homes. Mr. Charles N. Thompson, in his Treatise on Building Associations, gives a very excellent definition of the organizations under consideration. He says:

The building association as now existing is a private corporation designed for the accumulation by the members of their money by periodical payments into its treasury, to be invested from time to time in loans to the members upon real estate for home purposes, the borrowing members paying interest and a premium as a preference in securing loans over other members, and continuing their fixed periodical instalments in addition, all of which payments, together with the non-borrower's payments, including fines for failure to pay such fixed instalments, forfeitures for such continued failure of such payments, fees for transferring stock, membership fees required upon the entrance of the member into the society, and such other revenues, go into the common fund until such time as that the instalment payments and profits aggregate the face value of all the shares in the association, when the assets, after payment of expenses and losses are prorated among all members, which, in legal effect, cancels the borrower's debt and gives the non-borrower the amount of his stock.

a See How to Manage Building Associations, by Edmund Rigley, published in 1873; also, A Treatise on Cooperative Savings and Loan Associations, by Seymour Dexter, New York: D. Appleton & Co., 1891; and A Treatise on Building Associations, Adapted to the Use of Lawyers and Officers, by Charles N. Thompson, Chicago: Callaghan & Co., 1892.

It is seen, therefore, that every member of a building and loan association must be a stockholder; but the difference between a stockholder in such an association and that in an ordinary corporation for usual business purposes lies in the fact that in the latter the member or stockholder buys his stock and pays for it at once, and usually is not called upon for any further payment. His profits, or the results of his investment in such stock, are derived through dividends, the value of the shares depending upon the successful operation of the business. They often go above par when the corporation is doing a profitable business, and the value often drops far below par when disasters come. In the building and loan association, on the contrary, the stockholder or member pays a stipulated minimum sum, say one dollar, when he takes his membership and buys a share of stock. He then continues to pay a like sum each month until the aggregate of sums paid, augmented by the profits, amounts to the maturing value of the stock, usually $200, and at this time the stockholder is entitled to the full maturing value of the share and surrenders the same. It is seen clearly, then, that the capital of a building and loan association consists of the combined savings of its members, paid to the association upon shares of stock, increased by the interest and premium which the association has received from loans made by it from the savings of its members thus paid to the association, and from all other sources of income. The amount of the capital of the association, therefore, increases from month to month and from year to year (a). Shares are usually issued in series. When a second series is issued the issue of the stock of the prior series ceases. Profits are distributed and losses apportioned before a new series issues. The term during which a series is open for subscription differs, but it usually extends over three or six months and sometimes a year. Prior to the maturing of a share it has two values. One is called the holding or book value and the other the withdrawal value. The former is ascertained by adding all the dues that have been paid to the profits that have accrued; that is to say, the holding value is the actual value of a share at any particular time. The withdrawal value, on the contrary, is that amount which an association is willing to pay to a shareholder who desires to sever his connection with the association prior to the date at which his share will mature. Every association has full regulations on all such matters, as well as on matters pertaining to expenses, notice of withdrawal, and all the methods and processes necessary for the safe conduct of the business. The purchase of a share binds the shareholder to the necessity of keeping up his dues, and thus secures to him not only all the benefits of a savings bank but the benefit of constantly accruing compounded interest. This accomplishes the first feature of the motive of a building and loan association. The second is that of enabling a man to borrow money for building purposes.

Ordinarily, a shareholder who desires to build a house and has secured a lot for that purpose may borrow money from the association of which he is a member. Suppose a man who has secured his lot wishes to borrow $1,000 for the erection of a house. He must be the holder of five shares in his association, each share having as its maturing value $200. His five shares, therefore, when matured, would be worth $1,000, the amount of money which he desires to borrow. The process by which he can borrow this money differs from that of borrowing money from savings and other moneyed institutions. In a building and loan association the money is put up at auction usually in open meeting on the night or at the time of the payment of dues. Those who wish to borrow bid a premium above the regular rate of interest charged, and the one who bids the highest premium is awarded the loan. The man who wishes to build his house, therefore, and desires to borrow $1,000, must have five shares of stock in the association, must bid the highest premium, and then the $1,000 will be loaned him. To secure this $1,000 he gives the association a mortgage on his property and pledges his five shares of stock. To cancel this debt he is constantly paying his monthly or semi-monthly dues, until such time as the constant payment of dues, plus the accumulation of profits through compounded interest, matures the shares at $200 each. At this time, then, he surrenders his shares and the debt upon his property is cancelled.

The question as to whether this method of obtaining money for the building of homes is more or less economical than that of obtaining it from the ordinary savings banks or through private money lenders will be taken up later on. What has been said is simply for the purpose of showing what a building and loan association is, and briefly how its business is conducted. It will be seen at once, from what has just been said, that investment in a building and loan association is as nearly absolutely safe as it can be, for the monthly dues and the accumulated profits, which give the active capital of the association, are loaned, or sold as it is termed by the association, as fast as they accumulate. They are immediately loaned upon real estate, or upon the stock of the association itself. The opportunities for embezzlement, therefore, or for shrinkage of securities, are reduced to the minimum, and the almost absolute safety of the investment secured. This will appear more clearly in the analysis of the general tables.

The growth of these associations in the United States has been very rapid since 1840, and their accumulated assets have increased to an enormous amount. These private corporations, doing a semi-banking business, conducted by men not trained as bankers, offer a study in finance not equalled by any other institutions. England, France, and some other countries have kindred institutions, but nowhere have they grown to such vast proportions as in the United States.

The investigation, the results of which are now under consideration, comprehends practically all building and loan associations in the United States. An effort was made to secure the facts for these associations as they existed at the end of their respective fiscal years nearest to January 1, 1903. In a few cases, however, this was not possible, and the facts for an earlier or later fiscal year were taken instead.

The number of associations considered in the preparation of the tabular statements in this report was 5,838, of which 5,598 were local and 240 national. A presentation of these associations, distributed according to states and territories and showing the per cent of the local and the national in each state and territory and in the United States, immediately follows :

In addition to the associations from which the data have been received that constitute the body of this report, the Department has information of the existence of some others. From a very few of these some details were obtained, but from most of them nothing. The information as to the existence even of most of them is from hearsay only. They are unimportant, being either newly formed or feeble. Nearly all are supposed to be local. The following statement shows the number of these associations in the various states and territories:

Alabama, 2; California, 1; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 16; Indiana, 8; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 4; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 6; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 3; Minnesota, 2; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 1; Montana, 2; Nebraska, 3; North Carolina, 1; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 3; Oklahoma, 1; Pennsylvania, 23; Utah, 1; Vermont, 1; Virginia, 2; West Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 1; Wyoming, 2. Total, 91.

The preceding table shows that reports were obtained from 5,838 associations in all, including locals and nationals. Bringing the general results of the investigation into as brief a space as possible, we have the following statement:

The total dues paid in on instalment shares in force plus the profits on the same of the building and loan associations of the country, as stated, amount to $450,667,594. A business represented by this great sum, conducted quietly, with little or no advertising, and, as stated, without the experienced banker in charge, shows that the common people, in their own ways, are quite competent to take care of their savings, especially when it is known that but 35 of the associations now in existence showed a net loss at the end of their last fiscal year and that this loss amounted to only $23,332.20. Of course, associations disband for the want of business or from some other cause, but when they disband loss does not occur, because the whole business of the association consists of its loans, and these loans are to its own shareholders, as a rule, who hold the securities in their associated forms. A disbanded association, therefore, simply returns to its own members their own property.

The terms local and national have been used. A local building and loan association and a national building and loan association conduct their business under substantially the same method. The local association, however, confines its operations to a small community, usually to the county in which located, while the national operates on a large scale, extending its business enterprise far beyond the borders of its own state even. The national is ready usually to make loans on property anywhere and sell its shares to any person without reference to his residence. At the present time the prejudice which has existed for many years against nationals is being overcome, and they are conducting their business, as a rule, with the same integrity that the locals display in the conduct of their affairs. There is a jealousy, to some extent, between locals and nationals; but with proper laws in every state to regulate, control, and supervise both nationals and locals, as savings banks and all other banks are regulated and supervised, there ought to be little or no trouble in securing the honest administration of their affairs. Some states bring their building and loan associations under the same general supervision of law thrown around savings banks. New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, and some other states, as will be seen by the compilation of laws relating to building and loan associations published at the close of this work, require such associations to make annual returns in the same manner as savings banks. In other states, however, nothing is officially known of the building and loan associations beyond the formalities of their incorporation.

The states where supervision exists have reports, but no report relating to the whole country has been published prior to this one. There had been private investigations of the methods of conducting building and loan associations and of the facts relative to their business, but these have been based, so far as figures are concerned, largely upon estimates. It has been thought wise, therefore, in the interest of labor, to ascertain for public use all the leading facts surrounding the building and loan associations of the country. The object has not been to furnish the opportunity of ascertaining the financial stability or standing of any particular association or to certify the condition of any such organization, but to furnish the public with the aggregate facts, both financial and economic, the character of associations, whether they are adhering to their original purpose, the class of people that patronize them, and all the leading points of interest and of value surrounding them.

The names of all the associations, together with the date of organization, designation as local or national, as permanent, terminating, or serial, the number of shareholders, male, and female, and total, the number of borrowers, the number of shares in force, and number of real estate loans for each association are given in Table I of the general tables. It was not thought wise to give all the other facts in detail for each association by name, for two reasons, the first being that many associations furnished the Department with information on the understanding or under the promise that all such facts should be considered confidential, and further, because in some states it was exceedingly difficult to secure any information on account of pending legislation looking to the taxing of building and loan associations. While, therefore, it would have been very desirable, from some points of view, to publish all the facts contained in this report for each association by name, the foregoing reasons have prevented such publication. The method adopted, therefore, has been to give the names and facts just enumerated in Table I, and then to summarize all the other facts relating to building and loan associations into totals for each state.

The number of associations in each state given in this report will not always be the same as that given in state reports. The variation, however, is probably very slight in any instance, and comes from the fact that a different fiscal year has been used, or from the fact that some associations have been abandoned and some organized since a state report was issued. The Department of Labor has not taken into consideration the abandoned associations, and therefore can not expect its statements as to numbers to tally at all times with local reports.

GENERAL TABLES.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL TABLES.

This chapter is devoted to the presentation and analysis of the general tables relating to building and loan associations. Chapter II presents, in tabular form, certain facts derived from the schedules used in this investigation but not included in the general tables. These general tables are sixteen in number and are designated as follows:

- I.—Name, locality, and description of associations.
- II.—Number and kind of associations.
- III.—Number of series.
- IV.—Number of shares.
- V.—Shares held outside of state.
- VI.—Number and sex of shareholders.
- VII.—Associations classified as to shareholders.
- VIII.—Associations classified as to borrowers.
- IX.—Shareholders and borrowers.
- X.—Associations classified as to total real estate loans.
- XI.—Homes and other buildings acquired by borrowers during the lives of the associations.
- XII.—Mortgages foreclosed during the lives of the associations.
- XIII.—Associations classified as to total stock loans.
- XIV.—Associations classified as to dues and profits.
- XV.—Assets and liabilities.
- XVI.—Classified occupations of shareholders in certain representative associations.

These tables will be taken up seriatim.

Table I.—Name, locality, and description of associations, pp. 32 to 279.—In this table the associations are taken up separately and arranged alphabetically under the states, counties, and cities or towns in which located. Nearly always the exact legal and official names of associations are used, but occasionally, for the sake of brevity or for other reasons, slight changes are made. They are believed, however, to be sufficiently distinctive in every case. In the column showing the date of organization has been given, as nearly as possible, the date on which the associations began business. In a few instances where this date was not known the date of incorporation has been given in its stead. The next column shows the scope of the associations, describing them as local or national. The associations are further described as regards the three plans of issuing shares, the serial, the permanent or perpetual, and the terminating. These plans are described as follows in the work, A Treatise on Cooperative Savings and Loan Associations, by Seymour Dexter:

In the primitive building associations of Philadelphia there was but a single series of stock issued; every person taking shares of stock, subsequent to the date of the first issue of shares, was obliged to pay back dues in order to be in the same position he would have been had he taken his stock at the date of the first issue, so that each shareholder paid the same amount per share into the association regardless of the time when he took his shares. The money was loaned only to shareholders. Inasmuch as only one series of stock was issued the lifetime of the association was limited to the time that it took for the shares to reach their matured value. This scheme necessarily involved the condition that every shareholder remaining in the association at the time the stock matured must be a borrower to the amount of the matured value of shares held by him. Let us make this clear. Suppose the charter of the association limited the number of shares it could issue to five hundred, and that during its lifetime it had issued that number. After the payment of its running expenses the funds received could be used for only two purposes, namely, the making of loans to its own members and paying shareholders who withdrew. Suppose that of the five hundred shares issued three hundred had been withdrawn, leaving two hundred outstanding when attaining their matured value. Assume the shares were $200 each at their matured value. Now, two hundred shares at $200 each is $40,000. Before the shares can be matured the association must have $40,000 of assets. The assets consist of the money due from the shareholders to the association upon loans. As no shareholder can borrow a larger sum than the matured value of the shares held by him, it follows that no shareholder can owe the association for borrowed money a larger sum than the association will owe him when his shares of stock have matured; therefore, each shareholder must owe the association a sum equal to that which the association will owe him upon his matured shares. The only limitation or exception to this statement of the case will arise in reference to the dues paid at the last meeting. The amount of those dues will not have been borrowed and will be due to some shareholder or shareholders in excess of the amount owing by him or them to the association.

But as the association progresses from year to year towards the maturity of its stock, it might not happen that there are shareholders who desired to borrow. What then? It would not do to have the dues paid in from month to month remain uninvested; no profits would accrue, and the result would be unsatisfactory. Under the scheme of a single series the association has the power to compel shareholders to borrow the funds. They are called forced loans; and their articles of association and bylaws determine who should become the borrower when there are no shareholders wishing to borrow.

This scheme is known as the terminating plan. It involves three serious defects which it was very desirable to obviate, namely, the dissolution of the association when the stock matured; the large amount of back dues which the new stockholder would have to pay who took stock after the association had been running for some time, and, lastly, the making of forced loans—that is, compelling the shareholder to become a borrower whether he wanted to do so or not.

To overcome these defects the serial scheme was developed. Under this scheme a new series of stock was issued at the beginning of each fiscal year, or half-yearly. In some instances series have been issued quarterly, and even oftener.

This is known as the serial plan. This change in the scheme obviated two of the defects in the single series scheme. It permitted the association to become perpetual, and it furnished a new series of stock so often that one taking stock at any time in the current series did not have a large amount of back dues to pay to place him in the same situation that he would have been had he taken his shares at the first. As a matter of practical experience the serial plan also obviates, except in rare cases, the third defect. It permits of the accession of new stockholders, who become such for the express purpose of becoming borrowers. In the single series scheme, when an association had become two or more years old, the amount of back dues that they would have to pay on their stock in order to become shareholders, so that they might become borrowers, was a serious obstacle; while under the serial plan, the amount was not large at any time. In a well-managed association, having the confidence of the community, there is usually no difficulty in finding those who wish to borrow the funds. But the scheme provides a mode to obviate an accumulation of funds that can not be loaned by providing a mode for compelling withdrawals. In the serial scheme it is deemed advisable, when a series matures, to have but comparatively few outstanding free shares.

Hence, it is deemed a wise policy to encourage withdrawals in series approaching maturity. This is accomplished by increasing the percentage of profits which the withdrawing shareholder is allowed as the series approaches its maturity.

In addition to this policy many associations have provided that the withdrawal of stock may be compelled after a series has attained a certain number of years. In the case of a compulsory withdrawal the shareholder is allowed all the profits. The scheme of the Massachusetts cooperative banks has this provision, the number of years being placed at four or more. The scheme of the New York cooperative savings and loan associations has the same provision, and places the age of the series at four years or more.

While it is wise to thus provide a mode for compelling withdrawals, if necessity requires it, to prevent the accumulation of uninvested funds, there will seldom be occasion for an association to avail itself of the provision.

The single series, or terminating plan, has been almost wholly abandoned in localities where these associations have been in operation long. Most of those that remain in such localities were formed years ago, and have not had time to run their course to a natural dissolution by the maturing of their stock.

In some cases where an association is formed upon the serial plan, each series has been conducted separately, as though it was the only series of stock the association had outstanding, thereby making, in effect, as many terminating associations running under one management as there are series issued. This cumbersome mode of conducting the business has arisen from the fact that those who organized and conducted the association did not fully comprehend the proper mode of conducting the business in cases where all the series are run together, forming, in effect, a partnership.

There is still another scheme, which has assumed the name of the permanent plan. Under this scheme stock is issued at any time when there is a demand for it. The largest association in the state of New York, the Homestead Fund Association of Rochester, and the largest in the state of Ohio, the Mutual Home and Savings Association of Dayton, issue their stock upon this scheme. The latter association is one of the oldest, most successful, and largest associations in the United States. This scheme no more deserves the name permanent plan than the serial plan, as both make the existence of the association perpetual.

The columns following the statement of the three plans of issuing shares give for each association the number of male, female, and total shareholders, the number of borrowers, the number of shares in force, and the number of real estate loans.

For the reasons stated in the introduction, no other facts are given for each association by name.

Table II.—Number and kind of associations, pp. 280, 281.—In all the general tables which follow, that is, from table II to XVI, inclusive, the facts are given for local and national associations separately, and both then brought into a total, and under all the groups the facts for each state and territory are summarized, a line being given to each. Table II shows the total associations and the number and per cent operating under each of the three plans of issuing shares—serial, permanent, and terminating—as just described under Table I, by states and territories. This table is in fact a summary, so far as kind of association is concerned, of Table I. It shows that there are 5,598 local associations, of which 3,168, or 56.6 per cent of the whole, are serial, 1,671, or 29.8 per cent of the whole, are permanent, and 759, or 13.6 per cent, are terminating; that of all the associations in the country 240 are nationals, 138, or 57.5 per cent of all the nationals being serial, 101, or 42.1 per cent, being permanent, and only 1 terminating. The whole number, including both locals and nationals, is 5,838, of which 3,306, or 56.6 per cent of the whole, are serial, 1,772, or 30.4 per cent, are permanent, and 760, or 13 per cent of the whole, are terminating.

Examining the total associations, including locals and nationals, it is seen that Pennsylvania leads all the states, having 1,079 associations. This state has but 3 nationals. The state having the next largest number is Ohio, with 721; and Ohio has but 3 nationals. Illinois comes next, with 669 associations of all kinds, 38 of them being nationals. Indiana follows, with 445 associations, 16 of them being nationals. New York ranks next, with 418 in all, 28 of them being national associations. The next largest numbers are found in Missouri, that state having 366 in all; New Jersey, 288; Maryland, 240; Kentucky, 148; California, 133, and Massachusetts, 115. In all the other states the number drops to less than 100. The numbers given for the states, respectively, will not always agree with the numbers reported by each state in its local capacity or through its state officials. This results from the fact that the account taken by the Department of Labor was for a period in most cases differing somewhat from that for which the state officials have given reports, and, furthermore, from the fact that very many companies having names in their incorporation papers which would lead one to consider them building and loan associations, upon examination are found to be entirely different. They are trust companies or associations for the purpose of erecting houses for rental and various other objects, taking them out of the rank of cooperative building and loan associations as such.

The state having the largest number of national associations is Illinois, with 38. It is usually supposed that the home of these associations is in the Northwest, and especially in Minnesota, but this state has only 15. There are several states having more than Minnesota, notably Tennessee, with 17; New York, 28; Missouri, 17; Kentucky, 17, and Indiana, 16. The nationals are distributed through other states in small numbers. The table shows how thoroughly building and loan associations are distributed throughout the country.

Table III.—Number of series, pp. 282, 283.—This table includes serial associations only. By reference to the explanation of the three plans of issuing shares—the serial, permanent, and terminating—in the analysis of Table I preceding, the reasons for the omission of the permanent and terminating associations from consideration in this connection will readily be seen. The table shows the total number of serial associations, and for each the number of series issued, matured, and in force, for each state and territory. The difference between the series issued and matured in certain instances is greater than the series in force, owing to the fact that some series were entirely withdrawn before the maturity of the shares. This table presents the facts for both local and national associations, and it will be seen that at the date of the conclusion of this investigation there had been 38,919 series issued, or an average of 11.8 series to each association, considering locals and nationals together. Of this whole number 5,321 had matured, this being an average of only 1.6 series of shares matured to each association. The number in force at the date named was 33,386, or 10.1 series to each association.

Table IV.—Number of shares, pp. 284 to 287.—This table shows, for each state and territory and for the associations from which a report as to the number of shares could be obtained, the total and average number of shares issued, matured, and in force. The shares in force are classified in the table as free and borrowed on. The free shares are those which have not been used for the purpose of borrowing; that is to say, they are the shares held by the shareholders, who have not borrowed upon them. The shares borrowed on are those which are in the hands of the associations as security for loans made to members, such loans being made either on the shares of the association alone or on shares and real estate as additional security. The facts as to the number of shares are shown in this table for both locals and nationals, and then by a summary for all associations, by which summary it is seen that of the 5,838 associations in the country 4,614 had reported the number of shares issued, the number being 20,455,799, an average of 4,433.4 shares to each association. The number of shares matured was reported by 5,357 associations to be 473,352, or an average of 88.4 matured shares for each association. The number of free shares, as explained, was reported by 5,770 associations, and the total number of such shares was 9,406,347, being an average of 1,630.2 shares to each association. The number of shares upon which loans had been secured was reported by 5,767 associations, the number being 3,649,479, or an average of 632.8 shares for each association. The total number of shares in force, free and borrowed on, was reported by nearly every association, 5,816 associations reporting 13,255,872 shares in force, an average of 2,279.2 shares in force to each association.

In addition to shares for purposes of investment and as security for loans, several associations issue in connection therewith so-called endowment stock. This stock is issued for the benefit of such members as may desire to protect their investments from the consequences of death before the maturity of their stock, and especially for the benefit of borrowing members. Arrangements are made by such associations with a life insurance company, under which the latter guarantees the payment of life insurance in case of death for the full face value of endowment stock held by the member at the time of his death. Members who wish to avail themselves of such advantages must submit to medical examination. In addition to their regular dues such insured members are required to pay an insurance premium graduated according to their age.

Table V.—Shares held outside of state, pp. 288, 289.—A comparison of the second and third columns of this table shows that nearly all associations in the country reported as regards the number of shares each held outside of the state in which it was incorporated or in which it carried on business, but although a very large number reported as to this fact, the great majority of associations reported that no shares were so held. The total number of associations reporting as to the fact have, however, been used as the basis in computing the averages. It should not be assumed, therefore, that the number of associations appearing under the head "Associations reporting as to" represents the associations in which shares were held outside of the state in which they did business. Taking the summary for all associations, both locals and nationals, on the basis just stated, it is found that there were 515,186 shares held outside of the state, being an average of 91.8 to each association. The value of these shares was $8,073,443, or an average of $1,438 to each association. The number of shareholders holding these outside shares was 58,021, or an average of 10.3 to each association. It is interesting to know whether these outside shares were held largely in national or in local associations. The table shows that of the whole number (515,186) held in all, 475,996 were held in nationals and only 39,190 were held in locals, and of the value of the shares, out of the total of $8,073,443 held in all, $7,023,982 was the value of outside shares held in national associations and $1,049,461 the value of the shares held in locals. It is also seen that of the total number of shareholders holding these outside shares (58,021), 55,405 shareholders belonged to national associations, or an average of 404.4 to each association, while only 2,616 shareholders, or an average of one-half to each association, belonged to locals.

Table VI.—Number and sex of shareholders, pp. 290, 291.—Of the 5,838 associations in the country 5,796 reported the total number of shareholders, and 4,269 reported the number of male and female shareholders. A very small proportion of shareholders reported as firms, societies, etc., have been classed in this table with the males. The total number of shareholders in these 5,796 associations reporting was 1,745,725. The number of shareholders whose sex was reported was considerably less, being 1,227,442, of whom 919,614 were males and 307,828 females.

Table VII.—Associations classified as to shareholders, pp. 292 to 294.—This table shows simply the classification of associations as to number of shareholders, the classification ranging from those having under 100 shareholders, those having 100 or under 200 shareholders, etc., the gradations being by hundreds up to 1,700 or over. The totals show that the largest number have 100 or under 200 shareholders, there being 1,587 having under 100 shareholders, and 1,765 having 100 or under 200 shareholders, the next largest number being 914 associations having 200 or under 300 shareholders each. Those having 300 or under 400 number 513. The largest number of shareholders in one association, 14,088, is found in a national association in Tennessee.

Table VIII.—Associations classified as to borrowers, pp. 295, 296.—This table, which is a companion to the preceding, shows that most of the associations have a small number of borrowers. The classification in this table, however, starts at under 50, and then the gradation is divided by 50's up to 200, and then by 100's. Three thousand and twenty-nine associations have under 50 borrowers each, 1,466 have 50 or under 100 borrowers each, and 568 have 100 or under 150, while 243 associations have 150 borrowers, but under 200 each, and 233 associations 200, but under 300 borrowers each. The number having over 300 borrowers each is small.

Table IX.—Shareholders and borrowers, pp. 297 to 299.—This table shows the total number of shareholders and the total number of borrowers in associations reporting as to each of these facts. Of all the associations in the United States 5,796 reported 1,745,725 shareholders, an average of 301.2 shareholders to each association; 5,776 reported 456,004 borrowers, making an average of 78.9 borrowers to each association. The table also shows the number of shareholders and borrowers in associations reporting as to both of these facts, associations reporting as to one fact only having been excluded in order to secure a fair basis for arriving at the per cent of shareholders who were borrowers. The number of associations, then, both local and national, reporting as to both facts was 5,765, and in these associations the per cent of shareholders who were borrowers was 26.25. It is an interesting fact as shown by this table that the per cent of shareholders who were borrowers in local associations was more than twice as large as that in nationals, the per cent for locals being 29.83 and for nationals 13.77.

Table X.—Associations classified as to total real estate loans, pp. 300 to 303.—That portion of the assets of the various associations designated as loans on real estate is shown in this table in classified form. Loans on real estate are those which have been made upon a first mortgage on the same. The borrower must also pledge his stock as an additional security for his loan. Taking the total, which comprehends both locals and nationals, we find that there are 22 associations which have no real estate loans, 1,942 which have total real estate loans valued at under $25,000, 1,238 with a total valuation of real estate loans of $25,000 or under $50,000, and 741 with $50,000 or under $75,000, the number having $75,000 or over in total real estate loans decreasing rapidly in the classification. The total shows that the business of associations is not large generally, those having $250,000 or over in real estate loans numbering only 350.

Table XI.—Homes and other buildings acquired by borrowers during the lives of the associations, pp. 304, 305.—Of the 5,838 associations in the country, both local and national, 4,444 have reported as to homes acquired by their borrowing shareholders, and through this latter number of associations 314,755 homes have been acquired. In the 4,422 associations reporting as to that fact, 28,459 buildings other than homes have been secured. Of the total number of homes acquired 290,803 have been through local associations and 23,952 through nationals. Through the locals 26,061 buildings other than homes have been acquired and 2,398 through the nationals.

Table XII.—Mortgages foreclosed during the lives of the associations. pp. 306, 307.—The total number of mortgages foreclosed was reported by 5,440 associations, including both locals and nationals, as 8,409, having a value of $12,217,126, the loss on such foreclosures being $449,599. Of the number of foreclosures, 7,765 were by locals, having a value in the aggregate of $11,031,394, the loss being $441,106. The nationals had foreclosed 644 mortgages, having an aggregate value of $1,185,732, the loss incurred being $8,493. It should be remembered that these foreclosures and losses relate to the whole lives of the associations reporting.

Table XIII.—Associations classified as to total stock loans, pp. 308 to 311.—While Table X covered the classification of total real estate loans this table (XIII) gives the classification of total stock loans. Stock loans may be defined as loans made to shareholders on shares of the association of which they are members. Such shares on which loans were made are held by the association as security for the repayment of the loan. Of the total number of associations (5,838) there were 2,519 which had no loans upon stock as described. In Table X it was seen that there were only 22 associations which had no real estate loans. These figures show conclusively that the associations are adhering very closely to the policy of making their loans upon real estate in connection with stock rather than upon stock alone, and the table now under consideration (XIII) shows further that of those associations which have loans upon stock the loans are comparatively small. One thousand one hundred and three associations had total stock loans of less than $1,000 each, 536 having such loans amounting to $1,000 or under $2,000 each. Above this number the gradation downward is very rapid. There were some associations that had made in the aggregate quite large stock loans, but only a very few, the total line for all associations showing the results.

Table XIV.—Associations classified as to dues and profits, pp. 312 to 315.—In this table the associations are classified according to the total amount of the instalment dues paid in by shareholders on shares in force plus the profits on the same. Paid-up stock is not included. Of the whole number of associations in the country 2,014 had dues and profits of under $25,000 each, 1,218 had $25,000 or under $50,000 each, 775 had $50,000 or under $75,000 each, while 479 had $75,000 or under $100,000 in dues and profits each. The associations having $250,000 or over were only 326.

Table XV.—Assets and liabilities, pp. 316 to 319.—This table shows the assets and liabilities of all the associations. From the totals, which are given for local and national and for all associations taken together, we find that the local associations had total assets of $473,137,454, consisting of $422,313,725 loaned on real estate, $15,880,663 loaned on the stock of the associations themselves, $5,666,853 loaned on other securities, and $12,603,145 cash on hand, while all other assets, which consist largely of furniture, buildings for business purposes, and arrearages, amounted to $16,673,068. The national associations were in possession of assets to the value of $55,715,431, of which $47,828,799 was in loans on real estate, $1,471,530 in loans on stock of the associations themselves, and $334,818 on securities other than real estate and stock of the associations themselves. They also had $1,453,261 in cash on hand and $4,627,023 in other and various assets. Taking all the associations, both national and local, we find that their total assets amounted to $528,852,885. Of this vast sum $470,142,524 was loaned on real estate on first mortgages, $17,352,193 on the shares of associations, only $6,001,671 on securities other than real estate and the associations' own stock, while they had $14,056,406 in cash on hand and $21,300,091 in other assets.

The liabilities of both the local and national associations are shown in the same table (XV). They consist of borrowed money, dues paid in on instalment shares in force, profits, paid-up and prepaid stock, and other incidental liabilities, the total liabilities of the local associations being $473,137,454, of which dues paid in on instalment shares in force plus the profits on the same was $413,647,228. The nationals had net assets of $37,020,366, and all the associations taken together had net assets of $450,667,594.

In some states the amount of paid-up and prepaid stock is considerable, although that feature is comparatively new in building and loan associations. The following table shows the number of associations reporting paid-up and prepaid stock in the various states and territories and the amount of the same:

The following number of associations in the various states showed, at the end of the fiscal year reported, net losses of the amounts indicated:

LOCAL.—In Illinois 4 associations, $1,531.12; in Indiana 6 associations, $2,210.02; in Maryland 1 association, $29.50; in Minnesota 1 association, $85; in Missouri 6 associations, $2,230.40; in New Jersey

1 association, $110.91; in New York 4 associations, $419.13; in Pennsylvania 8 associations, $4,823.14; in Texas 1 association, $1,239.94; in Utah 1 association, $9,315.40; and in Virginia 1 association, $81.05. The total net loss in 34 local associations was $22,075.61.

NATIONAL.—But one national association reported a loss. It was located in Nebraska and the loss amounted to $1,256.59.

The net losses in both local and national associations as given above amounted to $23,332.20.

Table XVI.—Classified occupations of shareholders in certain representative associations, pp. 320 to 323.—The Department undertook to ascertain the facts as to the kind of people who patronize and use building and loan associations. The original purpose of these associations was to enable men of small means to secure homes for themselves and to save their earnings. The question became vital, then, as to whether the motive of the associations had been preserved. It was impossible to secure the occupation of each and every shareholder in the whole 5,833 associations in the country, and the attempt was not made, but we did learn the occupations of the shareholders in 909 local associations and 12 national associations, or a total of 921 associations. This table (XVI) gives the occupations in classified form for these associations by states. It shows that in the 909 local associations reporting there were 159,223 shareholders, and in the 12 national associations 15,547 shareholders. In the local associations 111,383 or 69.96 per cent of the whole number were practically working people, while in the nationals they numbered 8,403, or 54.06 per cent. These include the following classes as shown in the table: Accountants, bookkeepers, etc.; artisans and mechanics; farmers, gardeners, etc.; housewives and housekeepers; laborers; mill and factory employés; and salesmen and saleswomen. The remainder, that is, 47,840, or 30.04 per cent in the local associations, and 7,144, or 45.94 per cent in the national associations, consists of agents, bankers, brokers, etc.; corporation officials; government officials and employés; hotel, boarding-house, and restaurant keepers; lodges, churches, and societies; manufacturers, contractors, capitalists, etc.; merchants and dealers; persons engaged in the professions; and superintendents, foremen, etc. These figures show conclusively that the building and loan associations of the country are being used by the classes for which they were originally established. These percentages may well and honestly be applied to all the shareholders in the country, as the facts relative to occupations were taken at random.

All of the general tables, 16 in number, which have been discussed follow in consecutive order.

TABLE III.—NUMBER OF SERIES.

[This table includes serial associations only, those operating under the permanent and terminating plans having been omitted for reasons that will be seen by reference to the explanation of the plans on pages 22 to 24. The difference between the series issued and matured, in certain states, is greater than the series in force owing to the fact that some series were withdrawn before the maturity of the shares.]

TABLE XV.—ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

[It has not been possible to put the reports of all of the associations into the form adopted for this table. This is generally due to a lack of uniformity in bookkeeping methods. In the case of some associations several items that were combined on the books of the associations could not be separated. In the case of some associations also certain items, as advance payments and arrears, were not considered as assets or as liabilities by the associations and were in consequence not reported to the Department. Under loans on real estate are included also, in the case of a few associations, loans on the stock of the associations, loans on other securities, and loans to shareholders without stock secu-

CHAPTER II.

SPECIAL TABLES

CHAPTER II.

SPECIAL TABLES.

The sixteen general tables presented and analyzed in the preceding chapter summarized by states and territories the facts of a more general character relating to the description and condition of the associations of the country. In addition to them sixteen special tables have been constructed, which give in a summary by states and territories some of the facts relating to the methods and practice of the associations. The special tables as a rule relate to fewer associations than the general tables, the aim here being to give a statement that shall be representative rather than complete. The titles of these sixteen special tables are as follows:

- A.—Age of associations.
- B.—Frequency of issue of series.
- C.—Shares, shareholders, and dues and profits.
- D.—Entrance fee.
- E.—Frequency of payment of dues.
- F.—Dues per share at each payment.
- G.—Maturing value of shares.
- H.—Number of shares allowed one person.
- J.—Votes allowed.
- K.—Transfer fee.
- L.—Existing real estate loans in certain representative associations.
- M.—Individual real estate loans in certain representative associations.
- N.—Interest rate charged on real estate loans in certain representative associations.
- O.—Average premium rate charged on real estate loans in certain representative associations.
- P.—Loans to other than shareholders.
- Q.—Associations taking money on deposit.

These tables will be taken up seriatim.

Table A.—Age of associations, pp. 338, 339.—While building and loan associations had their birth in the decade of years from 1840 to 1850, with perhaps here and there one prior to 1840, it is seen by this table that the average age of all the associations is but 6.2 years, the locals having an average age of 6.3 years and the nationals of only 2.5 years. Of the locals 2,394 are under 5 years of age, 2,163 are 5 or under 10 years of age, and 589 are 10 or under 15 years of age, making a total of 5,146 associations under 15 years of age. There are 433 associations 15 years of age or over. Of the nationals 226 are under 5 years of age and only 14 over 5. These figures certainly show that the building and loan associations of the country are entirely modern institutions and have reached their great proportions during the last ten or fifteen years.

Table B.—Frequency of issue of series, pp. 340, 341.—This table needs no explanation. It shows how many serial associations there are—local and national and all taken together—which issue their series monthly, quarterly, quadri-monthly, etc. Associations operating under the permanent and terminating plans are omitted for reasons that will be seen by reference to the explanation of the plans on pages 22 to 24.

Table C.—Shares, shareholders, and dues and profits, pp. 342, 343.—This table is intended to show the average shares per shareholder, the average instalment dues paid in plus profits on the same per shareholder, and the average value of shares. In order to obtain a fair basis for the averages all associations which failed to report in regard to either their shares, shareholders, or dues and profits were discarded from consideration. The dues and profits do not include the amount received for paid-up or prepaid stock, but are confined simply to the dues paid in on instalment shares in force plus the profits on the same. This element of paid-up and prepaid stock has also been eliminated from the number of shares and number of shareholders. It will be seen that the number of shares per shareholder in the local associations is 7.6 and the average dues and profits to each shareholder $302.87, while the average value of the shares is $39.71. In the nationals the average number of shares to each shareholder is 7.2 and the average dues and profits to each shareholder $86.74, while the average value of the shares is $12.12. Taking all the associations together the average shares per shareholder is 7.5, the average dues and profits to each shareholder $257.08, and the average value of the shares $34.16.

Table D.—Entrance fee, pp. 344 to 347.—This table needs but little explanation. It will be seen that the entrance fee of 25 cents per share is that most frequently determined upon. One thousand five hundred and nineteen associations, however, charge no entrance fee at all.

Table E.—Frequency of payment of dues, pp. 348, 349.—This table shows that the majority of the associations collect their dues in weekly or monthly payments, the variation from this being very rare.

Table F.—Dues per share at each payment, pp. 350 to 353.—A very large number (1,289) of associations require the payment of 25 cents per share as dues, and 1,123 require 50 cents, while 2,413 require a payment of $1 per share. The number varying from these amounts is small.

Table G.—Maturing value of shares, pp. 354 to 357.—This table shows that 2,215 associations have their shares mature at $100, while 2,337 have their shares mature at $200, the variations from these two sums being comparatively few.

Table H.—Number of shares allowed one person, pp. 358, 359.—A large number of associations (2,341) do not limit the number of shares allowed to one person, while 1,190 associations place the limit of shares which one person can take under 25.

Table J.—Votes allowed, pp. 360, 361.—The associations which allow one vote to each shareholder number 2,513, and those which allow one vote to each share number 2,558. These two classes comprise all but 11 of the associations reporting as to the voting qualifications of members of building and loan associations.

Table K.—Transfer fee, pp. 362 to 365.—The fees charged by associations for the transfer of stock are shown in this table. One thousand one hundred and eighty-nine associations reported that they make no charge for such transfers, while 346 charge 25 cents, 351 charge 50 cents, and 307 charge $1 for each transaction. The associations charging a transfer fee for each share transferred are shown in the second half of the table. Of these 1,386 charge 25 cents per share, while the balance vary from 2 cents to $1.

Table L.—Existing real estate loans in certain representative associations, pp. 366, 367.—This table deals with 2,173 associations only. It shows the number of existing loans on real estate for that number of associations; also the original amount of such loans and the largest and smallest loan. The figures given show the original amount of loans, undiminished by partial payments on the same, and although less than one-half of the total associations have been considered as regards the facts shown in this table, it is believed that the showing is fairly representative of all the associations in the country. The table shows that the 2,173 associations which reported the value of existing loans on real estate had 164,627 such loans, with a total original amount of $184,404,322; the largest loan being $100,000, the smallest $5, and the average $1,120.

The classification of the loans is shown in—

Table M.—Individual real estate loans in certain representative associations, pp. 368 to 371.—This table is designed to show the size of the loans usually made to individual borrowers. A number of the representative associations reporting the amount of each of their real estate loans to shareholders have been used and the loans classified according to the size. The chief object of this table was to show whether the building and loan associations of the country have been used by small or large borrowers; whether the loans have been made in small sums for the purpose of helping the ordinary man, or in large sums to aid capitalists in the erection of buildings, etc. Taking the totals, which include both local and national associations, we find that 532 associations made report as to 36,821 individual loans. It is found that there are only 664 loans out of the 36,821 the original amounts of which were over $5,000 each. This is 1.8 per cent of all the loans existing in 532 associations. This is an exceedingly gratifying showing, and leads to the conclusion that the associations are being conducted in the interest of men of small means. There have been comparatively few associations making loans of over $7,500 each. In some instances the Department has learned of loans to the amount of $50,000 or more—even up to the amount of $100,000 in one case—but these have been rare, and are made by associations that are composed very largely of merchants and business men generally.

Table N.—Interest rate charged on real estate loans in certain representative associations, pp. 372 to 375.—By this table it will be seen that 6 per cent is the prevailing rate of interest, but 388 of those reported falling below and but 377 going above that rate.

Table O.—Average premium rate charged on real estate loans in certain representative associations, pp. 376 to 379.—This is a companion table to Table N. The majority of associations charge a premium on loans in addition to interest. Two methods of doing this prevail (a). Under the first the borrower receives the full amount of the share or shares on which the loan is made, and pays the premium in instalments, with the interest. For the sake of uniformity this has been reduced to the rate per cent per annum in this table. Under the second method the borrower receives the amount of the share or shares on which the loan is made less the premium charged, the gross amount of which is deducted in advance, interest, however, being charged on the face of the loan. In the table the associations using this method are tabulated under the head gross. These facts were secured from but 1,704 associations, yet they are believed to be fairly representative of the entire number. The interest and premium charges enable us to ascertain the cost of a loan to the borrower, and also to consider the question of whether loans secured through building and loan associations are more or less economical to the borrower than those secured from savings banks or private capitalists. In order to illustrate this interesting question we have made an analysis showing the comparative cost to the borrower of a loan of $1,000 from a representative building and loan association and from a savings bank, both in the state of Massachusetts.

A building and loan association has been selected which has matured several series of shares, the maturing period being in each case 133 months. The comparative results have been shown under the lowest, highest, and average premium rates charged by this association upon the loans in existence at the end of the fiscal year reported to the Department. The practice of the association was to charge upon each $200 share dues of $1 per month, interest of $1 per month, and such monthly premium as might be bid. These payments are made for 133 months, when the shares mature and the loan is satisfied.

A loan of the same amount, principal payable at the end of 133 months, interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum payable semi-annually, is made from a savings bank. We will suppose the borrower to deposit in the savings bank each month a sum equal to that which is paid into the building and loan association. From this sum he will require \$25 semi-annually on each \$1,000 to meet the interest payments. The balance he allows to remain in the savings bank to create a fund to pay off the principal of the loan at the end of the 133 months. At the end of each six months he is credited with a dividend of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on all sums which have been on deposit for six months preceding, or $1\frac{1}{4}$ per cent on all sums which have been on deposit for three months preceding.

The results under the above conditions are as follows:

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION—LOWEST PREMIUM RATE.

Cost of a loan of $1,000 from a building and loan association in Massachusetts with dues at $5 and interest at $5 per month—no premium being charged—running to the maturity of the shares, 133 months, $1,330.

In this case the borrower pays in cash—

Dues at $5 per month for 133 months	$665.00
Interest at $5 per month for 133 months.....	665.00
Premium
Total cash paid.....	1,330.00

SAVINGS BANK.

A loan of $1,000 is secured from a savings bank at the interest rate of 5 per cent per annum payable semi-annually, principal payable at the end of 133 months. The borrower deposits in the savings bank each month a sum equal to the above amounts paid into the building and loan association. From this sum he will require $25 each six months to meet the semi-annual interest payments.

His account at the end of 133 months is then as follows:

Deposits, $10 per month for 133 months.....	$1,330.00
Less withdrawals to pay interest on loan, $25 each six months for 133 months	554.17
Deposits remaining in bank at end of 133 months	775.83
Add dividends credited semi-annually.....	262.28
Balance in bank at end of 133 months.....	1,038.11

But this balance in bank is $28.11 more than is required to pay off the principal of the loan.

In this case then the same payments which are required to pay for a loan of $1,000 from the building and loan association at its lowest premium rate would have paid for the loan from the savings bank and left a cash balance of $38.11.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION—HIGHEST PREMIUM RATE.

Cost of a loan of $1,000 from a building and loan association in Massachusetts with dues at $5, interest at $5, and premium at $3 per month, running to the maturity of the shares, 133 months, $1,729.

In this case the borrower pays in cash—

Dues at $5 per month for 133 months	$665.00
Interest at $5 per month for 133 months.....	665.00
Premium at $3 per month for 133 months.....	399.00
Total cash paid.....	1,729.00

SAVINGS BANK.

A loan of $1,000 is secured from a savings bank at the interest rate of 5 per cent per annum payable semi-annually, principal payable at the end of 133 months. The borrower deposits in the savings bank each month a sum equal to the above amounts paid into the building and loan association. From this sum he will require $25 each six months to meet the semi-annual interest payments.

His account at the end of 133 months is then as follows:

Deposits, $13 per month for 133 months.....	$1,729.00
Less withdrawals to pay interest on loan, $25 each six months for 133 months.....	554.17
Deposits remaining in bank at end of 133 months.....	1,174.83
Add dividends credited semi-annually.....	391.20
Balance in bank at end of 133 months.....	1,566.03

But this balance in bank is $566.03 more than is required to pay off the principal of the loan.

In this case then the same payments which were required to pay for a loan of $1,000 from the building and loan association at its highest premium rate would have paid for the loan from the savings bank and left a cash balance of $566.03.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION—AVERAGE PREMIUM RATE.

Cost of a loan of $1,000 from a building and loan association in Massachusetts with dues at $5, interest at $5, and premium at $0.78 per month, running to the maturity of the shares, 133 months, $1,433.74.

In this case the borrower pays in cash—

Dues at $5 per month for 133 months.....	$665.00
Interest at $5 per month for 133 months.....	665.00
Premium at $0.78 per month for 133 months.....	103.74
Total cash paid.....	1,433.74

SAVINGS BANK.

A loan of $1,000 is secured from a savings bank at the interest rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, principal payable at the end of 133 months. The borrower deposits in the savings bank each month a sum equal to the above amounts paid into the building and loan association. From this sum he will require $25 each six months to meet the semi-annual interest payments.

His account at the end of 133 months is then as follows:

Deposits, $10.78 per month for 133 months.....	$1,433.74
Less withdrawals to pay interest on loan, $25 each six months for 133 months.....	554.17
Deposits remaining in bank at end of 133 months.....	879.57
Add dividends credited semi-annually.....	295.78
Balance in bank at end of 133 months.....	1,175.35

But this balance in bank is $175.35 more than is required to pay off the principal of the loan.

In this case, then, the same payments which were required to pay for a loan of $1,000 from the building and loan association at its average premium rate would have paid for the loan from the savings bank and left a cash balance of $175.35.

Table P.—Loans to other than shareholders, pp. 380, 381.—By this table it is seen that only 76 out of the 2,245 associations reporting have loans to other than shareholders, and that they have 2,056 such loans existing, the aggregate value of which is $2,328,621, being an average of $1,133 for each loan. These figures prove conclusively that the associations adhere very closely to the rule of making their loans to shareholders only.

Table Q.—Associations taking money on deposit, pp. 382, 383.—Building and loan associations are not banks of deposit, yet we find 641 taking money on deposit, and the table shows the varying rates of interest paid on such deposits, the prevailing rate being 6 per cent.

THE DAYTON PLAN.

Among the managers of building and loan associations the so-called "Dayton plan" is fairly well known. Very many consider it a model plan, and have suggested that it be incorporated in this report, that all interested in the conduct of building and loan associations may be able to use it should they desire. Mr. A. A. Winters, general manager of the Mutual Home and Savings Association of Dayton, Ohio, has very kindly furnished the Department with the following statement:

The so-called Dayton plan of conducting building associations is not anybody's invention. It is a growth; the growth of twenty years. Hence, it has not been the same in any two successive years. I will therefore confine myself to the plan as it is now in operation, leaving entirely out of account what it has been. As the developments and changes which have made up the Dayton plan have mostly originated in the Mutual Home and Savings Association of Dayton, Ohio, I will also confine myself to the plan as practised by that association.

In the first place it must be noted that the plan is applicable to permanent associations only, and can not be applied to either terminating or serial associations.

The plan differs from other plans in four main particulars, besides some minor ones.

First. New members may join at any time without paying back dues.

Second. Paid-up stock is issued.

Third. Premium is entirely abolished, each member being entitled to borrow money in the order of his application at such rate of interest as the board of directors may from time to time fix.

Fourth. Earnings are not only ascertained and divided semi-annually, but when credited are subject to withdrawal the same as money payments.

I will take them in their order. As a preliminary observation, however, I might say that the main object of all these changes has been to simplify methods and to enable the association to more easily adjust itself to the situation and needs of the various people with whom it deals. All the older plans are more or less iron-clad. Very little attempt is made at elasticity or to accommodate the individual member; on the contrary, the member is required to adjust himself to the association. He must join not when he wants to, but when he can. He can not pay his money in when he gets it, but when the association is ready to take it. If he wants to borrow money the association, through the medium of premium ascertained by competitive bids, so complicates matters that he is wholly unable to calculate the rate of interest he is to pay, and finally, if through misfortune or sickness he is compelled to quit before his shares mature, his rights are enveloped in mist, and he is generally compelled to suffer a forfeiture which embitters him ever after.

First. A member may join at any time. This is accomplished by substantially making each man's stock a separate series. The theory of this is plain enough, the difficulties which suggest themselves being merely the keeping of the books and the division of earnings, both of which will be explained later on.

Second. Paid-up stock is issued. This is a decided innovation. The old theory being that in all cases when stock matured the member was paid in cash and the stock cancelled. It is not issued at all times, but only when the society can profitably loan the money. It may be called in also if a glut of money occurs. It is entitled to share in the earnings like other stock, but dividends when declared, instead of being credited on the book as in the case of running stock, are paid in cash. It may also be withdrawn the same as running stock. In fact, barring the fact that it pays no dues and receives dividends in cash, it has substantially the same rights and liabilities as running stock.

Paid-up stock, however, is an exceedingly useful adjunct to a building association. It gives the association command of a large additional amount of money to loan and thus reduces the rates to borrowers. This class of stockholders is also a little steadier than the book-holders. They are not so easily panicked, nor are they so needy as to require their money at once in case of a stringency in finance or a business depression.

Paid-up stock is also a sort of financial regulator to an association. When money is too plenty, not being obliged to issue it, the doors are closed and a large source of supply is thus shut off. If this does not suffice even outstanding stock may be called in. When, however, the demand for money becomes greater than the supply, paid-up stock being a favorite investment, the association has but to open the gates and money pours in until the equilibrium is restored. By these means the idle cash balance of the association is kept continually small, and yet all really desirable loans can be made, and all other demands promptly met. It must not be supposed, however, that this paid-up stock is held entirely or even largely by capitalists. On the contrary, it is held almost entirely in small sums by the more frugal element in the working classes. In the annual report of the association heretofore referred to, made on January 1, 1893, 2,411 persons appear as holding $867,700 of this stock, or an average of $359.89 per person, while of the whole 2,411 certificates outstanding, 822 were for $100 only.

Third. Probably the most pronounced difference, however, between the Dayton plan and others is in the method of loaning money. Instead of selling at auction to the highest bidder in open meeting the right to borrow money, it is loaned to members at a rate of interest fixed by the board of directors, on the principle of "first come, first served."

The following is a copy of the contract signed by the borrower, which I think will largely explain itself. (For convenience I make it a loan of $100, and suppose the rate of interest agreed upon is 13 cents per week):

"$100.00.

DAYTON, OHIO, —, —.

"Received as a loan from the Mutual Home and Savings Association, of Dayton, Ohio, the sum of one hundred dollars, which sum I agree to repay with $\frac{13}{100}$ dollars per week interest thereon, payable weekly, as follows:

"I hereby subscribe for one share of stock in said association, of one hundred dollars each, book No. 34,641, and I agree to pay to said association weekly, not less than the sum of $\frac{13}{100}$ dollars, which sum is to be applied as follows:

"First. To the payment of any fines, insurance, taxes, or other assessments made against me in accordance with the bylaws of said association.

"Second. To the payment of the interest due on said loan.

"Third. The balance of said amount to be applied toward the payment of my said stock subscription. Said weekly payments shall be continued until said stock is fully paid up by the payments applied thereto as above stated, and the dividends declared thereon. I also hereby assign the stock aforesaid to said association as collateral security for said loan, and I authorize it, when said stock is fully paid up, or should I fail for eight weeks to make the payments above stated, at its option to withdraw said stock in accordance with the bylaws of said association, or any or all of the money paid thereon, and apply the amount withdrawn to the payment of said loan, or the interest thereon, or any of the assessments above stated.

"Should any part of said loan or the interest thereon or any of said assessments remain unpaid after the withdrawal value of said stock is so applied, they shall become due and payable at the option of said association.

Signed: ——— ———."

It will be seen that the loan, so far as it is concerned, is a plain loan at a definite rate of interest, and that the stock which the borrower subscribes for is used as a sort of sinking fund in which to accumulate the money with which to pay the loan. When the money in the fund is sufficient to pay the loan—that is, when the stock matures—the money is transferred from the stock to the loan and the latter is cancelled. While the money is being accumulated on the stock it is entitled to its share of the earnings just as other stock.

It will be observed that the required weekly payment is even 25 cents on each share of $100. The borrower does not pay as in the old associations 25 cents as his dues and an additional sum for interest, fines, etc. Twenty-five cents per week pays the whole bill. The interest, etc., is taken out of it and the balance, whatever it is, becomes a credit on his stock. No matter what rate of interest is agreed upon or what fines or other assessments are made, the weekly payment remains the same. The rate of interest merely shortens or lengthens the time it will take to mature the stock and cancel the loan. A borrower therefore knows exactly what he has to pay from the start to the finish. You will observe also that the weekly payment required is a minimum payment. The borrower may therefore pay as much more as he is able. Whatever payment he makes draws dividends and shortens the time in which his loan will be paid up. It is not expected that every borrower will simply pay the required dues. The minimum payment is made as low as is consistent with safety, and the field is left open for each man to pay off his loan as soon as he can. He may, therefore, pay it up in five years, or one year, or even in one week, if he wishes. For the same reason he may pay off his loan at any time whatever. The minimum payment only being fixed, he may pay at the time the whole balance due on the loan and have it cancelled, paying interest of course only up to the date of cancellation. A borrower may also, at any time, pay up one or more of his shares, and have the amount credited on his loan and interest stopped to that extent.

Fourth. As to the distribution of earnings: Under this plan it is a very simple matter. Every six months the earnings are ascertained. As they consist almost entirely of interest paid, this is soon done. Out of this first comes the expenses. Then the Ohio law requires that 5 per cent be set aside to a fund out of which all losses are paid (when, however, this fund reaches 5 per cent of the outstanding loans this is no longer required). The balance is then divided among all the members in proportion to the amount standing to the credit of each member. The amount standing to the member's credit at the beginning of the six months, unless since withdrawn, is the basis of the distribution, but an allowance is also made to members on the required payments made since that time. On all running stock this dividend is credited to the member's account, and thereafter is regarded just the same as money paid. On all paid-up stock the dividend is paid in cash. The exact money value of each man's stock being thus ascertained at the close of each six months, the matter of withdrawals is also made easy. The amount in the loss fund represents the risk in the outstanding loans. Every man's account is therefore worth its face. He is, therefore, allowed to withdraw any or all of the amount standing to his credit, dividends and all, by giving two weeks' notice, provided the money is in the treasury. If it is not, his notice is filed and he is paid in his order as fast as the money comes in.

It will be further observed that in the above method of ascertaining and dividing the earnings the number of shares a man holds cuts very little figure. The money paid in on them is the basis of the calculation for dividends. This has a most important side effect. The money actually paid in by a member, not what he ought to have paid, as in the older plans, is the basis of dividends. It is, therefore, no longer necessary to insist that a member, not a borrower, should make the payments his shares call for. No attention is, therefore, paid as to whether a non-borrower pays up or not. If he does not it is his own affair; nobody but himself is the loser. Neither are fines ever assessed on the non-borrower. No attention is paid to him except to adjust his dividend in accordance with his payments. The effect of this has been surprising. Nobody can estimate the number of people who have been deterred from joining building associations by the fear that they might not be able to keep up their payments after they were in, and would be fined and otherwise mulcted in consequence. They were the very best and most prudent people, too. The ignorant and the thoughtless may be induced to assume burdens which they are not sure they can carry, but the intelligent and the thoughtful will hesitate. At any rate this fact, together with the ease and certainty with which money may be withdrawn, and also the further fact that no initiation fee is required, has led to a regular stampede to join building associations in the city of Dayton. Over 10 per cent of all the people in the city, men, women, and children, belong to this one association alone, and there are a number of other good associations also.

The popularity of these associations in Dayton can not be better illustrated than by comparing the population of the city with the number of members of the various associations. The population of the city in 1890 was 65,500. It has been growing rapidly since, but an outside estimate would hardly give it over 80,000. The membership in the various associations on January 1, 1893, was 19,886. Of course in a few instances the same person is a member of more than one association, but, nevertheless, the figures are almost startling. Probably more people belong to such associations in the city of Dayton in proportion to its size than in any other city in the world.

The rule as to fines need not be so strictly enforced even against borrowers as is necessary under the old plans. The borrower gets credit for only what he pays, and if the security is ample the society suffers no pecuniary loss if he does not pay promptly. Consequently, fines are seldom assessed to any great extent. The association before named collected only $160.30 in fines in 1892, although its gross receipts were over $1,800,000.

It only remains for me to answer some queries which will naturally arise as to the bookkeeping. It is undoubtedly true that in small associations the labor of keeping the books is somewhat increased under this plan, as an individual ledger account must be kept with each member. On the other hand the books are ever so much better even in a small association, and it is wholly impossible to keep correct books in an association of any size under the old plans. It is almost impossible to give any satisfactory explanation of the methods of bookkeeping in any reasonable space. They must be seen to be understood. In general, however, a weekly payment journal similar to those always in use is kept, in which is entered all payments in the proper column for the current week and opposite the name of the member. It is ruled to last six months, and at the end of that time the amount paid is transferred or posted to the individual account of the member in the ledger. There is, however, this difference: The weekly payment of the borrower is not separated into dues, interest, fines, etc., in this journal. Only the bulk sum paid is entered. The interest, fines, etc., are charged every six months to the borrower's individual account in the ledger, and when, at the end of the six months, the bulk sum of his payments is also posted to his account, a balance is struck. This is an enormous saving in bookkeeping and in handling cash. The weekly payment is the same for both borrower and non-borrower, being 25 cents on each share of stock. It is even money also, and avoids the handling of much small change as is necessary when the payment is separated each week, the interest nearly always comprising odd cents. The semi-annual dividend is credited to each man's account in the weekly journal as the first payment of the six months. Of course many other minor details are not touched upon, but they are only such as would naturally suggest themselves to a bookkeeper. In a large association a greater subdivision of accounts can be made, each with its appropriate book, and intricacy be thus further avoided.

TABLE D.—ENTRANCE FEE.

[This table relates to instalment shares only. Owing to the lack of space several rates which were charged by single associations only are not shown, and have been tabulated as not reported. A very great part of the associations for which the entrance fee is given as not reported are those where the conditions were too complex for any form of tabulation. Examples of a few of these are: 40 cents per share for each year; 50 cents for the first share, 25 cents for each additional share; 25 cents per share for non-borrowers, 15 cents per share for borrowers. In the case of those associations issuing several classes of shares with a different entrance fee for each, the class having the largest number of shareholders has been given, the other classes being disregarded.]

TABLE F.—DUES PER SHARE AT EACH PAYMENT.

[This table relates to instalment shares only. Owing to the lack of space several rates which were charged by one or two associations only are not shown, and have been tabulated as not reported. Associations having different rates for borrowers and non-borrowers have been tabulated as not reported. It is the rule in a few associations to charge in addition to the regular dues a small fee quarterly, semi-annually, yearly, or very rarely monthly. This goes to pay the expenses of the asso-

TABLE K.--TRANSFER FEE.

[In this table, owing to the lack of space, several rates which were charged by a very few associations only are not shown, and have been tabulated as not reported. A very great part of the associations for which the transfer fee is given as not reported are those where the conditions were too complex for any form of tabulation. Examples of a few of these are: 5 cents per share, but not less

CHAPTER III.

PREMIUM PLANS.

CHAPTER III.

PREMIUM PLANS.

The funds of associations are loaned to shareholders as the bylaws may prescribe—usually to those who offer the highest premium. Some associations, however, have a fixed or established premium rate, and, in these cases, loans are awarded to the members in the order of their applications or by lot.

The premium is the amount which the borrower pays in excess of the legal interest; or it may take the shape of a certain number of payments of dues or of interest to be made in advance.

Loans are usually made only to the shareholders. If, however, there be no demand for money from the shareholders, some associations provide for loaning their funds to persons not shareholders upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by their directors.

Loans are secured to the association by mortgage on real estate and by a pledge of the stock held by the borrowing member or any other security acceptable to the directors. When the loan is for the purpose of erecting a house the real estate is the house lot, which must be owned in fee simple, and the house to be built upon it. The borrower continues the regular payment of dues on his shares and interest on his loan, and, if the premium is not entirely paid in advance or deducted from the loan in advance, then such portions of the premium as the rules of the association may require. In other words dues and interest are usually paid periodically and premium may be. As a rule the plans of the associations provide that loans on real estate shall run to the maturity of the shares pledged, the maturing value of the shares being equal to the loan and by maturity satisfying the loan. In some associations, however, the loans run for a fixed period, but in nearly all associations they may be terminated at any time by repayment.

The regulations governing loans on the shares held by a stockholder, without real estate security, commonly called stock loans, vary in different associations. While some advance only the withdrawal or present values (the latter usually spoken of as "book values") of the shares, or only a certain per cent of such values, others advance the full maturing value of each share borrowed on, but in such cases borrowers are required to pledge such additional security as may be acceptable to the directors of the association. Some associations apply the same rules to both real estate and stock loans, while others have adopted different rules for each.

In conducting this investigation a great variety of premium plans have been found. Sixty-eight such plans relating to real estate loans were found to be in vogue. A description has been given of each of these plans and a statement of the number of associations in the various states and territories operating under each specified plan. It should be observed that in some cases, as under plan 2, there is said to be no premium, while in other cases, as under plan 41, premium and interest are said to be combined. The premium and interest are actually combined in both cases, but it was thought best, as the facts are perfectly clear, in each case to use the terms employed by the associations themselves.

The tables following give a general summary of the situation in respect to all plans in vogue in the country:

PLAN 1.

In this plan there is no auction of money or bidding for loans. Loans are usually awarded to members in the order of their applications or by lot. The borrower makes his regular payments of dues and interest on his loan until the shares pledged for such loan have reached maturing value, unless the loan is previously settled; or the number and the amount of his payments are fixed by the rules of the association.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 4; California, 3; Colorado, 4; Connecticut, 2; Georgia, 4; Illinois, 74; Indiana, 46; Iowa, 28; Kansas, 2; Kentucky, 37; Maine, 1; Maryland, 152; Massachusetts, 4; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 6; Nebraska, 5; New York, 1; North Carolina, 24; Ohio, 35; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 91; South Carolina, 18; Texas, 28; Utah, 2; Virginia, 8; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 586.

NATIONAL.—Colorado, 1; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 2; Kentucky, 2; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 1; Montana, 1; New Jersey, 1; New York, 2; North Carolina, 1; Texas, 1; Wisconsin, 1; total national associations, 17.

Under this plan there is no premium, but interest on the loan, whether at a fixed rate or at a rate determined by bid, is paid by the borrower in advance, either for a fixed period or for a period covered by bid in cases of competition for loans. The borrower receives the remainder and pays no further interest until the interest paid in advance has been consumed. No part of the interest paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, on which he agrees to pay interest at 9 per cent per annum for two years in advance. He receives $820, but gives security for $1,000. During the first two years he pays only his regular dues. At the expiration of two years his monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $2 a share, $10; interest on $1,000 at 9 per cent per annum, $7.50; total, $17.50. These payments continue until the loan is settled by the maturity of the shares or by repayment.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 2; Georgia, 2; Illinois, 3; Kentucky, 1; Maryland, 1; New Jersey, 1; Oregon, 11; Pennsylvania, 4; South Carolina, 3; Virginia, 1; Washington, 1; total local associations, 30.

Under this plan there is no premium. The funds of the association are loaned to the stockholder who bids to make the greatest number of payments of dues and interest in advance for the right of precedence in obtaining such loan. The borrower receives the remainder and pays no further dues and interest until the amount of such advance payments has been consumed.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $100, having agreed to pay dues and interest for twenty weeks in advance. Dues are 25 cents a week and interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable for forty-eight weeks each year, is 12½ cents a week. The borrower receives $100, less $5 dues, and $2.50 interest, the amount covered by his bid, or a net amount of $92.50. During the first twenty weeks of his loan he is exempt from all payments. At the expiration of this period he begins the payment of his regular monthly instalment dues and interest on his loan, which he continues until the loan has been satisfied.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Kentucky, 4; Ohio, 4; total local associations, 8.

PLAN 4.

Under this plan there is no premium. The borrower pays interest on his loan in regular instalments, but the principal is reduced periodically by the amount of dues paid in by the borrower, and interest is charged on the balance only.

Illustration: A shareholder having borrowed \$1,000 on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each at 8 per cent per annum interest pays, during the first year, in addition to his weekly dues of 25 cents a share, \$80 interest in monthly instalments of \$6.66 $\frac{2}{3}$. The dues paid by him during the year amounting to \$130 are deducted from the principal at the end of the year, leaving \$870 as a balance of principal on which he pays \$69.60 interest in monthly instalments of \$5.80 each during the second year, the amount on which interest is paid being in this way reduced each year until the loan has been satisfied.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; Kentucky, 1; Maryland, 62; Minnesota, 4; total local associations, 68.

Under this plan there is no premium. The principal is reduced periodically by the amount of dues and interest paid by the borrower, and interest is charged on the balance only.

Illustration: A shareholder borrows on one share \$200, which he receives in full. His first monthly payment will be dues \$1, and interest on \$200 at 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, 75 cents. The second month he pays interest on \$198.25, the interest-bearing principal being reduced by \$1.75, the amount of dues and interest paid during the preceding month. The amount on which interest is paid being in this way reduced each month until the loan has been satisfied.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Pennsylvania, 2; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 6.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The amount thus bid is deducted from the maturing value, and the borrower receives the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest thereon. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A loan is made on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each at a premium of 5 per cent, or $50. The borrower receives $950, and thereafter pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on $1,000, in monthly instalments of $5 each, in addition to his monthly dues on five shares of stock at $1 a share.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

Hampshire, 14; New Jersey, 153; New York, 175; Ohio, 5; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 11; South Carolina, 5; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 1; Utah, 1; Virginia, 5; Washington, 4; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 4; Wyoming, 3; total local associations, 575.

NATIONAL.—Florida, 1; total national associations, 1.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium bid is deducted from the maturing value, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest thereon. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares, determined by the length of time the scheme of the association assumes it will take shares to mature.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200 at 10 per cent premium. He receives $180 in cash and pays interest on $200 at 6 per cent until his loan is satisfied. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $1; interest, $1. It is assumed his shares will mature in one hundred months. If he repays his loan before maturity, he will be allowed one one-hundredth part of the premium paid by him in advance for each remaining month.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 7; Arizona, 2; Arkansas, 7; California, 29; Colorado, 12; Connecticut, 1; Delaware, 8; Florida, 2; Georgia, 2; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 219; Indiana, 86; Iowa, 5; Kansas, 34; Kentucky, 5; Louisiana, 20; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 29; Minnesota, 12; Mississippi, 15; Missouri, 184; Montana, 2; Nebraska, 31; New Jersey, 38; New York, 25; North Dakota, 2; Ohio, 9; Oklahoma, 1; Pennsylvania, 351; South Carolina, 17; South Dakota, 6; Tennessee, 41; Texas, 7; Virginia, 2; Washington, 1; Wisconsin, 3; Wyoming, 3; total local associations, 1,220.

NATIONAL.—Georgia, 2; Illinois, 1; Minnesota, 1; South Dakota, 1; Virginia, 1; total national associations, 6.

PLAN 8.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount, and pays interest thereon either for a fixed period or until his loan is satisfied, according to the rules of the association. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the expiration of the period or the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on two shares of stock of a maturing value of $500 each. The bylaws of the association provide for a uniform premium of $10 on each share. In this case the borrower receives $980 cash, but gives security for $1,000 and pays interest thereon. In addition to his weekly dues of $2 he pays $1.20 interest per week.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 3; California, 6; Colorado, 3; Florida, 1; Idaho, 2; Indiana, 3; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 14; Maryland, 5; Missouri, 1; New Jersey, 5; New Mexico, 1; New York, 29; Pennsylvania, 9; Virginia, 17; West Virginia, 5; Wisconsin, 2; total local associations, 107.

NATIONAL.—Alabama, 1; Indiana, 1; total national associations, 2.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount, and pays interest thereon, either for a fixed period or until his loan is satisfied. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the expiration of the period or the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$100 each at a fixed premium of 20 per cent. He receives in cash \$400, but gives security for \$500 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at 50 cents a share, \$2.50; interest on \$500 at 8 per cent per annum, \$3.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$. If the loan is repaid before the expiration of the eighth year after the issue of the series of stock on which the loan has been made, one thirty-second part of the premium paid will be refunded for each quarter of a year of the said eight years then unexpired.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 5; Colorado, 2; Illinois, 46; Indiana, 3; Iowa, 2; Kentucky, 1; Louisiana, 1; Michigan, 5; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 2; New York, 3; Pennsylvania, 54; Washington, 1; Wisconsin, 2; total local associations, 129.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; Louisiana, 1; Tennessee, 1; total national associations, 3.

The premium, whether a fixed rate or determined by bid, is deducted from the loan in advance. The borrower receives the remainder and gives security for the gross amount, on which he pays interest. The interest is reduced periodically by crediting the principal with the amount of instalment dues paid in, and charging interest on the balance only.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives $900, but gives security for $1,000, on which he pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. His payments during the first three months are as follows: Dues on five shares at $1 per share a month, $15; interest on $1,000 for three months at 6 per cent per annum, $15; total for first three months, $30. During the next, and each succeeding three months, the sum total of the dues paid in by the borrower on his shares during the preceding three months is deducted from the principal, and he pays interest on the remainder. His payments during the second three months are: Dues, $15; interest on $985 for three months, $14.77½; total, $29.77½. The amount on which he pays interest is thus reduced every three months until the loan is satisfied.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—District of Columbia, 1; New Jersey, 15; Pennsylvania, 15; total local associations, 31.

PLAN 11.

The premium bid by the borrower is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest thereon. He has the option of not participating in the profits, and in lieu thereof has his interest reduced periodically by crediting the principal with the amount of dues paid in and paying interest on the remainder only. One one-hundredth part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower for each unexpired month in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: The borrower participates in the profits. A shareholder secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200 at a premium of 10 per cent; the borrower then receives $180. He gives security for $200, on which he pays interest. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $200 at 6 per cent per annum, $1.

Illustration II: The borrower who selects the interest-reduction plan does not participate in the profits. Taking the above loan, the monthly payments during the first year would be as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $200 at 6 per cent per annum, $1; total payments each month during the first year, $2. At the end of the year the principal is credited with the dues paid in during the year, reducing the interest-bearing debt to $188, on which the borrower pays interest during the second year, his monthly payments being as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $188 at 6 per cent per annum, 94 cents; total payments each month during the second year, $1.94. The amount on which the borrower pays interest is thus reduced annually until the loan has been repaid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Pennsylvania, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 12.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium bid by the borrower together with the interest for the full term for which the loan has been made are deducted from the loan, the borrower receiving the remainder. He repays his loan in equal monthly instalments in the time specified for the loan. No part of the interest or premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on forty shares of a maturing value of $25 each the first month of a new series at a premium of 5 per cent. It is estimated that the shares will require seventy-six months to mature. The interest on $1,000 for this period, fixed by the association at $428, and the premium bid by the borrower, amounting to $50, are deducted from the loan, leaving the borrower $522. His monthly payments then consist of $10 dues until maturity of his shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 2; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 13.

This plan is in every respect similar to plan 12, except that a part of the interest paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Virginia, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 14.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium, if any, is deducted from the loan, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount of the loan, and pays interest thereon. The premium bid determines the time for which the loan is to run, the time decreasing as the premium increases. No part of the premium is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the expiration of the time for which it is made.

Illustration: Weekly payments on each loan of $100 are as follows: Dues, 25 cents; interest, 15 cents; total, 40 cents. On a loan made at par these payments continue for eighty-five months; on a loan made at 10 per cent premium, payments continue seventy-five months, and so on reducing the time one month for each $1 of premium bid, except that on loans running for less than four years one month is deducted for each $1.25 of premium bid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Kansas, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 15.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He pays interest only on the amount actually received. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member obtains a loan on one share of a maturing value of $100 at 10 per cent premium. He receives $90 cash and pays interest on this amount at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. His payments are as follows: Dues per week, 25 cents; interest per month, 45 cents. These payments continue until the share has reached the maturing value of $100.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Indiana, 4; Iowa, 1; South Carolina, 1; Virginia, 1; West Virginia, 13; total local associations, 20.

PLAN 16.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The amount thus bid is deducted from the loan, the borrower receiving the remainder. The borrower pays interest only on the amount actually received. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200 at 10 per cent premium. He receives $180 and pays interest on this amount. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $180 at 6 per cent per annum, 90 cents. These payments continue until the share has reached the maturing value of $200. One one-hundredth part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower for each unexpired month in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. The premium, a fixed rate, is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount, but pays interest only on the amount actually received. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $100. A fixed premium of 10 per cent is deducted in advance, the borrower receiving $90, on which he pays interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, 50 cents; interest, 60 cents.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Iowa, 2; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 18.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount, but pays interest only on the amount actually received either for a fixed period or until his shares mature. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200. A fixed premium of $10 is deducted in advance, the borrower receiving $190, on which he pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. His payments are as follows: Dues per week, 50 cents; interest per quarter, $2.85.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Indiana, 7; New York, 1; total local associations, 8.

PLAN 19.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He pays interest only on the amount actually received. The principal is reduced periodically by the amount of instalment dues paid in, interest being charged only on the balance. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200, at a premium of $20. The borrower receives $180, on which he pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The principal is reduced annually by the amount of dues paid in, and interest is charged on the balance remaining at the end of each year. The monthly payments for the first year are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $180 at 6 per cent per annum, 90 cents. For the second year: Dues, $1; interest on $168 at 6 per cent per annum, 84 cents. The amount on which the borrower pays interest is thus reduced annually until the loan has been repaid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Minnesota, 2; Pennsylvania, 2; total local associations, 4.

PLAN 20.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The borrower receives the full amount of his loan and pays interest thereon. The premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, usually into as many parts as the scheme of the association assumes it will take months or other periods of time for shares to mature. These premium instalments are paid periodically, usually at the same time with the dues and interest. They continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled either by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A shareholder secures a loan of $200 at a premium of 5 per cent, and, assuming that it will take one hundred months for the shares to mature, his monthly payments for one hundred months are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $200 at 6 per cent per annum, $1; premium, one one-hundredth part of $10, 10 cents; total payments each month, $2.10.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 3; Michigan, 1; Missouri, 2; Washington, 1; Wisconsin, 1; total national associations, 8.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium. The borrower receives the full amount of his loan and pays interest on the same. The premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, usually into as many parts as the scheme of the association assumes it will take months or other periods of time for shares to mature. These premium instalments are paid periodically, usually at the same time with dues and interest. They continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A loan of \$1,000 is awarded to a member at a fixed premium of 25 per cent. The premium is divided into ninety-six equal parts; one of such equal parts is paid monthly at the same time with dues and interest. The monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 8 per cent per annum, \$6.66 $\frac{2}{3}$; premium, \$2.60. These payments continue until the loan has been settled, either by repayment or by reason of the shares having reached the full value of \$200 each.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; Illinois, 12; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 1; Minnesota, 7; Missouri, 8; New Jersey, 1; New York, 2; North Dakota, 1; total local associations, 35.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; Missouri, 1; New York, 1; total national associations, 3.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The total amount of the premium bid is divided into a certain number of equal parts, usually into as many parts as the scheme of the association assumes it will take months or other periods of time for shares to mature. A certain number of these premium instalments are deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest on the same. The payment of the remaining instalments begins either immediately or at the expiration of the period for which the premium was deducted and continues until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled either by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: On a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a premium of 30 per cent, the total premium of $300 is divided into one hundred equal parts of $3 each. Twelve of such parts are deducted from the amount of the loan, leaving the borrower $964. The payments each month for eighty-eight months are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $5; premium, $3; total, $13. If at the end of eighty-eight months the shares have not matured the borrower continues to pay dues and interest to maturity.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 6; Illinois, 75; Missouri, 2; Ohio, 1; South Dakota, 1; total local associations, 85.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium. Part of the premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest on the same. The balance of the premium is paid in equal instalments, usually at the same time with dues and interest, payment beginning either at once or upon the expiration of the period for which the premium was deducted, and continuing during the entire term of the loan or ceasing at the end of a fixed period, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled either by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a fixed premium of 30 per cent, or a total of $300. Ten per cent of the premium, or $30, is deducted from the amount of the loan, leaving the borrower $970. The balance of the premium, $270, is divided into one hundred equal parts of $2.70 each. The monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $5; premium, $2.70; total, $12.70.

If, at the end of one hundred months, the shares have not matured, the borrower continues to pay dues and interest to maturity.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 9; Illinois, 7; total local associations, 16.

PLAN 24.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The total amount of the premium bid is divided into a certain number of equal parts. A certain part of the premium and the interest on the loan for a certain period are deducted in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. During the period covered by the prepayment of the premium and interest the borrower pays only his regular dues, but at the expiration of this period, in addition to his dues, and at the same time, he pays one of the remaining premium instalments and interest on his loan.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of $100 each, at 40½ per cent premium. Two-tenths of the premium together with the interest for one year at the rate of 60 cents a share per month are deducted from the loan, leaving the borrower $847. During the first year of his loan he pays only his regular dues of 50 cents a share per month. After the first year his monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $5; interest, $6; and premium, $3.75, being one one-hundred-and-eighth of the premium bid by him upon the purchase of his loan.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Utah, 1; total local associations, 1.

The premium, whether a fixed rate or determined by bid, is divided into a certain number of parts, usually into as many parts as the scheme of the association assumes it will take months or other periods of time for shares to mature. These premium instalments are paid periodically, usually at the same time with dues and interest. They continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest, until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares. The borrower receives the full amount of the loan, and pays interest on the same; but the principal is reduced periodically by the dues paid in, and interest is charged on the balance only.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, at a premium of \$90. Assuming that it will take ninety months for the shares to run to maturity, the premium is divided into ninety equal parts, one of which he pays each month. He receives the full amount of his loan, on which he pays 6 per cent interest. The principal is credited every three months with all dues paid in during the preceding three months, and interest is charged only on the remainder. The payments each month during the first three months are as follows: Dues at 50 cents a share, \$2.50; interest on \$1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, \$5; premium, \$1; total payments each month during first three months, \$8.50. Payments each month during the next three months are: Dues, \$2.50; interest on \$992.50 at 6 per cent per annum, \$4.96 $\frac{1}{4}$; premium, \$1; total payments each month during the second three months, \$8.46 $\frac{1}{4}$. The amount on which the borrower pays interest is thus reduced quarterly until the loan has been repaid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Missouri, 1; New Jersey, 1; Ohio, 3; Pennsylvania, 1; total local associations, 6.

PLAN 26.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, payable at such times as the rules of the association may require. An arbitrary reduction in the interest rate is made periodically.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at a premium of \$100, the loan having been taken during the first year of the series. The premium is divided into five annual payments, one of which is payable each year. The interest during the first year is 10 cents per week per share, second year 9 cents, third year 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents, fourth year 7 cents, fifth year 6 cents, sixth year 5 cents, seventh year 4 cents, after that 3 cents per week per share. The payments each week during the first year are as follows: Dues at 25 cents a share, \$2.50; interest on \$1,000 at 10 cents on each \$100, \$1; total payments each week during first year, \$3.50. The payments each week during the second year are: Dues, \$2.50; interest, 90 cents; total, \$3.40; the interest being reduced each year according to the foregoing interest table.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Ohio, 4; total local associations, 4.

PLAN 27.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding highest premium. The premium bid is a certain rate per cent per annum, or a certain amount each month, or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. The payment of premiums either continues during the entire term of the loan or ceases at the end of a fixed period. The borrower receives the whole amount of the loan and pays interest on the same.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of $2,000, requiring ten shares of stock, on which he has bid 10 cents per share per month. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $10; interest on $2,000 at 6 percent per annum, $10; premium, $1; total payments each month, $21. These payments continue until the loan is settled by the maturity of the shares or by repayment.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. The borrower receives the full amount of his loan and pays interest on the same. The premium is a certain rate per cent per annum, or a certain amount each month or at such periods of time, as the rules of the association require.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of $1,000 at 6 per cent interest per annum and at a fixed premium of $6.25, payable monthly. He pledges ten shares of stock, payable monthly, at 62½ cents per share to be applied to the payment of the loan. He is also required to carry one additional share called premium stock for each $100 borrowed, to be applied to the payment of the premium. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $6.25; premium, $6.25; interest at 6 per cent per annum, $5; total payments each month, $17.50.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 3; Arkansas, 2; California, 1; Colorado, 1; District of Columbia, 1; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 46; Indiana, 103; Iowa, 18; Kansas, 3; Kentucky 8; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 11; Michigan, 9; Minnesota, 8; Mississippi, 3; Missouri, 38; New Jersey, 1; New York, 7; Ohio, 93; Pennsylvania, 36; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 3; Texas, 1; Virginia, 5; West Virginia, 11; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 418.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium bid is either a certain rate per cent per annum or a certain amount each month or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. A certain number of these premium instalments are deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. The payment of the remaining premium instalments begins either at once or at the expiration of the period covered by the advance payment and continues during the entire term of the loan, or ceases at the end of a fixed period. The borrower pays interest on the gross amount of the loan.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a premium of 50 cents a share per month. Twelve premium instalments are deducted in advance, the borrower receiving $970. Borrower thereafter pays in addition to his monthly dues and interest on his loan a monthly instalment premium of $2.50 until twelve months prior to maturity of the shares upon which the loan is made. The monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest at 6 per cent per annum, $5; premium, $2.50.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 8; Illinois, 6; total local associations, 14.

PLAN 30.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. The premium is either a certain rate per cent per annum or a certain amount each month, or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. The premium for a certain period is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. The payment of the remaining premium instalments begins either at once or at the expiration of the period covered by the advance payment, and continues during the entire term of the loan, or ceases at the end of a fixed period. The borrower pays interest on the full amount of the loan.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of the maturing value of $100 each, at a fixed premium of 50 cents a share per month. The premium for the first six months is deducted in advance, the borrower receiving $970. During the first six months he pays only dues and interest on his loan. After six months his monthly payments are as follows: Dues at 60 cents a share, $6; interest at 6 per cent per annum, $5; premium at 50 cents a share, $5; total payments each month until maturity of shares, $16.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; total local associations, 1.

NATIONAL.—New York, 1; total national associations, 1.

The premium, whether a fixed rate or determined by bid, is either a certain rate per cent per annum or a certain amount each month or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. The borrower receives the full amount of the loan and pays interest on the same; but the principal is reduced periodically by the amount of dues paid in, and interest is charged on the balance only.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of $200 on one share, at a premium of 10 cents a month. He receives the full amount and pays interest on the same. The payments each month during the first year are as follows: Dues on one share, $1; interest on $200 at 6 per cent per annum, $1; premium, 10 cents; total payments each month during the first year, $2.10. Payments each month during the second year are: Dues, $1; interest on $188 at 6 per cent per annum, 94 cents; premium, 10 cents; total payments each month during the second year, $2.04; and so on, the interest being reduced each year until the settlement of the loan.

The number of associations operating under this plan is at follows:

LOCAL.—Maryland, 1; New Jersey, 6; Ohio, 224; Pennsylvania, 36; total local associations, 267.

PLAN 32.

This plan is in every respect similar to plan 31, except that the principal is periodically reduced by the amount of the dues and premiums paid during the preceding term and interest charged on the balance only.

Illustration: On a loan of $200 on one share at a monthly premium of 25 cents and at 5 per cent interest, the payments each month during the first year are as follows: Dues, $1; interest at 5 per cent per annum, 83½ cents; premium, 25 cents; total, $2.08½. Payments each month during the second year are: Dues, $1; interest on $185 at 5 per cent per annum, 77½ cents; premium, 25 cents; total payments each month, $2.02½; and so on, the interest being reduced each year until the settlement of the loan.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Pennsylvania, 5; total local associations, 5.

PLAN 33.

This plan is in every respect similar to plan 31, except that the principal is periodically reduced by the amount of the dues paid in during the preceding term, plus a certain part of the premiums, and interest is charged on the balance only.

PLAN 36.

This plan is in every respect similar to plan 31, except that the principal is periodically reduced by the amount of the dues, premiums, and interest paid during the preceding term, and interest charged on the balance only.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Ohio, 1; Pennsylvania, 12; total local associations, 13.

PLAN 37.

The borrower has the option of paying interest on the full amount of his loan during its continuance and participating in the profits, or of having his interest-bearing principal periodically reduced by the amount of the dues paid in and receiving no dividends. In the first case this plan resembles plans 27 or 28; in the second case, plan 31.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Ohio, 8; total local associations, 8.

The premium, whether a fixed rate or determined by bid, is either a certain rate per cent per annum or a certain amount each month, or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. The borrower receives the full amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. An arbitrary reduction in the interest rate is made periodically. The reduction of the interest rate may continue until the loan has been repaid, or until it has reached a certain rate, at which it continues until the settlement of the loan.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of $500 on one share, at a weekly premium of 10 cents. His payments each week during the first year are as follows: Dues, 50 cents; interest, 60 cents; premium, 10 cents; total payments each week during the first year, $1.20. Payments each week during the second year are: Dues, 50 cents; interest, 57 cents; premium, 10 cents; total payments each week during the second year, $1.17; and so on, reducing the weekly interest 3 cents each year until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the share.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Indiana, 1; Kentucky, 5; Ohio, 77; total local associations, 83.

NATIONAL.—Iowa, 1; total national associations, 1.

The premium, whether a fixed rate or determined by bid, is either a certain rate per cent per annum or a certain amount each month or at such periods of time as the rules of the association require. The borrower receives the full amount of his loan and pays interest on the same at a uniform rate for a certain period or during the continuance of the loan. The premium is periodically reduced until it has reached a certain rate, at which it may continue for a certain period or until the loan has been satisfied.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at a premium of 25 cents per share per month, interest at the rate of $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum. His payments each month during the first year are as follows: Dues at 55 cents a share, \$5.50; interest, \$4.50; premium, \$2.50; total payments each month during the first year, \$12.50. Payments each month during the second year are: Dues, \$5.50; interest, \$4.50; premium, \$2; total payments each month during the second year, \$12; and so on, reducing the premiums each year 5 cents per share per month for five years, after which the premium is discontinued.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—New Jersey, 1; Ohio, 2; Pennsylvania, 1; total local associations, 4.

NATIONAL.—New York, 1; total national associations, 1.

PLAN 40.

Under this plan the premium and interest are combined. The borrower pays such rate of premium and interest on his loan as his bid or the rules of the association require. He receives the full amount of the loan.

Illustration: A member secures a loan upon five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at 6 per cent per annum premium and interest. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; premium and interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $5; total payments each month, $10. These payments continue until the loan is settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

nois, 3; Indiana, 1; Massachusetts, 11; Montana, 2; New Jersey, 1; New York, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Rhode Island, 1; Virginia, 20; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 45.

PLAN 41.

Under this plan premium and interest are combined. The borrower pays such rate of premium and interest on his loan as his bid or the rules of the association require. He receives the full amount of the loan. He pays thereon dues and premium and interest, and an additional sum, which at fixed periods is credited to the principal, premium and interest being charged on the balance only.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of \$1,000 on one share, at 6 per cent per annum premium and interest. His payments each month during the first year are as follows: Dues, \$2.50; payment on principal, \$8.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; premium and interest, \$5; total payments each month during the first year, \$15.83 $\frac{1}{3}$. At the end of the year the principal is credited with \$100, the total payment made during the year on account thereof, and premium and interest is charged on the balance only. During the second year his payments each month are: Dues, \$2.50; payment on principal, \$8.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; premium and interest, \$4.50; total payments each month during the second year, \$15.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; and so on, reducing the monthly payments of premium and interest each year by 50 cents, being a reduction of 10 per cent of the premium and interest bid, until the sixth year, when the principal is further reduced by the total amount of instalment dues paid up to that period and premium and interest reduced accordingly.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—District of Columbia, 5; total local associations, 5.

NATIONAL.—District of Columbia, 1; total national associations, 1.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest on the same. Or, if the borrower elect, he may receive the full amount of his loan without premium, but in that case he pays a higher interest rate. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives $900, but gives security for $1,000 and pays interest on the same at the rate of 10 cents per week on each $100. His bi-weekly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 10 cents a week per $100, $2; total of each bi-weekly payment, $7. These payment continue until the maturity of the shares, unless the loan has been settled by repayment before the expiration of the sixth year from the date of issue of the shares in which case one-sixth of the premium will be refunded for every entire year of the six then unexpired.

Illustration II: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each and receives the full amount, \$1,000. He pays no premium, but interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum on his loan. His bi-weekly payments are as follows: Dues at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, \$2.69 $\frac{1}{3}$; total of each bi-weekly payment, \$7.69 $\frac{1}{3}$. These payments continue until the loan has been settled either by maturity of shares or repayment.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Indiana, 1; Nebraska, 1; total local associations, 2.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance. The borrower receives the remainder, but gives security for the gross amount, and pays interest on the same. Or, if the borrower elect, he may receive the full amount of his loan without premium, but in that case he pays a higher interest rate. In either case the monthly payments continue until the maturity of the shares, unless the loan has been previously settled by repayment. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, at a fixed premium of 15 per cent. He receives \$850, but gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same at 7 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$10.83 $\frac{1}{3}$.

Illustration II: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, and receives the full amount, \$1,000. He pays no premium, but interest at the rate of 10 per cent on his loan. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 10 per cent, \$8.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$13.33 $\frac{1}{3}$.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 44.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance. The borrower receives the remainder but gives security for the gross amount and pays interest thereon. In addition to the premium deducted in advance, he pays a fixed instalment premium at the same time with his dues and interest until the loan is settled either by repayment or by the maturity of the shares. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at 10 per cent premium. He receives \$900, but gives security for \$1,000 on which he pays interest at the rate of $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, and an additional fixed premium of $12\frac{1}{2}$ cents per share. His weekly payments are as follows: Dues at 25 cents a share, \$2.50; interest on \$1,000 at $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, \$1.25; premium, \$1.25; total payments each week, \$5.

NATIONAL.—Florida, 1; Illinois, 1; Mississippi, 1; New York, 1; total national associations, 4.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot. A fixed premium is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder. He gives security for the gross amount and pays interest on the same. In addition to the premium deducted in advance, the borrower pays a fixed instalment premium at the same time with his dues and interest until the loan has been settled either by repayment or by the maturity of the shares. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each. A premium of 10 per cent is deducted from the loan in advance, the borrower receiving the remainder, \$900. He gives security for the gross amount, \$1,000, and pays interest and a fixed premium of 5 per cent per annum on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at 75 cents a share, \$7.50; interest on \$1,000 at 5 per cent per annum, \$4.16 $\frac{2}{3}$; premium on \$1,000 at 5 per cent per annum, \$4.16 $\frac{2}{3}$; total payments each month, \$15.83 $\frac{1}{3}$. A rebate of one-eighth of the premium deducted in advance is refunded for each unexpired year, if the loan is repaid before the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; total local associations, 1.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 6; New York, 1; total national associations, 7.

PLAN 46.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest instalment premium in addition to the fixed premium, which is deducted from the loan in advance. The borrower gives security for the gross amount and pays interest on the same. The instalment premium bid is paid at the same time with dues and interest. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at a premium of $2\frac{4}{10}$ per cent per annum, or 5 cents per week. A fixed premium of \$10 per share is deducted from his loan in advance, leaving him \$900. He gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same at 6 per cent per annum. The weekly payments are 25 cents per share, which includes dues, interest, and premium. Every six months the interest and premium are deducted from the total payments and the remainder is credited to the stock as dues. The total payments on ten shares for six months are \$65; this amount includes \$30 interest and \$13 premium, which, deducted from \$65, leaves \$22 to be credited to the stock as dues.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Indiana, 2; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 47.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case it is divided into a certain number of equal parts, which are paid at the same time with dues and interest. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives \$900, but gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 10 per cent per annum, \$8.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$13.33 $\frac{1}{3}$.

Illustration II: If the borrower elect to pay his premium in instalments, the amount of the premium bid, taking the above case, would be divided into one hundred equal parts, one of which is payable monthly at the same time with dues and interest. He receives the full amount of his loan, for which he gives security, and on which he pays interest. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, \$5; interest, \$8.33 $\frac{1}{3}$; premium, \$1; total payments each month, \$14.33 $\frac{1}{3}$. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest, until the loan has been settled by repayment, or by the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Colorado, 1; Ohio, 1; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 48.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments, as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, which are paid periodically at the same time with dues and interest. When the entire premium has been paid in advance, a part of it is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at a premium of 15 per cent. He receives \$850, but gives security for the gross amount, \$1,000, and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at 50 cents a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 5 per cent per annum, \$4.16 $\frac{2}{3}$; total payments each month, \$9.16 $\frac{2}{3}$. In case of the repayment of the loan before the end of the eighth year, one-eighth of the premium is refunded for each year that remains to the maturity of the shares. Shares are supposed to mature in eight years.

Illustration II: If the borrower elect to pay his premium in instalments, the amount of his premium bid, taking the above case, would be divided into one hundred equal parts, one of which is payable monthly at the same time with dues and interest. He gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on ten shares at 50 cents a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 5 per cent per annum, \$4.16 $\frac{2}{3}$; premium, \$1.50; total payments each month, \$10.66 $\frac{2}{3}$. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium rate. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, which are paid at the same time with dues and interest. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a fixed premium of 15 per cent. Illustration II: If the borrower prefers to pay his premium in monthly instalments, it is divided into one hundred equal parts, one of which is payable at the same time with his dues and interest. He receives the full amount of his loan, for which he gives security and on which he pays interest. Taking the above case his monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at $1 a share, $5; interest, $8.33½; premium, $1.50; total payments each month, $14.83½. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, a certain number of which are deducted from the loan in advance and the remainder paid at the same time with dues and interest. The borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at 15 per cent premium. He receives $850, but gives security for $1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 8 per cent per annum, $6.66⅔; total payments each month, $11.66⅔.

Illustration II: If the borrower selects the instalment plan, and the premium bid is 30 per cent, the total premium of $300 is divided into one hundred and twenty equal monthly instalments of $2.50 each. Twelve of these monthly instalments are deducted in advance, leaving the borrower $970. He gives security for $1,000 and pays interest thereon. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 8 per cent per annum, $6.66⅔; premium, $2.50; total payments each month, $14.16⅔. These payments continue for one hundred and eight months, after which only dues and interest are paid until the loan has been settled by repayment or by maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments, as the borrower may elect. In the latter case, the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, a certain number of which are deducted from the loan in advance and the remainder paid at the same time with dues and interest. When the entire premium has been paid in advance a part of it is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on ten shares of a maturing value of $100 each, at a premium of 15 per cent. He receives $850, but gives security for $1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments will be as follows: Dues at 50 cents a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $5; total payments each month, $10. In case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares all the premium paid in advance with the exception of one-forty-eighth part for each full month the loan has run is returned to the borrower.

Illustration II: If the borrower elect to pay his premium in monthly instalments, the premium is divided into forty-eight equal parts. One of these parts, equal to $3.12½, is deducted in advance from the amount of the loan, leaving the borrower $996.87½. He gives security for $1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on ten shares at 50 cents a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $5; premium, $3.12½; total payments each month, $13.12½. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, a certain number of which are deducted from the loan in advance, and the remainder paid at the same time with dues and interest. The borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each at a fixed premium of 15 per cent. He receives $850, but gives security for $1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 8 per cent per annum, $6.66⅔; total payments each month, $11.66⅔.

Illustration II: If the borrower selects the instalment plan, the premium, a fixed rate of 30 per cent, equal to \$300 on a loan of \$1,000, is divided into one hundred and twenty equal instalments of \$2.50 each. Twelve of these instalments are deducted from the loan in advance, leaving the borrower \$970. He gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 8 per cent per annum, \$6.66 $\frac{2}{3}$; premium, \$2.50; total payments each month, \$14.16 $\frac{2}{3}$. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest, until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 7; total local associations, 7.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, a certain number of which are deducted from the loan in advance, and the remainder paid at the same time with dues and interest. The borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, at a fixed premium of 15 per cent. He receives \$850, but gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same at 7 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$10.83 $\frac{1}{3}$. Such part of the premium paid in advance as the board of directors may determine is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration II: If the borrower selects the instalment plan, the premium, a fixed rate of 30 per cent, equal to \$300 on a loan of \$1,000, is divided into one hundred and twenty equal instalments of \$2.50 each. Twelve of these instalments are deducted from the loan in advance, leaving the borrower \$970. He gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$; premium, \$2.50; total payments each month, \$13.33 $\frac{1}{3}$. These payments continue until the entire amount of the premium has been paid, after which the borrower pays only dues and interest until the loan has been settled by repayment or by the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 5; Illinois, 1; total local associations, 6.

PLAN 55.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In the latter case the premium is divided into a certain number of equal parts, which are paid at the same time with dues and interest. The borrower pays interest not only on his loan but also on the balance of the premium remaining unpaid. When the entire premium has been paid in advance a part of it is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $200, at 20 per cent premium. He receives $160, but gives security for $200, and pays interest on the same. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $200 at 6 per cent per annum, $1; total payments each month, $2.

Illustration II: If the borrower selects the instalment plan, the premium is divided into a number of equal parts equal to the number of months remaining of the existence of the series of stock upon which the loan is made, calculating upon the basis of eight years for the existence of each series. Assuming the loan to have been made at the beginning of a series, the premium of \$40 would be divided into ninety-six equal parts of $41\frac{2}{3}$ cents each. The borrower receives \$200 and pays interest on both principal and the premium remaining unpaid. The interest on the premium is averaged yearly, making all monthly instalments payable during any year equal in amount. The monthly payments during the first year are as follows: Dues, \$1; interest on loan, \$1; premium, $41\frac{2}{3}$ cents; interest on premium, $18\frac{1}{4}$ cents; total, \$2.60 $\frac{1}{2}$. Monthly payments second year: Dues, \$1; interest on loan, \$1; premium, $41\frac{2}{3}$; interest on premium, $16\frac{1}{4}$ cents; total, \$2.57 $\frac{1}{2}$; and so on, interest on the premium decreasing each year by $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents per month.

The premium is averaged annually as follows:

Total premium for eight years	$40.00
Total payments of premium during the first year	5.00
Leaving balance of premium due at end of first year	35.00
Add to this one-half of premium for first year	2.50
Compute interest at 6 per cent per annum on	37.50

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

PLAN 56.

This plan is in every respect similar to plan 55, except that loans are made at a fixed premium rate instead of to the highest bidder.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Pennsylvania, 1; total local associations, 1.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The bid may either be a gross amount to be deducted from the loan in advance, or a certain amount to be paid periodically. In the first case the premium is deducted from the loan in advance, but the borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan, and pays interest on the same. A part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares. In the second case the borrower receives the full amount, gives security for the same, and pays interest thereon, and such amount of premium periodically as his bid requires.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $300, at a premium of $30. The borrower receives $270, but gives security for $300, on which he pays 6 per cent interest per annum. The payments are as follows: Dues on one share, payable weekly, 50 cents; interest on $300 at 6 per cent per annum, payable monthly, $1.50. These payments continue until the share reaches maturity, unless the loan is previously repaid, in which case it is again awarded to the highest bidder, and the former premium shall be paid to the original borrower, provided the premium be no less than the original; if less he loses the difference, and if more the advance of the premium goes to the benefit of the association.

Illustration II: A member secures a loan on one share of a maturing value of $100, at a premium of 5 cents a week. He receives the full amount and pays interest thereon. His weekly payments are as follows: Dues, 20 cents; interest, 12 cents; premium, 5 cents; total payments each week, 37 cents.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 2; Indiana, 3; Michigan, 1; Missouri, 4; Ohio, 1; Utah, 1; total local associations, 12.

Loans are awarded to shareholders in the order of their applications or by lot at a fixed premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In either case he gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. When the entire premium has been paid in advance a part of it is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on twenty shares of a maturing value of $100 each, at a fixed premium of $25 a share. He receives $1,500, but gives security for $2,000, and pays interest on the same at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues at 50 cents a share, $10; interest on $2,000 at 6 per cent per annum, $10; total payments each month, $20. In case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares one-tenth of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower for every year then unexpired.

Illustration II: In this case the borrower pays his premium in monthly instalments at the fixed rate of 50 cents a share. He gives security for $2,000, on which he pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on twenty shares at 50 cents a share, $10; interest on $2,000 at 6 per cent, $10; premium at 50 cents a share, $10; total payments each month, $30.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; Illinois, 1; Indiana, 1; Michigan, 1; total local associations, 4.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The entire premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or part of it is deducted in advance and the balance paid in instalments as the borrower may elect. In either case the borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a premium of 60 cents a share per month. Twelve instalments, equal to $36, are deducted from the loan in advance, leaving the borrower $964. He gives security for $1,000 and pays interest thereon. The remaining premium instalments are paid monthly, with dues and interest, beginning from the date of the loan and continuing for not more than one hundred and eight months, making a total premium of $360. The monthly payments for one hundred and eight months are as follows: Dues at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, $5.83½; premium at 60 cents a share, $3; total payments each month for one hundred and eight months, $13.83½. The subsequent payments would be: Dues, $5; interest, $5.83½; total payments each month, $10.83½.

Illustration II: In this case the premium bid, 60 cents a share per month on five shares, equals for ten years $360. A reduction, determined by the board of directors, is made if the premium is paid in advance. Supposing a reduction of 40 per cent is allowed, it would leave a premium of $216 to be deducted from the loan, leaving the borrower $784. He gives security for $1,000, and pays interest on the same at 7 per cent per annum. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on five shares at $1 a share, $5; interest on $1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, $5.83½. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 2; total local associations, 2.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The entire premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or part of it is deducted in advance and the balance paid in instalments. In either case the borrower gives security for the gross amount of the loan and pays interest on the same. When the entire premium has been paid in advance a part of it is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of \$200 each, at a premium of 50 cents a share per month. Twelve instalments, equal to \$30, are deducted from the loan in advance, leaving the borrower \$970. He gives security for \$1,000 and pays interest on the same. The remaining premium instalments are paid monthly, with dues and interest, beginning from date of loan and continuing for not more than one hundred and eight months, making a total premium of \$300. The monthly payments for one hundred and eight months are as follows: Dues on five shares at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$; premium at 50 cents a share, \$2.50; total payments each month for one hundred and eight months, \$13.33 $\frac{1}{3}$. The subsequent payments are: Dues, \$5; interest, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$; total payments each month, \$10.83 $\frac{1}{3}$.

Illustration II: In this case the premium bid, 50 cents a share per month on five shares, equals for ten years \$300. A reduction of this of 40 per cent is made if the premium is paid in advance, or an amount equal to \$120, leaving the premium to be deducted in advance \$180. The borrower then receives \$820, but gives security for \$1,000, and pays interest on the same at 7 per cent per annum. His monthly payments will be: Dues on five shares at \$1 a share, \$5; interest on \$1,000 at 7 per cent per annum, \$5.83 $\frac{1}{3}$. In case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares, one-tenth of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower for each unexpired year.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 5; total local associations, 5.

PLAN 61.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or paid in instalments. It is, however, not forfeited to the borrower, but is placed to his credit, either in whole or in part. He gives security for the full amount of the loan and pays interest thereon.

Illustration I: If the maturing value of a share is $200 and a member bids 25 per cent premium, he receives in cash $150 but pays interest on $200. When the dues and profits equal the net amount received by the borrower, his loan is cancelled.

Illustration II: At a premium of $1 a share a loan of $200 costs the borrower, bi-weekly, 50 cents dues, $1 premium, and $1 interest—total of each bi-weekly payment, $2.50. Of this amount $1.50 paid on account of dues and premium is credited to the borrower, only the interest going to the association. If the borrower bids a premium of more than $1, the excess goes to the general fund of the association and not to the individual credit of the borrower. The payments continue until the dues, together with the premium and dividends, equal the amount of the loan.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—District of Columbia, 16; Florida, 1; Georgia, 6; Pennsylvania, 24; Virginia, 12; total local associations, 59.

PLAN 62.

Under this plan the premium is either a fixed rate or determined by bid. The borrower receives the full amount of the loan, but gives security covering both the loan and the premium, and pays interest on the amount actually received by him until the shares reach the value of the face of the mortgage.

Illustration: A member borrows on one share $100, at a premium of 10 per cent. He gives security for both the loan and premium, $110, but he pays interest only on $100, the amount received. His weekly payments are as follows: Dues, 25 cents; interest on $100 at 6.24 per cent per annum, 12 cents; total payments each week, 37 cents. These payments continue until the share has reached the value of $110, unless the loan has been previously repaid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Nevada 1; New Jersey, 1; New York, 24; total local associations, 26.

PLAN 63.

Under this plan the premium is either a fixed rate or determined by bid. The borrower receives the full amount of the loan, but gives security covering both the loan and the premium, and pays interest on both until the shares reach the value of the face of the mortgage.

Illustration: A member secures a loan of $200 on one share, at a premium of 20 per cent. He receives the full amount of $200, and gives security for $240, on which he pays interest. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues, $1; interest on $240 at 6 per cent per annum, $1.20; total payments each month, $2.20. These payments continue until the share has reached the value of $240, unless the loan has been previously repaid.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Georgia, 1; Illinois, 1; New York, 2; Pennsylvania, 2; total local associations, 6.

PLAN 64.

Under this plan the premium is either a fixed rate or determined by bid. The borrower receives the full amount, but gives security covering both the loan and the premium, and pays interest on both. The premium is paid in instalments, usually at the same time with dues and interest. Payments of dues, premiums, and interest continue until the shares reach maturing value.

Illustration: A member borrows \$1,000 on ten shares of a maturing value of \$100 each, at a premium of 25 per cent. He receives \$1,000, but gives security for \$1,250, the amount of his loan and premium. He pays the premium in monthly instalments by taking three additional shares and paying dues thereon. His monthly payments are as follows: Dues on ten shares at 50 cents a share, \$5; dues on three additional shares in payment of premium, \$1.50; interest on \$1,250 at 7 per cent per annum, \$7.29 $\frac{1}{2}$; total payments each month, \$13.79 $\frac{1}{2}$. These payments continue until his shares have reached maturity, when he receives \$50, the difference between the debt and the maturity value of thirteen shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 65.

In this case the borrower receives the full amount of the loan, but gives security covering both the loan and the premium, and pays interest on both until the shares pledged for the loan reach maturing value.

Illustration: A member borrows \$150 on one share, at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives the full amount of \$150 and gives security for \$165, on which he pays interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. Payments are bi-weekly and are as follows: Dues, 50 cents; interest on \$165 at 6 per cent, 38 $\frac{1}{3}$ cents. These payments continue until the share has reached the value of \$150, being the maturing value of shares, unless the loan is previously repaid. Although the premium is included in his mortgage, the borrower does not really pay it; in fact, the only premium he pays is the interest on the difference between \$165 and \$150, the amount actually received.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Pennsylvania, 9; total local associations, 9.

PLAN 66.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The borrower gives security for the loan, the premium, in whole or in part, and the total dues for a definite period. This he pays off in equal instalments extending over a definite period, at the expiration of which the loan is cancelled. A rebate is allowed if the loan is repaid before the end of the period.

Illustration: A loan of \$500 is made at a premium of \$100; these two amounts are added to the dues on one share of stock for ten years, which at 25 cents per week amount to \$130. The borrower receives \$500, but gives security for \$730, the total sum of the loan, dues, and premium. The total amount of his mortgage is paid in ten years in monthly instalments of \$6.08 $\frac{1}{2}$ each. If more than \$100 premium is bid, the excess is deducted from the \$500, the borrower receiving the remainder, but giving security for the full amount, and discharging his debt by monthly payments as illustrated above.

If a loan is repaid before maturity, rebates are allowed as follows: If repaid at any time prior to the expiration of five years, the borrower is allowed a rebate of one-half of the premium instalments for five years, and all the dues for five years. For example: At the end of the year he has paid $73 on his mortgage, of which $50 is return of loan, $10 is premium, and $13 is dues. He now desires to pay off his entire indebtedness, and the cash required of him for this purpose is $567, stated as follows:

Original amount of mortgage	$730. 00
Deduct amount paid during one year.....	73. 00
Balance due	657. 00
From this balance deduct 50 per cent of five years' premium instalments (50 per cent of $50).....	$25. 00
Also deduct all of five years' dues ($13×5)	65. 00
	90. 00
Amount required to pay off indebtedness.....	567. 00

If the debt is paid at any time after the expiration of five years, the borrower is allowed a rebate of 50 per cent of the premium instalments, and all of the dues unpaid.

Members who borrow after having paid dues prior to borrowing are given credit for the withdrawal value of their stock at the time the loans are made, but such credit is not given until the expiration of one year from date of loan. Thus, suppose in the case of the borrower above cited, his share at the time he secured his loan had a withdrawal value of $25. During the first year of the loan he is required to pay the full amount of instalments, $73. At the end of the year he is credited with the withdrawal value of his share, $25, and during the second year of his loan he is required to pay only $48. After the second year until the loan is paid off, he pays the full amount, $73, each year.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or the borrower receives the full amount as may be agreed upon. If the premium is deducted, the borrower receives the balance, but gives security for the full amount and pays interest thereon. If the borrower receives the full amount of the loan, he gives security for both loan and premium, and pays interest on the same. Payments of dues and interest continue until the shares reach a value equal to the amount of the security given by the borrower. No part of the premium paid in advance is returned to the borrower in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $100 each, at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives $450, but gives security for $500, on which he pays dues and interest.

Illustration II: In this case the borrower receives $500, but gives security for $550, on which he pays dues and interest until the shares reach the value of $550, unless previously repaid.

Loans are awarded to shareholders bidding the highest premium. The premium is either deducted from the loan in advance or the borrower receives the full amount as may be agreed upon. If the premium is deducted, the borrower receives the remainder, but gives security for the gross amount and pays interest thereon. If the borrower receives the full amount of the loan, he gives security on both loan and premium and pays interest on the same. In either case the principal is reduced periodically by the amount of dues paid in on the shares borrowed on, and interest is charged on the remainder. No rebate of premium is allowed in case of the repayment of the loan before the maturity of the shares.

Illustration I: A member secures a loan on five shares of a maturing value of $200 each, at a premium of 10 per cent. He receives $900, but gives security for $1,000. His monthly payments for the first three months are as follows: Dues, $5; interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent, $5; total, $10. At the end of three months the principal is credited with $15, the dues paid in, leaving $985 principal, on which interest is charged. Monthly payments during the second quarter are: Dues, $5; interest on $985 at 6 per cent per annum, $4.92½; and so on, reducing the principal each quarter until the loan is discharged.

Illustration II: In this case the borrower receives $1,000, but gives security for $1,100, on which he pays interest at 6 per cent per annum. His monthly payments for the first quarter are as follows: Dues, $5; interest on $1,100 at 6 per cent per annum, $5.50; total, $10.50. At the end of three months the principal is reduced by $15, leaving $1,085 principal, on which interest is charged. Monthly payments during the second quarter are as follows: Dues, $5; interest on $1,085 at 6 per cent per annum, $5.42½; total, $10.42½; and so on, reducing the principal each succeeding quarter until the loan is discharged.

CHAPTER IV.

PLANS OF DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS.

CHAPTER IV.

PLANS OF DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS.

While a great variety of plans are in vogue for the payment of premiums, it is also true that there are many plans for the distribution of profits. The investigation discloses twenty-five different rules or methods of distribution of profits.

The amount of interest which a member has in a building and loan association is indicated by the number of shares which he holds, the age of the shares, and their maturing value.

Shares are of three kinds, called—instalment or running shares, pre-paid shares, and paid-up shares. When a member desires to make weekly, monthly, or other periodical payments, he subscribes for instalment shares and indicates the amount of the periodical payments he desires to make by the number of shares for which he subscribes. These payments are continued until the instalments and the profits on the shares have caused them to reach their maturing or par value, when they are wound up by returning to the non-borrowing members the value of their shares in cash, and to the borrowing members their mortgages and cancelled obligations.

Prepaid shares, known also as partly paid-up shares, are issued by some associations at a fixed price per share in advance; such shares usually participate as fully in the profits as the regular instalment shares, and when the amount originally paid for such shares, together with the dividends credited thereon, reaches the maturing or par value then such shares are matured, and are disposed of in the same manner as regular instalment shares. A few associations, however, instead of crediting all the profits made on this class of shares, allow a fixed rate of interest on the amount paid therefor at each dividend period, which is paid in cash to the holders thereof. This interest is then deducted from the profits to which the shares are entitled, and the remainder is credited to the shares until such unpaid portion of the profits, added to the amount originally paid, equals the maturing or par value.

Some associations allow their members to pay in the full maturity or par value of their shares at any time, and a certificate of paid-up stock is then issued, and the owners thereof are entitled to receive in cash the amount of all dividends declared thereon, subject to such conditions or limitations as the board of directors of each particular association may have adopted.

In some instances these shares participate as fully in the profits as the regular instalment shares; but in most cases a fixed rate of interest only is allowed, the holders of the shares usually assigning to the association all right to profits above that amount.

In some cases the holders of regular instalment shares that have arrived at maturity value do not desire to draw out their money, but prefer to leave it with the association as an investment. Associations allowing this to be done issue to holders of matured shares what are known as certificates of matured shares, which are usually governed by the same conditions as are attached to paid-up shares.

In the descriptions of the various plans for distributing profits which follow, only the regular instalment shares have been considered.

The most common as well as the most important difference between the methods of distributing profits employed in national associations and those employed in local associations is the following: In local associations the total amount of dues paid in by the shareholders forms the basis for such distribution; while in nearly all national associations only a portion of the dues paid in by the shareholders figures in the distribution. For instance, in national associations the dues are generally 60 cents a share per month, out of which either 8 or 10 cents are carried to an expense fund, the remainder being credited to the loan fund. The expense fund thus created is lost to the shareholders, except in the case of a few associations which carry the unexpended balances to the profit and loss account, and whatever profits are made are apportioned on the amount of dues credited to the loan fund only.

The tables following give a general summary of the situation in respect to the twenty-five plans in use:

NATIONAL ASSOCIATIONS OPERATING UNDER THE VARIOUS PLANS FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS.

The twenty-five principal plans and their modifications with illustrations showing the various methods of applying each are given in the pages immediately following:

PLAN 1.

This plan apportions the profits among series just as profits among partners are apportioned in a firm where the partners enter at different dates, each series representing a partner.

1. Multiply the dues paid in on the shares in force in each series by the equated time of investment.

2. Take the sum of these products and then find what fractional part each product is of the sum.

3. These fractions are the parts of the total net profits belonging to each series.

To illustrate the rule, let us suppose that an association whose monthly dues are $1 per share had three series in force at the end of the third year, and that the number of shares in each series and their value per share were as follows:

First series, 500 shares, value per share $38.87; second series, 600 shares, value per share $25.27; third series, 400 shares, value per share $12.32; that a fourth series of 500 shares is then issued; the net profits for the fourth year are $3,000, and the total net profits for the four years are $5,325. Required: The value of a share of each series at the end of the fourth year.

The first series above alluded to has run four years, or forty-eight months. Forty-eight \$1 payments have therefore been made on each share of stock. The first dollar paid has been invested forty-eight months; the second dollar paid, forty-seven months; the third dollar paid, forty-six months, etc., the last dollar of the forty-eight having been invested one month. The times of investment thus form a decreasing arithmetical series, with forty-eight for the first term, one for the last term, and forty-eight for the number of terms. The total investment is thus equal to \$1 invested for 1,176 months (the sum of the series), equivalent to \$48 invested for $24\frac{1}{2}$ months.

Treating the other series in the same way, we find that \$30 paid per share in the second series has been invested for $18\frac{1}{2}$ months; \$24 paid per share in the third series, for $12\frac{1}{2}$ months; and \$12 paid per share in the fourth series, for $6\frac{1}{2}$ months; then—

$$48 \times 500 \times 24\frac{1}{2} = $588,000$, first series' investment for one month.

$$36 \times 600 \times 18\frac{1}{2} = $399,600$, second series' investment for one month.

$$24 \times 400 \times 12\frac{1}{2} = $120,000$, third series' investment for one month.

$$12 \times 500 \times 6\frac{1}{2} = $39,000$, fourth series' investment for one month.

$1,146,600, total investment for one month.

Hence the total net profits are divided as follows:

$\frac{\$588,000}{\$1,146,600}$ or $\frac{588}{1146.6}$ of the total profits belong to the first series.

$\frac{\$399,600}{\$1,146,600}$ or $\frac{399.6}{1146.6}$ of the total profits belong to the second series.

$\frac{\$120,000}{\$1,146,600}$ or $\frac{120}{1146.6}$ of the total profits belong to the third series.

$\frac{\$39,000}{\$1,146,600}$ or $\frac{39}{1146.6}$ of the total profits belong to the fourth series.

Total profits to be divided are $5,325.

$\frac{588}{1146.6}$ of \$5,325 = \$2,730.77, first series' share of the profits.

$\frac{399.6}{1146.6}$ of \$5,325 = \$1,855.81, second series' share of the profits.

$\frac{120}{1146.6}$ of \$5,325 = \$557.30, third series' share of the profits.

$\frac{39}{1146.6}$ of \$5,325 = \$181.12, fourth series' share of the profits.

$$2,730.77 \div 500 = \5.46 , profit of a share of the first series.

$$1,855.81 \div 600 = \3.09 , profit of a share of the second series.

$$557.30 \div 400 = \1.39 , profit of a share of the third series.

$$181.12 \div 500 = \0.36 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

$48.00, dues paid, + $5.46, profit, = $53.46, value of a share of the first series.

$36.00, dues paid, + $3.09, profit, = $39.09, value of a share of the second series.

$24.00, dues paid, + $1.39, profit, = $25.39, value of a share of the third series.

$12.00, dues paid, + $0.36, profit, = $12.36, value of a share of the fourth series.

In the above example, all the net profits made during the four years have been apportioned to the several series, but some associations apportion only each year's profits in this way. Other associations using this plan simplify the process, but obtain the same results, by dividing the total investment for one month (or for one week, as the case may be), into the profits to be apportioned, for the profit on $1 invested for one month, which is then multiplied successively by the sum of the number of weeks, months, or other periods of time for which each dollar of dues in each series has been invested. The products will be the amount of the profits belonging to a share in each series.

A few associations have been found that arrive at the same results by using the following method, which is known as Clark's plan:

1. Multiply the number of shares in force in each series by the quotient obtained by dividing the sum of the number of weeks, months, or other periods of time for which each dollar of dues in each series has been invested by the product obtained by multiplying the dues paid in on one share during the first year by the average time of investment, for the equalized results for each series.

2. Take the sum of these results and divide it into the total profits since the beginning of the association, for the rate per cent of profit.

3. Multiply the quotients already found by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit of a share in each series.

We have before seen that \$48 dues per share in the first series have been invested for $24\frac{1}{2}$ months, which is equal to \$1 invested for 1,176 months. In like manner \$36 dues per share in the second series have been invested for $18\frac{1}{2}$ months, which is equal to \$1 invested for 666 months; \$24 dues per share in the third series, for $12\frac{1}{2}$ months, which is equal to \$1 invested for 300 months; and \$12 dues per share in the fourth series for $6\frac{1}{2}$ months, which is equal to \$1 invested for 78 months. The average time of first year's payments is simply half the time of investment, which is 6 months. Twelve dollars invested for an average period of 6 months is equal to \$1 invested for 72 months.

Then:

$$1,176 \div 72 = 16.333.$$

$$666 \div 72 = 9.250.$$

$$300 \div 72 = 4.166.$$

$$78 \div 72 = 1.083.$$

$$500 \times 16.333 = 8,166.50, \text{ equalized result for the first series.}$$

$$600 \times 9.250 = 5,550.00, \text{ equalized result for the second series.}$$

$$400 \times 4.166 = 1,666.40, \text{ equalized result for the third series.}$$

$$500 \times 1.083 = 541.50, \text{ equalized result for the fourth series.}$$

$$15,924.40, \text{ equalized result for all series.}$$

$$$5,325, \text{ the total profits,} \div 15,924.40 = 33.4392, \text{ the rate per cent of profit.}$$

$$$0.334392 \times 16.333 = $5.46, \text{ profit of a share of the first series.}$$

$$$0.334392 \times 9.250 = $3.09, \text{ profit of a share of the second series.}$$

$$$0.334392 \times 4.166 = $1.39, \text{ profit of a share of the third series.}$$

$$$0.334392 \times 1.083 = $0.36, \text{ profit of a share of the fourth series.}$$

For the value of each share, add the dues as above.

There is a modification of plan 1, which follows the same general method as that shown in the first illustration, but differs in certain particulars and gives a different result. The modification is as follows: Instead of finding the exact equated time of investment, many associations arrive at an approximate equated time by taking one-half the number of months a series has run. Using the same data as in the above illustration, we get 24, 18, 12, and 6 as the average number of months the series have run. It is this modification that is commonly, but erroneously, called the partnership plan.

ILLUSTRATION.

$$\begin{aligned} $48 \times 500 \times 24 &= $576,000, \text{ first series' investment for one month.} \\ $36 \times 600 \times 18 &= $388,800, \text{ second series' investment for one month.} \\ $24 \times 400 \times 12 &= $115,200, \text{ third series' investment for one month.} \\ $12 \times 500 \times 6 &= $36,000, \text{ fourth series' investment for one month.} \\ \hline & $1,116,000, \text{ total investment for one month.} \end{aligned}$$

The total net profits are then divided in proportion to each series' investment for one month, thus:

$$\begin{aligned} \frac{576000}{1116000} \text{ or } \frac{16}{33} \text{ of } $5,325 &= $2,748.39, \text{ first series' share of the profits.} \\ \frac{388800}{1116000} \text{ or } \frac{11}{33} \text{ of } $5,325 &= $1,855.16, \text{ second series' share of the profits.} \\ \frac{115200}{1116000} \text{ or } \frac{4}{33} \text{ of } $5,325 &= $549.68, \text{ third series' share of the profits.} \\ \frac{36000}{1116000} \text{ or } \frac{1}{33} \text{ of } $5,325 &= $171.77, \text{ fourth series' share of the profits.} \\ $2,748.39 \div 500 &= $5.50, \text{ profit of a share of the first series.} \\ $1,855.16 \div 600 &= $3.09, \text{ profit of a share of the second series.} \\ $549.68 \div 400 &= $1.37, \text{ profit of a share of the third series.} \\ $171.77 \div 500 &= $0.34, \text{ profit of a share of the fourth series.} \end{aligned}$$

This modification of plan 1 has been simplified, the principle consisting in casting out common factors in the process of multiplication.

The first series has run 48 months; the second, 36 months; the third, 24 months; and the fourth, 12 months. The average time of investment, as we have before seen, is 24, 18, 12, and 6, respectively. Then we proceed thus:

$$\begin{aligned} 48, \text{ age in months,} \times 24, \text{ average time,} \times 500 \text{ shares.} \\ 36, \text{ age in months,} \times 18, \text{ average time,} \times 600 \text{ shares.} \\ 24, \text{ age in months,} \times 12, \text{ average time,} \times 400 \text{ shares.} \\ 12, \text{ age in months,} \times 6, \text{ average time,} \times 500 \text{ shares.} \end{aligned}$$

It will be readily seen that 12 is a factor common to all the numbers of the first column, and that 6 is a factor common to all the numbers in the second column. Casting out these factors, we have—

$$\begin{aligned} 4 \times 4 \times 500 &= 8,000. & \text{Hence } \frac{8}{15} \text{ of the total profits belong to the first series.} \\ 3 \times 3 \times 600 &= 5,400. & \frac{9}{15} \text{ of the total profits belong to the second series.} \\ 2 \times 2 \times 400 &= 1,600. & \frac{4}{15} \text{ of the total profits belong to the third series.} \\ 1 \times 1 \times 500 &= 500. & \frac{1}{15} \text{ of the total profits belong to the fourth series.} \\ \hline \text{Total,} & 15,500. \end{aligned}$$

Briefly put, then, the simplification is as follows: Multiply the number of shares in force in each series by the square of the time of investment expressed in terms or periods corresponding to the intervals between the series, and then divide the profits in proportion to these products.

The foregoing simplification has been still further simplified by finding the profit of a share in each series directly, instead of finding each series' share of the profit, as follows:

1. Multiply the number of shares in force in each series by the square of the time of investment expressed in terms or periods corresponding to the intervals between the series.
- H. Ex. 209—28

2. Divide the sum of these products into the results obtained by multiplying the total net profit by the square of the time of investment expressed as above.

The total of the products as in the last illustration is 15,500; then—

$5,325, total profits, $\times 4 \times 4 \div 15,500 = \5.50 , profit of a share of the first series.

$5,325, total profits, $\times 3 \times 3 \div 15,500 = \3.09 , profit of a share of the second series.

$5,325, total profits, $\times 2 \times 2 \div 15,500 = \1.37 , profit of a share of the third series.

$5,325, total profits, $\times 1 \times 1 \div 15,500 = \0.34 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

A share of the first series receives 16 times as much profit as a share of the fourth series; a share of the second series, 9 times as much; and a share of the third series, 4 times as much. This method, therefore, reveals the fact that, by multiplying the number of shares in force in each series by the square of the time each series has been invested, expressed in years, half years, quarter years, etc., corresponding to the intervals between the series, a correct basis of calculation is reached. These simplifications, however, are practicable only where series are issued at regular intervals, as fractions complicate the operation. This simplification is known as Rice's rule.

A few associations arrive at the same results by dividing the total investment for one month into the profits, for a rate per cent of profit, and then applying the rate to each series' investment for one month for each series' share of the profits. The process is also varied in the following manner: Find what annual rate of interest the profits are equivalent to on the amount of dues paid for one-half the time that all the dues have been invested, and apply this rate on the dues paid per share for one-half the time of investment, for the profit of a share in any series.

Other variations are the following:

1. The profits are distributed on the amount of dues actually paid in on the shares in force in each series (not what the regular payments should have amounted to), multiplied by one-half the time of investment.

2. The profits are distributed on the total amount of dues standing to the credit of the shareholders in the loan fund multiplied by one-half the time of investment.

3. The series are not allowed to participate in the profits for the term in which they were issued.

4. The profits are distributed on the amount of dues actually paid in on all shares in force that are three months old or over, multiplied by one-half the time of investment, shares less than three months old not participating.

5. The profits are distributed to the free shares only, dues on shares borrowed on being credited on loans.

6. Profits arising from withdrawals are divided equally among the shares of the respective series from which the shares were withdrawn.

7. Profits arising from entrance fees are divided equally among the shares of the respective series in which the shares are taken.

8. A profit of $1 is given to all shares six months old or over. The remainder of the profits is distributed on the dues paid in on the shares in force six months old or over multiplied by one-half the time of investment.

9. Profits arising from premiums are divided equally among all the shares in force at the end of the period during which the loans were made. Profits from all other sources are distributed in accordance with the modified rule.

10. A fixed rate of interest is given on the total amount of dues paid on the shares in force at each apportionment. This interest is deducted from the profits for the term and the remainder distributed according to the modified rule.

11. A fixed rate of interest is given on the value of the shares in force as declared by the last report. This interest is deducted from the profits for the term and the remainder is distributed according to the modified rule.

12. A portion of the total amount of premiums received by and due the association is arbitrarily determined upon, and held in reserve to be applied in future dividends; the amount thus determined upon is deducted from the total profits, and the remainder of the profits is distributed as follows: The interest and dividends allowed on free shares withdrawn are added to the dues paid in on such shares, and the sum total of said interest and dividends is deducted from the amount of distributable profits; the balance is distributed among all the shares in accordance with the foregoing modified rule.

There is still another modification of plan 1, as follows: Multiply each series' investment (that is, the dues paid in on the shares in force) by one-half the number of months invested plus one and apportion the profits in proportion to these products.

Using the same data as before we proceed as follows:

ILLUSTRATION.

$48 \times 500 \times 25 = $600,000$, first series' investment for one month.

$36 \times 600 \times 19 = $410,400$, second series' investment for one month.

$24 \times 400 \times 13 = $124,800$, third series' investment for one month.

$12 \times 500 \times 7 = $42,000$, fourth series' investment for one month.

$$1,177,200$, total investment for one month.

Then, proceeding as before, we find that—

$\frac{600,000}{1,177,200}$ or $\frac{5}{10}$ of \$5,325 = \$2,714.07, the first series' share of the profits.

$\frac{410,400}{1,177,200}$ or $\frac{34}{100}$ of \$5,325 = \$1,856.42, the second series' share of the profits.

$\frac{124,800}{1,177,200}$ or $\frac{10}{100}$ of \$5,325 = \$564.53, the third series' share of the profits.

$\frac{42,000}{1,177,200}$ or $\frac{3}{100}$ of \$5,325 = \$189.98, the fourth series' share of the profits.

$48, dues, + $($2,714.07 \div 500) = \53.43 , value of a share of the first series.

$36, dues, + $($1,856.42 \div 600) = \39.09 , value of a share of the second series.

$24, dues, + $($564.53 \div 400) = \25.41 , value of a share of the third series.

$12, dues, + $($189.98 \div 500) = \12.38 , value of a share of the fourth series.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 11; Arizona, 3; Arkansas, 9; California, 45; Colorado, 14; Connecticut, 4; Delaware, 2; District of Columbia, 13; Georgia, 7; Illinois, 248; Indiana, 63; Iowa, 24; Kansas, 22; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 9; Minnesota, 38; Mississippi, 11; Missouri, 149; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 14; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 100; New Mexico, 2; New York, 24; North Carolina, 3; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 20; Oregon, 8; Pennsylvania, 338; Rhode Island, 1; South Carolina, 6; South Dakota, 10; Tennessee, 24; Texas, 12; Utah, 1; Virginia, 2; Washington, 2; West Virginia, 12; Wisconsin, 6; Wyoming, 1; total local associations, 1,280.

NATIONAL.—Colorado, 2; District of Columbia, 1; Georgia, 6; Illinois, 19; Indiana, 1; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 11; Maryland, 2; Minnesota, 4; Missouri, 7; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 1; New York, 2; North Dakota, 1; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 2; Utah, 1; Virginia, 2; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; total national associations, 81.

1. Give to each series, except the last, interest at the legal rate upon the value of the shares in force as declared at the last report.

2. Deduct this interest from the profits for the term and divide the remainder equally among all the shares.

Assuming that 6 per cent is the legal rate, and using the same data as in the illustration of plan 1, the plan is worked out as follows:

ILLUSTRATION.

$$38.87 \times .06 = \2.33 , interest on one share of the first series.

$$25.27 \times .06 = \1.52 , interest on one share of the second series.

$$12.32 \times .06 = \0.74 , interest on one share of the third series.

$$2.33 \times 500 = $1,165$, interest belonging to the first series.

$$1.52 \times 600 = \912 , interest belonging to the second series.

$$0.74 \times 400 = \296 , interest belonging to the third series.

$$2,373$, total interest belonging to the old series.

$$3,000$, the profits for the term, — $$2,373 = \627 , profits remaining to be divided.

$$627 \div 2,000$, total shares in force, = $$0.31$, profit of each share.

$$38.87$, previous value, + $$2.33$, interest, + $$0.31$, profit, + $$12$, dues, = $$53.51$, value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27$, previous value, + $$1.52$, interest, + $$0.31$, profit, + $$12$, dues, = $$39.10$, value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32$, previous value, + $$0.74$, interest, + $$0.31$, profit, + $$12$, dues, = $$25.37$, value of a share of the third series.

$$0.31$, profit, + $$12$, dues, = $$12.31$, value of a share of the fourth series.

Undivided profits, $$7$.

This is known as Wrigley's rule.

Many associations using this plan of distributing profits allow a higher or a lower rate of interest than the legal rate, but no separate classification of such associations has been made.

The above plan is varied by different associations in the following manner:

1. Interest is allowed on all the series except the last.
2. Interest is allowed on the dues paid in up to the last report on the shares in force.
3. Interest is allowed on the withdrawal value of the shares in force.
4. Interest is allowed on the value of the shares in force as declared by the last report, plus all the dues paid in during the term.
5. Shares less than six months old do not participate in the profits.
6. Interest is allowed on the value of the shares in force as declared by the last report plus one-half the dues paid in during the term.
7. Interest is allowed on all the dues paid in on the shares in force for one-half the time they have been invested.
8. After the legal rate of interest has been deducted from the total profits, the remainder of the profits is divided in proportion to the amount of dues paid in during the term.
9. Profits arising from withdrawals are divided equally among the shares of the respective series from which the shares were withdrawn.
10. After the legal rate of interest has been deducted from the total profits the remainder of the profits is divided as follows: All shares in force at last report receive an equal part, while shares three months old receive one-fourth as much as shares one year old, shares six months old receive one-half as much as shares one year old, etc.
11. Shares less than three months old are not allowed any part of the profits.
12. This variation of the rule is made by some national associations: After the interest has been deducted from the total profits the remainder of the profits is divided among all the shares in force, in proportion to the amount of dues paid into the loan fund during the term.
13. Each series except the last is given interest at the legal rate upon the value of the shares in force as declared by the last report; the first series is then given credit for all the interest paid during the term on loans made prior to the issuing of the second series. The first and second series together are given credit for all the interest paid during the term on loans made during the existence of the second series and prior to the issuing of the third series, the apportionment being made equally to the shares in each; and so on for any number of series. The remainder of the profits is divided equally among all the shares in force.
14. A fixed rate of interest is allowed on the value of all shares in force as declared at the last report. This interest is deducted from the profits and the remainder divided among all shares three months old or over, in proportion to the amount of dues paid in during the term.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 1; California, 32; Colorado, 4; Delaware, 6;

Florida, 3; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 34; Indiana, 4; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 6; Kentucky, 5; Louisiana, 8; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 2; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 9; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 5; New Jersey, 41; New York, 8; Pennsylvania, 63; Tennessee, 15; Virginia, 1; West Virginia, 1; total local associations, 256.

NATIONAL.—Kentucky, 1; total national associations, 1.

PLAN 3.

1. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add one-half the dues paid in during the term.

2. Divide the profits for the term by this sum for the rate per cent of profit.

3. To the value of each share as declared by the last report add one-half the dues paid in during the term and multiply the sum by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit of each share.

4. To the value of each share as declared by the last report add the dues paid in on the same during the term and the profit of each share, for the present value.

Using the same data as in the previous illustrations the result is as follows:

ILLUSTRATION.

$$38.87 \times 500 = $19,435$, value of first series at last report.

$$25.27 \times 600 = $15,162$, value of second series at last report.

$$12.32 \times 400 = $4,928$, value of third series at last report.

$$39,525$, value of all series at last report.

$$12 \div 2 \times 2,000 = $12,000$, one-half the dues paid during the year.

$$3,000$, the profits for the term, $\div $51,525 = 5.8224$, the rate per cent of profit.

$($38.87 + $6) \times .058224 = $2.61$, profit of a share of the first series.

$($25.27 + $6) \times .058224 = $1.82$, profit of a share of the second series.

$($12.32 + $6) \times .058224 = $1.07$, profit of a share of the third series.

$$6 \times .058224 = \0.35 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

$$38.87$, previous value, $+$ $$2.61$, profit for term, $+$ $$12$, dues, $= $53.48$, present value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27$, previous value, $+$ $$1.82$, profit for term, $+$ $$12$, dues, $= $39.09$, present value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32$, previous value, $+$ $$1.07$, profit for term, $+$ $$12$, dues, $= $25.39$, present value of a share of the third series.

$$0.35$, profit for term, $+$ $$12$, dues, $= $12.35$, present value of a share of the fourth series.

The above rule is known in some sections of the country as the third dividend rule. It is varied by different associations in the following manner:

1. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add one-third of the dues paid in during the term for the dividend bearing capital.

2. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add two-thirds of the dues paid in during the term for the dividend bearing capital.

3. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add eight-thirteenths of the dues paid in during the term for the dividend bearing capital.

4. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add three-eighths of the dues paid in during the term for the dividend bearing capital.

5. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report add one-half the dues paid in during the term, not including the last regular payment, for the dividend bearing capital.

6. Shares less than six months old do not participate in the profits.

7. Instead of ascertaining a rate of profit according to the rule, each series' share of the profits is represented by a fraction whose numerator is the dividend bearing capital of the respective series and whose denominator is the total dividend bearing capital of all the series.

8. Profits arising from withdrawals are divided equally among the shares in force of the respective series from which the shares were withdrawn.

9. The profits belonging to the series issued since the last report are kept separate and are divided equally among the shares of that series.

10. The rate of profit is found according to the rule, but this rate is applied upon the dues paid in at last report plus one-half the dues paid in since, previously apportioned profits being disregarded; the remainder of the profit being held in reserve.

11. The rate per cent of profit annually based on the free shares only is found according to the rule, and the board of directors arbitrarily declares what part of said rate shall be distributed to the free shares, the remainder being carried to the reserve fund. The shares borrowed on do not participate in the profits, their dues being credited on the principal of the loan.

12. All of the profits are distributed to the free shares only. The shares borrowed on do not participate in the profits, their dues being credited on the principal of the loan.

13. To the value of the free shares as declared by the last report add one-half the dues paid in during the term on all the shares in force, for the dividend bearing capital. The shares borrowed on receive profits on one-half the dues paid in during the term only. These profits and the dues paid in are credited on the principal of the loan.

14. This variation from the rule is largely used throughout the New England states, and is known as the Eldredge plan. It differs from the rule, in that the rate per cent of profit is not computed in the usual way, but instead the division of profits is based on an assumed rate per cent. This assumed rate of profit is distributed to each share as under the rule. If a portion of the profits still remains undistributed, the profit per share is increased by one-half per cent, one-fourth per cent, etc., according to the amount of profit remaining.

To illustrate the plan, suppose the last annual report shows a share of a given series to be worth $38.87, and that a rate of 6 per cent is assumed.

$$38.87 \times .06 = \2.33 , profit on previous value at the assumed rate.

$$6.00 \times .06 = \0.36 , profit on one-half the dues at the assumed rate.

$$2.69$, total profit of the share at the assumed rate.

The same computation is made upon all the shares in force of the existing series, which gives the total profit of all shares in force at the assumed rate, 6 per cent. If, after deducting this profit from the total profits, it is found that the profits are sufficient to allow $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent instead of 6 per cent, the profit per share is increased one-twelfth; if sufficient to allow 7 per cent, the profit per share is increased one-sixth, etc.

15. The series issued since the last report is given all the entrance fees. The profits arising from withdrawn shares are divided equally among all the shares in force of the series in which the withdrawals took place, and the preceding ones. To illustrate, suppose the withdrawal profit was made in the second series; then such profit would be divided equally among all the shares in force of the first and second series; if the withdrawal profit was made in the third series, it would be divided equally among the shares in force of the first, second, and third series, etc.

16. A fixed rate of interest is allowed upon the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report plus one-half the dues paid in during the term. The remainder of the profit is arbitrarily divided among all the shares in force, a larger portion being given to the shares of the older series than to those of the younger series.

17. Some permanent associations vary the rule in the following manner: Members may pay more than the regular required weekly or monthly dues, but no dividends are allowed on such overpayments until the close of the current term in which they are paid. Members may also withdraw all or any part of the dues paid or of the dividends declared, future dividends being based on the amount standing to the members' credit at the beginning of the term and on one-half the regular dues paid during the term.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 1; Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 2; California, 1; Colorado, 1; Connecticut, 4; Delaware, 4; District of Columbia, 1; Illinois, 38; Indiana, 28; Iowa, 3; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 70; Louisiana, 2; Maine, 5; Maryland, 93; Massachusetts, 65; Michigan, 18; Minnesota, 10; Missouri, 10; Nebraska, 13; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 6; New York, 34; Ohio, 347; Pennsylvania, 42; Rhode Island, 3; Tennessee, 3; Utah, 1; Virginia, 18; West Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 13; total local associations, 851.

NATIONAL.—California, 4; Illinois, 2; Indiana, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 1; Nebraska, 2; New York, 2; Ohio, 2; Tennessee, 1; Virginia, 3; Wisconsin, 2; total national associations, 24.

PLAN 4.

1. To the value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report, add the equated amount of dues paid in during the term.

2. Divide the profits for the term by this sum, for the rate per cent. of profit.

3. Multiply each share's investment by the rate per cent of profit, to find the gain on one share.

Using the same data as before the result is as follows:

ILLUSTRATION.

$($38.87 + $6.50, \text{equated dues}), \times 500 = $22,685$, dividend bearing capital of 1st series.

$($25.27 + $6.50, \text{equated dues}), \times 600 = $19,062$, dividend bearing capital of 2d series.

$($12.32 + $6.50, \text{equated dues}), \times 400 = $7,528$, dividend bearing capital of 3d series.

$$6.50, \text{equated dues}, \times 500 = $3,250$, dividend bearing capital of 4th series.

$$52,525$, dividend bearing capital of all series.

$$3,000$, the profits for the term, $\div $52,525 = 5.7115$, the rate per cent of profit.

$($38.87 + $6.50) \times .057115 = $2.59$, profit of a share of the first series.

$($25.27 + $6.50) \times .057115 = $1.81$, profit of a share of the second series.

$($12.32 + $6.50) \times .057115 = $1.07$, profit of a share of the third series.

$$6.50 \times .057115 = \0.37 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

$$38.87 + $12 + $2.59 = \53.46 , value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27 + $12 + $1.81 = \39.08 , value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32 + $12 + $1.07 = \25.39 , value of a share of the third series.

$$12 + $0.37 = $12.37$, value of a share of the fourth series.

$$6.00$, profits undivided.

This rule is known as Dexter's rule.

Some associations arrive at the same results by using the following method: (1) To the value of the shares in force in each series as declared by the last report, add the equated amount of dues paid in each series during the term, and multiply each sum by the number of months in the term, for each series' investment for one month. (2) Find the sum of these products, which gives the entire capital invested for one month, and then divide the profits of the term in the same proportion that each series' investment for one month bears to the entire capital invested for one month, for each series' share of the profits. (3) Divide the profits of each series by the number of shares therein, for the profit of one share.

The process is also varied in the following way: The total investment for one month is divided into the total net profits for a rate per cent, which is applied to each series' investment for one month, for the profit of each series.

Other variations are the following:

1. An assumed rate of profit (generally 6 per cent) is given on the previous value of the shares and on the equated amount of dues paid in during the term. If a portion of the profits still remains undistributed sufficient to allow one-fourth per cent or one-half per cent more, each share's investment is then allowed this additional rate of profit.

2. Multiply the value of the shares in each series as declared at the last quarterly apportionment by 3 and to these products add twice the amount of dues paid in on each series during the current quarter. Divide each of these sums by 12, for the dividend bearing capital of each series. Divide the net profits of the quarter by the dividend bearing capital of all the series, for the rate per cent of profit. Multiply the dividend bearing capital of each series by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit of each series. Divide the profit of each series by the number of shares in the series, for the profit of a share in the series.

Using the same data as before, except that quarterly profits of $707.28 are assumed instead of yearly profits of $3,000, we proceed thus:

$($38.87 \times 500 \times 3) + ($3 \times 500 \times 2) - 12 = $5,108.75$, dividend bearing capital of the first series.

$($25.27 \times 600 \times 3) + ($3 \times 600 \times 2) - 12 = $4,090.50$, dividend bearing capital of the second series.

$($12.32 \times 400 \times 3) + ($3 \times 400 \times 2) - 12 = $1,432.00$, dividend bearing capital of the third series.

$($3 \times 500 \times 2) - 12 = \250.00 , dividend bearing capital of the fourth series.

$10,881.25, dividend bearing capital of all series.

$$707.28 \div $10,881.25 = 6.5$, the rate per cent of profit.

$$5,108.75 \times .065 = \332.07 , profits of the first series.

$$4,090.50 \times .065 = \265.88 , profits of the second series.

$$1,432.00 \times .065 = \93.08 , profits of the third series.

$$250.00 \times .065 = \16.25 , profits of the fourth series.

3. The profits are distributed to the free shares only. The shares borrowed on do not participate in the profits, their dues being credited on the principal of the loan.

4. Profits arising from entrance fees are divided equally among the shares of the respective series in which the shares are taken.

5. Profits arising from withdrawals are divided equally among the shares of the respective series from which the shares were withdrawn.

6. The dividend bearing capital of the free shares is ascertained according to the rule. The dividend bearing capital of the shares borrowed on consists of the equated amount of dues paid in during the term. The dues paid in on shares borrowed on during the term, together with the dividends thereon, are credited on the loans.

7. Instead of finding an exact dividend rate, some associations use a fixed rate, which is applied according to the foregoing rule. The remaining profits are divided equally among all the shares or are held in reserve.

8. Instead of finding the dividend bearing capital of the series as in the foregoing rule, all the dues paid in on the shares in force up to the last report, plus the equated amount of dues paid in during the term, form the basis for the distribution of the profits.

9. A certain rate of interest is given to each series based on the value of the shares in force as declared by the last report. The premiums received during the term are divided among the series in proportion to the receipts of each series during the term from dues, fines, and the interest allowed on the previous values. The remaining profits are divided among all the shares in accordance with the rule.

10. Payments are made weekly. Each shareholder's weekly payment of dues is multiplied by the number of weeks invested less one and then averaged for the equated investment of each shareholder's dues for the term. Then the equated investment of all the shareholders' dues for the term, added to the amount standing to the credit of the shareholders at the beginning of the term, gives the dividend bearing capital for the term. This capital divided into the profits for the term gives the rate per cent of profit. This rate is then applied to each shareholder's dividend bearing capital to ascertain the amount of profit belonging to each.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 3; California, 13; Colorado, 1; Connecticut, 3; Georgia, 1; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 71; Indiana, 7; Iowa, 6; Kansas, 1; Maine, 14; Massachusetts, 47; Michigan, 6; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 9; Nebraska, 1; New Hampshire, 1; New Jersey, 13; New York, 21; Ohio, 39; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 16; Washington, 5; Wisconsin, 5; total local associations, 287.

NATIONAL.—California, 1; Colorado, 1; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 2; Iowa, 5; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 2; Tennessee, 2; total national associations, 16.

PLAN 5.

1. To the previous value of a share in each series add the dues paid in during the term, and multiply the sum by the number of shares in the series.

2. Add these products and then divide the sum into the profits for the term for the rate per cent of profit. Using the same data as in the preceding illustrations, the rule is worked out as follows:

$($38.87 + $12) \times 500 = $25,435$, dividend bearing capital of the first series.

$($25.27 + $12) \times 600 = $22,362$, dividend bearing capital of the second series.

$($12.32 + $12) \times 400 = $9,728$, dividend bearing capital of the third series.

$$12 \times 500 = $6,000$, dividend bearing capital of the fourth series.

$63,525, dividend bearing capital of all series.

$3,060, the profits for the term, —$63,525 = 4.7225, the rate per cent of profit.

$22,362 \times .047225 = $1,056.05, the second series' share of the profits.

$9,728 \times .047225 = $459.40, the third series' share of the profits.

$6,000 \times .047225 = $283.35, the fourth series' share of the profits.

$1,201.17 — 500 = $2.40, profit of a share of the first series.

$1,056.05 — 600 = $1.76, profit of a share of the second series.

$459.40 — 400 = $1.15, profit of a share of the third series.

$283.35 — 500 = $0.57, profit of a share of the fourth series.

$38.87 + $12 + $2.40 = $53.27, value of a share of the first series.

$25.27 + $12 + $1.76 = $39.03, value of a share of the second series.

$12.32 + $12 + $1.15 = $25.47, value of a share of the third series.

$12 + $0.57 = $12.57, value of a share of the fourth series.

$0.03, profits undivided.

The following modifications of plan 5 have been found:

1. The profits are distributed only upon the free shares.
2. Profits are distributed to all shares six months old and over in accordance with the rule, shares less than six months old not participating in the profits.
3. Profits are distributed on the amount standing to the credit of shareholders three months previous to the dividend day.
4. Profits are distributed on the values of the shares at the last report, and on all the dues paid in during the term except the last regular payment.
5. Profits are distributed to all shares thirty weeks old and over, shares less than thirty weeks old not receiving any profit.
6. Instead of finding an exact dividend rate, as in the foregoing rule, an arbitrary rate, within the limit of the profits, is allowed.
7. A fixed rate of interest is allowed on all balances at the beginning of the year and on the dues paid in on shares then in force. The same rate of interest is allowed on the dues paid in on shares less than a year, but more than three months, old. Shares exactly one year old receive a much higher rate of interest; but, if allowed to remain in the association, the dues and dividends would become a balance on which the lower rate of interest would be allowed at the end of the following year.
8. A fixed rate of interest is allowed on the values of the shares in force as declared by the last report and on all the dues paid in during the term. This interest is then deducted from the profits for the term, and the remainder divided in proportion to the age of the shares.
9. Profits arising from premiums are distributed in accordance with the rule. All other profits are divided equally among the shares of the respective series in which such profits were made.
10. Profits arising from interest, fines, withdrawals, etc., are distributed among all shares three months old or over in accordance with the rule. Profits arising from premiums are divided equally among all the shares in force three months old or over.
11. Profits arising from interest and from premiums on interest are apportioned according to the rule. Profits arising from fines and from premiums other than on interest are divided equally among all the shares in force.

12. A fixed rate of interest is allowed on the amount standing to the credit of the shareholders at each semi-annual term. This interest is then deducted from the profits for the term, and the remainder is divided equally among the borrowing shares.

13. Profits arising from interest are apportioned according to the rule. All other profits are apportioned on the basis of the dues paid during the term plus the interest credited for the term.

14. The rate per cent of profit is found in accordance with the rule; but the rate thus obtained is applied to each shareholder's account on his dues only, the remainder of the profits being held in reserve.

15. The profits are distributed every month. The gross profits of the month are divided by the total capital, for the rate per cent of profit which is then applied successively to the values of the shares in each series as determined at the previous apportionment, for the gross profit on each share. The monthly expenses are apportioned to each share on the same basis, and the net profit of each share is the difference between the gross profit of each share and the expense of each share.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; Colorado, 2; Idaho, 2; Illinois, 20; Indiana, 6; Iowa, 4; Kentucky, 4; Louisiana, 4; Maine, 2; Maryland, 21; Michigan, 2; Minnesota, 8; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 6; Montana, 2; Nebraska, 1; Nevada, 1; New Hampshire, 1; New Jersey, 18; New York, 38; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 8; Pennsylvania, 40; Tennessee, 4; Utah, 1; Virginia, 2; West Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 203.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; Indiana, 4; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 1; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 1; New York, 3; Virginia, 1; total national associations, 13.

PLAN 6.

1. Divide the net profits for the term by the total amount of dues paid in on all the shares in force, for the rate per cent of profit.

2. Multiply the total dues paid in on one share of each series by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit on one share.

Using the same data as before the result is as follows:

ILLUSTRATION.

$$48 \times 500 = $24,000$, total dues paid in first series.

$$36 \times 600 = $21,600$, total dues paid in second series.

$$24 \times 400 = $9,600$, total dues paid in third series.

$$12 \times 500 = $6,000$, total dues paid in fourth series.

$$61,200$, total dues in all series.

$3,000, the profits for the term, — $61,200 = 4.9019, the rate per cent of profit.

$$48 \times .049019 = \2.35 , profit of a share of the first series.

$$24 \times .049019 = \1.18 , profit of a share of the third series.

$$12 \times .049019 = \0.59 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

$$38.87 + $2.35 + $12 = \53.22 , value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27 + $1.76 + $12 = \39.03 , value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32 + $1.18 + $12 = \25.50 , value of a share of the third series.

$$0.59 + $12 = $12.59$, value of a share of the fourth series.

$2.00, profits undivided.

This rule is known in some sections of the country as the second dividend rule.

The following variations differ from the rule only in the method of computation, as exactly the same results are obtained:

1. Multiply the number of shares in force in each series by the number of months the series have run. Add these products and divide the sum into the net profits for the term, for the profit of one share for one month. Then multiply the profit per share per month by the number of months the series has run, for the profit of a share in any series.

2. Multiply the number of shares in force in each series by the time of investment expressed in terms or periods corresponding to the intervals between the series. Add these products and divide the sum into the profits for the term, for the profit of a share of the youngest series. Shares twice the age of a share of the youngest series will receive twice as much profit; a share three times as old will receive three times as much, etc.

3. Multiply the number of shares in each series by the dues paid in per share, or by one-half the dues paid in, according to the practice of the association. Add these products and find what fractional part each product is of the sum of all the products. These fractions represent the parts of the total profits belonging to each series.

4. Multiply the dues on the shares in force for one-half the time of investment by an assumed rate per cent of profit, for the assumed profits. Divide the actual net profits of the term by the assumed profits and multiply the quotient by the assumed profits of each series, for the actual profits of each series.

5. The legal rate of interest is allowed on the total dues paid in all the series, and the remainder of the profits divide among all the shares in proportion to the total amount of dues paid in each series.

The variations from the rule which give different results are the following:

1. Only the dues standing to the credit of the shareholders six months prior to the dividend day participate in the profits.

2. Shares must be three months, six months, or one year old, as the rules of the association may provide, before they are allowed to participate in the profits.

3. The last three months' payments of dues do not participate in the profits.

4. A fixed rate per cent of profit is allowed and profits are distributed only when a sufficient amount has accumulated to give to each share this rate per cent on the dues paid in.

5. A rate per cent of profit is ascertained by dividing the net profits for the last year by the total amount of dues standing to the credit of the free shares, plus the dues paid in on the pledged shares during the year. This rate is applied on the dues standing to the credit of each share at the end of the year and the profit belonging to the free shares goes to increase their value, while the profit belonging to the pledged shares, with the dues paid on them during the year, is credited on the loan as a partial payment.

6. The profits are distributed to the free shares only. All payments made on pledged shares are credited on the loans.

7. The legal rate of interest is allowed on all the dues paid in except the last regular payment. The remainder of the profits is held in reserve.

8. Profits arising from fines and transfer fees are divided equally among the shares of the series in which such profits were made. The remainder of the profits is distributed in accordance with the rule.

9. A fixed rate of interest is allowed on all the dues paid in.

10. Profits arising from interest and fines are distributed in accordance with the rule. All other profits are divided equally among all the shares in force.

11. Profits arising from premiums are divided equally among all the shares in force. All other profits are distributed among all shares three months old or over, according to the rule.

12. Profits arising from interest are divided in accordance with the rule. All other profits are divided among all the shares in force, in proportion to the amount of dues paid in during the term.

13. No profit is allowed on the dues paid in during the term.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 1; Arkansas, 2; California, 2; Colorado, 2; Connecticut, 1; Delaware, 3; District of Columbia, 2; Florida, 3; Georgia, 1; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 29; Indiana, 39; Iowa, 2; Kentucky, 8; Louisiana, 3; Maryland, 12; Massachusetts, 1; Michigan, 8; Minnesota, 3; Missouri, 21; Nebraska, 6; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 17; New York, 142; Ohio, 76; Oklahoma, 1; Pennsylvania, 51; Rhode Island, 1; Texas, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 2; total local associations, 449.

NATIONAL.—District of Columbia, 2; Illinois, 5; Indiana, 7; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 1; Missouri, 1; New York, 4; Pennsylvania, 2; Tennessee, 1; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; total national associations, 26.

PLAN 7.

1. To the amount of dues paid in on one share in each series up to the last report add one-half the dues paid in during the term, and multiply these sums by the number of shares in each series, for the dividend bearing capital of each series.

2. Add these products and divide the sum into the profits for the term, for the rate per cent of profit.

3. Multiply the dividend bearing capital of each series by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit of each series.

4. Divide the profit of each series by the number of shares in the series, for the profit of one share in each series.

Using the same data as before we proceed thus:

ILLUSTRATION.

$($36 + $6) \times 500 = $21,000$, dividend bearing capital of the first series.

$($24 + $6) \times 600 = $18,000$, dividend bearing capital of the second series.

$($12 + $6) \times 400 = $7,200$, dividend bearing capital of the third series.

$$6 \times 500 = $3,000$, dividend bearing capital of the fourth series.

$$49,200$, dividend bearing capital of all series.

$$3,000$, the profits for the term, $\div $49,200 = 6.0975$, the rate per cent of profit.

$$21,000 \times .060975 = $1,280.48$, the first series' share of the profits.

$$18,000 \times .060975 = $1,097.55$, the second series' share of the profits.

$$7,200 \times .060975 = \439.02 , the third series' share of the profits.

$$3,000 \times .060975 = \182.93 , the fourth series' share of the profits.

$$1,280.48 \div 500 = \2.56 , profit of a share of the first series.

$$1,097.55 \div 600 = \1.83 , profit of a share of the second series.

$$439.02 \div 400 = \1.10 , profit of a share of the third series.

$$38.87 + $12 + $2.56 = \53.43 , value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27 + $12 + $1.83 = \39.10 , value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32 + $12 + $1.10 = \25.42 , value of a share of the third series.

$$12 + $0.37 = $12.37$, value of a share of the fourth series.

$$0.02$, profits undivided.

The following variations of this rule have been found:

1. The profits are distributed to the free shares only.

2. The dividend bearing capital of the free shares is ascertained in accordance with the rule. The dividend bearing capital of the shares borrowed on is found as follows: At the end of the first half of the year one-half of the dues paid in on such shares during the period is taken; at the end of the second half of the fiscal year, all the dues paid in during the first half of the year, and the dividend thereon, plus one-half of the dues paid in during the second half year, forms the dividend bearing capital of such shares. In such cases the association makes an annual settlement with its borrowers, and credits the dues paid in and dividends declared each year on their loans.

3. Profits arising from entrance and transfer fees are divided equally among all the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 21; Indiana, 5; Kansas, 1; Maryland, 15; Michigan, 11; Missouri, 1; New York, 1; Ohio, 101; Pennsylvania, 10; Tennessee, 1; Utah, 1; Wisconsin, 4; total local associations, 172.

NATIONAL.—Michigan, 1; New York, 1; total national associations, 2.

PLAN 8.

1. Find the legal rate of interest on the values of the shares as declared by the last report and deduct it from the profits of the term for the net profit.

2. Divide the net profit by the sum of the dues paid in during the term and the interest on the previous series, for the rate per cent of profit.

3. Multiply the sum of the interest and dues for the term on one share of each series by the rate per cent of profit, for the profit on one share.

4. Add the previous value of a share of each series, the legal interest on this value, the dues paid in during the term, and the profit on the share to find the present value of a share of each series.

Let the legal rate of interest be 6 per cent, and using the same data as in the preceding illustrations, we proceed thus:

ILLUSTRATION.

$$38.87 \times .06 = \2.33 , interest on a share of the first series.

$$25.27 \times .06 = \1.52 , interest on a share of the second series.

$$12.32 \times .06 = \0.74 , interest on a share of the third series.

$$2.33 \times 500 = $1,165$, interest on first series.

$$1.52 \times 600 = \912 , interest on second series.

$$0.74 \times 400 = \296 , interest on third series.

$$2,373$, total interest on old series.

$$3,000$, the profits for the term, — $$2,373 = \627 , the net profits.

$$12 \times 2,000$, the number of shares in force, = $$24,000$, the dues paid during the term.

$$24,000 + $2,373 = $26,373$, the active capital.

$$627 \div $26,373 = 2.3774$, the rate per cent of profit.

$($12 + $2.33) \times .023774 = $0.34$, the profit of a share of the first series.

$($12 + $1.52) \times .023774 = $0.32$, the profit of a share of the second series.

$($12 + $0.74) \times .023774 = $0.30$, the profit of a share of the third series.

$$12 \times .023774 = \0.29 , the profit of a share of the fourth series.

$$38.87 + $2.33 + $12 + $0.34 = $53.54$, value of a share of the first series.

$$25.27 + $1.52 + $12 + $0.32 = $39.11$, value of a share of the second series.

$$12.32 + $0.74 + $12 + $0.30 = $25.36$, value of a share of the third series.

$$12 + $0.29 = $12.29$, value of a share of the fourth series.

The above rule is known as Brooks' rule.

Some associations using this rule vary it by allowing less than the legal rate of interest on the old values, but no separate classification of such associations has been made.

Another variation from the rule consists in allowing the legal rate of interest, not only on the values of the old series at the beginning of the term, but also on the equated amount of dues paid in on all the shares during the term.

Another variation from the rule is as follows: After the legal rate of interest for the term on the values of the old series has been deducted from the profits for the term, the remainder of the profit is divided by the sum of the value of all shares at the beginning of the term, the dues paid in during the term, and the interest for the rate per cent of profit. This rate is then applied to the sum of the previous value of each share, the dues paid in during the term, and the interest on the share for the profit on one share.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Colorado, 1; Illinois, 2; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 9; New Jersey, 7; Pennsylvania, 5; total local associations, 25.

PLAN 9.

The profits are divided equally among all the shares in force. This plan is used principally by terminating associations.

The following variations of this rule have been found:

1. The profits for each term are divided equally among all the shares in force.

2. The profits for each term are divided equally among all shares three months old or over, six months old or over, or nine months old or over, as the rules of the association may provide. In such cases shares less than three months, six months, or nine months old do not participate in the profits.

3. Shares less than a year old are given such portion of the profits as the board of directors may allow. The remainder of the profits is divided equally among all the shares one year old or over.

4. The profits for each term are divided equally among the free shares.

5. Shares one year old or over receive equal amounts of the profits for the term. Shares nine months old receive three-fourths as much as those a year old; shares six months old one-half as much, etc.

6. The profits made by each series are kept separate, and are divided equally among all the shares of the series.

7. Profits arising from premiums and fines are divided equally among the shares of the series in which such profits were made. All other profits are divided equally among all the shares.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 5; Arkansas, 10; California, 4; Colorado, 10; Connecticut, 2; Delaware, 3; District of Columbia, 6; Florida, 3; Georgia, 15; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 191; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 20; Kentucky, 27; Louisiana, 2; Maryland, 22; Michigan, 11; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 6; Missouri, 108; Nebraska, 14; New Jersey, 37; New Mexico, 2; New York, 31; Ohio, 48; Oregon, 3; Pennsylvania, 294; South Carolina, 37; South Dakota, 3; Tennessee, 4; Texas, 23; Virginia, 38; Washington, 3; West Virginia, 30; Wisconsin, 5; Wyoming, 4; total local associations, 1,062.

NATIONAL.—Alabama, 1; Georgia, 1; total national associations, 2.

PLAN 10.

The profits are distributed according to the value of the shares as declared by the last report, disregarding dues paid in during the term.

ILLUSTRATION.

Value of all shares in force at last report, $25,800.

Profits to be distributed, $1,612.

$$1,612 \div $25,800 = 6.248$, rate per cent of profit.

Suppose the value of a given share at the last report to be $52.60. Then: $$52.60 \times .06248 = \3.28 , profit for the term. $52.60, previous value, + $3.28, profit, + $12, dues paid during the term, = $67.88, present value.

The above rule is slightly varied by some associations that reserve a small portion of the profits which is arbitrarily distributed to the series issued during the term. The remainder of the profits is divided according to the rule.

Another variation from the rule is made by associations that distribute the profits to the free shares only.

The number of associations operating under this plan and its variations is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 7; Indiana, 53; Iowa, 1; Kentucky, 2; Maryland, 1; Minnesota, 6; Missouri, 2; Nebraska, 1; New York, 19; Ohio, 23; Pennsylvania, 3; Tennessee, 6; Virginia, 2; West Virginia, 4; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 131.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; Indiana, 2; Minnesota, 3; Missouri, 2; New York, 3; total national associations, 11.

PLAN 11.

1. The legal rate of interest is allowed on the dues standing to the credit of shareholders at the beginning of the year, but no interest is allowed on the first year's payments.

2. Dues paid in after the first year bear interest from the end of the quarter in which they are paid; thus the first quarter's dues bear interest for nine months, the second quarter's dues for six months, and the third quarter's dues for three months.

Assuming that dues are $1 a share per month and that the legal rate of interest is 6 per cent, the result would be as follows:

Dues paid on one share the first year.....	$12.00
Interest on this amount at end of second year.....	.72
Dues paid during the second year.....	12.00
Interest on the dues paid during the second year.....	.27

Value of the share at the end of the second year..... 24.99

PLAN 12.

1. Members who have $100, or any multiple thereof, in the association at the beginning of the term (quarter), and leaving said money with the association during the term, shall receive a fixed rate of interest thereon.

2. All the remaining profits are divided equally among all shares that are three months old or over.

ILLUSTRATION.

Let us suppose that A, B, and C are shareholders. A begins the quarter with $98 paid in as dues, B with $216, and C with $398.50. Now, A would get nothing under the fixed interest rate. B would get the fixed rate of interest on $200, and C the fixed rate of interest on $300. In addition, A, B, and C would get an equal amount per share of the remaining profits.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—New York, 2; total local associations, 2.

PLAN 13.

1. Profits arising from interest on loans are divided equally among the shares of the series in force when the loans were made.

2. The remainder of the profits is divided equally among all the shares in force.

To illustrate the rule, let us suppose that an association is three years old and has in force three series of one hundred shares each. At the end of the second year the report showed the value of a share in the first series to be $26, and in the second series $12.40. During the third year a profit of $220 was made, of which $25 was interest on loans made when only the first series was in existence; $30 was interest on loans made after the second series was issued and before the issuing of the third series; and $45 was interest on loans made after the third series was issued.

ILLUSTRATION.

$$25 \div 100 = \0.25 , interest due each share of first series, on loans made prior to issuing the second series.

$$30 \div 200 = \0.15 , interest due each share of the first and second series, on loans made after second series was issued and prior to issuing the third series.

$$45 \div 300 = \0.15 , interest due each share of first, second, and third series on loans made after the third series was issued.

$220, profit, — $100, interest, = $120, net profit to be divided equally among all the shares in force.

$$120 \div 300 = \0.40 , profit due per share in each series.

$26, previous value, + ($0.25 + $0.15 + $0.15), interest, + $0.40, profit, + $12, dues, = $38.95, value of a share of the first series.

$12.40, previous value, + ($0.15 + $0.15), interest, + $0.40, profit, + $12, dues, = $25.10, value of a share of the second series.

$0.15, interest, + $0.40, profit, + $12, dues, = $12.55, value of a share of the third series.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; New Jersey, 1; total local associations, 2.

The value of shares at each quarterly meeting shall be ascertained and adjusted as follows: The shares of each series shall be given credit (1) for the value of the shares at the previous quarterly meeting; (2) for the dues paid in on the shares during the quarter; (3) for the interest paid during the quarter on loans as follows: The first series shall be given credit for all the interest paid during the quarter on loans made prior to the issuing of the second series; the first and second series together shall be given credit for all the interest paid during the quarter on loans made after the issuing of the second series and prior to the issuing of a third series, to be apportioned between said two series during the existence of the second series and prior to the issuing of a third series, as shown by the previous quarterly statement, and so on for any number of series; provided, however, that should any loan be paid off after the issuing of a second or any later series the money actually paid on such loan, exclusive of dues, premiums, fines, and interest, shall be immediately reinvested, and thereafter all the series which were in existence at the time of making the original loan shall be entitled to interest on the amount so reinvested at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, to be apportioned between the said series in the same manner as interest on the original loan was apportioned prior to the paying off of said original loan, and the interest so credited shall be deducted from the interest to which the series in existence at the time of such reinvestment would otherwise have been entitled; and provided also, that the amount so paid off and reinvested shall not be regarded as receipts of the current quarter to be apportioned among the then existing series, the same having already formed part of the value of shares of the series which existed at the time of making the original loan; (4) the remainder of the receipts during the quarter, after deducting all expenses of the association, shall be apportioned among the several series in proportion to the amount of dues and interest hereinbefore directed to be credited to the respective series during said quarter.

If at the time of issuing any new series there shall not be sufficient funds in the treasury to meet all payments that may be due to borrowers upon loans made prior to the issuing of such new series and to pay all debts of the association then due, then the amount that shall be required to meet said payments shall bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, and the amount of said interest shall thereafter be credited to all the series in existence at the time of such payments, to be apportioned among said series in proportion to the amount of dues paid by each series during the quarter that said payments shall be made, and the amount of said interest so credited shall be deducted from the interest to which the series which existed prior to the issuing of such new series would otherwise have been entitled. Should there be any funds in the treasury remaining uninvested at the time of the issuing of any new series above the amount of debts of the association then outstanding and not required to meet payments that may be due to borrowers upon any loans made prior to the issuing of said new series, the series which were in existence prior to the issuing of such new series shall be entitled to interest from the time of investment of said money at the rate of 6 per cent per annum upon the net amount of said funds, said interest to be apportioned among said last mentioned series in the same manner as the interest upon loans is hereinbefore directed to be apportioned, and the amount of said interest shall be deducted from the interest to which the series in existence at the time such funds shall be invested would otherwise have been entitled.

Should any shares be redeemed or cancelled, the money paid for such redemption or cancellation shall be deducted from the accumulations of the current quarter belonging to the series to which said shares so redeemed or cancelled belonged, and the value of said shares shall be credited to the remaining shares of said series in equal proportions.

Should any loss occur on any loan, the amount of such loss shall be deducted from the value of the shares of the several series which were in existence at the time of making said loan, to be apportioned among said series in the same manner as the interest on said loan is hereinbefore directed to be apportioned.

PLAN 15.

The profits are distributed annually on the basis of each $10 paid into the association. A member who has paid in $100 receives ten parts; one who has paid in $40 receives four parts; one who has paid in $52 receives five parts, etc., the excess of dollars over a multiple of $10 not participating in the profits.

PLAN 16.

Associations using this plan declare a semi-annual dividend, but shares less than a year old are not allowed any part of the profits.

The rate per cent of profit is ascertained by dividing the net profits by the amount of dues standing to the credit of the shares at the time of the last report, plus the profits that were credited six months previous to the last report.

ILLUSTRATION.

Total dues paid up to last report	$18, 120
Total profit credited six months previous to last report	1, 240
Profit made during the term	968

Then: $$968 - ($18,120 + $1,240) = 5$, rate per cent of profit.

Total dues paid on a share	$36.00
Dues paid on a share at the last report	30.00
Profit credited on a share at last report	3.40
Profit credited on a share six months previous to last report	2.50
$$30 + $2.50 = $32.50$, amount per share entitled to dividend.
$$32.50 \times .05 = \1.62 , dividend per share for the term.
$$36 + $3.40 + $1.62 = \41.02 , present value of a share.

PLAN 17.

1. Divide the net profits for the term by the total number of shares issued since the organization of the association.
2. Multiply the quotient by the total number of shares issued in each series, for the profit of each series.
3. Divide the profit of each series by the number of shares in force in each series, for the profit per share.

ILLUSTRATION.

2.....	600	350
3.....	400	250
4.....	500	300
Total.....	2,000	1,300

Profit made during the term, $1,500.

$$1,500 \div 2,000 = \0.75 , profit per share issued.

$$0.75 \times 500 = \375 , the first series' share of the profit.

$$0.75 \times 600 = \450 , the second series' share of the profit.

$$0.75 \times 400 = \300 , the third series' share of the profit.

$$0.75 \times 500 = \375 , the fourth series' share of the profit.

$$375 \div 400 = \0.94 , profit of a share of the first series.

$$450 \div 350 = \1.29 , profit of a share of the second series.

$$300 \div 250 = \1.20 , profit of a share of the third series.

$$375 \div 300 = \1.25 , profit of a share of the fourth series.

PLAN 19.

1. Give a fixed rate of interest to the various series in proportion to the amount of invested capital as determined at the previous month's apportionment.

2. Give the profits from withdrawals, premiums, and fines, etc., to the series which have furnished the money from which the profits have been made, taking into consideration, with each item of profit, the amount of money furnished by each series and the length of time for which it is furnished.

This rule is applicable only to associations organized on the serial plan, time limit of series, gross premium fully earned, and monthly payments.

ILLUSTRATION.

Let there be three series of 1,000 shares each, series A being 24 months old, series B 12 months old, and series C just issued. Let the invested capital at the beginning of the month be $33,000 for series A and $15,000 for series B.

Let 108 months be the length of time each series is to run.

Fines on interest in arrears are counted as interest.

Fines on dues in arrears are credited to the respective series in which the dues were in arrears, as dues.

Let the interest paid at end of month on invested capital, together with fines paid on interest in arrears, be.....	$320

Let dues and fines paid on dues in arrears in series A at end of month be....	1,000
Let dues and fines paid on dues in arrears in series B at end of month be....	1,000
Let dues and fines paid on dues in arrears in series C at end of month be....	1,000

Total cash paid during the month (including interest on capital) 3,320

Let $850 of this cash be used in withdrawing stock, as follows:

Book value of 23 shares withdrawn from series A, at $33=$825; 16 shares from series B, at $15=$240
Cash paid for the same by the association, at $26= $650; for withdrawals from series B at $12.50=200

The profit made from withdrawals	175	+	40 or $215 in all.

At the end of the month series A has yet to run 83 months; series B, 95 months; and series C, 107 months.

Earned gross premium for loan of 83 months, stock of series A borrowed on, loan of $1,000=$210.

Earned gross premium for loan of 95 months, stock of series B borrowed on, loan of $1,000=$240.

Earned gross premium for loan of 107 months, stock of series C borrowed on, loan of $1,000=$270.

For simplicity of illustration, the matter of expense is not considered, but the expense is distributed in proportion to the total cash received during the month.

The interest and fines on interest in arrears received during the month, and amounting to $320, are distributed to series A and B in proportion to the invested capital of each series at the beginning of the month, series A thus receiving $220, and series B, $100.

The cash contributions during the month were, therefore, as follows:

By series A $1,000 + $220 = $1,220.

By series B $1,000 + $100 = $1,100.

By series C $1,000.

The withdrawal profit, amounting to $215, is then divided in proportion to the monthly contributions of each series, which gives a withdrawal profit of $79 to series A, $71 to series B, and $65 to series C.

Profits arising from premiums are distributed thus:

1. For the loan of $1,000 for 83 months with stock borrowed on from series A, a gross premium of $210 was paid. The money furnished for this loan by the various series all remains for 83 months, so that in this case the question of time is eliminated and the distribution of the premium is the same as for profits on withdrawals. This gives $77, as series A's share of series A's premium; $70, as series B's share of series A's premium; and $63, as series C's share of series A's premium.

2. For the loan of $1,000 for 95 months with stock borrowed on from series B, a gross premium of $240 was paid. The money furnished by series A for this loan remains only 83 months (as series A matures then), while the money furnished by series B and C remains for 95 months; therefore,

$1,220 for 83 months = $101,260, series A's investment for one month.

$1,100 for 95 months = $104,500, series B's investment for one month.

$1,000 for 95 months = $95,000, series C's investment for one month.

$300,760, total investment for one month.

The premium of $240 is then apportioned as follows:

$300,760 : $101,260 :: $240 : $81, series A's share of B's premium.

$300,760 : $104,500 :: $240 : $83, series B's share of B's premium.

$300,760 : $95,000 :: $240 : $76, series C's share of B's premium.

3. For the loan of $1,000 for 107 months with stock borrowed on from series C, a gross premium of $270 was paid. The money furnished by series A remains only 83 months, that furnished by series B, 95 months, and that by series C, 107 months; then, as before,

$1,220 for 83 months = $101,260, series A's investment for one month.

$1,100 for 95 months = $104,500, series B's investment for one month.

$1,000 for 107 months = $107,000, series C's investment for one month.

$312,760, total investment for one month.

The premium of $270 is then apportioned as follows:

$312,760 : $101,260 :: $270 : $88, series A's share of C's premium.

$312,760 : $104,500 :: $270 : $90, series B's share of C's premium.

$312,760 : $107,000 :: $270 : $92, series C's share of C's premium.

PLAN 20.

From the net receipts for each series from the beginning, as shown at the previous apportionment, deduct the amount of withdrawals from the series during the term, and to this remainder add dues and entrance fees received for the series during the term. To find each series' share of interest and interest share of premium: First, find the dues' share of premium, or what profit has been made on loaning out dues at a premium; and, second, the interest share of premium, or what profit has been made by loaning out interest received at a premium, by the following proportions: The amount of dues and interest received during the term is to the premium received during the term, as the amount of dues received during the term is to the dues' share of the premium; the amount of dues and interest received during the term is to the premium received during the term, as the interest received during the term is to the interest share of the premium.

Add the interest share of the premium to the interest received during the term and form these proportions to divide the result among the series: The amount of total receipts since beginning is to the amount of interest received and interest share of premium for the term, as the amount of A's receipts since beginning is to A's share of interest and interest premium; treating each series, B, C, etc., in the same way, to find their respective shares.

Add dues' share of premium and fines received during the term and divide among the series, as follows: The amount of dues received by all series during term is to the dues' share of premium and fines received during the term, as the amount of A's dues received during the term is to A's share; treating each series, B, C, etc., in the same way, to find their respective shares.

Expenses are divided among the series by the following proportions: The amount of total receipts from dues, interest, and interest share of premium during the term is to the total expense during the term, as the amount of A's receipts from dues, interest, and interest share of premium for the term is to A's share of expense; treating each series, B, C, etc., in the same manner.

Each series' net gain since last apportionment of profits is found by adding their respective shares of interest and interest share of premium and their dues share of premium and fines together, and taking from this result their share of expense and whatever incidentals there may be, such as interest on withdrawals, etc. To this remainder add dues and entrance fees received during the term and each series' share of the profits for the value of the series.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Colorado, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 21.

1. A fixed rate of interest is given upon the value of the shares as declared by the last report plus the equated amount of dues paid during the term.

2. Profits arising from withdrawals are divided equally among the shares of the respective series from which the withdrawals took place.

3. The remainder of the profits is divided equally among all the shares.

To illustrate the rule, suppose that at the end of the second year of the existence of an association there were two series in force; first series, 100 shares, present value, $26; second series, 200 shares, present value, $12.40. At the beginning of the third year another series of 150 shares was issued. During the year a general profit of $569.50 was made, and, in addition, a withdrawal profit of $15 in the first series and $12 in the second series.

ILLUSTRATION.

$26.00, previous value, + $6.50, equated amount of dues, = $32.50, amount per share of first series entitled to interest.

$12.40, previous value, + $6.50, equated amount of dues, = $18.90, amount per share of second series entitled to interest.

$6.50, equated amount of dues, = amount per share of third series entitled to interest.

$$32.50 \times .06 = \1.95 , interest on one share of the first series.

$$18.90 \times .06 = \1.13 , interest on one share of the second series.

$$6.50 \times .06 = \0.39 , interest on one share of the third series.

$$1.95 \times 100 = \195.00 , interest belonging to the first series.

$$1.13 \times 200 = \226.00 , interest belonging to the second series.

$$0.39 \times 150 = \58.50 , interest belonging to the third series.

$479.50, interest belonging to all the series.

$$569.50 - $479.50 = $90.00$, net profits due all the series.

$$90.00 \div 450$, shares in all series, = $0.20, profit per share.

$$15.00 \div 100$, shares in first series, = $0.15, withdrawal profit per share in first series.

$$12.00 \div 200$, shares in second series = $0.06, withdrawal profit per share in second series.

$$26.00 + $1.95 + $0.20 + $0.15 + $12.00 = \40.30 , value of a share in first series.

$$12.40 + $1.13 + $0.20 + $0.06 + $12.00 = \25.79 , value of a share in second series.

$$0.39 + $0.20 + $12.00 = \12.59 , value of a share in third series.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Louisiana, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 22.

1. Multiply the total amount of interest collected by the average rate paid for premiums during the year and add the product to the interest collected.

2. Divide this sum among the shares in force in proportion to their previous values and the average amount of dues paid in during the year.

3. Deduct the premiums already apportioned from the total amount of premiums collected during the year and divide the remainder in proportion to the dues paid in during the year.

4. Divide the gross losses in proportion to the previous values of the shares and the average amount of dues paid in during the year.

5. From the sum of the profits gained on one share deduct the loss on the share for the net profits of one share.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 23.

This rule applies to some associations whose various series are divided into separate classes. For instance, the monthly series issued during the first year form class A; the monthly series issued during the second year form class B, etc.

The rule is as follows:

1. Profits arising from fines and transfer fees are credited to the shares in the class in which they occur.

2. Interest and premiums are distributed to the different classes in proportion to the amount of dues paid into the loan fund.

3. The total profits apportioned to each class are divided by the amount of dues paid into the loan fund for the rate which is applied upon the dues standing to the credit of each share.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 24.

1. Multiply the total value of all the shares in force as declared by the last report plus the dues paid in during the term by half the time of investment for the dividend bearing capital.

2. Divide the net profits by the dividend bearing capital, for the rate per cent of profit.

3. The dividend bearing capital of a share multiplied by this rate gives the profit per share.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

LOCAL.—Illinois, 1; total local associations, 1.

PLAN 25.

The net profits for the first six months are assigned to the first series; the net profits of the second six months are divided between the first and second series, giving 19 parts to the former and 7 parts to the latter; for the third six months the division is made by giving to the first series 31 parts, to the second series 19 parts, and to the third series 7 parts; and for any period of six months the number of parts assigned to any series is 12 units greater than the number assigned to the same series the preceding six months, but no series which has not been in existence for a full period of six months is entitled to share in the distribution.

The number of associations operating under this plan is as follows:

CHAPTER V.

WITHDRAWAL PLANS.

CHAPTER V.

WITHDRAWAL PLANS.

As in the case of premium plans and plans for the distribution of profits there are various rules for withdrawals. They are not so numerous, however, as in the other cases, although there are twelve such.

Shares are issued by building and loan associations upon the theory that when the periodical dues paid thereon, together with the profits earned thereby, amount to the ultimate, or, technically, the maturing value of the shares, the holders shall be entitled to receive, in cash, such value, if the shares have not been pledged for loans; if pledged for loans, equal in amount to their maturing value, the loans shall be cancelled; if the loans do not equal in amount the maturing value of the pledged shares the holder shall receive, in cash, the difference between the amount of the loans and the maturing value of the shares.

Shareholders are not, however, as a rule, required to continue the periodical payment of dues until the maturity of their shares, but may, if they so desire, cease paying such dues, and, if their shares are unpledged for loans, withdraw the amounts already paid in, subject to widely varying regulations; if the shares have been pledged for loans, and the holders desire to settle their indebtedness before the shares mature, they are usually permitted to do so by paying the difference between the withdrawal value of the pledged shares and the amount of their indebtedness.

Provision is usually made in the constitutions or bylaws of building and loan associations for the giving of notice by shareholders desiring to withdraw, ranging from one week to ninety days. Such notice is not, however, universally provided for, and when provided for is frequently not enforced if sufficient funds are on hand to permit withdrawal without notice. It is also usually provided that only a certain portion, as one-third or one-half, of the receipts of the association shall be applicable to the demands of withdrawing shareholders, and in such case, should the notices of intended withdrawals call for more money than the designated portion of receipts could satisfy, the withdrawing shareholder would be compelled to wait until future receipts should supply the deficiency.

In nearly all national associations a certain portion of the periodical dues are set aside for expenses, as explained in Chapter IV relating to the distribution of profits, the remainder of the dues being carried into what is ordinarily termed the loan fund. The money in the loan fund is used for the purposes of making loans to members, of paying off shares which have reached maturity, and of meeting the demands of withdrawing shareholders; and, usually, only the portion of the dues included in the loan fund is returned to such shareholders, with whatever allowance of interest or profit thereon the particular withdrawal plan of each association may provide for, the portion of the dues carried into the expense fund, generally amounting to about one-sixth of each payment, being retained by the association. In some national associations the loan fund is credited with whatever balance of the expense fund remains unexpended at the end of certain fixed periods, and withdrawing shareholders may derive some benefit from such unexpended balance, but this course is exceptional. The plan of separating the periodical dues into a loan fund and an expense fund is pursued by a few local associations, but the general rule in such associations is to return to withdrawing members all the dues paid in by them, with or without interest or profits.

In associations which pay to withdrawing shareholders annual interest on dues paid in prior to withdrawal there are two methods of calculating such interest.

First. The interest is calculated on the total amount of dues paid in for one-half the time during which they have been paid, commonly called the average time of investment; for example, in an association requiring monthly payments of dues at the rate of $1 per share, if 6 per cent per annum is allowed upon withdrawal, a member withdrawing at the end of one year would receive his dues, $12, and 6 per cent interest thereon for six months, or 36 cents, making a total of $12.36 per share. This method, on account of its simplicity, is the one ordinarily used; a few associations, however, use the following method:

Second. The interest is calculated on the total amount of dues paid in for the true average, or equated time of investment, which is ascertained by taking one-half of the sum of the extremes of the arithmetical series representing the periods of time during which the periodical payments of dues have been invested; thus, using the illustration given above, monthly dues having been paid for twelve months, the extremes of the series representing the periods of investment of the monthly payments are 1 and 12; one-half of the sum of the extremes is $6\frac{1}{2}$, which is the true average time of investment, in months, and 6 per cent on \$12 for $6\frac{1}{2}$ months amounts to 39 cents, which added to the dues paid in gives a withdrawal value of \$12.39 per share at the end of one year.

No reference is made to these two methods of calculating interest in the descriptions of withdrawal plans which follow, the difference between the amounts obtained by them being small and growing proportionately smaller as shares increase in age. For the sake of uniformity, therefore, and because it was the simpler, the first method has been used in all the illustrations.

The withdrawal value of shares, by whatever plan it may be determined, is always subject to the deduction of any fines charged against their holder for non-fulfilment of his obligation to promptly make payment of his periodical dues.

In some cases shareholders desiring to withdraw are required to pay fees for the privilege of so doing; for instance, 25 cents or 50 cents may be exacted for each share upon which withdrawal is made. The range of such fees is stated under the descriptions of the different withdrawal plans in connection with which they are charged.

A few associations do not permit their members to withdraw prior to the maturing of their shares; in such cases the only method by which a shareholder can realize upon his shares is by selling them to some other person at whatever price he can obtain.

The number of associations reported as not permitting withdrawal prior to maturity, all of which are local, is as follows: Alabama, 2; Arkansas, 2; Georgia, 8; Kansas, 3; Kentucky, 5; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 1; Ohio, 4; Pennsylvania, 2; South Carolina, 8; Texas, 2; Virginia, 1; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 2; Wyoming, 2; total, 44.

There are twelve principal plans under which building and loan associations permit their members to withdraw before their shares have reached maturity. A description is given of each of these plans, with their various modifications and regulations, and a statement of the number of associations in the various states and territories operating under each specified plan. A summary of these statements in tabular form immediately follows, preceding the descriptions:

PLAN 1.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in without interest or profit.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive only the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made, the profits earned by said shares being retained by the association.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Three months; six months; one year.

2. Only a certain portion of the dues paid in can be withdrawn, varying, in the associations reporting such a regulation, as follows: 75 per cent; 90 per cent; 95 per cent; 95 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old; 95 per cent or 96 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; 95 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than two years old; 95 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; 97½ per cent if one year but less than two years old.

3. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, or $1 per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of 25 cents per share is charged, but not more than $5 per transaction.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per transaction is charged if the shares on which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(4) The dues withdrawn are discounted, the rate of discount being graduated according to the age of the share upon which withdrawal is made.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 6; Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 2; California, 4; Colorado, 1; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 5; Indiana, 7; Iowa, 4; Kansas, 3; Kentucky, 12; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 5; Michigan, 6; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 29; Nebraska, 11; New Jersey, 18; New York, 6; North Carolina, 5; Ohio, 9; Pennsylvania, 34; South Carolina, 15; Texas, 8; Virginia, 17; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 5; Wyoming, 1; total local associations, 221.

NATIONAL.—California, 1; Kentucky, 1; New Jersey, 1; North Dakota, 1; total national associations, 4.

PLAN 2.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and a fixed rate of interest per annum on such payments.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made with a fixed rate of interest thereon per annum, which varies in different associations.

Illustration: In an association in which the dues are $1 per month per share 6 per cent interest on the dues paid in is allowed withdrawing shareholders. If a shareholder withdraws when his shares are four years old he will receive on each share upon which withdrawal is made $48, the dues paid in thereon, with 6 per cent interest on the same for two years, the average time of investment, or $5.76, making the total amount he will withdraw on each share $48 plus $5.76, or $53.76.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. The total amount to be withdrawn must not exceed 95 per cent of the present value (consisting of dues and apportioned profits) of the shares upon which withdrawal is made.

2. This plan is applied to withdrawals in all series except the oldest one in force, in which either the full value of the shares may be withdrawn, or an arbitrary allowance is given.

3. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Two months; three months; four months; six months; one year; two years; three years; any time which may be fixed by the board of directors.

4. No interest is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One month; two months; three months; four months; six months; eight months; ten months; one year; thirteen months; eighteen months; two years; twenty-six months; three years; four years.

5. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations concerning withdrawal fees are found:

- (1) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents, 10 cents, 20 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, $1, or $2 per share is charged.

- (2) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

- (3) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old.

- (4) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

- (5) Withdrawal fee of $2 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than two years old.

(6) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 nor more than $2 per transaction.

(7) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 nor more than $2.50 per transaction.

(8) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 nor more than $3 per transaction.

(9) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not more than $5 per transaction.

(10) Withdrawal fee of $1.30 per transaction is charged.

(11) Withdrawal fee of $3 per transaction is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(12) Withdrawal fee of $1 per transaction is charged if withdrawal is made upon less than six shares; if upon six shares or more $3 is charged.

(13) Withdrawal fee of 1 per cent of the dues paid in is charged.

(14) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged.

(15) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(16) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old and $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent if one but less than two years old.

(17) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than three years old.

(18) Withdrawal fee of 10 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(19) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the present value of the shares upon which withdrawal is made is charged.

(20) Withdrawal fee is charged of a rate per cent of the dues paid in, graduated according to the number of months the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence, if the shareholder withdraws during the first year of the existence of the shares.

(21) Withdrawal fee is charged of a rate per cent of the dues paid in, graduated according to the number of months the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence, if the shareholder withdraws during the first two years of the existence of said shares.

(22) Withdrawal fee is charged of the interest at the fixed rate on the dues paid in during the first year of the existence of the shares upon which withdrawal is made.

(23) Withdrawal fee is charged of the interest at the fixed rate on the dues paid in during the last six months of the existence of the shares upon which withdrawal is made.

(24) Withdrawal fee is charged of one-tenth of the total interest calculated at the fixed rate on the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

PLAN 3.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and a graduated rate of interest per annum on such payments.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made, with interest thereon at various increasing rates per cent per annum, graduated according to the age of the shares.

Illustration: A member holding shares which are six years old, four years old, and two years old, respectively, desires to withdraw from the association. He has paid $72 per share as dues in the first class, $48 per share as dues in the second class, and $24 per share as dues in the third class. The conditions governing withdrawals are as follows: Shares withdrawn during the first two years receive 3 per cent per annum on the average investment; during the third year, 4 per cent; during the fourth and the fifth years, 5 per cent, and after the fifth year, 6 per cent. On each share six years old the withdrawing shareholder would receive the dues paid in by him, $72, with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum for the average time of investment, amounting to $12.96, making a withdrawal value of $84.96. On each share four years old he would receive the dues paid in by him, $48, with interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent per annum for the average time of investment, amounting to $4.80, making a withdrawal value of $52.80. On each share two years old he would receive the dues paid in by him, $24, with interest thereon at the rate of 3 per cent per annum for the average time of investment, amounting to 72 cents, making a withdrawal value of $24.72.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Three months; six months; one year; two years.

2. No interest is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One month; three months; six months; nine months; one year; eighteen months; two years; three years; four years.

3. Some associations operating under this plan permit withdrawal on only ten shares at any one time and require six months to elapse before another withdrawal can be made by the same person.

4. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, or $1 per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of 8 cents or 10 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share per month is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than two years old.

(4) Withdrawal fee of 25 cents per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than two years old.

(5) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(6) Withdrawal fee of $1 per transaction is charged.

(7) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged and, in addition thereto, 2 per cent of the dues paid in.

(8) Withdrawal fee of 2 per cent of the dues paid in is charged.

(9) Withdrawal fee of 10 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old.

(10) Withdrawal fee of 3 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are more than six months and less than one year old; $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the dues paid in if more than one year and less than eighteen months old.

(11) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues, or of 10 per cent of the dues, is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the dues, or of 5 per cent of the dues, is charged if the shares are more than one year but not exceeding two years old.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows.

LOCAL.—Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 5; California, 8; Colorado, 8; Delaware, 4; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 35; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 8; Kansas, 2;

Maryland, 3; Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 9; Missouri, 29; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 10; New Jersey, 22; New York, 10; North Carolina, 2; Ohio, 2; Pennsylvania, 69; South Carolina, 1; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 4; Virginia, 2; West Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 2; total local associations, 270.

PLAN 4.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and a fixed portion of the profits.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made and a fixed portion, varying in different associations, of the profits apportioned to said shares.

Illustration: The maturing value of a share is $200 and the dues per month $1. A member whose shares are two years old has paid in on each share in dues $24, and the profits apportioned each share are $2; 50 per cent of such profits can be withdrawn; therefore, if the member withdraws at the end of said two years he will receive on each share the dues paid in, $24, plus 50 per cent of the $2 profits, or $1, which makes the total amount that may be withdrawn on each share, $25.

The portion of the profits allowed on withdrawal ranges in different associations from 5 to 95 per cent.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. One association allows, in addition to the dues paid in, a fixed amount on each share upon which withdrawal is made instead of a fixed portion of the profits apportioned.

2. In one case the fixed portion allowed is not a fixed portion of all the profits apportioned, but a fixed portion of those remaining after deducting the profits of the first year.

3. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Six months; one year.

4. No profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One month; two months; three months; six months; nine months; one year; eighteen months; two years; three years; five years.

5. No profit is allowed and but 95 per cent of the dues paid in can be withdrawn if withdrawal is made upon shares less than one year old.

6. A fixed portion of the profits apportioned can be withdrawn, provided such portion does not exceed 7 per cent per annum interest upon the dues paid in.

7. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents, 10 cents, or 50 cents per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of 25 cents per share is charged for each year the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 25 cents per share is charged, but not more than $5 per transaction.

(4) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged and, in addition, 8 per cent of the dues paid in, if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are not over one year old; but if said shares are over one year old, then 50 cents per share and 2 per cent of the dues paid in is charged.

(5) Withdrawal fee of $1 per transaction is charged.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 10; California, 11; Colorado, 3; Connecticut, 1; District of Columbia, 1; Idaho, 1; Illinois, 14; Indiana, 7; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 24; Louisiana, 2; Maine, 18; Maryland, 4; Massachusetts, 79; Michigan, 2; Minnesota, 15; Mississippi, 3; Missouri, 19; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 13; New York, 17; North Carolina, 4; North Dakota, 2; Ohio, 2; Oklahoma, 1; Oregon, 7; Pennsylvania, 58; South Carolina, 3; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 6; Washington, 3; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 347.

PLAN 5.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and a graduated portion of the profits or a graduated amount.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made, with a portion of the profits apportioned to such shares, such portion being graduated according to the age of the shares. Or, instead of a graduated portion of the profits, withdrawing shareholders receive, in addition to dues, an amount which increases periodically according to the age of the shares, regardless of profits.

Illustration I: A member desires to withdraw at the end of the third year after having paid $36 in dues. The scheme of the association provides that a member withdrawing during the first twenty-four months shall receive, in addition to the dues paid in, 75 per cent of the profits apportioned to his shares; after twenty-four months, 80 per cent; after thirty months, 85 per cent; after thirty-six months, 90 per cent; and after forty-two months, 95 per cent. The profits earned by a share at the end of the third year are $4.06, of which the withdrawing member would receive 90 per cent, or $3.65, which, added to the dues, gives the share a withdrawal value of $39.65.

Illustration II: An association paying the withdrawing shareholder a graduated amount per share instead of a graduated portion of the profits, allows the following rates: If the withdrawal takes place during the first year, no profits are allowed; during the second year, 50 cents; during the third year, $1; during the fourth year, $3; during the first six months of the fifth year, $5; during the second six months of the fifth year, $6.50; during the first six months of the sixth year, $8; during the second six months of the sixth year, $10; during the first six months of the seventh year, $12; during the second six months of the seventh year, $14; during the first six months of the eighth year, $16; during the second six months of the eighth year, $18; and after the eighth year, $20. A member withdrawing from this association at the end of the fifth year, after having paid $60 in dues, would receive $8 in addition to his dues, or a total of $68.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares less than one year old.

2. No profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations, as follows: Six months; nine months; one year; two years; four years; eight years.

3. In some cases the profits allowed must not exceed a fixed per cent of the profits apportioned, which varies in different associations, as follows: 50 per cent; 80 per cent.

4. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

- (1) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged.

- (2) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged, but not less than 50 cents per transaction.

- (3) Withdrawal fee of $1 per transaction is charged.

5. If withdrawal is made upon shares less than one year old only 90 per cent of the dues paid in is returned to the shareholder.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 2; California, 38; Colorado, 1; Connecticut, 3; Delaware, 1; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 15; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 3; Kentucky, 3; Louisiana, 18; Maryland, 2; Massachusetts, 6; Michigan, 2; Minnesota, 6; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 12; Nebraska, 6; New Jersey, 42; New Mexico, 1; New York, 23; North Carolina, 3; Ohio, 1; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 99; Rhode Island, 5; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 2; Utah, 1; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 5; total local associations, 321.

NATIONAL.—California, 2; New York, 3; Oregon, 2; total national associations, 7.

PLAN 6.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in with a fixed rate of interest thereon, and, in addition, a fixed or a graduated portion of the profits.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares on which withdrawal is made, with interest thereon, at rates varying, in different associations, from 3 per cent to 8 per cent per annum, and, in addition thereto, a fixed portion of the profits apporportioned to the shares in excess of the interest allowed, or a portion of such profits graduated in accordance with the age of the shares.

Illustration: In an association in which the dues are $1 per share per month the profits at the end of four years amount to, say, $10 per share; a shareholder then withdrawing would receive on each share the dues paid in by him, $48, with interest thereon for the average time of investment, amounting, at 6 per cent per annum, to $5.76, and in addition thereto, a fixed portion of the profits in excess of $5.76, of 20 per cent thereof, amounting to one-fifth of $4.24, or 85 cents, making a total of $54.61; if instead of a fixed a graduated portion of the profits is allowed in addition to the interest, one-tenth of the profits in excess of interest being allowed for each full year the share has been in force, the withdrawing shareholder would be entitled to receive at the end of four years the dues paid in, $48, plus the interest thereon, $5.76, plus 40 per cent of the profits in excess of said interest, amounting to two-fifths of $4.24, or $1.70, making a total of $55.46.

Some associations, instead of allowing a fixed or a graduated portion of the profits in addition to interest, allow a fixed or a graduated amount per share, regardless of the profits; for instance, withdrawing members may be paid $1 per share, in addition to interest, on all shares one year old or over; or, the additional amount may be increased from year to year, as the shares increase in age. In a few cases the additional portion of profits or the additional amounts are not allowed unless the shares upon which withdrawal is made are two and, in one instance, three years old at the time of withdrawal; and occasionally only the dues paid in are returned to withdrawing members if their shares are less than three months, six months, or one year old.

A few associations, permitting withdrawals under the plan above described, pay the full "book value," or, as it is sometimes designated, the "present value" of the shares upon which withdrawal is made, consisting of the dues paid in, together with all profits apportioned therto, after such shares are eight years old.

None of the associations in which withdrawals are made in accordance with the plan described are reported as charging withdrawal fees.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Arkansas, 1; California, 1; Illinois, 17; Indiana, 1; Michigan, 5; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 6; New York, 2; Pennsylvania, 9; total local associations, 43.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; total national associations, 1.

PLAN 7.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in, with a fixed rate of interest thereon during a fixed period and a fixed or a graduated portion of the profits thereafter.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares on which withdrawal is made and, if withdrawal is made within a fixed period from the date of issue of the shares, interest thereon, both the rate of interest and the length of the period varying in different associations; if withdrawal is made after the expiration of said period, shareholders receive instead of interest either a fixed portion of the profits apportioned to the shares or a portion of such profits graduated according to the age of the shares.

Illustration: In an association in which the dues are $1 per share per month interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on the dues paid in is allowed the withdrawing shareholder if withdrawal is made on shares less than four years old, and thereafter, in lieu of said interest, a fixed portion of 50 per cent of the profits apportioned is allowed. If a shareholder withdraws when his shares are three years old he will receive on each share $36, dues paid in, with interest at 6 per cent per annum thereon, amounting for the average time of investment to $3.24, making the total amount he will withdraw on each share $36 plus $3.24, or $39.24. If said shareholder withdraws when his shares are five years old, the profits earned by each share being $15, he will receive on each share $60, dues paid in on same, together with 50 per cent of the $15, or $7.50, making the total amount he will withdraw on each share $60 plus $7.50, or $67.50. If instead of a fixed a graduated portion of the profits is allowed after a fixed period, which is, say, 50 per cent of the profits when share is four years old, 60 per cent when five years old, 70 per cent when six years old, etc., then, at the end of the five years, he will receive on each share $60, dues paid in on same, plus 60 per cent of $15, or $9, making the total amount he will withdraw $60 plus $9, or $69.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. A portion of the profits apportioned to the shares, arbitrarily fixed by the board of directors, is given after the expiration of the fixed period during which interest is paid, instead of a fixed or graduated portion of the profits.

Illustration: If, in the case illustrated above, the board of directors should give a shareholder, withdrawing when his shares were five years old, an arbitrary allowance of two-thirds of the profits apportioned he would receive on each share $60, dues paid in, plus two-thirds of $15, or $10, making the amount withdrawn on said share $60 plus $10, or $70. Some associations, in which an arbitrary allowance is given, provide that such allowance shall not be less than 50 per cent of the profits apportioned and some that it shall not be less than 75 per cent of the same.

2. All the profits apportioned are given after the expiration of the fixed period during which interest is paid, instead of a fixed or graduated portion of said profits.

Illustration: If, in the case illustrated above, all the profits are given after the fixed period a shareholder withdrawing when his shares are five years old will receive on each share $60, dues paid in, plus $15, all the profits apportioned, making the amount he will withdraw on said share $75.

3. Some of the associations allowing a fixed rate of interest for a fixed period and all profits thereafter give, in addition to the fixed rate of interest during part of the fixed period, an arbitrary amount. The particular cases reported are as follows:

(1) Fixed rate of interest allowed where shares on which withdrawal is made are less than six years old, with an arbitrary amount additional from the fourth to the sixth year, inclusive, and all profits thereafter.

(2) Fixed rate of interest allowed when shares on which withdrawal is made are less than seven years old, with an arbitrary amount additional from the fourth to the seventh year, inclusive, and all profits thereafter.

4. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Six months; one year; two years.

5. No interest or profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Two months; three months; six months; one year; a time arbitrarily fixed by the board of directors.

6. The fixed period during which a fixed rate of interest is given in case of withdrawal varies in different associations as follows: One year; two years; twenty-six months; three years; four years; five years; six years; seven years; eight years; ten years.

7. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents, 20 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, or $1 per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(4) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 nor more than $2.50 per transaction.

(5) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are six years old.

(6) Withdrawal fee of $2 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are eight years old.

(7) Withdrawal fee of $6 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are seven years old.

(8) If the shares upon which withdrawal is made are in the sixth year of their existence a withdrawal fee of $5 per share is charged, if in their seventh year a fee of $4 per share, if in their eighth year a fee of $3 per share, if in their ninth year a fee of $2 per share, and if in their tenth year a fee of $1 per share. No withdrawal fee is charged prior to the sixth year nor after the tenth year of the share's existence.

(9) During the first year of the existence of the shares upon which withdrawal is made a fee of 25 cents per share is charged, during the second year a fee of 50 cents per share, from the third to the seventh years inclusive no fee is charged, during the eighth year a fee of $8 per share, and after the eighth year a fee of $6 per share.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 10; District of Columbia, 1; Florida, 1; Illinois, 45; Indiana, 10; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 1; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 2; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 2; Montana, 2; New Jersey, 6; New York, 26; Ohio, 2; Pennsylvania, 14; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 2; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 1; total local associations, 139.

NATIONAL.—Alabama, 1; California, 2; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 1; Indiana, 4; New York, 2; Tennessee, 3; Virginia, 2; total national associations, 18.

PLAN 8.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in with a graduated rate of interest thereon during a fixed period, and either a fixed or a graduated portion of the profits thereafter.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares on which withdrawal is made and, if withdrawal is made within a fixed period (varying in different associations) from the date of issue of the shares, interest thereon at various increasing rates per cent per annum graduated according to the age of the shares; if withdrawal is made after the expiration of said period shareholders receive instead of interest either a fixed portion of the profits apportioned to the shares or a portion of such profits graduated according to the age of the shares.

Illustration: An association in which the dues are \$1 per month per share provides for paying its withdrawing members, during the first six months their shares are in force, only the amount of dues that has been paid in; during the second six months, in addition to the dues, 5 per cent interest per annum thereon for the average time of investment; during the second year, $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; during the third year, 6 per cent; during the first six months of the fourth year, $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; during the last six months of the fourth year, 7 per cent; during the first six months of the fifth year, $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; during the last six months of the fifth year, 8 per cent; after the fifth year, at any time prior to maturity, 85 per cent of the profits apportioned to the shares. If a member withdraws when his shares are fifty months old he receives, per share, the dues paid thereon, \$50, and $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum interest thereon for the average time of investment, amounting to \$7.81, making a total of \$57.81. Should he withdraw at the end of the sixth year, and the profits at that time amount to \$20 per share, he would receive the dues paid in, \$72, and, in addition thereto, 85 per cent of \$20, or \$17, making a total of \$89.

If, after the fourth year, a graduated portion instead of a fixed portion of the profits is allowed, 65 per cent of the profits being allowed during the fifth year, 70 per cent during the sixth year, 75 per cent during the seventh year, 80 per cent during the eighth year, 85 per cent during the ninth year, and 90 per cent after the expiration of the ninth year, at any time prior to maturity, a withdrawing shareholder would receive upon withdrawal made after having paid in dues for six years the amount of such dues, $72, and 75 per cent of the profits, $15, making a total of $87 per share.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. If withdrawal is made after the expiration of the fixed period during which a graduated rate of interest is allowed, withdrawing shareholders receive such portion of the profits as the managers of the association may from time to time determine.

2. If withdrawal is made after the expiration of the fixed period during which a graduated rate of interest is allowed, withdrawing shareholders receive all the profits which have been apportioned to their shares instead of a fixed or a graduated portion thereof.

3. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations.

4. No interest or profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Six months; one year; eighteen months; two years.

5. Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in with a graduated rate of interest thereon until dues and profits amount to one-half the maturing value of a share, and either a fixed or a graduated portion of the profits thereafter.

6. The fixed period during which a graduated rate of interest is given in case of withdrawal varies in different associations as follows: Three years; four years; four and one-half years; five years; six years; seven years; eight years; nine years.

7. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

- (1) Withdrawal fee of 25 cents per share is charged.
- (2) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.
- (3) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old.
- (4) Withdrawal fee of 35 cents per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old, 10 cents per share if between one and two years old.
- (5) Withdrawal fee of 10 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.
- (6) Withdrawal fee of $5 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are nine years old.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—California, 5; Illinois, 18; Iowa, 1; Maryland, 2; Michigan, 4; Minnesota, 4; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 1; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 2; New Hampshire, 1; New Jersey, 19; New York, 10; Pennsylvania, 10; Tennessee, 1; total local associations, 80.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 2; Indiana, 5; Minnesota, 3; Missouri, 1; New York, 1; South Dakota, 1; Virginia, 2; total national associations, 15.

PLAN 9.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in with a graduated portion of the profits during a fixed period, and all the profits thereafter.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares on which withdrawal is made and, if withdrawal is made within a fixed period (varying in different associations) from the date of issue of the shares, a portion of the profits apportioned to the shares graduated according to the age of the shares; if withdrawal is made after the expiration of said period, shareholders receive all the profits apportioned to the shares instead of a portion.

Illustration: The bylaws of an association provide that shareholders withdrawing at the end of the first fifteen months from the date of issue of their shares shall receive all dues paid by them, together with $16\frac{2}{3}$ per cent of the profits apportioned to their shares; after two years, $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent; after three years, 50 per cent; after four years, $66\frac{2}{3}$ per cent; after five years, $83\frac{1}{3}$ per cent; after six years, all profits apportioned. A shareholder in the above association desires to withdraw after having paid dues for three years at \$1 per share per month. The profits apportioned to his shares equal \$8.80 per share, of which, according to the foregoing scheme, he receives 50 per cent, or \$4.40. This amount added to \$36, the amount of dues paid by him, gives a withdrawal value of \$40.40 per share at the end of the third year. But if the shareholder retains his membership until the expiration of the sixth year the withdrawal value of a share will be an amount equal to the total dues paid in plus all the profits apportioned thereto.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. Instead of all profits the shareholder withdrawing at the expiration of a fixed period receives, in addition to his dues, such rate of interest or specific amount as the board of directors may from time to time determine.

2. Instead of a graduated portion of the profits the shareholder withdrawing during a fixed period receives, in addition to his dues, a fixed portion of the profits.

3. Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in with a fixed portion of the profits during a fixed period, and a graduated portion of the profits thereafter.

4. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Six months; one year.

5. No profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One month; three months; six months; nine months; one year; two years; three years; four years; five years.

6. The fixed period during which a graduated portion of the profits is given in case of withdrawal varies in different associations as follows: One and one-half years; two years; two and one-half years; five years; six years; seven years; eight years; nine years; ten years; eleven years; twelve years.

7. If withdrawal is made after the expiration of the fixed period during which a graduated portion of the profits is allowed, a deduction 5 per cent is made on all profits apportioned to the shares.

8. Some associations charge a withdrawal fee of 15 cents per share; others of 25 cents per share, regardless of the age of the shares upon which withdrawals are made.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Connecticut, 1; Illinois, 16; Iowa, 1; Massachusetts, 3; Nebraska, 1; New Jersey, 16; New York, 38; Pennsylvania, 13; South Dakota, 1; West Virginia, 1; total local associations, 91.

NATIONAL.—Illinois, 1; total national associations, 1.

PLAN 10.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and an arbitrary allowance of profits.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares on which withdrawal is made with such rate of interest, portion of the profits, or specific amount as the management of the association may from time to time determine.

Illustration: In an association requiring monthly payment of dues at the rate of $1 per share the board of directors decides, at the end of the sixth year, that the earnings have been sufficient to justify the payment to withdrawing shareholders of 6 per cent interest per annum on the dues paid in for the average time of investment. A member then withdrawing would be paid his dues, $72, and 6 per cent interest thereon, $12.96, making a total of $84.96. If, instead of interest, a part of the apportioned profits is allowed and at the end of the sixth year the board of directors decides to allow 75 per cent thereof, the entire profits amounting to $20 per share, the withdrawing shareholder would receive $87 per share, and if, instead of either interest or a part of profits, it should be decided to pay a specific amount, as, for instance, $10 per share, he would receive $82.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follow: Six months; one year; two years.

2. No interest or profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One month; sixty days; two months; three months; six months; nine months; one year; eighteen months; two years; three years; four years.

3. The allowance in addition to dues must not be less than interest at a certain fixed rate per cent per annum thereon, which varies in different associations as follows: 3; 4; 4½; 5; 6; 8.

4. The allowance in addition to dues must not be more than interest at a certain fixed rate per cent per annum thereon, which varies in different associations as follows: 4; 6; 8; 12.

5. The allowance in addition to dues must not be less than a certain fixed portion of the apportioned profits, which varies in different associations as follows: 50 per cent; 60 per cent; 70 per cent; 75 per cent.

6. The allowance in addition to dues must not be more than a certain fixed portion of the apportioned profits, which varies in different associations as follows: 75 per cent; 90 per cent.

7. The allowance in addition to dues must not be less than $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum thereon, if withdrawal is made during the first two years of the existence of the shares; after two years such allowance must not be less than 75 per cent of the apportioned profits.

8. The allowance in addition to dues must be within certain fixed limits, varying in different associations as follows: Not less than 3 nor more than 6 per cent per annum, or not less than 3 nor more than 8 per cent per annum on the dues paid in; not less than 70 nor more than 90 per cent of the apportioned profits.

9. Withdrawal is not allowed on more than ten shares at one time, nor on more than five shares during the three months succeeding such withdrawal by the same shareholder.

10. If withdrawal is made during the first three months of the existence of the shares, the dues only are returned; during the next three months, the dues paid in with 4 per cent interest per annum thereon; after six months the allowance is arbitrary.

11. All the apportioned profits, in addition to dues, are paid to withdrawing shareholders after their shares are five years or six years old.

12. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, or $1 per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged.

(4) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old.

(5) Withdrawal fee of 5 per cent or 10 per cent of the dues paid in is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(6) Withdrawal fee of all profits apportioned if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 12; Arkansas, 3; California, 18; Colorado, 6; Connecticut, 1; Delaware, 2; District of Columbia, 2; Florida, 3; Georgia, 7; Illinois, 93; Indiana, 3; Iowa, 12; Kansas, 7; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 1; Maine, 2; Maryland, 32; Massachusetts, 4; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 21; Mississippi, 3; Missouri, 75; Montana, 1; New Hampshire, 1; New Jersey, 66; New York, 32; North Carolina, 4; Ohio, 10; Pennsylvania, 93; Rhode Island, 1; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 13;

Texas, 1; Utah, 1; Virginia, 4; Washington, 4; Wisconsin, 5; total local associations, 558.

NATIONAL.—Alabama, 1; Georgia, 1; Kentucky, 2; Missouri, 1; New Hampshire, 1; New York, 1; Oregon, 1; total national associations, 8.

PLAN 11.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in and all the profits.

Under this plan withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in on the shares upon which withdrawal is made and, in addition, all the profits earned by or credited to such shares. In some cases interest is allowed on the dues paid in since the date of the last apportionment of profits at rates varying in the different associations as follows: 3 per cent; 4 per cent; 6 per cent; 10 per cent.

Illustration: In an association in which the dues are $1 per month per share and the profits are apportioned semi-annually all the profits credited are allowed on withdrawal. A shareholder withdraws when his shares are four years old; he has paid in on each share during said four years $48 in dues, and the profits apportioned to each share are $8; said shareholder will therefore receive, on each share upon which withdrawal is made, $48 plus $8, or $56. In case interest is allowed on the dues paid in since the last distributing period, suppose the rate of such interest to be 6 per cent per annum, and the shares upon which withdrawal is made to be four years and three months old; the dues paid in on each share are $51, and the profits shown as credited at the end of four years, date of last apportionment, are $8. The shareholder will then receive on each share upon which withdrawal is made $51, dues paid in thereon; $8, profits last apportioned, and 6 per cent interest on $3 paid in as dues since last apportionment, which, for one and one-half months, the average time of investment, would be 2 cents, making a total of $59.02.

Among the associations reported as operating under this plan the following modifications and regulations are found:

1. In some associations all the profits credited are allowed only in case they do not exceed interest on the dues paid in at a certain fixed rate which varies in the different associations as follows: 6 per cent; 8 per cent.

2. In one association the profits paid on withdrawal must amount to at least 6 per cent interest on the dues paid in whether the profits earned or credited amount to so much or not.

3. No withdrawal is allowed to be made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: Three months; six months; one year; two years; three years.

4. No interest or profit is allowed if withdrawal is made upon shares which have not been in existence for a certain specified time, which varies in different associations as follows: One week; two weeks; one month; three months; thirteen weeks; four months; twenty weeks; six months; thirty weeks; eight months; nine months; one year; fifteen months; eighteen months; two years; three years; thirty-nine months; four years; five years.

5. In one association withdrawal is not allowed upon more than ten shares at one time, nor upon more than five shares at one time during the six months succeeding such withdrawal by the same shareholder.

6. Among the associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications the following regulations regarding withdrawal fees are found:

(1) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents, 8 cents, 10 cents, 15 cents, 25 cents, 30 cents, 50 cents, $1, or $1.50 per share is charged.

(2) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old.

(3) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each week the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(4) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each week the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence, if less than one year old.

(5) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(6) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each six months the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence.

(7) Withdrawal fee of 5 cents per share is charged for each month the shares upon which withdrawal is made have been in existence, if less than one year old; if one year but less than two years old, 4 cents per share for each month of existence; if two but less than three years old, 3 cents per share for each month of existence, and if three years old or over, 2 cents per share for each month of existence.

(8) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents per share is charged, but not more than $5 per transaction.

(9) Withdrawal fee of 20 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 per transaction.

(10) Withdrawal fee of 50 cents per share is charged, but not less than $1 nor more than $3 per transaction.

(11) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged, if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old.

(12) Withdrawal fee of $1 per share is charged, but only if the apportioned profits amount to $1; if not, the apportioned profits only are charged as a withdrawal fee.

(13) Withdrawal fee of 10 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, or $1 per transaction is charged.

(14) Withdrawal fee of a fixed portion of the dues paid in is charged, which varies in different associations as follows: 6 per cent; 10 per cent; 25 per cent; 3 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old, and $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent if said shares are one year but less than two years old; 5 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; 10 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than six months old; 10 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; the first payment of dues; one week's dues; dues paid during first three months of shares' existence.

(15) Withdrawal fee of a portion of the dues paid in, graduated according to the age of the shares upon which withdrawal is made if less than one year old.

(16) Withdrawal fee of a fixed part of the apportioned profits which varies in different associations as follows: 2 per cent of said profits if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; 5 per cent of said profits; 10 per cent of said profits; 40 per cent of the last declared dividend; one-half of the last declared dividend; one-half of the last six months' profits; the last declared dividend; profits of the last three months; profits of the last six months; profits of the last two years; 10 per cent of the last two dividends; profits of the first ten weeks; profits of the first thirteen weeks; profits of the first six months; ten weeks' profits and 10 cents per share additional.

(17) Withdrawal fee of a fixed portion of the book or present value (dues paid in plus the apportioned profits) of the shares upon which withdrawal is made, which varies in the different associations as follows: 2 per cent; 5 per cent; 10 per cent; 5 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than one year old; 5 per cent plus the profits made by the dues paid in upon the shares upon which withdrawal is made during the first year of their existence; 8 per cent if the shares upon which withdrawal is made are less than two years old; 6 per cent if two but less than three years old; 5 per cent if three but less than four years, and 4 per cent if four years old or over; 10 per cent and, in addition, whatever the shareholder may bid for the privilege of withdrawing.

(18) Withdrawal fee of such an amount as the shareholder may bid for the privilege of withdrawing.

(19) Withdrawal fee of an amount equal to the average premium paid on the loans made to members of the association previous to the date of withdrawal.

(20) Withdrawal fee of an amount equal to the average premium paid on the loans made to members of the association during the month in which the withdrawal is made.

(21) Withdrawal fee of 25 per cent of the profits is charged unless 5 per cent of the difference between the book or present value (dues paid in plus the apportioned profits) and the maturing value is less than 25 per cent of the profits, in which case 5 per cent of said difference is barged as the withdrawal fee.

(22) Withdrawal fee of an amount graduated according to the age of the shares upon which withdrawal is made.

(23) One-fifth of the profits resulting from fines and premiums.

The number of associations reported as operating under this plan and its modifications is as follows:

LOCAL.—Alabama, 1; Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 1; California, 4; Colorado, 4; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 5; District of Columbia, 9; Florida, 6; Georgia, 4; Illinois, 48; Indiana, 93; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 7; Kentucky, 65; Louisiana, 2; Maine, 8; Maryland, 168; Massachusetts, 18; Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 9; Mississippi, 6; Missouri, 33; Nebraska, 3; New Jersey, 16; New York, 206; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 680; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 148; Tennessee, 31; Utah, 2; Virginia, 18; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 8; total local associations, 1,640.

NATIONAL.—California, 1; Illinois, 5; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 3; New York, 5; Ohio, 2; Tennessee, 1; West Virginia, 1; total national associations, 24.

PLAN 12.

Withdrawing shareholders receive the dues paid in, with such proportion of the profits as the present value of their shares is of the maturing value.

Illustration: In an association requiring payment of dues at the rate of $1 per share per month the apportioned profits at the end of the third year amount to $14 per share, which, added to the dues paid in, $36, makes the present value of a share $50; the maturing value is $200, and the present value is to the maturing value as 1 is to 4, or it is one-fourth thereof; therefore, a shareholder then withdrawing would be entitled to receive one-fourth of the profits, $3.50, in addition to his dues, making a total withdrawal value of $39.50 per share. If withdrawal is made upon shares before any profits have been apportioned thereto their holder receives the dues paid in.

No withdrawal fees are reported as being charged in connection with this plan.

The number of associations reported as operating under the plan, all of which are local, is as follows: Minnesota, 2; New York, 1; Tennessee, 4; total, 7.

CHAPTER VI.

GENERAL LEGISLATION RELATING ESPECIALLY TO BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

CHAPTER VI.

GENERAL LEGISLATION RELATING ESPECIALLY TO BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The laws of the various states and territories, as reproduced in this chapter, are only such general laws as relate especially to, or govern the organization and conduct of building and loan and similar associations, the general laws concerning corporations being omitted; but it is to be borne in mind that such general laws, when not in conflict with the statutes here published, have the same bearing upon building and loan associations as upon other corporations, and they should, therefore, be consulted in case information concerning the laws governing corporations generally is desired.

ALABAMA.

CODE OF 1886.

VOLUME I.

SECTION 455. Building and loan associations doing business in this state are not required to return, as part of their taxable property, notes and mortgages made and executed to them by their stockholders or members for purchases, loans, or advances on stock made at the distribution of the funds thereof, if the stockholders or members obtaining such purchases, loans, or advances pay the tax levied and assessed on the whole value of the property so mortgaged; otherwise, such associations must return for taxation the amount of their capital held by the stockholders or members on such purchases, loans, or advances, and also the average amount of money held by them during the year preceding that for which their assessment returns are made.

SEC. 1553. Three or more persons, associating as a building and loan association, may become a body politic and corporate in the mode, and with the powers and capacity in this chapter expressed; and such corporation may continue for twenty years.

SEC. 1554. Such persons must file in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed the association shall have its principal place of business, a declaration in writing, signed by each of them, stating—

1. The name and style under which it is proposed to incorporate such association.
2. The amount of the capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided.
3. The names and residences of the associates or subscribers to the declaration, and the principal place of business of the corporation.
4. The purposes of the corporation and the nature of its business, and such other matters as they may deem desirable.

SEC. 1555. The judge of probate must record such declaration, and must issue to the subscribers, their associates and successors a certificate of incorporation, under the seal of his office, stating therein the filing and record of such declaration, the name and style of such corporation, the location or principal place of business thereof, and that the subscribers, their associates and successors are a body politic and corporate; and thereafter such corporation must be deemed duly organized.

SEC. 1556. Such corporation has power—

1. To have succession by its corporate name for the period expressed in the declaration, not exceeding twenty years.
2. To sue and be sued; and, if deemed necessary, to have a common seal, and the same at pleasure to alter or change.
3. To hold, purchase, dispose of, and convey such real or personal property as may be necessary for the uses and business of the corporation.
4. To appoint and remove, at pleasure, such officers and agents as the business of the corporation may require, prescribing their duties and fixing their compensation; and to make all needful rules and regulations and bylaws for the transaction of its business, and the management and control of its affairs.
5. To levy monthly contributions from the shareholders, not to exceed one dollar per share in any one month.
6. To compel payment, and compliance with all lawful orders by fines and forfeitures.
7. To acquire real estate, to erect buildings, and the same to let to any shareholder of the corporation, or to sell to such shareholder on such terms as may be fixed by its bylaws.
8. To aid shareholders in the erection or improvement of houses by loans of the funds of the association, on such security as may be fixed by the bylaws.
9. When funds are on hand, to lend the same to any shareholder of the corporation, on such security, and on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the bylaws; but the security shall be a mortgage on real estate sufficient to protect the association.
10. When deemed advisable, or when two or more shareholders desire to borrow funds on hand, the association may lend such funds to the highest bidder; and all shareholders shall have equal opportunities to bid under such regulations as may be prescribed by the bylaws; but no shareholder shall borrow or purchase the loan of more than two hundred dollars for each share held by him.
11. To prescribe uniform sales of monthly instalments, in which the loans made are to be repaid according to the terms agreed on; and if loaned to the highest bidder, according to the terms of the purchase.
12. To secure the payment of instalments and loans, and a compliance with all the terms on which loans are purchased, by mortgages with power of sale on real estate, and the same to foreclose, in case of default, by a public sale to the highest bidder, and by conveyance to the purchaser; and such purchaser need not be a shareholder.
13. In determining the amount of the capital stock of the association, each share shall be valued at fifty dollars.

ACT No. 24.

SECTION 1. The capital stock of building and loan associations, incorporated under the general laws of this state, may be increased to a sum not exceeding two million dollars by the vote of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the capital stock at a meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, of which meeting and the purpose for which it is called, thirty days notice must be given by publication for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the town or city in which the corporation is located, and if at such meeting the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock vote for such increase, the proceedings of the meeting must be reduced to writing, signed by the president or other head of the corporation, and filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business. In determining the amount of the increased capital stock of all building and loan associations incorporated prior to the code of 1876, each share shall be valued at not less than forty nor more than fifty dollars.

ACT No. 280.

SECTION 1. No building and loan association shall pledge, hypothecate or transfer any note, bond, mortgage or securities which said association may obtain for money loaned or otherwise. But this section shall not apply to building and loan associations heretofore organized under the laws of this state.

SEC. 2. No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, shall do business in this state, unless said association shall deposit and continually thereafter keep deposited in trust for all of its members and creditors, with some responsible trust company or the state treasurer, mortgages or other securities received by it in the usual course of its business amounting in actual value to the sum of fifty thousand (50,000) dollars; Provided, that any such association as may desire may file with the state treasurer the certificate of the proper state officer of another state, or the president and treasurer of some responsible trust company or trustee, certifying that it has on deposit securities as herein required. All of the personal obligations of its members taken in the ordinary course of its business and secured by first mortgage on real estate, all dividends, interest and premiums which may accrue on securities held in trust as aforesaid, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgage[s] for which are on deposit as herein required, may be collected and retained by the association so depositing such securities or mortgages so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all of its contracts with its members. Any securities on deposit as herein provided may from time to time be withdrawn if others of equal value be substituted therefor, but if such company is at the time of withdrawing such securities winding up its business in this state, then such company need only substitute for such securities so withdrawn other securities equal in value to the amount of such company's liabilities in the state at the time of such withdrawal. Every building and loan association organized in this state or any other state, territory or foreign government, shall pay as a license for doing business in this state the sum of two hundred (200) dollars per annum in lieu of all other licenses and taxation, except as hereinafter provided, into the office of the state auditor, who shall deposit the same in the state treasury, for the use of the state.

SEC. 3. When by the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, any taxes, fines, penalties, license fees, deposits of money or securities, or other obligations, requirements or prohibitions, are imposed upon building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory or foreign government, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws shall continue in force, the same obligations, requirements and prohibitions of whatever kind shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other states, territories or foreign governments doing business in this state, and upon their agents here; Provided, that this section shall not apply to building and loan associations which have heretofore established branches or agencies in this state.

SEC. 4. Building and loan associations, as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies or loan and investment companies, or all organizations or associations doing a saving and loan business upon the building and loan plan.

SEC. 5. Any premiums, fines or stock heretofore taken and hereafter taken to represent premiums for loans made by any building and loan association doing business in this state, shall not be treated as interest, nor render such association amenable to the laws relating thereto; but the said premiums, fines and stock taken to represent premiums, shall be collected as debts of like amount are now collected by law, and according to the terms and stipulations of the agreements or contract between the association and its members, and in case of any building and loan association which does not, under its methods, charge premiums of the borrower, it shall not be deemed usury that the payments shall be required monthly, when the contract on its face charges only 6 per cent interest.

SEC. 6. Every building and loan association doing business in this state shall be assessed for and pay taxes upon its office fixtures and furniture, and all real estate acquired in the usual course of its business.

SEC. 7. All the officers at the home office of any building and loan association governed by this act, and doing business in this state, who handle any of the funds of such associations, shall give sufficient bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the discharge of the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors.

SEC. 8. This act shall not apply to any building and loan association organized under the laws of this state which confines its loaning and business operations wholly to its county.

SEC. 9. Any building and loan association doing business in this state without having first complied with the provisions of this act, shall be fined not less than one hundred (100) dollars, and not more than five hundred (500) dollars, to be recovered by an action in the name of the state, and on collection paid into the state treasury for the use of the state; Provided, that building and loan associations organized in other states and territories having heretofore transacted business in this state, and not desiring to comply with the provisions of this act, shall have the right to wind up their business and fulfil their contracts with citizens of this state through their authorized agents, without being subject to the penalties herein provided.

SEC. 10. All building and loan associations organized in other states and territories and doing business in this state before the passage and approval of this act, shall have until the 1st day of June, 1893, to comply with the provisions of this act.

ARIZONA.

The laws of this territory contain no general legislation relating especially to building and loan associations.

ARKANSAS.

DIGEST OF 1884.

SECTION 5644. The shares of stocks of mutual loan and building associations shall be assessed at their cash value, but only the unredeemed shares of such stock, or those not transferred to the association, shall be taxed, and such unredeemed shares shall be listed in the name of the individual owners thereof.

SEC. 5645, (as amended by section 17 of act 92, acts of 1887). * * * Mutual loan [and] building * * * companies, corporations or associations, incorporated under the laws of this state, or under the laws of any other state, and doing business in this state, * * * in addition to the other property required by this act to be listed, shall, through their president, secretary, principal accounting officer or agent, annually, during the month of July, make out and deliver to the assessor of the county where said company or corporation is located or doing business a sworn statement of the capital stock, setting forth particularly:

1. The name and the location of the company or association.
2. The amount of capital stock authorized, and the number of shares into which such capital stock is divided.

3. The amount of capital stock paid up, its market value, and, if no market value, then the actual value of the shares of stock.

4. The total amount of all the indebtedness, except indebtedness for current expenses, excluding from such indebtedness the amount paid for the purchase or improvement of the property.

5. True valuation of all tangible property belonging to such company or corporation; such schedule shall be made in conformity to such instructions and forms as may be prescribed by the auditor of public accounts.

SEC. 5646, (as amended by section 18 of act 92, acts of 1887). The assessor shall, annually, at least ten days before the thirtieth day of June, deliver to the president, secretary, accounting officer or agent of any such company, corporation or association located in or doing business in such county a notice in writing to return such schedule by the thirty-first day of July next ensuing. Any president, secretary, principal accounting officer or agent, of any such companies or corporations, upon whom such notice shall have been served, wilfully neglecting or refusing to make such return by the thirty-first day of July next ensuing, after the delivery of said notice, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding three months, or both, and the assessor shall, from the best information he can obtain, make out and enter upon the proper assessment roll a list, with the valuation, of all tangible and intangible property belonging to such defaulting company or corporation subject to taxation by the provisions of this act, with fifty per cent penalty.

CALIFORNIA.

DEERING'S CODES AND STATUTES OF 1885.

VOLUME II.—CIVIL CODE.

[NOTE.—Sections 639 to 647 inclusive, following, have been repealed by chapter 174 of the acts of 1891 except so far as the said sections relate to and govern building and loan associations existing prior to the passage of said chapter.]

SECTION 639. Corporations organized for the erection of buildings and making other improvements on real property may raise funds in shares not exceeding two hundred dollars each, payable in periodical instalments. Such bodies are known as land and building corporations, and may be organized with or without a capital stock.

SEC. 640. Any such corporation may borrow money for the purpose of carrying out its objects, and may give as security therefor its shares or mortgage upon its real estate.

SEC. 641. Any such corporation may purchase real estate and erect buildings for its members, and make loans to its members for the purpose of aiding them in acquiring and improving real estate. Such loan must in all cases be secured on such real estate.

SEC. 642. Such corporation may insure, in some life insurance company incorporated under the laws of this state, the lives of its members and debtors. In case of the death of a debtor or member so insured, the amount recovered on the policy must be applied to extinguish the indebtedness, including the premium paid, and the residue, if any, must be paid to the legal representatives of the decedent.

SEC. 643. Any such corporation may purchase, hold, and convey real estate as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the corporation is carried on, the cost of which must not exceed twenty thousand dollars;

2. Such as may from time to time be necessary to supply the wants of its members, the cost of which, held unallotted to the members thereof at any one time, must not exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars;

3. Such as shall have been mortgaged, pledged, or conveyed to it in trust, to secure money loaned or to secure the purchase price thereof in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

SEC. 644. The bylaws of such corporations must specify the amount of the periodical subscriptions or payments to be made by each member, the time and manner in which such payments are to be made; the fines and forfeitures for default; the time and manner of election of directors and other officers, and their terms of office; the manner in which the real estate may be distributed, allotted, or sold to its members; the terms and conditions upon which loans may be made to its members and by them repaid to the corporation; the manner in which a person may become and cease to be a member; the conditions on which members may withdraw from the corporation, and the provisions for the payment to withdrawing members of the sums of money due to them arising from subscriptions or payments, and the proportion of the profits such withdrawing members may receive on withdrawal.

SEC. 645. The secretary of any such corporation must, once in each year during the existence of the corporation, prepare a full and explicit statement of the financial affairs thereof, comprising a balance sheet, statements of receipts and expenditures, profit and loss, and assets and liabilities, which must be audited and verified by two competent persons (not directors), elected by the general body of shareholders, and be countersigned by the president and secretary. A copy of such statement must be printed and circulated among the members, and appear immediately after the annual meeting of the corporation daily at least one week, or weekly at least four weeks, in one or more newspapers published at the place of the principal business of the corporation.

SEC. 647. Any two or more such corporations may unite and become incorporated in one body, with or without any dissolution or division of the funds of such corporation, or either of them; or any such corporation may transfer its engagements, funds, and property to any other such corporation, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by two-thirds of the members of each of such bodies present at general meetings of the members, convened for the purpose by notice, stating the object of the meeting, sent through the post office to every member, and by general notice, appearing daily at least one week, or weekly at least two weeks, in some newspaper published at the place of the principal business of the corporation; but no such transfer can prejudice any right of any creditor of either corporation.

SEC. 633, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Corporations may be formed subject to the provisions of this title, and with all the rights, duties, and powers herein specified. Such corporations shall be known as mutual building and loan associations, and the words "mutual building and loan association" shall form part of the name of every such corporation. The articles of incorporation, in setting forth the purposes for which the corporation is formed, shall state that it is formed to encourage industry, frugality, home building, and savings among the stockholders; the accumulation of savings; the loaning to its stockholders of the funds so accumulated, with the profits and earnings; and the repayment to each stockholder of his savings and profits, when they have accumulated to a certain sum, or at any time when he shall desire the same, as provided in the bylaws, or when the corporation shall desire to repay the same; and shall also state that it is formed for all the purposes specified in this title.

SEC. 634, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The capital stock of such corporations shall be paid in by the stockholders in regular, equal, periodical payments, at such times and in such amounts as shall be provided in the bylaws. Such periodical payments shall be called dues. And at or before a time to be stated in the bylaws, each stockholder shall pay to the corporation, upon each share of stock held by him, such an amount of dues as the bylaws shall provide; and the payment of dues shall so continue on each share of stock issued till it reaches its matured value, or is withdrawn, cancelled, or forfeited. The capital stock shall consist of such accumulated dues, together with the earnings and profits of the corporation, and shall in no case exceed two million dollars, except as to corporations now existing. It shall be divided into shares of matured or par value of one hundred dollars, or two hundred dollars each, as shall be provided in the articles of incorporation and fixed by the bylaws. Certificates of stock shall be issued to each stockholder on the first payment of dues by him. The shares shall be issued in yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly series, except in corporations now existing, in such amounts in each series, and at such times, as shall be determined by the board of directors. No share of a prior series shall be issued after the issuing of shares in a new series. Shares which have not been pledged as a security for the repayments of a loan shall be called freeshares. Shares that have been so pledged shall be called pledged shares. All stock matured and surrendered or cancelled in any series shall become the property of the corporation, and may be issued in any subsequent series. Payment of dues on shares of stock in each series shall commence from the time that shares began to be issued in such series. Any such corporation shall have power by its bylaws to impose and collect a fine from each stockholder not exceeding ten per cent of the defaulted amount, for every neglect or refusal to make his payments of dues, or premium, or interest, when due, and to impose and collect a like fine successively on every regular payday during such default. Every such corporation hereafter formed shall also have power to charge an entrance fee upon each share of stock issued, not exceeding ten cents on each share, and may also charge a transfer fee not exceeding ten cents on each share, all of which shall be paid into the treasury and accounted for as all other funds of the association; Provided, that building and loan associations heretofore incorporated may continue to charge and dispose of such entrance and transfer fees as are prescribed by the bylaws of such corporation. Payment of dues or interest may be made in advance, but no association shall allow interest on such advance payments at a greater rate than six per cent per annum, nor for a longer period than one year.

SEC. 635, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The directors may, at their discretion, under the regulations prescribed in their bylaws, retire the free shares of any series of stock, at any time after four years from the date of their issue, by enforcing the withdrawal of the same; but whenever there shall remain in any series, at the expiration of five years after the date of its issue, an excess above one hundred free shares of the par value of two hundred dollars each, or two hundred free shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, then it shall be the duty of the directors to retire annually twenty-five per centum of such excess existing at said expiration of five years after the date of its issue, so that no more than one hundred free shares shall remain in such series at the expiration of nine years from the date of its issue; Provided, that no more than one-half of the monthly receipts be used for that purpose; and thereafter the directors may, in their discretion, retire such other free shares as they consider to the best interest of the association to retire; Provided, that whenever, under the provisions of this section, the withdrawal of shares is to be enforced, the shares to be retired shall be determined by lot, drawn from all free shares in the series, as shall be regulated by the bylaws, and the holders thereof shall be paid the amount actually paid in, and the full amount of earnings at the date of last apportionment of profits.

SEC. 636, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). When the stock in any series shall have reached its matured value, payment of dues thereon shall cease, and all of the stockholders in such series who have borrowed from the association shall be entitled to have their securities returned to them, and a satisfaction of the mortgages made by them to the association; and the holders of free shares of stock in such series shall be paid out of the funds of the association the matured value thereof, with such rate of interest as shall be determined by the bylaws, from the time the board of directors shall declare such share to have matured until paid; but at no time shall more than one-third of the receipts of the association be applicable to the payment of matured shares, without the consent of the board of directors. The order of the payment of the matured shares shall be determined by the bylaws.

SEC. 637, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The moneys in the hands of the treasurer, and such sums as may be borrowed by the corporation for the purpose, shall be loaned out in open meeting to the member who shall bid the highest premium, or may be loaned at such premium as may be fixed, from time to time, by the board of directors; and the premium may be deducted from the amount of the loan, or such proportion may be deducted as the bylaws shall provide, and in that case the balance of said premium shall be payable in such instalments as the bylaws shall determine; Provided, however, that where the premium is payable in instalments, the number of instalments into which the same is divided shall be uniformly applicable to all loans made by the corporation, and shall be payable at the times and in the manner as provided in the bylaws; And provided further, that in no case shall the amount loaned exceed the matured value of the shares pledged to secure the loan.

SEC. 638, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The rate of interest on all loans may be fixed by the bylaws, but in case the bylaws fail to fix the rate, then it shall be fixed from time to time by the board of directors. For every loan made, a note or obligation secured by a first mortgage upon unencumbered real estate shall be given, accompanied by a transfer and pledge to the association of the shares borrowed upon, as collateral security for the repayment of the loan; or, in lieu of the mortgage, there may be pledged and transferred to the association for the payment of the loan free shares, the withdrawal value of which, under the bylaws, at the time of such borrowing, shall exceed the amount borrowed and interest thereon for six months. At the discretion of the board of directors, a borrower may repay a loan, and all arrears of interest and fines thereon, at any time, upon the surrender of the shares pledged for the loan.

SEC. 639, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Whenever any member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues upon free shares, the secretary shall give him notice thereof, in writing, and a statement of his arrearages, by mailing the same to him at the last post office address given by him to the association, and if he shall not pay the same within two months thereafter, the board of directors may, at their option, declare his shares forfeited; and at the time of such forfeiture the withdrawal value thereof shall be determined and stated, and the defaulting member shall be entitled to withdraw the same without interest, upon such notice as shall be required of a withdrawing shareholder. Whenever a borrowing member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues, or interest, or premium, the whole loan shall become due, at the option of the board of directors; and they may proceed to enforce collection upon the securities held by the association. The withdrawal value, at the time of the commencement of the action, of all shares pledged as collateral security for the loan, shall be applied to the payment of the loan, and said shares, from that time, shall be deemed surrendered to the association.

SEC. 640, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Any such association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other incumbrance, or in which it may have an interest; and may sell, convey, lease, or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons.

SEC. 641, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Any association organized in pursuance of the provisions of this act may borrow money for the purpose of making loans or paying withdrawals.

SEC. 642, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Profits and losses shall be apportioned at least annually, and shall be apportioned to all the shares in each series outstanding at the time of such apportionment, according to the actual value of such shares as distinguished from their withdrawal value.

SEC. 643, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Any person of full age and sound mind may become a member of the association, by taking one or more shares therein, and subscribing to the bylaws, and annexing to his signature his post office address. A minor may hold shares in the name of the parent, guardian, or next friend as trustee. The shares of stock in any such corporation held by any person, to the value of one thousand dollars, shall be exempt from execution.

SEC. 644, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Every association organized under the provisions of this act, and every other association doing a like business, shall annually make a full report, in writing, of the affairs and condition of such corporation, within thirty days after its annual meeting, to the bank commissioners of this state. Such report shall be verified by the oath of the officers making the same, and a copy of the same shall be delivered to every stockholder, from the office of the corporation, who may call for such report. Every association shall make any further reports which the said commissioners may require, and in such form and as to such matters relating to the condition and conducting of the business of the association as such commissioners may designate; and said bank commissioners may at any time examine into the affairs of any and every of said associations. Any wilful false swearing in making and verifying said reports shall be deemed perjury. Any such association which shall fail to furnish the bank commissioners any such report required, within thirty days after demand, shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld; which may be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of this state; and all moneys so recovered shall be paid to the treasurer of the state, who shall pay the same into the "bank commissioners' fund". The state bank commissioners shall annually publish a full report of the condition of all associations formed under the provisions of this title, and every other association doing a like business in this state, in the same manner as they are now required to do in reference to savings banks.

SEC. 645, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). No mutual building and loan association, or company, association, or corporation, organized under the laws of any other state or territory, to carry on a business of a like character to that authorized by this title, shall be allowed to do business, or to sell their stock in this state, without first having deposited with the state controller, or secretary of state, the sum of fifty thousand dollars in money, or United States or municipal bonds of this state, or in mortgages upon real estate located within this state, as a guarantee fund for the protection and indemnity of residents of the state of California, with whom such companies, associations, or corporations shall do business; the fund so deposited to be paid by the custodian thereof to the residents of California only, and not then until proof of claim by final judgment has been filed with the custodian of said fund against such foreign company, association, or corporation. Any of the securities so deposited may be withdrawn at any time upon others, herein provided for, of like amount, being substituted in lieu thereof. Any person or persons who shall be found in this state as agent, or in any other capacity, representing such foreign company, association, or corporation, which has not complied with the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 646, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). Any building and loan association, now existing and heretofore incorporated, desiring to continue its existence under the provisions of this title, may do so if the holders of a majority of the stock, at their regular annual meeting, or at a special meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, shall so elect. The notice of the meeting, whether regular or special, shall state as one of the objects of the meeting, to vote on the question whether the corporation shall continue its existence under the provisions of this title; and the notice of meeting shall be published as required by section three hundred and one; and, in addition thereto, a similar notice shall be mailed to each stockholder at his post office address. Within thirty days after the holders of a majority of the stock at any such meeting have voted to continue the existence of the corporation under the provisions of this title, the secretary of the corporation shall, under oath, make and subscribe, as such secretary, a certificate, in writing, stating the calling of such meeting, the fact that the holders of a majority of the stock voted to continue the existence of the corporation under this title, which shall be filed in the office of the county clerk in which its original articles of incorporation have been filed, and shall file in the office of the secretary of state a certified copy thereof, according to the provisions of section two hundred and ninety-six; and the secretary of state shall issue his usual certificate, as provided in said section. Thereupon, such corporation shall be subject to all the provisions of this title, as though originally incorporated under the provisions hereof, except that no change in its name or amount of capital stock shall be made; but the name shall be the same as contained in the original articles.

SEC. 647, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). All corporations doing the business of building and loan associations in this state shall be subject to the provisions of this title relating to the bank commissioners.

SEC. 648, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The name "building and loan association," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, or organizations, or associations doing a savings and loan or investment business on the building society plan, viz.: loaning its funds to its members or its shareholders, and whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a time fixed in advance or not.

SEC. 648½, (added by chapter 174, acts of 1891). The provisions of an act entitled "An act imposing a tax on the issue of certificates of stock corporations," approved April first, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, shall not be deemed and held to be applicable to any certificates issued to and transferred by the members or stockholders of any association organized under or governed by this act.

STATUTES OF 1893.

CHAPTER 188.

SECTION 1. All building and loan associations heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, or any other state or territory, or those of any foreign country, and doing business in this state, shall be subject to the examination and supervision of a board of commissioners of loan associations, which board shall consist of two commissioners, each of whom shall be an expert of accounts, and shall be appointed by the governor, within thirty days after the passage of this act, to hold office for the period of four years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

SEC. 2. The commissioners shall each receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and necessary travelling expenses, not to exceed for the two commissioners the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, to be audited by the state controller, and to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers.

SEC. 3. The commissioners shall have their office in San Francisco, which office shall be kept open for business every day and during such hours as are commonly observed by the banks of that city as banking hours. They shall procure rooms for their office at a monthly rental not to exceed forty dollars. They may also provide fuel, printing, stationery, and other necessary conveniences connected with their office, not to exceed an aggregate cost of three hundred dollars per annum. All expenses authorized in this section shall be audited and paid in the same manner as the salary of the commissioners.

SEC. 4. The commissioners, before entering upon the duties of their office, must each execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, and take the oath of office, all as prescribed by the Political Code for state officers in general.

SEC. 5. The duties of the commissioners of loan associations shall be to furnish to all corporations legally authorized to transact the business of a building and loan association within this state a license authorizing them to transact the business of a building and loan association for one year from the date of said license; to receive and place on file in their office the semi-annual reports required to be made by building and loan associations by this act; to supply each association with blank forms and such statements as the commissioners may require; to be made on or before the first day of October of each year, a tabulated report to the governor of this state, showing the condition of all institutions examined by them, with such recommendations as they may deem proper, accompanied by a detailed statement, verified by oath, of all moneys received and expended by them since their last report.

SEC. 6. The commissioners shall visit, once in every year, and as much oftener as they may deem expedient, every building and loan association doing business in this state. At such visits they shall have free access to the vaults, books, and papers, and shall thoroughly inspect and examine all the affairs of each of said corporations, and make such inquiries as may be necessary to ascertain its condition and ability to fulfil all its engagements, and whether it has complied with the provisions of law governing such associations; they shall preserve in a permanent form a full record of their proceedings, including a statement of the condition of each of said corporations, which shall be open to the inspection of the public during their office hours.

SEC. 7. To facilitate the examinations of the commissioners, as specified in the foregoing section, every association shall keep a book of records, written in ink, showing the values of the real estate security held in connection with each loan, and signed in each case by the appraiser, or officer, or committee of the association making such estimate value.

SEC. 8. Either of the commissioners may summon all trustees, officers, or agents of any such corporation, and such other witnesses as he thinks proper, in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the corporation, and for that purpose may administer oaths; and whoever refuses, without justifiable cause, to appear and testify, when thereto required, or obstructs a commissioner in the discharge of his duty, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 9. If the commissioners, upon examination of any corporation under their supervision, they find that such corporation has been violating the provisions of law governing such associations, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, such as to render its further proceeding hazardous to the public, or to those having funds in its custody, they shall notify the attorney general of such facts, and the attorney general, in his discretion, may apply to the judge of the superior court of the county in which such corporation is doing business, to issue an injunction restraining such corporation, in whole or in part, from further proceeding with its business until a hearing can be had. Such judge may, in such application, issue such injunction, and, after a full hearing, may dissolve or modify it, or make it perpetual, and may make such orders and decrees, according to the course of proceedings in equity, to restrain or prohibit the further prosecution of the business of the corporation, as may be needful in the premises; and may appoint one or more receivers to take possession of its property and effects, subject to such directions as may from time to time be prescribed by the court.

SEC. 10. And if either of the commissioners, having knowledge of the insolvent condition, or any violation of law, or unsafe practice of any association under their supervision, such as renders, in their opinion, the conduct of its business hazardous to its shareholders or depositors, and shall fail to report the same in writing to the attorney general, as required by this act, then such commissioner, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one year nor more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and his office shall be declared vacant by the governor, and a successor appointed to fill his unexpired term.

SEC. 11. When receivers are so appointed, the secretary of the corporation shall make a schedule of all its property, and its secretary, board of investment, and other officers transferring its property to the receivers, shall make oath that said schedule sets forth all the property which the corporation owns, or is entitled to. The secretary shall deliver said schedule to the receivers, and a copy thereof to the commissioners, who may at any time examine, under oath, such secretary, board of investment, or other officers, in order to determine whether or not all the property which the corporation owns, or is entitled to, has been transferred to the receivers.

SEC. 12. The commissioners, or one of them, shall at least once in each year, and as much oftener as they may deem expedient, examine the accounts and doings of all such receivers, and shall carefully examine and report upon all accounts and reports of receivers made to the proper court and referred to the commissioners by the court, and, for the purposes of this section, shall have free access to the books and papers relating to the transactions of such receivers, and may examine them under oath relative to such transactions.

SEC. 13. Upon the certificate, under oath, of any five or more officers, trustees, creditors, shareholders, or depositors of any such corporation, setting forth their interest and the reasons for making such examination, directed to the commissioners, and requesting them to examine such corporation, they shall forthwith make a full investigation of its affairs, in the manner provided.

SEC. 14. The commissioners, if in their opinion any such corporation, or its officers or trustees, have violated any law in relation to such corporations, shall forthwith report the same, with such remarks as they deem expedient, to the attorney general, who shall forthwith institute a prosecution for such violation, in behalf of the people of the state.

SEC. 15. To meet the expenses provided by this act, every building and loan association, or corporation or association doing business on the building and loan plan, shall pay, in advance, to the commissioners, its pro rata amount of such expenses, to be determined by an assessment levied upon the shares of each of such associations in force on the thirty-first day of December, eighteen hundred and ninety-two, pro rata, according to the par value of such shares; and annually thereafter the said commissioners shall levy, in a like manner, and collect in advance, a like assessment on the shares of all such associations in force as per report, herein provided for, to be made to said commissioners of the condition at the close of business on August thirty-first preceding.

SEC. 16. The collection of all moneys assessed, as herein provided, for the annual expenses, or forfeitable as fines for failure to make reports as herein specified, and due from any corporation or association coming within the provisions of this act, may be enforced by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction, and all moneys collected or received by the said commissioners under this act shall be deposited with the state treasurer, to the credit of a fund to be known and designated as the "building and loan association inspection fund."

SEC. 17. No association, after the expiration of the term for which a license has been granted to it by the commissioners of loan associations, shall continue to transact the business of a building and loan association without first procuring from said commissioners a renewal of such license, on the terms provided for by this act; and any corporation violating this provision shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars per day during the continuance of the offence; and any violation of this section by any officer of such association shall be a misdemeanor.

SEC. 18. Every building and loan association doing business in this state shall, once in every year, to wit: within twenty days after the expiration of its annual fiscal term, make a report, in writing, to the commissioners of loan associations, verified by the oath of its president and secretary, showing accurately the financial condition of such association at the close of said term. The report shall be in such form as the commissioners shall prescribe, upon blanks by them furnished for that purpose, and shall specify the following particulars, namely: Name of the corporation, place where located, authorized capital stock, amount of stock paid in, the names of the directors, the amount of capital stock held by each, the amount due to shareholders, the amount and character of all other liabilities, cash on hand, and the number and value of shares in each and every series of stock issued by the association. All money received or disbursed by such associations shall be duly accounted for to the shareholders and to the commissioners of building and loan associations.

SEC. 19. Stockholders desiring to withdraw from any association, or to surrender a part or all of their stock, shall have power to do so by giving thirty days' notice, in writing, of such intention to withdraw. On the expiration of such notice, the stockholder so withdrawing shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her, together with such proportion of the earnings thereon as the bylaws may provide, or as may have been fixed by the board of directors; Provided, that not more than one-half of the monthly receipts in any one month shall be applied to withdrawals for that month, without the consent of the board of directors, and no shareholder shall be permitted to withdraw, whose stock is pledged as security to the association for a loan, until such loan is fully paid. Such withdrawals shall be paid in succession, in the order that the notices are given.

SEC. 20. The name "building and loan association," and all reference to the same, as "association" or "associations," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, or organizations or associations doing a savings and loan or investment business on the building society plan, viz.: loaning its funds to its members or its shareholders, or investing the same for the mutual benefit of its members or shareholders, and whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a time fixed in advance or not.

COLORADO.

(PAGES 41-43.)

SECTION 1. All associations organized under the general incorporation laws of this state, for the purpose of the accumulation and loan of funds, the erection of buildings, the acquiring of homes, and the purchase, lease and sale of real estate for the mutual benefit of its members, shall be permitted to conduct such business with its members exclusively, and may receive money in payment for its shares of stock in such manner and upon such terms as are prescribed by its bylaws; may receive money on loan or on deposit, and may lend money to its members upon the stock of such corporation, upon real estate or upon such other security as by the bylaws provided, or by the board of directors determined; and all contracts between such companies and their members shall be deemed valid and binding in law.

SEC. 2. The shares of the capital stock of any such corporation shall not be more than two hundred (200) dollars each, instalments of which stock shall be paid at such time and at such place as the bylaws shall appoint; every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of the shares withdrawn or forfeited; the stock may be issued in one or successive series, in such amounts as the articles of incorporation or the board of directors may determine; and any shareholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation shall have power to do so by giving thirty days' notice of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount provided by the bylaws or determined by the board of directors, less all fines and other charges; Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing shareholders, without the consent of the board of directors, and that no shareholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security.

SEC. 3. Upon the death of any shareholder, his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her, and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock; no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his or her decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payments on the stock of such deceased shareholder.

SEC. 4. Shares of stock upon which a loan has been made may be paid up in full by the borrower in such manner and upon such terms as provided by the bylaws; and when so paid, such share or shares of stock may be cancelled, and such indebtedness liquidated to the amount in value of such share or shares of stock so paid.

SEC. 5. Every such corporation before commencing business under its charter, shall file a copy of its bylaws with the secretary of state, and a copy also with the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of such corporation is carried on, and shall likewise so file copies of all subsequent changes of such bylaws; and all such corporations now doing business in this state shall immediately file copies of their bylaws with the secretary of state and also with the clerk and recorder of the proper county, and shall also so file all subsequent changes thereof.

CONNECTICUT.

The laws of this state contain no general legislation relating especially to building and loan associations.

REVISED CODE OF 1893.

SECTION 6 (of chapter 147, volume 17, Laws of Delaware). Any building or building and loan association created under this act shall, in addition to the other powers herein granted, have power to sell its accumulated funds to and among its stockholders at any premium which may be obtained for the same, and when such funds can not be loaned to any stockholder at par they may be loaned to any person not a stockholder at any rate of interest not exceeding six per cent.

SECTION 1 (of chapter 702, volume 19, Laws of Delaware). The certificate of incorporation of building, or building and loan associations to be created under the act entitled "An act concerning private corporations," passed at Dover, March 14, 1883, [chapter 147, volume 17, Laws of Delaware], shall not be required to state an amount of the capital stock to be paid in before commencing business, and no percentage of said stock shall be required to be paid in before the association shall be organized and commence business.

SEC. 2 (of chapter 702, volume 19, Laws of Delaware). Whenever any one of the incorporators named in the certificate of incorporation, to be filed under the act of which this is a supplement, or any incorporator named in any act of incorporation heretofore or hereafter passed in this state, or any commissioner appointed in any such act of incorporation to take subscriptions for capital stock, shall have died before the organization of such corporation, then, and in such case, the powers vested in such incorporators or commissioners shall thereafter be vested in the survivor or survivors of such incorporator or commissioner.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIAUNITED STATES STATUTES AT LARGE.*VOLUME XXVII, CHAPTER 321.

SECTION 1. Any * * * building association or company * * * advertising for or receiving premiums, deposits, or dues for membership, incorporated under the laws of any other state, territory, or foreign government, and transacting business within the District of Columbia, shall publish in at least two daily papers printed in the District of Columbia semi-annually, during the months of March and September of each year, a full statement, under oath, showing their capital stock and the amount paid in on account of the same, assets, liabilities, debts, deposits, dividends and dues, as well as their current expenses during six months ending January and July proceeding.

SEC. 2. Any such company, association, or institution failing to publish statements as required by the first section of this act shall forfeit its right to do business in said district, and thereupon it shall be the duty of said commissioners to revoke its license or permit to do business in said district: * * *.

FLORIDAREVISED STATUTES OF 1892.

SECTION 2205. The capital stock of a building and loan association shall at no time consist in the aggregate of more than one million dollars, to be divided into shares of such denomination, not exceeding five hundred dollars each, payable in lawful money of the United States, and in such number as the charter may specify. The capital stock may be issued in series, but no such series shall at any issue exceed in the aggregate five hundred thousand dollars, the instalments on which stock are to be paid at such time and place as the bylaws shall appoint. No periodical payment of such instalments shall be made exceeding two dollars on each share and such stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws shall direct. Every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such liens; new shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited. The stock may be issued in one or in successive series in such amount as the board of directors and stockholders may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the association shall have power to do so by giving thirty days' notice of his intention to withdraw, when he may be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him less all fines and other charges, but after the expiration of one year from the issuing of the series such stockholder shall be entitled, in addition thereto, to such interest thereon as the bylaws shall prescribe at the time of the issuing of such stock, not exceeding the legal rate of interest. At no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder his legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him, and such rate of interest thereon as the bylaws of the association shall prescribe at the time of issuing such stock, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock. No fine shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his decease unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the further payment on the stock.

SEC. 2206. Building and loan associations incorporated under this chapter shall have the powers, and from the date of incorporation, when not otherwise provided herein, shall be governed, managed and controlled as follows: They shall have the power and franchise of loaning or advancing to the stockholders thereof the moneys accumulated from time to time, and the power and right to secure the repayment of such money, and the performance of the other conditions upon which the loans are to be made by note or bond, secured by mortgage or other security, as well as the power and right to purchase or erect houses and to convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to their stockholders or others for the benefit of their stockholders in such manner; also, in case of non-payment of instalments, premiums or interest by any stockholder for three months, payment of principal, interest and fines, without deducting the premiums paid or interest thereon, may be enforced by sale of the shares at a meeting of the stockholders, and the net proceeds, after deducting all fines and arrearages with a proportionate part of any losses, shall be paid over to him, and thereafter he shall cease to be a member of the corporation.

SEC. 2207. The officers shall hold stated meetings at which the money in the treasury, if over the amount fixed by charter as the full value of a share, shall be offered for loan in open meeting and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference of priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by charter or constitution as the full value of a share, for each share of stock held by such stockholder, but a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of the amount fixed by charter as the full value of a share, as the constitution and bylaws may provide. Good and ample security, as prescribed by the bylaws, shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he shall be charged with legal interest together with any expenses incurred and the loss of premium, if any, on a sale and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalment or interest by borrowing stockholders for the space of three months, payment of principal and interest and all fines prescribed by the constitution and bylaws without deducting the premium paid and interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities according to law.

SEC. 2208. Any married woman of full age may hold stock, and as such stockholder she shall have all the rights and privileges of other members, including the right to borrow money from the association and bid premiums therefor, and shall also have the right and power to secure such loans by transferring her said stock or securities to the association from which the same was borrowed, or by executing a note or bond, secured by mortgage upon her separate real estate, but the husband of such married woman must join in the execution of such note or bond and mortgage to give it validity. Such married woman shall also have the right to sell, assign and transfer her stock by joining her husband in such transfer or withdrawal. The associations may collect loans made to such married woman, including the dues, interests, premiums and fines, as loans made by the association to other members as are now by law collected. Such stock and interest in such stock shall not be liable for the debts of the husband of such married woman.

SEC. 2209. Should any stockholder who has given a mortgage to the association be desirous of selling the mortgaged property and having the same released from the mortgage, he shall be at liberty to do so, with the consent of the directors, upon first transferring the shares entitled to him in advance to the intended purchaser (if such transfer shall be necessary), and then obtaining from him a note or bond, secured by mortgage of the same premises and on the same terms for the amount due to be given to the association, and such mortgagor shall then be liable to pay all the dues and interest respecting the said advance, and the directors shall then grant to the original mortgagor a release from all further liability in respect thereto at his costs or charges, he having paid all the dues and fines that may be due the association.

SEC. 2210. Should any stockholder desire to have his property discharged from the mortgage or a release and surrender of other securities before the series to which his stock belongs or the association shall have terminated, he shall be allowed to do so upon paying into the hands of the secretary and treasurer such sum of money as will, at the rate of premium at which said money may be sold, produce the same monthly payments of interest as such stockholder had been previously paying on his advance, but such sum shall be in no case less than the net amount actually received by him, and no release shall be given until the money paid shall actually be sold and the security offered for the same shall be approved by the board of directors. All the costs of executing papers connected with the said redemption of the mortgaged premises must be paid by the said stockholder or purchaser of the money.

SEC. 2211. Any stockholder shall be entitled to an immediate release of his mortgage or other securities, who shall deposit in the hands of the treasurer the full amount due on his note or bond, and mortgage, and he shall also be entitled to a return of the premium advanced on the sale and reinvestment of the said money, or his stock may remain unincumbered.

SEC. 2212. Any building and loan association may purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which the association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which it may have any interest, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure the real estate so purchased, or any other that the association may hold or to which it may be entitled, to any person whatsoever, and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such association, to any persons not members thereof are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 2213. Building and loan associations shall have full power to purchase lands and to sell and convey the same, or part thereof, to their stockholders or others in fee simple. In all cases the land shall be disposed of within ten years from the date of the incorporation of such associations respectively.

SEC. 2214. Nothing in this chapter shall be held to interfere with or to require any change in the rules, constitution, bylaws or management of any building and loan association heretofore organized and now existing in the state in accordance with any law thereof.

SEC. 2215. All building and loan associations which have attempted to incorporate prior to the thirty-first day of May, 1887, under the provisions of any law, shall be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers conferred by this chapter, upon filing with the secretary of state a certificate of their acceptance of the same in writing under the duly authenticated seal of said association, signed by its present officers, which certificate shall be accompanied by a copy of the constitution and bylaws of such association, and upon such acceptance and approval thereof by the governor he shall issue letters patent to said corporation reciting the same.

ACTS OF 1893.

SECTION 1. No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government shall do business in this state unless said association shall deposit, and continually thereafter keep deposited, in trust for all its members and creditors, with some responsible trust company, or with the state treasurer of this state, or some state officer of some other state of the United States, mortgages (or other securities) received by it in the usual course of its business, amounting to not less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000). All dividends and interest which may accrue on securities held in trust as aforesaid by the trust company or the state officer, as provided in this section, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are on deposit in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages. Any securities on deposit, as provided herein, may from time to time be withdrawn, if others of equal value are substituted therefor.

SEC. 2. Every building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, shall, before commencing to do business in this state, pay the treasurer of this state twenty-five dollars ($25) as fees for filing the papers mentioned in this section, and file with the treasurer of this state:

1. A duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation.

2. The certificate of the proper officer of some state, or the president and treasurer or secretary of some responsible trust company, certifying that it has on deposit securities not less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), taken in the regular course of business, as mentioned in this act, in trust for all the members and creditors of such building and loan association.

3. A duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association, stipulating and agreeing that, if any legal process affecting such association be served on the treasurer of this state and a copy thereof be mailed, postage prepaid, by the party procuring the issuing of the same, or his attorney, to said association, addressed to its home office, then such service on said state treasurer and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association.

SEC. 3. When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the state treasurer, the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the said state treasurer, and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid, to the home office of said association. The word "process" in this act shall include any writ, summons, petition or order whereby an action, suit or proceeding shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit or proceeding at law or in equity authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 4. The name "building and loan association," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, organizations or associations doing a saving and loan investment business on the building society plan, viz., loaning its funds to its members only, whether issuing certificates of stock which matures at a fixed time or not.

SEC. 5. No officer, director or agent of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of any state other than this, or of any territory or foreign nation, shall solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or sell, issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to any person in this state, any stock of such association, unless said association has fully complied with all the provisions of this act. Any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, the offender shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not less than ten days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 6. Within four months from the close of its fiscal year, every building and loan association doing business in this state governed by this act, shall, each year, deposit with the treasurer of this state a report of its affairs and operations for the fiscal year immediately preceding; such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary, or by three directors of the association, and shall contain answers to the following questions:

1. The date when association was incorporated, and the par value of each share of stock.

2. The number of shares sold during the year.

3. The number of shares cancelled and withdrawn during the year.

4. The number of shares in force at the end of the year.
5. A statement of the receipts and disbursements of the loan fund during the year.
6. A statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year.

Each association shall pay to the treasurer of this state twenty-five dollars ($25) on filing such report.

If any such association shall wilfully fail to furnish to the treasurer of this state any report required by this act at the time so required, it shall, in the discretion of the state treasurer, forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, and the treasurer of the state may maintain an action to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state for the benefit of the state.

SEC. 7. Every association depositing securities with the treasurer of this state, as provided for in this act, shall annually pay to said treasurer of state a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25).

SEC. 8. No fines, interest or premiums paid on loans made by any building and loan association shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected, as debts of like amount are now collected by law in this state, and according to the terms and stipulations of the agreement between the association and the borrower.

GEORGIA.

CODE OF 1882.

SECTION 3968 (a). No judgment of foreclosure shall be given in favor of any building and loan association, upon any mortgage executed to them, unless they shall have served upon the mortgagor, at least thirty days before the court at which such judgment shall be taken, a complete statement of the amount for which they claim judgment, fully setting out the amount claimed for principal, interest and fines, or penalties; and also setting out the credit allowed for stock transferred to them as collateral, and any other credit to which the mortgagor may be entitled.

SECTION 1. All building and loan associations, and other like associations, now organized and doing business in this state, and that may hereafter organize and do business in this state be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to lend money to persons not members thereof, nor shareholders therein, at eight per cent or less, and to aggregate the principal and interest at the date of the loan for the entire period of the loan, and to divide the sum of the principal and the interest for the entire period of the loan into monthly or other instalments and to take security by mortgage with waiver of exemption or title, or both, upon and to real estate situated in the cities or towns and their suburbs in which said building and loan association may be located.

SEC. 2. All contracts made and securities taken in accordance with this act, shall be valid for the full amount of principal and interest charged and shall not be held usurious.

SEC. 3. Nothing in this act shall be held to apply to any building and loan association heretofore incorporated, unless said association shall, by a vote of a majority of its stockholders, adopt the provisions of this act as an amendment to its charter.

SEC. 4. (added by act 732, acts of 1889, page 180). All the provisions of this act are hereby made to apply to all saving institutions which pay interest to depositors, and whose deposits are not subject to check.

ACTS OF 1890-'91.

VOLUME I.

(ACT NO. 722, PAGES 176-181.)

SECTION 1. Every building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, which does business outside of this state, shall deposit and keep on deposit with the treasurer of this state, or with a legally incorporated and duly organized trust company, to be selected by the board of directors of such association, in trust for all its members and creditors, seventy-five per cent of the amount of all mortgages (or other securities) received by it in the usual course of its business. When such mortgages (or other securities) are deposited with the said trust company or state depository, such company or state depository shall certify to the treasurer of this state that the said securities have been and are deposited with it under this act, and the same shall not be surrendered to or returned to the said building and loan association without the authority or sanction of the said treasurer of this state; Provided, that every such corporation heretofore or hereafter organized, whose mortgages or other securities so deposited do not amount to twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), shall have fifteen months after organization, as to those not yet organized, and as to those already organized, fifteen months within three months from the passage of this act, deposit with said state treasurer or trust company such additional securities as with the securities so deposited shall equal in value the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); and every such corporation hereafter organized, within fifteen months after commencing to do business, shall deposit with the said state treasurer or trust company, in trust as aforesaid, securities of the value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000). The securities mentioned in this proviso shall consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States, national or state bank notes, or bonds of this state or any other state of the United States, or of any solvent city, town or county of this state having legal authority to issue the same, or first mortgages on real estate, or other legal securities aggregating in value twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), and such securities may be withdrawn, from time to time, when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited in lieu and place thereof, as provided in this act, or when other securities of equal character and value are substituted therefor; and it shall be the duty of the treasurer of this state to examine the affairs of said associations, from time to time, to ascertain whether said associations have deposited seventy-five per cent of all their securities and otherwise complied with the requirements of this act; Provided, that any association which has deposited all of its securities on hand at the time this act takes effect shall be required to make quarterly deposits only of securities taken by it in the future, that is, at the end of periods of three months thereafter. Whenever any association incorporated under the laws of this state is required by the laws of any other state, territory or nation to make a deposit of securities in such state, territory or nation, as a condition of doing business therein, such association may deposit a portion of its securities with the properly authorized officer of such other state, territory or nation; Provided, however, that the amount of securities kept on deposit in this state shall at all times equal seventy-five per cent of the amount of the loans made and then outstanding in this state; And provided further, that the securities so deposited in this state shall not thereby be reduced below the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

SEC. 2. All interest and dividends and premiums which may accrue on securities held by said state treasurer or by such trust company, as provided herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are so deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages. Any mortgage (or other security) which shall have been fully paid to said association, or which the borrower desires to pay off and discharge, and any mortgage (or other security) upon which default in the payment due has been made and of which said association shall desire possession for the purpose of collection or foreclosure, and all securities needed by it for deposit in any other states territory or nation according to the provisions of section 1 of this act, shall be surrendered by said state treasurer, or on his order, to the association depositing same, upon filing with him the affidavit of the president and secretary thereof, stating the reason or reasons for desiring to withdraw such security or securities, and such security or securities shall not be used for any purpose other than that stated in the affidavit; Provided, that when said association is dissolved, according to the provisions of its charter, and ceases to do business, all securities deposited by it shall be returned to it upon furnishing said state treasurer with satisfactory evidence of the fact of its dissolution as aforesaid. Bonds or stocks deposited with said state treasurer, or trust company, as aforesaid, shall, if deemed advisable by the association, be surrendered to the association depositing same, for the purpose of being converted into cash and loaned on real estate.

SEC. 3. No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government shall do business in this state unless said association shall deposit, and continually thereafter keep deposited, in trust for all of its members and creditors, with some responsible trust company, or with the state treasurer of this or some other state of the United States, seventy-five per cent of all its securities; all of the personal obligations of its members taken in the ordinary course of business of such association and secured on first mortgages on real estate; seventy-five per cent of all dividends and interest which may accrue on securities held in trust, as aforesaid, by the trust company or the state, as provided for herein; and all dues or monthly payments, which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which, all on deposit in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages. Any securities on deposit, as provided herein, of said building and loan association in this state, if the amount of said securities so deposited is less than all of its securities, may, from time to time, be drawn, if others of equal value are substituted therefor. Every building and loan association, organized under the laws of any state, territory or foreign government, shall, before commencing to do business in this state,

1. File with the secretary of this state, a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation.

2. File with the secretary of this state the certificate of the proper state officer of another state or the president or secretary of some responsible trust company certifying that it has on deposit seventy-five per cent of all the securities, not less than twenty-five thousand dollars of the kind and amount required by the laws of such other state, taken in the regular course of business, as mentioned in this act, in trust for all the members and creditors of such building and loan association.

3. File with the secretary of this state a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association stipulating and agreeing, that if any legal process affecting such association, be served on said secretary of state, and a copy thereof be mailed, postage prepaid by the party procuring the issuing of the same, or his attorney, to said association, addressed to its home office, then such service and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association in this state.

4. Pay the secretary of this state fifty dollars ($50) as fees for filing the paper mentioned in this section.

SEC. 4. When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the secretary of state, the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of said secretary of state, and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid to the home office of said association. The word "process" in this act shall include any writ, summons, complaint, declaration or order, whereby an action, suit or proceeding shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit or proceeding at law, or in equity, authorized by law in this state. Thirty days' time shall be allowed to answer in any action, suit or proceeding.

When, by the laws of any other state, territory or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, license, fees, deposits of money or securities, or other obligations, or prohibitions are imposed on building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue of force, the same obligations or prohibitions of whatever kind shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other state, territory or nation, doing business in this state and upon their agents here.

SEC. 5. The name "building and loan association" as used in this act shall include all corporations, societies or organizations or associations doing a savings and loan or investment business, on the building society plan, viz., loaning its funds to its members, whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a time fixed in advance or not.

SEC. 6. No officer, director, or agent of any foreign building and loan association shall, in this state, solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or sell or issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to a resident of this state, any stock of an association while said association has not on deposit, as required by section 3 of this act, seventy-five per cent of all its securities, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this act. Any violation thereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not less [than] ten days or more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 7. No officer, director or agent of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state shall sell, issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to any person not a resident of the state in which the home office of said company is located, any stock of said association while said association does not have on deposit, as required by section 1 of this act, seventy-five per cent of all of the securities of said association taken in the regular course of business; any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction the offender shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not less than ten days or more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 8. No fines, interest or premiums paid on loans in any building and loan association shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now collected by law in this state and according to the terms and stipulations of the agreement between the association and the borrower.

SEC. 9. Every building and loan association governed by this act shall file with the treasurer of this state annually, within sixty days after the expiration of its fiscal year, a statement of its assets and liabilities at the end of said fiscal year; such report shall be filed under oath by the president and secretary, or by three of the directors of the association. Such association shall pay to the state treasurer ten dollars ($10) on filing such report. If any such association shall wilfully fail to furnish to the state treasurer any report required by this act, at the time so required, it shall, in the discretion of a court of competent jurisdiction, forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, and the state treasurer may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the — — fund.

SEC. 10. Every association depositing securities with the state treasurer as provided for in this act shall annually pay to said treasurer a fee of fifty dollars ($50). Wherever in this act it is provided for a deposit with the state treasurer or trust company, such deposit may likewise be made with any one of the legally authorized state depositories.

SEC. 11. All officers of any building and loan association governed by this act and doing business in this state, who handle or have the custody of any of the funds of such association, shall give sufficient bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors with whom such bonds shall be filed. The penalty for a failure of any association to file and maintain the bonds or policy as required by the provisions of this section, shall be a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day such association transacts business after such bond has become due under the provisions of this act. Said bond or policy shall be held in trust for the benefit and protection of the members of such association, and shall be enforceable by any member, whenever cause of action shall accrue thereon.

IDAHO.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1887.

SECTION 2796. Corporations organized for the erection of buildings and making other improvements on real property, may raise funds in shares not exceeding two hundred dollars each, payable in periodical instalments. Such bodies are known as land and building corporations, and may be organized with or without a capital stock.

SEC. 2797. Any such corporation may borrow money for the purpose of carrying out its objects, and may give as security therefor its shares or mortgages upon its real estate.

SEC. 2798. Any such corporation may purchase real estate and erect buildings for its members, and make loans to its members for the purpose of aiding them in acquiring and improving real estate. Such loan must in all cases be secured on such real estate.

SEC. 2799. Such corporation may insure, in some life insurance company, the lives of its members and debtors. In case of the death of a debtor or member so insured, the amount recovered on the policy, must be applied to extinguish the indebtedness, including the premium paid, and the residue, if any, must be paid to the legal representative of the decedent [decedent].

SEC. 2800. Any such corporation may purchase, hold, and convey real estate as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the corporation is carried on, the cost of which must not exceed twenty thousand dollars;

2. Such as may, from time to time, be necessary to supply the wants of members, the cost of which held unallotted to the members thereof at any one time, must not exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars;

3. Such as have been mortgaged, pledged, or conveyed to it in trust, to secure money loaned or to secure the purchase price thereof in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

SEC. 2801. The bylaws of such corporations must specify the amount of the periodical subscriptions or payments to be made by each member, the time and manner in which such payments are to be made; the fines and forfeitures for default; the time and manner of election of directors and other officers, and their terms of office; the manner in which the real estate may be distributed, allotted or sold to its members; the terms and conditions upon which loans may be made to its members, and by them repaid to the corporation; the manner in which a person may become, and cease to be a member; the conditions on which members may withdraw from the corporation, and the provisions for the payment to withdrawing members of the sums of money due them, arising from subscriptions or payments, and the proportion of the profits such withdrawing members may receive on withdrawal.

SEC. 2802. The secretary of any such corporation must, once in each year during the existence of the corporation, prepare a full and explicit statement of the financial affairs thereof, comprising a balance sheet, statements of receipts and expenditures, profit and loss, and assets and liabilities, which must be audited and verified by two competent persons (not directors) elected by the general body of shareholders, and be countersigned by the president and secretary. A copy of such statement must be printed and circulated among the members, and appear immediately after the annual meeting of the corporation, daily at least one week, or weekly at least four weeks, in one or more newspapers published at the place of business of the corporation.

SEC. 2803. Every present and past member of such corporation is personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities, incurred during his membership, as the number of shares subscribed by him bears to the whole number of subscribed shares; but no past member is liable for such contribution if more than one year elapsed since he ceased to be a member before suit is commenced, nor for any debt or liability contracted after the time at which he ceased to be a member, nor unless it appears to the court that that corporation is unable to satisfy such debts and liabilities; nor must any contribution be required from any member or past member exceeding the amount unpaid on the shares in respect to which it is liable.

SEC. 2804. Any two or more such corporations may unite and become incorporated in one body, with or without any dissolution or division of the funds of such corporation, or either of them; or any such corporation may transfer its engagements, funds and property to any other such corporation upon such terms as may be agreed upon by two-thirds of the members of each of such bodies present at general meetings of the members, convened for the purpose, by notice, stating the object of the meeting, sent through the post office to every member, and by general notice appearing daily, at least one week, or weekly, at least two weeks, in some newspaper published at the place of the principal business of the corporation; but no such transfer can prejudice any right of any creditor of either corporation.

SEC. 2805. Married women and minors may be admitted as members, and may take and hold shares in such corporations, and may execute all necessary instruments, and give all necessary acquittances, and sell and transfer their shares in like manner as other members.

ILLINOIS.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1891.

CHAPTER 32.

SECTION 78. Whenever any number of persons not less than five, may desire to become incorporated as a mutual building, loan and homestead association, for the purpose of building and improving homesteads and loaning money to the members thereof only, they shall make a statement to that effect, under their hands and seals, duly acknowledged before some officer in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds, such statement shall set forth the name of the proposed corporation, its capital stock, its location and the duration of the corporation; which statement shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall thereupon issue to such persons a license as commissioners, to open books for subscription to the capital stock of said corporation, at such time and place as they may determine; but no license shall be issued to two associations having the same name.

SEC. 79. As soon as one hundred shares or more of the capital stock shall be subscribed, the commissioners shall convene a meeting of the subscribers, for the purpose of electing directors, adopting a charter and bylaws and the transaction of such other business as shall come before them. Notice thereof shall be given by depositing in the post office properly addressed to each subscriber, at least ten days before the time fixed a written or printed notice, stating the object, time and place of such meeting. Directors of such corporations organized under this act shall be elected, classified and hold their office for such period of time as is provided by general law governing the election and classification of directors, trustees or managers of corporations.

SEC. 80, (as amended by act of June 19, 1893, pages 83-86, laws of 1893). The commissioners shall make a full report of their proceedings, including therein a copy of the notice provided for in the foregoing section, a copy of the subscription list, a copy of the charter and bylaws adopted by the association, and the names of the directors elected and their respective terms of office, which report shall be sworn to by at least a majority of the commissioners, and shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall submit said bylaws to the attorney general, who shall report whether such bylaws conform to the requirements of this act, and if approved by the attorney general, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue a certificate of the complete organization of the corporation, making a part thereof a copy of all papers filed in his office in and about the organization of the corporation and duly authenticated under his hand and seal of state; and the same shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county in which the principal office of such company is located. Upon the recording of said copy the corporation shall be deemed fully organized and may proceed to business; unless such company shall be organized and shall proceed to business as provided in this act within two years after the date of such license, the license shall be deemed revoked and all proceedings thereunder void. And any subsequent amendment or alteration of said bylaws shall be submitted to the secretary of state and be approved by the attorney general and be recorded in like manner as the original bylaws, before the same shall become operative; and only such bylaws as shall have been submitted, approved and recorded as herein provided shall be deemed operative. And a true copy of all such bylaws and amendments thereto shall be filed with the auditor of public accounts.

SEC. 81. Corporations formed under this act shall be bodies corporate and politic for the period for which they are organized; may sue and be sued; may have a common seal, which they may alter or renew at pleasure.

SEC. 82. The corporate powers shall be exercised by a board of directors: Provided, the number of directors shall not be increased or diminished, nor their term of office changed, without the consent of the owners of two-thirds of the shares of stock. The officers of the company shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, to be elected at the annual meeting of the board of directors, as may be provided for in the charter and bylaws of the association: Provided, that the secretary only shall be entitled to compensation, and in such amount as may be provided for in the charter of such association: And provided, that the treasurer shall give bond and security to be approved by the board of directors.

SEC. 83. The shares of stock shall be one hundred (100) dollars each, and shall be deemed personal property transferable upon the books of the company, in such manner as may be provided by the bylaws, and subscriptions therefore [therefor] shall be made payable to the corporation, and shall be payable in such periodical instalments, and at such time or times as shall be determined by the charter and bylaws; but no periodical payment to be made exceeding two (2) dollars on each share; and every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited, and the stock may be issued in one or in successive series, as may be prescribed in the charter and bylaws, and in such amount (not to exceed the total capital stock) as the board of directors may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation shall have power to do so, by giving thirty days notice of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her, and such interest thereon or such proportion of the profits thereon as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds of the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her on all shares not borrowed upon or pledged to the association as collateral security, and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock; but no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his or her decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assumes the future payment of the dues on the stock.

SEC. 84. Married women may become subscribers to the capital stock of such association, and hold, control and transfer their stock in all respects as femmes sole, and their stock shall not be subject to the control of, or liable for the debts of their husbands. Minors may become subscribers to and owners of the stock of such associations by guardian or trustee, and such guardian or trustee may withdraw the stock of such minor as provided in section six [83] of this act: Provided, however, that such guardian or trustee shall give bonds to the probate court in double the amount of the withdrawal value of such stock, for the use of such minor on his or her becoming of age; but it is hereby provided, that no person as owner or legal representative of the stock of such association shall by himself or by proxy, vote at any election, when the stockholders are called upon to vote, on more than forty shares of stock.

SEC. 85. The board of directors shall hold such stated meetings, not less frequently than once a month, as may be provided by the bylaws, at which the money in the treasury, if one hundred dollars, or more, shall be offered for loan in open meeting; and the stockholders who shall bid the highest premium, for the preference or priority of loan, shall be entitled to receive a loan of one hundred dollars for each share of stock held by said stockholders; the said premium bid may be deducted from the loan in one amount, or may be paid in such proportionate amounts or instalments, and at such times during the existence of the shares of stock borrowed upon, as may be designated by the bylaws of the respective associations: Provided, that any such association may, by its bylaws dispense with the offering of its money for bids in open meeting, and in lieu thereof loan its money at a rate of interest and premium fixed by its bylaws, and either with or without premium, deciding the preference or priority of loans by the priority of the applications for loans of its stockholders: And, provided, that no loan shall be made by said corporation except to its own members, nor in any sum in excess of the amount of stock held by such members borrowing. But such stockholders may borrow such fractional part of one hundred dollars as the bylaws may provide. Good and ample real estate security, unencumbered, except by prior loans of such association, shall be given by the borrower to secure the payment of the loan: Provided, however, that the stock of such association may be received as security, to the amount of the withdrawal value of such stock. Any mutual building loan and homestead association, which may have heretofore been incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois, may avail itself of all the powers conferred by this act.

SEC. 86. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with one month's interest, together with any expenses incurred, and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments of interest and fines by borrowing stockholders for the space of six months, payment of principal and interest and fines, without deducting the premium paid or the interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings against their securities according to law, upon the order of the board of directors.

SEC. 87. A borrower may repay a loan at any time, and in the event of the repayment thereof before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the association, or the date of issue of the series of stock in such association on which the loan may have been made, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years then unexpired: Provided, that where the said premium has not been deducted from the loan, but paid in instalments, there shall be no premium refunded; and any mutual building, loan and homestead association, which may have heretofore been incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois, may avail itself of all the powers conferred by this act.

SEC. 88. Corporations organized under this act being of the nature of cooperative associations, therefore no interest, premiums, fines nor interest on such premiums that may accrue to said corporation, according to the provisions of this act, shall be deemed usurious and the same may be collected as other debts of like amount may be collected by laws in this state; and, all money paid to such corporation being at once loaned out and placed into taxable property, and the shares of stock and notes provided for in this act being simply evidence as to where such money has been placed, therefore such stock and notes shall not be subject to taxation.

SEC. 89. No corporation or association created under this act shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect officers at the time mentioned in their charter and bylaws, and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected.

SEC. 90. Any loan or building association incorporated by or under this act is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever.

SEC. 91. Any loan or building association incorporated under this act or any prior act, may extend the duration of time for which such association was organized by a vote of two-thirds of the capital stock of such association at any annual meeting of the stockholders of such association, thereupon the board of directors shall transmit a copy of the proceedings of such annual meeting, duly attested to the secretary of state who shall issue his certificate as provided in section three [80] of this act, certifying to the extension of time of duration of such association, and the same shall be recorded as provided in said section three [80] of this act. And any association incorporated under any prior act, and extending the duration of the time for which it was incorporated, in the manner herein provided, shall be deemed as incorporated under, and be vested with all of the powers given in this act, the same as if such association had been originally incorporated under it.

SEC. 91a, (as amended by act of June 19, 1893, pages 83-86, laws of 1893). The secretary of every building, loan and homestead association incorporated or doing business within this state shall, within sixty days after the close of each fiscal year of such association, file with the auditor of public accounts of the state of Illinois (with a fee of two dollars), a detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of such association for such year, its assets and liabilities, the number of shares of its capital stock issued, withdrawn and in force in each series of stock during such year, also the number of shares loaned upon, instalments paid per share, and profits per share, and value per share in each series, which statement shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the auditor. Such statement shall be sworn to by the secretary of such association, and shall be certified to by at least three members thereof not officers thereof. Any secretary who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to file such statement shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for each neglect or refusal to furnish such statement. The same may be recovered on complaint before any court having competent jurisdiction for the benefit of the county wherein said association is located or in which such secretary may reside.

SEC. 91b, (as amended by act of June 19, 1893, pages 83-86, laws of 1893). It shall be the duty of the auditor of public accounts in person, or by one or more persons, to be by him appointed for that purpose, not officers or agents of, or in any manner interested in such association, except as stockholders, at least once in each year, to examine into the affairs of every such association incorporated in this state or doing business by its agents in this state, and it shall be the duty of the officers or any agents of any such associations to cause their books to be opened for inspection of the auditor or person or persons so by him appointed and otherwise facilitate such examination so far as it may be in their power to do so, and for that purpose the auditor or person or persons so appointed by him shall have power to examine under oath, the officers and agents of such associations, relative to the business of such associations, and whenever the auditor of public accounts shall deem it for the best interests of the public so to do he shall publish the result of any investigation in one or more newspapers of general circulation, published in the county in which the principal office of such association is located, and annually on or before the first day of December of each year, the auditor of public accounts shall report in writing to the governor the financial condition of all such associations doing business in this state. The auditor shall receive for such examination made by him in person or by deputy, his reasonable compensation and expenses, and said compensation and expenses shall be paid by the association so examined.

SEC. 91c, (as amended by act of June 19, 1893, pages 83-86, laws of 1893). And whenever it shall appear to said auditor that the assets of any such association incorporated or doing business in this state, are insufficient to justify the continuance of business of such association, or that it is conducting its business in whole or in part contrary to law, or in an unsafe manner he shall communicate the fact by mail, addressed to the president and secretary of such association, the mailing of such notice shall be deemed sufficient evidence and notice. Such association shall be allowed sixty days within which to make the assets sufficient or correct such illegal practices; and in case such assets are not made sufficient or such illegal practices corrected within the time herein provided, then the auditor shall report the same to the attorney general, whose duty it shall then become to apply to the circuit court of the county in which the principal office of such association may be located, or to any of the judges of said court, in the name of the people of this state on the relation of said auditor for an order requiring such association to show cause why the business of such association shall not be closed or for an injunction restraining such association from doing further business, which application may be made either in term time or in vacation, in the manner now provided for obtaining injunction, except no bond should be required from said auditor in obtaining such injunction, the court shall thereupon proceed to hear the allegations and proofs of the respective parties either in open court or by reference to a master in chancery; and in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of said court that the assets and funds of said association are not sufficient as aforesaid or that such association has been conducting its business, in whole or in part, contrary to law, the court may decree a dissolution of said association and the distribution of the assets, and may appoint a receiver of such association, with full power to do all acts necessary to close the affairs of such association, and for the proper distribution of its assets.

SEC. 91d. Any such association may allow reasonable compensation to its auditing committees for their services as such, not exceeding the sum of four dollars per diem, nor for more than three days during each quarter year, such committees to consist of three shareholders, not officers thereof.

SEC. 91e. In all cases where associations have been formed in this state under "An act to enable associations or persons to become a body corporate to raise funds to be loaned only among the members of such association," in force July 1, 1879; and said associations have taken bonds, and trust deeds made to third persons, conveying real estate to said third persons as trustees, as security for the payment of said bonds; and when it becomes necessary for any such trust deed to be released, and said trustee shall refuse to make such release, or he shall be absent from the town, city or county where such real estate is located, then it shall be lawful for the president or secretary of such association, on being requested so to do by the board of directors of such associations, to act in the capacity of alternate trustee, fully authorized and empowered to release all claim, right, title and interest his association has in and to the real estate described in the trust deed to be released.

SEC. 91f. All releases of trust deeds made in accordance with the foregoing section shall be held and esteemed as of the same value and significance as if they had been made and executed by the person named as trustee in said trust deeds.

SECTION 1. Foreign building, loan and homestead associations doing business in this state shall conduct the same in accordance with the laws of this state governing domestic associations, and no such association shall do any business in this state until it procures from the auditor of public accounts a certificate of authority to do so. To procure such authority, such association shall comply with the following provisions:

1. It shall deposit with the said auditor one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars, either in cash or bonds of the United States or of the state of Illinois, or of any county or municipal corporation in the state of Illinois, satisfactory to the said auditor.

2. It shall file with the auditor a certified copy of its charter, constitution and bylaws, and other rules and regulations showing its manner of conducting business, together with a statement such as is required annually from all associations, and certified copies of all subsequent amendments to such bylaws.

SEC. 2. Whenever such association has complied with the provisions of this act, and the auditor is satisfied that such association is doing business according to the laws of this state, and is in sound financial condition, he shall issue his certificate of authority to such association to do business in this state. Annually thereafter, upon the filing of the annual statement herein provided for, if the auditor shall be satisfied as aforesaid, he shall issue a renewal of such certificate of authority.

SEC. 3. Such foreign association may collect and use the interest on any securities so deposited, so long as it fulfils its obligations and complies with the provisions of this act. It may also exchange them for other securities of equal value and satisfactory to the auditor.

SEC. 4. The deposit made with the auditor shall be held as a security for all claims of residents of this state against said association, and shall be liable for all judgments or decrees thereon, and subjected to the payment of the same in the same manner as the property of other non-residents. Should any association cease to do business in this state, the auditor may release securities in his discretion, retaining sufficient to satisfy all outstanding liabilities.

SEC. 5. Should the auditor find, upon examination, that any foreign association does not conduct its business in accordance with the law, or that the affairs of any such association are in an unsound condition, or if such association refuses to permit examination to be made, he may cancel the authority of such association to do business in this state, and cause a notice thereof to be sent to the home office of the association, and to be published in at least one newspaper in the city of Springfield. After the publication of such notice, it shall be unlawful for any agent of said association to receive any further stock deposits from members residing in this state, except payments on stock on which a loan has been taken.

SEC. 6. Foreign building and loan associations shall pay to the auditor the following fees, which shall be paid into the state treasury, to wit: For filing each application for admission to do business in this state, fifty (50) dollars for each certificate of authority, and annual renewal of same twenty-five (25) dollars.

SEC. 7. It shall be unlawful for any building and loan association to do business in this state without having first complied with the provisions of this act, or for any person to sell, dispose of, or offer to sell or dispose of, any shares of stock of any such association which has not complied with the provisions of this act, and any association violating any of the provisions of this act, or failing to comply with any of its provisions, or any person so selling or offering to sell or dispose of stock in any such association which has not complied with the provisions of this act, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered by an action in the name of the state, and on collection to be paid into the state treasury: Provided, that building and loan associations organized in other states, having heretofore transacted business in this state which shall not have complied with the provisions of this act, shall have the right to close up their business and fulfil their contracts heretofore entered into with citizens of this state, through their duly authorized agents, without being subject to the penalties prescribed by this act; but all contracts made after the passage of this act by such associations not authorized to do business in this state at the time of making such contracts shall be null and void.

INDIANA.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1881.

SECTION 3407. Any number of persons, not less than ten, may associate themselves together for the purpose of organizing building, loan fund, and savings associations, and for that purpose they shall make, sign, and acknowledge, before some officer capable of taking acknowledgments of deeds, an article of association in writing; which shall state the corporate name adopted by the company, the object of its formation, the amount of capital stock, the number of the directors and their names (who shall manage the affairs of the company for the first year), and the name of the town or county in which its operations are to be carried on; and cause the said articles to be recorded in the recorder's office of the county where the business is to be carried on, and [file] a duplicate thereof in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 3408. When the articles of association shall have been filed and recorded as aforesaid, a certified copy thereof shall be evidence of the things therein contained; and the persons who shall have filed and acknowledged the same, and their successors, shall be a body corporate and politic and in their corporate name may contract, sue, and be sued, and may hold and convey real estate and personal property as hereinafter provided; and the business of the association shall be managed by a board of directors, who shall be stockholders of the association, and who shall be selected by the stockholders as the bylaws of the association may provide.

SEC. 3409. The company shall have the power and franchise of loaning or advancing to the stockholders thereof the moneys accumulated from time to time, and the power and right to secure the repayment of such moneys and the performance of the other conditions upon which the loans are to be made, by note and mortgage, or upon note secured by stock of the association or personal security, as well as the power and right to purchase or erect houses, and to sell, convey, lease, or mortgage the same at their pleasure to their stockholders or others for the benefit of their stockholders in such manner. The premiums taken by the said association, for the preference or priority of such loans, shall not be deemed usurious. And in case of non-payment of instalments or interest, by borrowing stockholders, for three months, payment of principal, premium, and interest (without deducting the premium paid or interest thereon) may be enforced by proceedings on their securities, according to law.

SEC. 3410. The capital stock of any corporation created for such purposes by virtue of this act shall at no time consist, in the aggregate, of more than five hundred thousand dollars, to be divided into shares of such denomination, not exceeding five hundred dollars each, and in such number as the bylaws of the association may provide: Provided, that the capital stock may be issued in series; but no such series shall, at any issue, exceed in the aggregate, one hundred thousand dollars—the instalments on which such stock are to be paid at such time and place as the bylaws may provide; but no periodical payment of such instalment shall be made exceeding fifty cents per week on each one hundred dollars of stock; and said stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws may provide. And every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon, under the provisions of the constitution and bylaws; and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. And, in lieu of the shares withdrawn or forfeited, the stock may be issued in one or in successive series, in such amounts as the board of directors may determine. And any stockholder wishing to withdraw from said corporation shall have power to do so by giving three months' notice to the board of directors of his or her intention to withdraw; when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her, less all fines and other charges. But after the expiration of one year from the issuing of the series, such stockholder shall be entitled, in addition thereto, to legal interest thereon: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders, without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder, his or her legal representative shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her, and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock. No fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account, from and after his or her decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payments on the stock.

SEC. 3411. The number, functions, qualifications, and compensation of the officers of any corporation, their terms of office, the times of their election, as well as the qualifications of electors and the votes and manner of voting, and the periodical meetings of said corporation, shall be determined by the bylaws of the association, when not provided by this act.

SEC. 3412. Said directors shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if over the amount fixed in the constitution or bylaws as the full value of a share, shall be offered for loan in open meeting. The bylaws of the association shall prescribe the manner of awarding such loan or loans to its members, the rate of interest to be paid therefor, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, payable monthly or quarterly in advance; or said association may provide in its bylaws that such loans shall be made to the members of said association who shall bid the highest premiums for the preference or priority of loan, and who shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by the constitution and bylaws as the full value of a share for each share of stock held by such person. The said premium shall be bid as of so much per share: Provided, that a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of the amount fixed by the constitution and bylaws as the full value of a share as the bylaws may provide. Good and ample real estate or personal security, as prescribed by the bylaws of the corporation, shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan with interest, and also for the payment of the dues, fines, and assessments that may be assessed on his share of stock upon which the loan is made. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with legal interest, as prescribed in the bylaws, together with any expense incurred, and the loss in premium, if any, on a resale; and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments or interest by borrowing stockholders for the space of three months, payments of principal and interest, and fines, without deducting the premiums paid or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings on their security according to law.

SEC. 3413. A borrower who is not in arrears for dues, interest, fines, or assessments, may repay his loan at any time, and may, at the same time, withdraw from the association; and for that purpose he shall pay to the association or the officer thereof authorized to receive payment of dues or interest, the full face amount of the principal of his loan less the amount by him paid to said association as dues and assessments on his stock, with interest on such payments, from the time they were made, at eight per cent per annum, and less so much of the premium or discount paid by him on his loan for the priority thereof as shall bear the same proportion to the whole premiums by him paid which the unexpired time for which the loan was made bears to the whole time for which the loan was made; and, on such payment being made, the stock held by such person shall be delivered up to said association, and cancelled, and no new stock shall be issued therefor; and the officer of such association to whom such payment is made shall also immediately cancel and deliver up to such borrower his note and mortgage, or other evidence of said loan, and shall enter on the record of such mortgage a full satisfaction thereof; which entry shall be a complete satisfaction of said mortgage.

SEC. 3414. No premiums, fines, or interest on such premiums that may accrue to the said corporation, according to the provisions of this act, shall be deemed usurious; and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now, by law, collected in this state.

SEC. 3415. No corporation or association, created under this act, shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect officers at the time mentioned in their bylaws; and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected.

SEC. 3416. Any building, loan fund, or savings association incorporated under or by this act, and those incorporated prior thereto, are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase, at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other incumbrance, or ground rent, or in which said association may have an interest; and the real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this act, to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatever; and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such association, to any person or persons, are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 3417. All such corporations shall have full power to purchase lands, and to sell and convey the same, or any part thereof, to their stockholders or others, in fee simple, with or without the reservation of ground rents; but the quantity of land purchased by any one or said associations hereinafter incorporated shall not, in the whole, exceed fifty acres; and in all cases the land shall be disposed of within ten years from purchase or same. All building, loan fund, and savings associations are hereby authorized to make sale of and extinguish to any person or persons the ground rents created as aforesaid.

SEC. 3418. An act entitled "An act for the incorporation and continuance of building, loan fund, and savings associations," approved March 5, 1857, and also an act entitled "An act authorizing the organization of voluntary associations, and prescribing their duties and powers," approved March 7, 1873, and all other acts in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed: Provided, however, that all rights acquired and all acts performed in pursuance of the provisions of the above mentioned acts are saved from the effects of this repealing clause, and all building, loan fund, and savings associations, or corporations which have commenced proceedings under said acts, may proceed according to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3419. All such associations shall have power to assess, in addition to amount provided in section four of this act [3410], the sum of twenty-five cents per month upon each share of stock, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the association; which sum shall be payable with the regular instalment; and shall also have the power to provide in their bylaws for the assessment and collection of fines and penalties from delinquent stockholders for non-payment of dues, interest, instalments, and assessments; also to provide in their bylaws for the forfeiture of all the rights and immunities in the association of such delinquent members after a default of three months to pay the dues, interest, instalment, assessments, and fines; and also to provide, in case a borrower of money from such association shall fail and neglect to pay his dues, fines, assessments, interest, and instalments for a period of three months from the time the same shall become due and payable, that such failure and neglect shall work a forfeiture of all his rights and immunities as a member of said association and the whole sum loaned to him by said association shall become immediately due and payable, and may be collected, together with all such fines, dues, interest and instalments, by law.

SEC. 3420. All building, loan, and savings associations, legally organized or attempted to be organized under any statute of this state, shall not be deemed or held invalid by reason of the failure to have recorded in the recorder's office of the county wherein such association is located the articles of association before commencing business; but where the articles of association shall have been properly filed in the office of the secretary of state before commencing business, it shall be deemed and held to have been a sufficient compliance with the law; or where either of said acts have been done and not the other, the same shall be taken and held as a substantial and valid compliance with the law on the subject of organizing such associations; and where the articles of such association have, since the commencement of business thereof, been recorded in the recorder's office of the county wherein the association is located, or the same have been filed in the office of the secretary of state, or where such omitted act shall hereafter be done as directed by law, the same shall be held and taken as a substantial compliance with the law organizing building, loan, and savings associations; and all acts of the original directors, and their successors and officers of such association, and all business done, loans made, mortgages taken, moneys collected and disbursed in pursuance of the law in such cases, and in compliance with the constitution and bylaws of such association, are hereby legalized and made valid, and all members and contracting parties shall be deemed and held to be fully bound by their contract with such association.

ELLIOTT'S SUPPLEMENT OF 1889.

SECTION 840. Any number of persons, not fewer than ten, after at least one hundred shares of stock have been subscribed for, may associate themselves together for the purpose of organizing building, loan fund and savings associations, and for that purpose they shall make, sign and acknowledge in duplicate before some officer, capable of taking acknowledgments of deeds conveying real estate, a certificate of incorporation in writing, which shall state the corporation name adopted by the company, the object of its formation, the amount of its capital stock, the amount of capital stock already subscribed for, the number of its directors and their names, who shall manage the affairs of the company for the first year, and the name of the town or county in which its operations are to be carried on; and shall cause one of said certificates to be filed and recorded in the recorder's office of the county where the business is to be carried on, and shall file the other of said certificates in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 841. When the certificate of incorporation shall have been filed as aforesaid, a certified copy thereof shall be evidence of the contents thereof; and the persons who shall have signed and acknowledged such certificate, and their successors, shall be a body politic and corporate, and in their corporate name may contract, sue, and be sued, and may hold and convey real estate and personal property as hereinafter provided. The business of the association shall be managed by a board of directors, who shall be stockholders of the association, and who shall be selected by the stockholders as the bylaws of the association may provide.

SEC. 842. The corporation shall have the power and franchise of loaning or advancing to the stockholders thereof, at interest not exceeding the legal contract rate at the time, the moneys of the association accumulated from time to time, and the power and right to secure the repayment of such money and the performance of other conditions upon which the loans are made, by note or bond and mortgage, or upon note or bond secured by stock of the association or personal security, as well as the power and right to purchase real estate and improve the same, and to sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same, at its pleasure, to its stockholders or others for the benefits of the stockholders, or to loan the moneys of the association to others than its stockholders, at a rate of interest not exceeding the legal contract rate of interest, upon good and ample real estate or personal security, for the benefit of its stockholders, when there is no demand for loans on the part of the stockholders. The premiums taken by such association for the preference or priority in procuring loans made to stockholders shall not be deemed usurious, and in case of non-payment of instalments upon stock, or interest or premium by borrowing stockholders, for three months, payment of principal, premium and interest (without deducting the premium or interest paid) may be enforced by proceedings on their securities according to law.

SEC. 843. The capital stock of any corporation created by virtue of this act shall at no time consist in the aggregate of more than one million dollars, to be divided into shares of such denomination, not exceeding five hundred dollars each, as the bylaws of the association may prescribe: Provided, that the capital stock may be issued in series; but the stock in any such series shall not at any time exceed in the aggregate one hundred thousand dollars; the instalments in which the stock is to be paid, the times and place of payment, shall be as the bylaws may provide; but no periodical payment of such instalment shall be required exceeding fifty cents per week on each one hundred dollars of stock; the stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws may provide. Every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the constitution and bylaws; and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. In lieu of the shares withdrawn, forfeited, retired, or expired, new stock may be issued in one or in successive series, and in such amounts as the board of directors conformably to the bylaws may determine; but at no time shall the outstanding stock in any series exceed one hundred thousand dollars, nor of the association exceed one million dollars, or its capital as fixed by the certificate of incorporation. Any stockholder wishing to withdraw from such corporation may do so upon three months' notice given to the board of directors, when such withdrawing stockholder shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in upon the stock to be withdrawn, less all fines and other charges thereon: Provided, that when the withdrawal occurs after the expiration of one year from the beginning of the series in which the stock to be withdrawn was issued, he shall receive in addition to the amount paid in, less fines and other charges as aforesaid, at least legal interest on each instalment paid from the date at which the same was payable: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to demands of withdrawing stockholders, unless the board of directors in its discretion shall order otherwise, and the board may, in its discretion, waive the notice hereinbefore required as to any withdrawal; no stock shall be withdrawn which is at the time held in pledge for security. The legal representatives of any deceased shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by his decedent, with legal interest thereon, from the dates at which the same was payable, after deducting all fines and charges thereon. No fine shall be charged to a deceased member's account for any default occurring after his death, unless the legal representatives of the decedent shall have assumed the future payments on the stock.

SEC. 844. The number, function, qualifications and compensation of the officers of any such corporation, their terms of office, the times of their election, as well as the qualifications of the electors, and the votes and manner of voting, and the periodical meetings of such corporation, shall be determined by the bylaws of such association when not provided by this act.

SEC. 845. The directors shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if over the amount fixed in the constitution or bylaws as the full value of a share, shall be offered for loan in open meeting. The bylaws of the association shall prescribe the manner of awarding loans to its members, the time or times when the premium, if any, shall be paid, the rate of interest to be charged not exceeding the then legal contract rate, and the time when the interest shall be paid, whether monthly or quarterly in advance; or such association may provide in its bylaws that the loans shall be made to the members of the association who shall bid the highest premiums for the preference or priority in procuring loans (the premium to be payable at one time or [in] instalments), which member so bidding shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by the constitution and bylaws as the full value of a share for each share of stock held by him and then and there bid off. The premium shall be bid as of so much per share: Provided, that a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of the amount fixed by the constitution and bylaws as the full value of a share as the bylaws may provide. Good and ample real estate or personal security, as prescribed by the bylaws of the corporation, shall be given by the borrower, or in his behalf, to secure the repayment of the loan with interest, and also for the payment of the dues, unpaid premiums, if any, fines and charges that may be assessed upon the stock upon which the loan is made. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, by such time as the bylaws shall prescribe, he or she shall be charged with legal interest, as prescribed in the bylaws, together with any expense incurred, and the loss, if any, on a resale, and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments or interest, or unpaid premium, if any, by borrowing stockholders for the space of three months, payments of principal, interest, unpaid premiums, if any, and fines, without deducting premiums of interest paid, may be enforced by proceedings on their securities according to law.

SEC. 846. A borrower, who is not in arrears for dues, interest, premiums, fines, or assessments, may repay his loan at any time, and may at the same time withdraw from the association, and for that purpose he shall pay to the association, or to the officer authorized to receive the same, the full face amount of the principal of his loan, less the amount by him paid to said association as dues on his stock, with interest on such payments from the time they were made, at not less than the same rate per cent per annum that he has paid to the association as interest upon his loan, and less so much of the premium or discount paid by him on his loan for the priority thereof as shall bear the same proportion to the whole premium by him paid, which the unexpired time for which the loan was made bears to the whole time for which the loan was made; and on such payment being made, the stock held by such person upon which his loan was made, shall be surrendered to the association and shall be cancelled; and thereupon the proper officer of such association shall immediately deliver to such borrower his note, or bond and mortgage, or other evidence of such loan, and shall also enter of record a full satisfaction of such mortgage, which entry shall be a complete extinguishment of such mortgage and the debt thereby secured.

SEC. 847. No premiums, fines, or interest on such premiums that may accrue to said corporation, in addition to interest on any loan made by it, according to the provisions of this act, shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now, by law, collected in this state.

SEC. 848. No corporation or association created under this act shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect directors or officers at the time mentioned in its bylaws, and all directors and officers elected by such corporation shall continue in office until their successors are duly elected.

SEC. 849. Any corporation organized under this act, and those incorporated prior thereto, are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase, at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such corporation may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other incumbrance, or in which such corporation may have an interest; and the real estate so purchased, and any other that such corporation may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this act, it may sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure, to any person or persons whatever; and all sale[s] of real estate heretofore made by any such corporation to any person or persons are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 850. All such corporations shall have full power to purchase real estate and to sell and convey the same, or any part thereof, to their stockholders or others in full fee simple, but the quantity of land purchased by any one of such corporation shall not, in the whole, at any one time, exceed fifty acres; and in all cases such real estate shall be disposed of within ten years from the purchase of the same.

SEC. 851. All such corporations shall have power to charge, in addition to the amounts heretofore provided by this act, a sum not exceeding twenty-five cents per month upon each share of stock, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the association, which sum shall be payable with the regular instalment; to make assessments upon the capital stock to cover losses; and shall also have power to provide in their bylaws for the charge and collection of fines and penalties from delinquent stockholders for non-payment of instalments of dues, interest, premiums and charges; also, to provide in their bylaws for the forfeiture of all the rights and immunities in the association of such delinquent members after a default of three months to pay instalment of dues, interest, premiums, charges or fines, and also to provide, in case of a borrower of money from such association shall fail and neglect to pay his instalments of dues, fines, charges, interest or premiums, for a period of three months from the time the same shall become due and payable, that such failure and neglect shall work a forfeiture of all his rights and immunities, and the whole sum loaned to him by such association shall, at its option, become immediately due and payable, and may be collected, together with all fines, instalments of dues, interest and premium, if any, then unpaid.

SEC. 852. Infants may become stockholders in any corporation organized under this act the same as adults, and such infant stockholder[s] shall be subject to the same duties and liabilities as respects their stock as adult members. Any receipt, release, acquittance or discharge given to the corporation by an infant stockholder shall be binding upon the infant to the same extent as if such infant were of full age.

SEC. 853. When, in case of any loan made by any such corporation, the borrower, or any other person furnishing security in behalf of the borrower, shall, as an inducement to the corporation to make the loan, represent to it in writing that he or she is over the age of twenty-one years, whereas in fact such person so representing is under lawful age and the association is thereby deceived, and the loan is upon such representation made, neither such person so representing nor any one in his or her behalf shall afterwards be allowed as against said corporation to take advantage of the fact that he or she was not of full age, but such person shall be estopped by such representation.

SEC. 854. Any such corporation organized prior to the taking effect of this act, under any preexisting statute of this state, may accept the provisions of this act by filing in the office of the recorder of the county in which the association is located, a written acceptance of the provisions of this act, which acceptance shall be signed by the president of such corporation and attested by its secretary, and shall, on behalf of the corporation, be acknowledged by the same officers, before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds conveying real estate; and a duplicate of such written acceptance, executed and acknowledged as aforesaid, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and from and after such filing, such corporation shall have all the powers hereby granted and shall be subject to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 855. (as amended by chapter 166, acts of 1893). Any building, loan fund and saving association organized, or which may hereafter be organized under the laws of this state, may increase its capital stock to any sum not exceeding two million dollars ($2,000,000) upon the passage of a resolution for such increase by the stockholders of such corporation at any regular meeting of stockholders, or at any special meeting called for that purpose. Upon a certified copy of such resolution, under the hand of the chairman of such stockholders' meeting and of the secretary of such meeting being filed in the office of the recorder of the county where the corporation is located, and a like copy in the office of the secretary of state, and the payment of the fees required by law for such increase, the authority to issue the stock as thus increased shall be deemed complete.

SEC. 856. All building, loan fund and savings associations, legally organized or attempted to be organized under any statute of this state, shall not be deemed or held invalid by reason of the failure to have recorded in the recorder's office of the county wherein such association is located the articles of association before commencing business; but where the articles of association shall have been properly filed in the office of the secretary of state before commencing business, it shall be deemed and held to have been a sufficient compliance with the law; or when either of said acts have been done and not the other, the same shall be taken and held as a substantial and valid compliance with the law on the subject of organizing such association; and when the articles of such association have, since the commencement of business thereof, been recorded in the recorder's office of the county wherein the association is located, or the same has been filed in the office of the secretary of state, or where such omitted act shall hereafter be done as directed by law, the same shall be held and taken as a substantial compliance with the law organizing building, loan fund and savings associations; and all acts of the original directors, and their successors, and of the officers of such association, and all business done, loans made, mortgages taken, moneys collected and disbursed in pursuance of the law in such cases, and in compliance with the constitution and bylaws of such association, are hereby legalized and made valid, and all members and contracting parties shall be deemed and held to be fully bound by their contracts with such association.

SEC. 857. All acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are repealed: Provided, however, that all rights acquired and any and all acts performed in pursuance of the provisions of any act so repealed are saved from the effects of such repeal, and all building, loan fund and savings associations or corporations which have commenced proceedings under said acts, or any of them, may proceed according to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 858. On or before the first day of June of each year, the secretary of every building, loan and savings association shall file with the auditor of the county in which such association was organized, a duplicate statement, verified by said secretary, showing the amount paid into said association by shareholders upon shares of stock issued by it up to the first day of April preceding and then outstanding, and also the amount loaned, up to said date, to shareholders, and secured by mortgage upon real estate. And such auditor shall deliver said statement to the proper assessor, who shall proceed to assess said association for taxation with the amount shown to have been paid into said association up to said first day of April upon outstanding shares of stock, less the amount shown by the statement to have been loaned to shareholders upon such mortgage security.

SEC. 839. Neither such association nor the shareholders therein shall be liable to taxation upon the shares of stock issued by such association, except as provided by section 1 [858] of this act, and all laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ACTS OF 1893.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any corporation, association or society, organized under the laws of any state (other than the state of Indiana), or of any government foreign to the government of the United States, to conduct or engage in the business of a building, loan fund, savings or investment association, and of issuing stock or bonds to members, payable in weekly, monthly or yearly instalments or assessments, agreeing to pay thereon dividends or profits, or interest, or to pay off bonds by number consecutively or otherwise, without having first filed in the office of the auditor of state a statement, under the oath of the president, secretary, and at least three of the directors, showing the name and location of such corporation, association or society, date of incorporation, the names of its officers, the amount of its capital stock, the amount of its capital stock paid in, the amount of the assets of said corporation, association or society, the character of such assets and the fair cash value thereof, together with the fair cash value of all the securities held by such corporation, association or society; the liabilities of such corporation, association or society, and the character of such liabilities; the par value and the amount of dues or assessments chargeable on each share of stock issued by such corporation, association or society; the proportion of such dues or assessments credited to the loan fund, expense fund, or other fund; when such assessments or dues are payable; the amount of premium and interest charged on loans made by such corporation, association or society; the amount of interest paid on debenture, paid-up or other stock issued by said corporation, association or society; and such other information concerning the business of said corporation, association or society as may, from time to time, be required by said auditor of state.

SEC. 2. In addition to the statement required by section one (1) of this act said foreign corporation, association or society shall file with the auditor of state a copy of its act of incorporation, properly authenticated by the officer of the state in which said foreign corporation, association or society is incorporated, a copy of the bylaws and rules governing it, and of each of the several kinds of the certificates issued to its shareholders or stockholders.

SEC. 3. Every such foreign corporation, association or society doing business in this state shall conduct the same in accordance with the laws of this state governing domestic associations. It shall also deposit with the auditor of state one hundred thousand dollars either in cash or bonds of the United States, or of any state of the United States, or any county or municipal corporation in the state of Indiana, satisfactory to the auditor, or in lieu of any such deposit, any such foreign corporation, association or society, shall file with the auditor of state a written contract or bond executed by a responsible surety and guaranty corporation or company to the approval of the auditor of state, by which contract or bond said surety and guaranty corporation or company shall agree that upon notice by mail from said auditor that any such foreign corporation, association or society is indebted to any citizen of the state of Indiana in any sum or sums, which indebtedness it refuses to promptly pay, that it will at once pay such sum or sums to said auditor and continue so to do from time to time until such payments shall equal one hundred thousand dollars; and upon failure to make such payment or payments, then such auditor shall at once revoke the license of any such foreign corporation, association or society, under section 4 of this act, and suit against such surety and guaranty corporation or company shall be brought by the state of Indiana on relation of the attorney general of said state, and any judgment recovered against any such surety and guaranty corporation or company shall include one hundred dollars damages and costs of suit, exclusive of such sum or sums of indebtedness in favor of such citizen or citizens, which damages shall be the compensation of said attorney general for recovering such judgment. Such surety and guaranty corporation or company shall agree in writing, filed with the auditor before acceptance by the auditor of its contract or bond, to accept service of process of court by service thereof on the auditor, who shall mail a copy thereof to the office of such corporation or company. And such auditor may, whenever in his judgment he thinks any such contract or bond so filed in his office to be insufficient, request any such foreign corporation, association or society to file a new bond, satisfactory to such auditor, and upon failure to comply with such requirement said auditor shall revoke the license of said foreign corporation, association or society, as provided in said section 4, to do business in this state, and such foreign corporation, association or society shall not be entitled to enforce by legal proceedings any evidence of indebtedness against any citizen or citizens in this state or any mortgage against any property in this state until such requirement has been so complied with. Any such foreign corporation, association or society shall also file with the auditor a written instrument properly executed, agreeing that a summons may issue against it from any county in the state, and when served upon the auditor of state shall be service upon such foreign corporation, association or society. The auditor shall, however, mail a copy of any papers served upon him, postage prepaid, to the home office of such foreign corporation, association or society.

SEC. 4. Upon compliance with the preceding sections of this act by any such foreign corporation, association or society, and the auditor of state is satisfied that it is doing a lawful and safe business, he may issue to said foreign corporation, association or society a license authorizing it to conduct its business in this state and to solicit subscriptions from the residents of this state to its capital stock. The auditor of state shall have the power, at any time, to revoke said license when said foreign corporation, association or society fails or refuses to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or when any such foreign corporation, association or society shall refuse to permit to be made the examination of the affairs of such foreign corporation, association or society hereinafter provided for, or when, upon examination, the auditor of state shall find that such foreign corporation, association or society is not conducting its business in accordance with the law, or that the affairs of such foreign corporation, association or society are in an unsound condition: Provided, that, upon the revocation of said license, said auditor shall cause a notice thereof to be mailed to the home office of such foreign corporation, association or society, and to be published in at least one newspaper published in the city of Indianapolis: And provided further, that after the publication of such notice it shall be unlawful for any agent of such foreign corporation, association or society to receive further stock deposits from members residing in this state, except payments on stock on which a loan has been made.

SEC. 5. The deposit made with the auditor shall be held as security for all claims of residents of this state against said foreign corporation, association or society, and shall be liable for all judgments or decrees thereon. Such foreign corporation, association or society may collect and use the interest on any security so deposited, as required by section three (3) of this act, so long as it fulfils its obligations and complies with the provisions of this act. It may also exchange them for other securities of equal value and satisfactory to the auditor. All securities of cash deposited with the auditor shall be immediately deposited by him with the treasurer of state, who, with his sureties, shall be responsible for the safe keeping thereof. The treasurer shall deliver such securities only upon written order of the auditor.

SEC. 6. Every agent or person engaged, directly or indirectly, in soliciting subscriptions to the capital stock of any such foreign corporation, association or society shall first procure from the auditor of state a certificate showing the appointment of such person as such agent of said foreign corporation, association or society, to which certificate the auditor of state shall attach a certified copy of the statement of condition of such foreign corporation, association or society. It shall be unlawful for such auditor to issue such certificate except upon the filing in his office of a written appointment under the hand of the president and secretary of said foreign corporation, association or society, attested by its corporate seal. Such certificate shall be renewed annually in the month of July of each year.

SEC. 7. The auditor of state shall examine, or cause to be examined, under the provisions of this act, whenever in his judgment it may be necessary for the interests of the shareholders or stockholders of said foreign corporation, association or society residing in this state, every detail of the business of any said foreign corporation, association or society transacting business in this state. Said examination shall be made at the expense of the foreign corporation, association or society examined, and consent to make such examination shall be filed before any certificate authorizing such foreign corporation, association or society shall be granted by said auditor of state.

SEC. 8. Every such foreign corporation, association or society authorized to transact business in this state shall on the first day of July in each year file a report under the oath of its president or secretary, and which shall be certified to by at least three directors, showing the gross amount of assessments, dues, fines, membership fees and all moneys collected by said foreign corporation, association or society from shareholders or stockholders residing in this state during the previous year. Such statement shall also show the amount of money loaned by said foreign corporation, association or society to any of its shareholders or stockholders residing in this state during the previous year. And such foreign corporation, association or society shall pay to the auditor of state, to be by him paid into the treasury of the state, the sum of three dollars ($3) on every one hundred dollars ($100) received by such foreign corporation, association or society from the shareholders or stockholders residing in this state, less the amount actually loaned to the shareholders or stockholders of such foreign corporation, association or society residing in the state.

SEC. 9. Every such foreign corporation, association or society shall, in addition to the report required by section eight (8) of this act, on the first day of July of each year file with the auditor of state a detailed statement showing separately the amount of membership fees, dues, interest, premium, fines, forfeitures, assessments, expense fund, receipts and all other moneys received by it, together with a full showing of amounts paid on loans, withdrawals, losses, salaries, and all other expenses, dividends, interest or any other expenditures; and it shall further show the amount of the assets of said foreign corporation, association or society, the character of such assets, the fair cash value thereof, together with the nature and fair cash value of all securities of such foreign corporation, association or society; and it shall also show the liabilities of such foreign corporation, association or society, and the character of such liabilities; the par value and the amount of dues or assessments chargeable on each share of stock issued by such foreign corporation, association or society; the proportion of such dues or assessments credited to the loan fund, expense fund or other fund; when such assessments or dues are payable; the amount of premium and interest charged on loans made by such foreign corporation, association or society; the rate and amount of interest paid on debenture, paid-up or other stock issued by such foreign corporation, association or society, and such other information concerning the business of such foreign corporation, association or society as may from time to time be required by the auditor of state.

SEC. 10. The auditor of state shall charge and collect from such foreign corporation, association or society, for filing the statements and other papers and issuing the certificates required to be filed and issued by this act the same fees as are charged and collected from insurance companies doing business in this state, and are chartered and incorporated under the laws of the state in which such foreign corporation, association or society is incorporated.

SEC. 11. The auditor of state shall cause to be printed once in the two papers having the largest general circulation published in the city of Indianapolis the annual statements of such foreign corporation, association or society required to be filed in his office by section nine (9) of this act. The cost of such publication shall be paid by such foreign corporation, association or society.

SEC. 12. Any person or persons who, either directly or indirectly, shall solicit subscriptions to the capital stock of any such foreign corporation, association or society, or act as agent for any such foreign corporation, association or society, without first procuring the certificate required in section six (6) of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty (30) days.

SEC. 13. Immediately upon taking effect of this act every corporation, association or society organized under the laws of the state of Indiana, and conducting the business of a building, loan fund, savings or investment association, shall file with the auditor of state a statement of the condition at the close of its last fiscal year, which statement shall contain the same matter required in the statement provided for by section one (1) of this act; and thereafter such corporation, association or society shall in the month of July of each year file in the office of the auditor of state a statement of its condition at the close of business on the 30th of June preceding. Such statement shall be under the oath of the president and secretary and at least three directors of such corporation, association or society, and such statement shall contain the information prescribed in section nine (9) of this act, and such other matter as may be prescribed by the auditor of state. And every such corporation, association or society shall file in the office of the auditor of state copies of its bylaws and rules, and copies of each of the several kinds of certificates, the certificates issued to its shareholders or stockholders. For filing each of such statements and the services pertaining to the examination thereof the auditor of state shall charge and collect from each of said corporations, associations or societies a fee of five dollars ($5). And out of the fees so derived he shall pay all additional clerk hire which may be necessitated by the passage of this act, and, except for such clerk hire, the disposition of fees paid into the office of the auditor of state under this act shall be governed by the provisions of section 18 of the fee and salary act of March 9, 1891.

SEC. 14. If it appears from any such statement that any such corporation, association or society, organized under the laws of this state, is doing an illegal or unsafe business, the auditor of state may make or cause to be made under the provisions of this act, an examination into the affairs of such corporation, association or society; or when upon petition of any shareholder or shareholders, setting forth that such petitioner or petitioners believe said corporation, association or society to be conducting its business contrary to law, or that its affairs are in an unsound condition, or that they believe any of its statements are not correct, then said auditor of state shall make, or cause to be made, an examination into the affairs of such corporation, association or society: Provided, that any such shareholder or shareholders, before such auditor shall make such examination, shall file with such auditor a bond to his approval, conditioned if such examination shall disclose that such corporation, association or society so examined is doing a lawful business, then such shareholder or shareholders will pay all costs of such examination as are hereafter provided for in this section. Such examination shall be full and complete, and in making the same the examiner may put any officer of any such corporation, association or society, or any other person, under oath to answer truthfully any questions that may be asked them; and all the books, papers and records of such corporation, association or society, and all securities held by it, shall be subject to his inspection. Said auditor, or the deputy inspector, shall be entitled to five dollars ($5) per day for each day occupied in making such examination, and necessary expenses, to be paid by such corporation, association or society, which sum or sums so paid shall be used by him in paying the salary of the deputy building association inspector, as provided for in section 20 of this act, and before such deputy inspector shall receive any pay for such examination he shall file with the auditor of state an itemized statement of his expenses, which statement shall be sworn to by such deputy inspector.

SEC. 15. Should the auditor of state, or the inspector appointed by him, find any such corporation, association or society conducting its business, in whole or in part, contrary to law, or failing to comply with the law, he shall so notify the board of directors of such corporation, association or society in writing, and if, after thirty days, such illegal practice or failure continue, he shall report the facts to the attorney general, who shall cause proceedings to be begun in the proper court to revoke the charter of such corporation, association or society.

SEC. 16. Should the auditor of state, or the inspector appointed by him, find, upon examination, that the affairs of any such corporation, association or society are in an unsound condition, and that the interests of the public demand the dissolution of such corporation, association or society and the winding up of its business, he shall so report to the attorney general, who shall institute the proper proceedings for that purpose.

SEC. 17. The president and secretary of any such corporation, association or society failing to make and file the reports required by this act within thirty days after the same are due shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100). Upon failure to file such report it shall be the duty of the auditor of state to notify the president and secretary of such corporation, association or society of such failure, and if such report is not filed within thirty days from the date of such notice, then it shall be the duty of the auditor to examine such corporation, association or society, as provided in section fourteen (14) of this act.

SEC. 18. The refusal of any such corporation, association or society to permit the examination of its affairs authorized by this act shall be sufficient cause for institution of proceedings to wind up its affairs, as provided in section sixteen (16) of this act.

SEC. 19. The auditor of state shall annually compile the reports of such corporations, associations or societies required to be filed in his office, and publish the same in his annual report to the governor and general assembly.

SEC. 20. To enable the auditor of state to fully carry into effect the provisions of this act, there is hereby created in the office of the auditor of state a building and loan association department, and the auditor of state shall be ex officio building association inspector, and charged with the execution of the laws of this state relating to building, loan fund, savings or investment associations. He is hereby authorized to employ an additional clerk in his office, to be known as the deputy building association inspector.

IOWA.

McCLAIN'S ANNOTATED STATUTES OF 1880, EDITION OF 1884.

SECTION 1 (of chapter 163, sixteenth general assembly). The shares of stock of mutual loan and building associations shall be assessed at their cash value, but only the unredeemed shares of such stock shall be taxed and such unredeemed shares shall be listed to the individual owners thereof.

TITLE IX, CHAPTER 6.

SECTION 1184. Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves and become incorporated as provided in chapter one of this title, for the purpose of raising moneys to be loaned to the members of the corporation, and to other persons, and for use in buying lots or houses, or in building or repairing houses or other purposes.

SEC. 1185. Such corporation shall be authorized and empowered to levy, assess, and collect from its members such sums of money, by rates of stated dues, fines, interest on loans advanced, and premiums bid by members for the right of precedence in taking loans, as the corporation by its bylaws shall adopt; also to acquire, hold, encumber, and convey all such real estate and personal property as may be legitimately pledged to it on such loans, or may otherwise be transferred to it in due course of its business; and the dues, fines, and premiums so paid by members, in addition to the legal rate of interest on loans taken by them, shall not be construed to make the loans so taken usurious; but no person shall hold more than twenty shares in any such association.

SEC. 1186. When mutual loan societies, or other associations heretofore organized under the laws of this state, with objects similar to those contemplated in the preceding sections, and permitting not more than twenty shares of their stock to be owned by any one member, have loaned, or shall hereafter loan, their capital or funds, or any part thereof, to their members, and have taken, or shall take, notes or obligations therefor, secured by mortgages, or otherwise, in accordance with the terms of their articles of incorporation and bylaws, such notes, obligations, and securities shall not be construed or held to be usurious by reason of any dues, fines, or premiums for the right of preference in taking such loans paid in addition to the legal rate of interest, but the same shall be valid and binding in all respects, the payment of such dues, fines, or premiums in addition to a rate of interest not exceeding ten per centum per annum, payable annually, or at any less period, notwithstanding.

SEC. 1187. So much of the earnings of such corporations as may be necessary, not exceeding ten per cent per annum, may be set apart to defray the current expenses of said association, and for the purchase of such real estate as may be necessary for the convenient transaction of its business, and the residue of said earnings shall be transferred to the credit of the shareholders, and when said shares are fully paid, then to be paid ratably to the shareholders.

KANSAS.

GENERAL STATUTES OF 1889.

PARAGRAPH 1155. Private corporations may be created by the voluntary association of five or more persons for the purposes and in the manner mentioned in the following sections of this article and amendments thereto. Every member or stockholder in said corporation shall vote in person or by proxy.

PAR. 1156. The purposes for which private corporations may be formed are: " * * * The accumulation and loan of funds, the erection of buildings, and the purchase and sale of real estate for the benefit of its members. " * * *

PAR. 1424. Premiums bid for priority of loan in building and saving or trust associations organized under the corporation laws of this state, by the members of such associations, shall not be deemed as usury, or subject to the provisions of sections three (3) and four (4) of an act regulating the interest of money, chapter 51 of General Statutes of 1868, and all such premiums incorporated in the notes given by the members of the associations, and all the fines assessed against its members in accordance with the bylaws of such associations, may be collected by civil action before any court having jurisdiction.

PAR. 1425. All corporations heretofore incorporated under the laws of the state of Kansas, for the purpose of accumulating and loaning funds to members, or that have been so accumulating and loaning funds to members, are hereby recognized and confirmed as legal and valid corporations from the date of their incorporation or the time they commence to accumulate and loan to members; and all contracts made between them and their members, all loans made at whatsoever premium, discount or interest, and all securities taken for such loans, are hereby declared legal, valid and binding on all parties concerned or affected thereby, or having notice thereof.

PAR. 1426. All associations organized under the general corporation laws of this state for the purpose of accumulation and loan of funds, the erection of buildings, and the purchase and sale of real estate for the mutual benefit of their members, shall be permitted to conduct such business with its members exclusively, and may receive money in payment for its shares of stock in such manner and upon such terms as are prescribed by its bylaws; may receive money on loan or on deposit, and may lend money to its members on the security of United States bonds or bonds of the state of Kansas, the stock of such association, or real estate, which loans shall be repaid in such stated periodical instalments as are prescribed in the bylaws, and all contracts between such associations and their members shall be deemed valid and binding in law: Provided, that the sum of all the repayments agreed to be made by the borrower, for the whole time for which he receives his loan, shall not exceed the actual amount of money borrowed, with interest thereon at twelve per cent per annum for the whole time for which it was so borrowed.

PAR. 1427. Whenever, by reason of default in payment of loans or dues by members of such association, it becomes necessary, according to the bylaws, to bring suit or [on] any mortgage for the purpose of collecting such loans or dues, no greater sum shall be recovered than that actually due at the time of judgment, and the amount so due may be ascertained by adding to the sum of arrears the present value of all future instalments discounted at the rates per cent, and according to the times and periods of payments established by the bylaws, not inconsistent with section one of this act. And whenever, by the constitution or bylaws of any such association, loans shall be made, or have heretofore been made, to its members by the share, for premiums, the amount for which judgment shall be rendered shall not be greater than the actual amount of money loaned, with interest to time of judgment at twelve per cent per annum, and all unpaid fines lawfully assessed against the borrower for non-payment under such bylaws, not exceeding two per cent per month, less the amount paid in on such shares, with like interest from the time of said payment or payments.

PAR. 1428. Every such corporation, before commencing business under its charter, shall file a copy of its bylaws with the secretary of state, and shall likewise so file copies of all subsequent changes of such bylaws; and all such associations now doing business shall immediately file copies of their bylaws with the secretary of state, and shall also so file all subsequent changes thereof. A majority of the stockholders present at any organized meeting may adopt, alter or change the constitution or bylaws, or transact any other business.

PAR. 1429. Any building and loan association organized under the corporation laws of this state for the purpose of the accumulation and loan of funds, the erection of buildings, and the purchase and sale of real estate for the mutual benefit of its members, is hereby authorized and empowered to reorganize as a savings bank, and to do business as such.

PAR. 1430. Before any such association can reorganize under the provisions of this act, there shall be presented to the board of directors of such association a petition signed by two-thirds of the members thereof, praying for such reorganization. Whereupon it shall be the duty of such board of directors, within thirty days from the time of presenting the petition, to file with the secretary of state an additional charter, setting forth that they have reorganized under this act, which shall be acknowledged and certified as provided by law for obtaining charters.

PAR. 1431. All fully paid-up permanent shares in such building and loan association shall be exchanged for paid-up stock to the same amount in such savings bank or reorganized corporation, and all accumulating shares shall be exchanged for investment certificates, to be issued by said bank, bearing the same payments and penalties, the same rate of interest, the same ratio of participation in profits, and payment on withdrawal or at maturity, as attached to the same by the constitution and bylaws of such association before its reorganization.

PAR. 1432. All contracts heretofore made with any such building, loan or savings association, may be enforced by action in the name of such new or reorganized corporation, and all liens, causes of action, are hereby saved and preserved to such corporation as fully as if this act had not been passed.

KENTUCKY.

ACTS OF 1891-'92-'93.

SECTION 248. Any number of persons, not less than nine, may associate for the purpose of forming a corporation to accumulate the savings of its members, paid into such corporation in fixed periodical instalments, and lending to its members the funds so accumulated.

SEC. 249. Such corporation may be organized in the manner provided in section two, article one [general provisions concerning corporations], of this chapter, except that the limit of the capital, in place of the amount of capital, shall be given, and when a copy thereof is filed in the office of the secretary of state, and filed and recorded in the county clerk's office of the county where its principal place of business is located, the incorporators shall thereupon become a body politic, and be invested, subject to the provisions of this article, with all the powers and privileges, liabilities and restrictions, granted to or imposed upon corporations generally under the first article of this chapter.

SEC. 250. The name assumed by such corporation shall not be so nearly alike that of any other similar corporation as to deceive the public, and the words "building association" shall form a part of the name.

SEC. 251. The par value of the shares shall not exceed five million dollars, and shall be divided into shares of the ultimate value fixed by the bylaws. The shares may be issued in monthly, half-yearly or yearly series, in such amounts and at such times as the members may determine. No person shall hold, in an association having an authorized capital stock of one hundred thousand dollars or less, exceeding an amount equal to two and a half ($2\frac{1}{2}$) per cent of the whole number of shares; in those having an authorized capital exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, two (2) per cent; in those having an authorized capital of five hundred thousand dollars, and not exceeding one million dollars, one and a half per cent, and in those having an authorized capital of one million dollars, or in excess thereof, one (1) per cent of the whole number of shares therein; and no shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of a new series; and an association may issue full paid stock to its members, or issue to its members stock restricted to a less rate of profit than that of its regular stock; but certificates of such stock shall state on their face this restricted rate of profit, and no association shall create a debt exceeding twenty (20) per cent of its paid-up capital.

SEC. 252. The number, title, duties and compensation of the officers of the corporation, their term of office, the times of their election, as well as the qualifications of the electors, and the time of each periodical meeting of the officers and members, shall be determined by the bylaws; all officers shall continue in office until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

SEC. 253. The officers shall hold stated meetings as prescribed in the bylaws. At such times as may be prescribed by the bylaws every member shall pay to the corporation, as a contribution to its capital, such sum as dues upon each share of installment stock held by him as the bylaws may prescribe, until the share reaches the ultimate value fixed by the bylaws, or is withdrawn, cancelled or forfeited. Payment of dues on each series shall commence from its issue.

SEC. 254. A member may withdraw his unpledged shares at any time by giving thirty days' notice of his desire to do so in a book to be provided by the corporation for the purpose, and shall thereupon receive the withdrawing value of his shares at the date of the notice, and this withdrawing value shall be the amount of the dues paid thereon, together with such proportion of the profits as the bylaws may determine, less all fines, expenses and proportionate part of any unadjusted loss; but at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable, without the consent of the directors, to the demands of the withdrawing members. The directors may, in their discretion and pursuant to the bylaws, retire the unpledged shares of any series, and enforce their withdrawal at any time after three years from the date of their issue. The shareholders whose shares are to be so retired shall be determined by lot, under such regulations as the directors may prescribe. The withdrawing value of such shares shall be the amount of dues paid thereon, together with the profits apportioned to such shares, according to the next preceding adjustment and valuation of shares, less all fines, expenses and proportionate part of any unadjusted loss.

SEC. 255. Whenever there shall remain in any series, at the expiration of five years after the date of its issue, an excess above one hundred unpledged shares, the directors may retire annually twenty-five per centum of such excess existing at said expiration of five years after the date of its issue; but when the withdrawal of shares is to be enforced, the shares to be retired shall be determined by lot, and the holders thereof shall be paid the full value of their shares, less fines and a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss; and shares pledged for share loans shall be treated as unpledged shares. But this section shall not apply to associations maturing their shares in less than six years.

SEC. 256. When each unpledged share in a given series reaches the value fixed by the bylaws, all payment of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the corporation the value fixed by the bylaws, with interest at the rate of six per cent a year from the time of such maturity to the time of payment; but at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the payment of such matured shares without the consent of the directors; and when any series of shares, either pledged or unpledged, reaches maturity between the dates of adjustment of profits, or whenever shares are retired between such dates, the holders of such shares shall, in addition to the value thereof, be entitled to interest at the same rate for all full months from the date of the preceding adjustment.

SEC. 257. The moneys accumulated, after due allowance made for all necessary and proper expenses, and for the withdrawal of shares, shall, at each monthly or weekly meeting, be offered to the members according to their priority of right to a loan as fixed by the bylaws. Each member whose bid is accepted shall be entitled, upon giving proper security and complying with the bylaws, to receive a loan equal to the par value of each share held by him, or such fractional part thereof as the bylaws allow. If a balance of money remains after the monthly loans, the directors may invest the same in good and safe bonds or real estate securities.

SEC. 258. A borrowing member for each share borrowed upon shall, in addition to his dues and monthly or weekly premium, pay monthly or weekly interest on his loan at the rate of six per cent per annum, and the interest and premium shall not exceed twelve (12) per cent per annum, until his shares reach the value fixed by the bylaws, or the loan has been repaid; and when said ultimate value is reached said loan and shares shall be declared cancelled and satisfied, and the balance, if any, due upon the shares shall be paid to the member.

SEC. 259. For every loan made a note secured by first mortgage on real estate shall be given, accompanied by a transfer and pledge of the shares of the borrower. The shares so pledged shall be held by the corporation as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of said note and mortgage. The note and mortgage shall recite the number of shares pledged and the amount of money advanced thereon, and shall be conditioned for the payment at the stated meetings of the corporation, or on some day of each month or week, of the monthly or weekly dues on said shares, and the interest and premium upon the loan, together with all fines upon payments in arrears, until said shares shall reach the value fixed by the bylaws, or said loan is otherwise cancelled and discharged. The shares without other security may, in the discretion of the directors, be pledged as security for loans to an amount not exceeding eighty per centum of their value as adjusted at the last adjustment and valuation of shares before the time of the loan. If the borrower neglects to offer security satisfactory to the directors within the time prescribed by the bylaws, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he may be charged with one month's interest and one month's premium at the rate bid by him, together with all expenses, if any, incurred; and the money appropriated for such loan may be relented at the next or any subsequent meeting.

SEC. 260. A borrower may repay a loan at any time upon application to the corporation, in even shares, whereupon, on settlement of his account, he shall be charged with the full amount of the original loan, together with all instalments of interest, dues, premiums and fines in arrears, and shall be given credit for the withdrawing value of his shares pledged and transferred as security, and the balance shall be received by the corporation in full satisfaction of said loan. All settlements made at periods intervening between stated meetings of the directors shall be made as of the date of the stated meeting next succeeding such settlement; and a borrower, desiring to retain his shares and membership, may, at his option, repay his loan without claiming credit for said shares, whereupon said shares shall be transferred to him, and shall be free from any claim by reason of said cancelled loan.

SEC. 261. Members who make default in the payment of their monthly or weekly dues, interest or premium, shall be charged a fine not exceeding twenty-five cents per share a month on each share in arrears. No fine shall be charged after the expiration of six months from the first lapse in any such payment, nor upon fines in arrears. The shares of a member who continues in arrears more than six months shall, at the option of the directors, if the member fails to pay the arrears within thirty days after notice, be declared forfeited, and the withdrawing value of the shares at the time of the first default shall be ascertained, and, after deducting all fines and other legal charges, the balance remaining shall be placed to an account to be designated the "forfeited share account" to the credit of the defaulting member; said member, if not a borrower, shall be entitled, upon thirty days' notice, to receive the balance so transferred, without interest, from the time of the transfer, in his order of the turn, out of the funds appropriated to the payment of withdrawals. All shares so forfeited or transferred shall cease to participate in any profits of the corporation accruing after the last adjustment and valuation of shares before said default.

SEC. 262. If a borrowing member has been in default for six months, the amount to be credited to his shares under the preceding section shall be applied as a payment upon the loan, and the balance, with interest and premium thereon, from the time of first default, shall be enforced against the security. The shares, the value of which has been so applied in payment, shall revert to the corporation, and be held by it free from all interest, claim, or demand on the part of the borrower or any person claiming under him.

SEC. 263. The profits and losses may be distributed annually, semi-annually, or quarterly to the shares then existing, but shall be distributed at least once in each year. The profits and losses shall be distributed to such shares in proportion to their value at that time, and shall be computed upon a basis of a single share fully paid to the date of distribution. Losses shall be apportioned immediately after their occurrence.

SEC. 264. Any such corporation may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, lien or judgment or in which it may have an interest, and may dispose of the same at pleasure, but within five years after it has acquired title thereto.

SEC. 256 [265]. It shall be lawful for any minor above the age of fourteen, or a married woman, to take and hold shares in such corporation, and for such corporation to pay to any minor any money that may be due him in respect to any share, and his receipt therefor shall be valid; but no minor shall be eligible to hold any office in such corporation.

SEC. 266. It shall be the duty of every corporation formed under this law to print and publish in pamphlet form the whole of this law and its articles of incorporation and bylaws, and any amendments thereto or alterations thereof, and to sell the same to those who may wish them; and it shall also keep in a book, subject to inspection, in its office, during business hours, a copy of this law, its articles of incorporation, bylaws and any amendments thereto or alterations thereof.

SEC. 267. All corporations formed under this or any other law, and transacting in this state a business similar to that authorized to be done by this law, shall be under the supervision of the secretary of state. The president, manager or secretary thereof shall, on or before the first day of February in each year, return to said secretary of state a report, signed and sworn to by the president or manager and secretary, and attested by at least two directors, showing the amount of paid-up capital, and amount of all cash receipts and disbursements for the year ending the thirty-first day of December next previous thereto, and such other facts as the secretary of state may require; and each corporation, officer, agent or manager, failing or refusing to make said report or to furnish any information called for by the secretary of state, under oath and attestation of its officers as required, shall be severally guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for each offence. And every foreign corporation shall, before, it transacts or solicits any business in this state, obtain from the secretary of state a certificate authorizing it to carry on and solicit business in this state, which certificate the secretary of state shall grant, upon satisfactory information furnished to him under oath that the corporation is solvent and properly managed; and if any corporation, by its agents or officers, solicit or transact any business in this state without first obtaining such certificate, such corporation, and each agent thereof who solicits or transacts for it any business in this state, shall be liable to the penalty provided in this section.

SEC. 268. Whenever the secretary of state shall have reason to believe that any corporation organized under the laws of this state is violating the provisions of this law or the law under which it was created, or is being operated in a manner prejudicial to the interest of the creditors or members of such corporation, he shall lay such information before the attorney general, and such action and proceedings may be taken as are authorized to be taken in cases of insurance companies that are insolvent or are violating the law.

SEC. 269. Whenever any foreign corporation shall refuse or fail to pay the taxes assessed against it, or to pay the fees exacted, or to make the required report, or when, in the judgment of the secretary of state and the attorney general, its business in this state is conducted in violation of law, or it is insolvent, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to cause notice of such fact to be published in some newspaper of general circulation in this state, and such company shall cease to do business in this state; and if, thereafter, any agent or servant of such company shall transact or solicit any business for such company in this state, he shall for each offence be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 270. Each agent or solicitor, or person who acts as such agent or solicitor, for any foreign corporation or association doing business in this state similar to that authorized by this law, shall, before transacting any business as such agent or solicitor, obtain from the secretary of state license to act as such agent or solicitor, which license shall be in force for one year from its issuance, and shall be renewed annually; and the secretary of state may, with the advice of the attorney general, decline to issue or renew any license, if he has reason to believe that the corporation or association for which such person is agent or solicitor is insolvent or is conducting its business in violation of law; and any person who shall act as agent or solicitor for any corporation without having obtained license so to do shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 271. For each license issued to an agent, and for each certificate to do business in this state, there shall be paid to the secretary of state twenty-five (25) dollars. For each annual report there shall be paid to the secretary of state, by the corporation or association making the same, ten (10) dollars.

SEC. 272. All fees collected by the secretary of state under this article shall be covered by him as soon as collected into the state treasury, and so much thereof as may be necessary to defray the expenses incurred in the discharge of the duties imposed upon the secretary of state, by virtue of any of the provisions of this act, shall be paid upon the warrant of the auditor to the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall report to each session of the general assembly a statement of the amount received from licenses, fees or penalties under this act, and the amount expended by him, and he shall be allowed for his services under this act the sum of one thousand dollars, to be paid to him in monthly instalments upon the warrant of the auditor.

SEC. 273. All general laws relating to the matters treated of in this chapter shall stand repealed when this act takes effect; and it appearing that necessary amendments to many existing charters can not now be obtained, and that many necessary corporations can not, until this act takes effect, be organized, and that the interest of corporations and persons doing business with them require it, it is enacted that this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

LOUISIANA.

Act No. 115.

SECTION 1. The capital stock of all building or homestead associations, societies or companies, such as are now organized and carried on in this state, both those which have been already incorporated and those which may hereafter be incorporated under the laws of this state, providing for the organization of corporations for works of public improvement, etc., may be divided into shares and may be payable in instalments as may be provided in the respective charters of such associations; Provided that no such association shall carry on business in this state until, at least, the sum of twenty thousand dollars shall have been subscribed to its capital stock, and that the instalments upon such stock shall amount to, at least, twenty-five cents a share a month; And provided further, that every such association now carrying on business with a capital stock of less than twenty thousand dollars shall be permitted to increase its capital stock to said amount, as provided by existing laws.

SEC. 2. The secretary and treasurer of every such association or the officers acting as such, shall each file in the office of the recorder of mortgages, in the parish where said association is domiciled, a bond with good and solvent surety or sureties for a sum to be fixed by resolution, of the board of directors, provided it be not less than one thousand dollars, such bonds to secure the faithful discharge of the duties of such secretary and of such treasurer; that the surety or sureties upon such bonds shall not be deemed sufficient, unless they shall be accepted and approved by the board of directors of such associations and by the judge, or one of the judges, of the district court of the parish in which such association may be domiciled, and that said bonds shall be made in favor of the association to which said officers belong, and shall enure to the benefit as well of such association as of any shareholder thereof, or person interested therein, who may be damaged or injured, or may suffer any loss by reason of such officers failing to perform the duties incumbent upon them, or performing such duties improperly.

SEC. 3. There shall be held annually a general meeting of the shareholders of every such association, and, at said meeting, the board of directors, through the secretary or other officer whom they may designate, shall make to the shareholders a full and complete statement, detailing and setting forth all the assets and liabilities of such association, and all its transactions during the previous year.

SEC. 4. It shall be lawful for such associations to purchase from any shareholder, or other person, any real estate, improved or unimproved, and to sell the same, either in the same condition or after improving, repairing or building upon the same, to any shareholder or other person; Provided, that such associations may make sales of property, real and personal, either for cash or on terms of credit; that such associations shall have power to improve, repair and build upon real estate, and to make all contracts and do all acts and things necessary and proper in connection therewith; that in case any such association shall purchase property from any person, and shall afterwards sell the same property to the same person, then such association shall have the vendor's lien and privilege upon the property so sold, for the security of the payment of the money due by such person; that such associations are authorized and empowered to contract and agree with any person to purchase from such person any property, and afterwards to sell the same property to the same person, even though said agreement be made at one and the same time; and such contract and arrangements shall not be considered or dealt with as a loan, but as a sale to the association, and then a resale by the association, to the person from whom the association acquired it; and such association to secure a payment of the amount due by such person, shall have all the rights, privileges and securities which are now accorded by law to the vendor of property.

SEC. 5. It shall be lawful and competent for any shareholder of such associations, when making a contract with such association, to pledge the installments upon his stock in such association already paid in at the time of making such contract, and those to be paid in after the date of such contract, as security for any debt due by him to said association, and a declaration of such pledge in an authentic act shall create and constitute a full, valid and complete pledge; and the fact of such pledge shall be stamped on the face of the certificate of the stock so pledged.

ACT No. 151.

SECTION 1. The terms "public utility and advantage," in the Revised Statutes, section (683) six hundred and eighty-three [providing for the formation of corporations of public utility and advantage], and in all laws amendatory thereof, be held to include in their meaning the objects and purposes of homestead, or building associations, societies and companies as now established in this state.

MAINE.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1883.

CHAPTER 47.

SECTION 132. Loan and building associations may be organized in the manner provided herein, for the organization of savings banks, and trust and loan associations; and upon the filing of any certificate of authorization of a loan and building association with the secretary of state, as so provided, the persons therein named, their associates, successors and assigns, shall, thereupon and thereby, be constituted a body corporate and politic, and such body may make and use a common seal, hold, manage and convey real and personal property, sue and be sued, prosecute and defend suits in law or in equity, have perpetual succession each by its corporate name, and make and ordain bylaws for its government, not repugnant to the constitution and laws.

SEC. 133. The certificate of authorization issued by the bank examiner, shall provide the method of calling the first meeting of the association. Each association shall pay said examiner five dollars for his services in advance.

SEC. 134, (as amended by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The capital to be accumulated shall not exceed one million dollars, and shall be divided into shares of the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each. The shares may be issued in quarterly, half-yearly or yearly series, in such amounts and at such times as the members may determine. No person shall hold more than twenty-five shares in the capital of any one such association. No shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of a new series.

SEC. 135, (as amended by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The number, title, duties and compensation of the officers of the association, their terms of office, the time of their election, as well as the qualifications of electors, and time of each periodical meeting of the officers and members shall be determined by the bylaws, but no member shall be entitled to more than one vote. All officers shall continue in office until their successors are duly elected, and no association shall expire from neglect on its part to elect officers at the time prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 136, (as amended by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The officers shall hold stated monthly meetings. At or before each of these meetings, every member shall pay to the association, as a contribution to its capital, one dollar, as dues upon each share held by him, until the share reaches the ultimate value of two hundred dollars, or is withdrawn, cancelled or forfeited. Payment of dues on each series shall commence from its issue.

SEC. 137, (as amended by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Shares may be withdrawn after one month's notice of such intention, written in a book held and provided by the association for the purpose. Upon such withdrawal, the shareholder's account shall be settled as follows; from the amount then standing to the credit of the shares to be withdrawn, there shall be deducted all fines, a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss, together with such proportion of the profits previously credited to the shares as the bylaws may provide, and such shareholder shall be paid the balance; Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the demands of withdrawing members, without the consent of the directors. The directors may, at their discretion, under rules made by them, retire the unpledged shares of any series at any time after four years from the date of their issue, by enforcing the withdrawal of the same; Provided, that the shareholders whose shares are to be retired shall be determined by lot, and that they shall be paid the full value of their shares, less all fines and a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss.

SEC. 138, (as amended by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). When each unpledged share of a given series reaches the value of two hundred dollars, all payments of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the association, two hundred dollars therefor, with interest at the rate of six per cent a year, from the time of such maturity to the time of payment; Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the payment of such matured shares, without the consent of the directors, and that before paying matured shares, all arrears and fines shall be deducted. Every share shall be subject to a lien for the payment of any unpaid dues, fines, interest, premiums and other charges received thereon, which may be enforced in the manner hereinafter provided.

SEC. 139, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The moneys accumulated, after due allowance made for all necessary and proper expenses and for the withdrawal of shares, shall, at each stated monthly meeting, be offered to the members according to the premiums bid by them for priority of right to a loan. Each member whose bid is accepted, shall be entitled, upon giving proper security, to receive a loan of two hundred dollars for each share held by him, or such fractional part of two hundred dollars as the bylaws may allow. If a balance of money remains unsold after a monthly sale, the directors may invest the same in any of the securities named in section one hundred of chapter forty-seven, Revised Statutes, providing for investments of deposits of savings banks. Any association organized as aforesaid, may provide in its bylaws that the bid for loans, at its stated monthly meetings shall, instead of a premium, be a rate of annual interest upon the sum desired payable in monthly instalments. Such bids shall include the whole interest to be paid, and may be at any rate not less than five per cent per annum.

SEC. 140, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Premiums for loans shall consist of a percentage charged on the amount lent in addition to interest, and shall be deemed to be a consideration paid by the borrower for the present use and possession of the future or ultimate value of his shares, and shall, together with interest and fines, be received by the association as a profit on the capital invested in the loan, and shall be distributed to the various shares and series of said capital as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 141, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). A borrowing member, for each share borrowed upon, shall, in addition to his dues and monthly premium, pay monthly interest on his loan at the rate of six per cent per annum until his shares reach the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each, or the loan has been repaid; and when said ultimate value is reached, said shares and loan shall be declared cancelled and satisfied, and the balance, if any, due upon the shares shall be paid to the member.

SEC. 142, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). For every loan made, a note secured by first mortgage of real estate shall be given, accompanied by a transfer and pledge of the shares of the borrower. The share so pledged shall be held by the association as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of the note and mortgage. Said note and mortgage shall recite the number of shares pledged, and the amount of money advanced thereon, and shall be conditioned for the payment, at the stated meetings of the corporation, of the monthly dues on said shares, and the interest and premium upon the loan, together with all fines on payments in arrears, until said shares reach the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each, or said loan is otherwise cancelled or discharged; Provided, that the shares, without other security, may, in the discretion of the directors, be pledged as security for loans, to an amount not exceeding their value as adjusted at the last adjustment and valuation of shares before the time of the loan. If the borrower neglects to offer security, satisfactory to the directors, within the time prescribed by the bylaws, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he shall be charged with one month's interest and one month's premium at the rate bid by him, together with all expenses, if any, incurred, and the money appropriated for such loan may be reloaned at the next or any subsequent meeting.

SEC. 143, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). A borrower may repay a loan at any time, upon application to the association, whereupon, on settlement of his account, he shall be charged with the full amount of the original loan, together with all monthly instalments of interest, premium, and fines in arrears, and shall be given credit for the withdrawing value of his shares pledged and transferred as security, and the balance shall be received by the association in full satisfaction and discharge of said loan; Provided, that all settlements made at periods intervening between stated meetings of the directors, shall be made as of the date of the stated meeting next succeeding such settlement; And provided, that a borrower desiring to retain his shares and membership may, at his option, repay his loan without claiming credit for his shares, whereupon said shares shall be retransferred to him and shall be free from any claim by reason of said cancelled loan.

SEC. 144, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Members who make default in the payment of their monthly dues, interest and premiums, shall be charged a fine not exceeding two per cent a month on each dollar in arrears. No fines shall be charged after the expiration of six months from the first lapse in any such payment, nor upon a fine in arrears. The shares of a member who continues in arrears more than six months shall, at the option of the directors, if the member fails to pay the arrears within thirty days after notice, be declared forfeited, and the withdrawing value of the shares at the time of the first default shall be ascertained, and after deducting all fines and other legal charges, the balance remaining shall be transferred to an account to be designated the forfeited share account, to the credit of the defaulting member. Said member, if not a borrower, shall be entitled, upon thirty days' notice, to receive the balance so transferred, without interest from the time of the transfer, in the order of his turn, out of the funds appropriated to the payment of withdrawals. All shares so forfeited or transferred shall cease to participate in any profits of the association accruing after the last adjustment and valuation of shares before said default.

SEC. 145, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). If a borrowing member is in arrears for dues, interest, premiums or fines for more than six months, the directors may, at their discretion, declare the shares forfeited after one month's notice, if the arrears continue unpaid. The account of such borrowing member shall then be debited, with the arrears of interest, premiums and fines to date of forfeiture, and the shares shall be credited upon the loan at their withdrawing value. The balance of the account may, and after six months shall be enforced against the security by any legal method, or by proceedings in equity, for sale and foreclosure, jurisdiction therefor being hereby specially given to the supreme and superior courts, to be exercised upon bill or petition in a summary manner. The shares, the value whereof has been so applied in payment shall revert to the corporation, and be held by it free from all interest, claim, or demand on the part of the borrower, or any person claiming from or under him.

SEC. 146, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Upon the death of a shareholder, his legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the amount of unpledged shares of the deceased, to be ascertained as provided in section one hundred and thirty-seven for withdrawal of shares. No fines shall be charged, or profits credited to a deceased member's account from and after his decease, unless his legal representatives assume the future payments on such shares, which they may assume under the same rights and liabilities of the deceased. Moneys received for the shares of a deceased shareholder, or the shares themselves, as the case may be, shall descend to the same persons and be distributed in the same manner that money received from a policy of life insurance on the life of a deceased person now does by law.

SEC. 147, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The general accounts of every such association shall be kept by double entry. All moneys received by the association from each member, shall be receipted for by persons designated by the directors in a pass book provided by the association for the use of, and to be held by the member, and said pass book shall be plainly marked with the name and residence of the holder thereof, the number of shares held by him, and the number or designation of the series or issue to which said shares respectively belong, and the date of the issue of such series. All moneys so received shall be originally entered by the proper officer in a book to be called the cash book, to be provided by the association for the purpose, and the entries therein shall be so made as to show the name of the payer, the number of the shares, the number or designation of the series, or is one of the particular share or shares so entered, together with the amount of dues, interest, premiums and fines paid thereon, as the case may be. Each payment shall be classified and entered in a column devoted to its kind. Said cash book shall be closed on the last day of the month in which each stated meeting is held, and shall be an exhibit of the receipt of all moneys paid by shareholders during said month. All payments made by the association for any purpose whatsoever, shall be by order, check or draft upon the treasurer, signed by the president and secretary, and indorsed by the persons in whose favor the same are drawn. The name of the payee, the amount paid, and the purpose, object or thing for which the payment is made, together with its date, shall be entered on the margin of said order, check or draft. The treasurer shall dispose of and secure the safe keeping of all moneys, securities and property of the corporation, in the manner designated by the bylaws, and the treasurer and secretary shall give such security for the faithful performance of their respective duties as the bylaws may direct.

SEC. 148, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The profits and losses may be distributed annually, semi-annually or quarterly, to the shares then existing, but shall be distributed at least once in each year, and whenever a new series of shares is to be issued. Profits and losses shall be distributed to the various shares existing at the time of such distribution, in proportion to their value at that time, and shall be computed upon the basis of a single share, fully paid to the date of distribution. Losses shall be apportioned immediately after their occurrence. At each periodical distribution of profits, the directors shall reserve as a guaranty fund a sum not less than one nor more than five per cent of the net profits accruing since the next preceding adjustment, until such fund amounts to five per cent of the dues capital, which fund shall thereafter be maintained and held, and said fund shall be, at all times available to meet losses in the business of the association from depreciation in its securities or otherwise.

SEC. 149, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Any association may purchase, at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which it may have an interest, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure, the real estate so purchased, to any person or persons whatsoever. All real estate so acquired shall be sold within five years from the acquisition of title thereto.

SEC. 150, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). Minors may hold shares by trustees, and the shares of each shareholder, not exceeding two, shall be exempt from attachment and execution.

SEC. 151, (added by chapter 61, public laws of 1887). The bank examiner shall perform, in reference to all loan and building associations, the same duties, and shall have the same powers as are required of, or given to him in reference to savings banks; and shall annually make report to the legislature, of such facts and statements respecting such associations, and in such form as he deems that the public interest requires. The officers of such associations shall answer truly all inquiries made, and shall make all returns required by the bank examiner.

PUBLIC LAWS OF 1891.

SECTION 1. Except as is hereinafter provided no person, association or corporation shall carry on the business of accumulating the savings of its members and joining to them such accumulations in the manner of loan and building associations within this state, unless incorporated under the laws thereof for such purpose.

SEC. 2. The bank examiner may authorize any such association or corporation duly established under the laws of another state to carry on such business in this state, but said association or corporation shall not transact such business in this state unless it shall first deposit with the state treasurer, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars and thereafter a sum equal to fifteen per cent of the deposits made in such association or corporation by citizens of the state, the amount of percentage of deposits so required to be determined from time to time by the bank examiner; or in lieu thereof the whole or any part of said sum may consist of any of the securities in which savings banks may invest, as regulated in section one hundred of chapter forty-seven, Revised Statutes, and acts amendatory thereof, at their par value, and the said deposit shall be held in trust by said treasurer for the protection and indemnity of the residents of the state with whom such associations or corporations respectively have done or may transact business. Said moneys or property shall be paid out or disposed of only on the order of some court of competent jurisdiction, made on due notice to the attorney general of the state, and upon such notice to the creditors and shareholders of such association or corporation as the court shall prescribe. For the purpose of ascertaining the business and financial condition of any such association or corporation doing or desiring to do such business, said bank examiner may make examinations of such associations or corporations, at such times and at such places as said bank examiner may desire, the expense of such examinations being paid by the association or corporation examined, and may also require returns to be made in such form and at such times as he may elect. Whenever, upon examination or otherwise, it is the opinion of the bank examiner that any such association or corporation is transacting business in such manner as to be hazardous to the public, or its condition is such as to render further proceedings by it hazardous to the public, said bank examiner shall revoke or suspend the authority given to said association or corporation; but this section shall not prevent such association, corporation or institution incorporated under laws of another state, from loaning money upon mortgages of real estate located within the state.

SEC. 3. Every such person, association or corporation transacting business in the state at the time of the passage of this act, shall, within sixty days after such passage, conform to the requirements of this act.

SEC. 4. Whoever violates any provision of the preceding sections, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars; and any provision thereof may on petition, be enforced by injunction issued by a justice of the supreme judicial court or of the superior court.

CHAPTER 123.

The office of secretary and treasurer of loan and building associations may be held by one and the same person, provided any association so provides by its bylaws.

PUBLIC LAWS OF 1893.

CHAPTER 274.

SECTION 1. Every loan and building association doing business in this state shall semi-annually on the last Saturdays of April and October, make a return signed and sworn to by its secretary of its monthly capital dues paid in by its shareholders during the six months preceding each of said days, exclusive of withdrawals, fines, interest and premiums. Said return shall be made to the treasurer of state on or before the second Mondays of May and November, and for wilfully making a false return, the secretary forfeits not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars. The treasurer of such association shall pay to the treasurer of state a tax on account of such dues, of one-fourth of one per cent a year on the amount so returned.

SEC. 2. One-half of said tax shall be assessed on the amount so returned for the six months ending on the last Saturday in April and the other half on the amount so returned for the six months ending on the last Saturday in October; and such tax shall be paid semi-annually, within ten days after the first Mondays in June and December.

SEC. 3. All capital dues of such associations are exempt from municipal taxation to the association or to the shareholder, but real estate owned by the association, not held as collateral security, may be taxed by the town in which the same is located.

MARYLAND.

CODE OF PUBLIC GENERAL LAWS OF 1888.

ARTICLE 23.

SECTION 14. Corporations may be formed in this state, under the provisions hereinafter set forth, by any five or more persons, citizens of the United States, and a majority of them citizens of this state, or if unnaturalized, residents of this state, making oath that they bona fide intend to become citizens of the United States without unreasonable delay, who may desire to form a body corporate or politic, for any of the following purposes: * * *

For the formation of homestead or building associations, or associations for the loan of money on real or personal property. * * * Provided, that the property owned or acquired by such corporation is located in this state; * * *.

SEC. 95. Any homestead or building association, formed under the provisions of this article, shall have power, in its certificate of incorporation, to limit the number of shares which each stockholder may be allowed to hold; to prescribe the entrance fee to be paid by each stockholder at the time of subscribing; and to regulate the instalments to be paid on each share—provided, the same shall not exceed the sum of one dollar per share per week—and the times at which the same shall be payable.

SEC. 96. Any such corporation shall have power to enforce the payment of all instalments and other dues due to the corporation from the members or stockholders, by such fines and forfeitures as the corporation may, from time to time, provide in the bylaws or articles of association of such corporation.

SEC. 97. Any person applying for membership, or for stock in any such corporation, after the end of one month from the time of incorporation, may be required to pay, on subscribing, such bonus or assessment as may from time to time be fixed or assessed, in such manner as may be provided by the corporation, in order to place such new member or stockholder on a footing with the original members and others holding stock at the time of such application.

SEC. 98. Such corporation, at any time in advance of the period of time at which it may cease to exist, according to the plan contained in the original articles of association, may advance to any member thereof, for such premium as may be agreed upon, the sum which he would be entitled to receive upon the dissolution of the corporation, for any number of shares therein held; or may purchase from any member thereof the share, or any number of shares, of the stock held by him, at such price or sum as, according to the articles of association, such member may agree to receive; and on payment of said sum of money, may receive from such member, security as mentioned in the next succeeding section of this article, for the payment by such member to such corporation, of the unpaid instalments to be paid on the share or shares of stock so sold or redeemed, together with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on the sum so paid or advanced, at such times and subject to such fines and penalties for the non-payment thereof, as may be prescribed in the articles of association or in the bylaws.

SEC. 99. The payment of the unpaid instalments on the share or shares so purchased or redeemed, with interest on the money paid therefor as aforesaid, and all fines and penalties incurred in respect thereof by any member, shall be secured to such corporation by mortgage on real or leasehold property, or by the hypothecation of stock of such corporation held by such member, as may be provided in the articles of association or bylaws; but in case of hypothecation of stock, no greater sum of money shall at any time be drawn out by any member than shall have been already paid in by him on all his shares at the time of such hypothecation; and any such mortgage and the mortgage debt created thereby, and the shares of stock of any such corporation, and of all corporations for the loan of money on mortgage of real or leasehold property, are declared to be exempt from taxation, to the extent of the investments of such corporation in such mortgages, the property so mortgaged to the corporation being taxed in the hands of the individual member or mortgagor.

SEC. 100. On the trial of any action or other proceeding at law or in equity, in which the property or interest of any such corporation may be in anywise concerned, any member of such corporation shall be a competent witness, and shall not be objected to on account of any interest he may have as such member, in the result of any such action or proceeding.

SEC. 101. Any association of persons which may have been organized or established at any time prior to the adoption of this article, on being made a body corporate, under the provisions of this article, shall become merged in such corporate body thereby created; and every act done or to be done by any such unincorporated association of persons, relating to the ends and purposes of such association, and all mortgages, bonds or other instruments, made to such association of persons, or to any person or persons to or for the use of such association of persons, or any member thereof as such, shall remain and continue in full force and virtue at law and in equity, in like manner as if such incorporated association of persons had originally been a body corporate.

SEC. 102. Any trustee or trustees, person or persons, to whom any such conveyances shall have been made, to and for the use of such incorporated association, may be required to assign and transfer the same to such corporation, and such conveyances shall be as good and sufficient as if made to such corporation; and all the liabilities and obligations of, by and between the members of such incorporated association of persons, shall remain of as binding force or effect as if such association had been incorporated from the first.

SEC. 103. The provisions of the eight foregoing sections shall be taken and held to apply to corporations which have been or may hereafter be formed in this state, under the provisions of this article, for the purpose of loaning money on real or personal property or for buying, selling, leasing or otherwise dealing in land, and such corporations may by their bylaws provide for the payment of all or any part of their stock in advance, and shall have the power to enforce the payment of all dues, legal interest or premium due to such corporation from its members, stockholders, or borrowers, by such fines and forfeitures as the directors may from time to time provide in its bylaws; and it shall and may be lawful for any of the corporations mentioned in this section, at any time, either before or after the shares of its stocks shall have been fully paid up, to redeem or purchase the same at such sum or price as such member may agree to receive therefor, or to loan to such member the par value of its shares as fixed by its certificate of incorporation for any number of shares then held by such member, for any number of years and upon such premium or bonus as may be agreed upon between the corporation and member or borrower, and either to deduct such premium or bonus in advance or to make the same payable with and as a part of the weekly dues in each and every week during the period of such loan, and in the payment of such sum of money by such corporation, then to receive from such member a transfer of all his or her interest in such share or shares of its stock, and also security by way of mortgage on real or personal property, or by hypothecation of unredeemed shares of its stock so sold by such member; and said mortgage or hypothecation shall be conditioned for the repayment by such member or borrower to said corporation of the money loaned or advanced to him in weekly instalments, including dues, legal interest on the money so advanced or loaned, the weekly premium agreed upon for each share, and also all fines, assessments and penalties incurred according to the bylaws in respect thereof; and all shares of stock so redeemed, advanced or loaned or purchased by such corporation, shall be considered as redeemed shares, and shall be cancelled; and it shall be lawful for such corporation to issue an equal number of new shares in their stead, so that the number of unredeemed shares may always equal and never exceed the number of shares fixed by the certificate of incorporation of such corporations; and the member or members of such corporations, so redeeming their said share or shares of stock, shall cease to be stockholders, and shall not be entitled to vote at any meeting of such corporations, held for the purpose of electing directors or for any other purpose, and shall not be eligible for any of the offices of the corporation.

SEC. 104. It shall not be lawful for any land company, homestead or building association, or any association formed for the purpose of lending money, or using the corporate funds for the purpose of buying, selling, lending upon mortgage, leasing or otherwise dealing in real or leasehold estate, to issue any promissory note, bill or obligation of any kind to any member thereof, or borrow therefrom in lieu of money, and all loans by such corporation shall be made in money and not otherwise, and all notes, bills or obligations of any sort issued by any such association to or for the use or benefit of any member or borrower in lieu of money, and all deeds, mortgages or other securities whatsoever, given to secure the same, shall be void and of no force and validity whatever, either in law or in equity.

MASSACHUSETTS.

PUBLIC STATUTES OF 1882.

CHAPTER 106.

[Sections 18, 20, and 21 following relate to manufacturing and similar corporations but are made to apply to building and loan associations by section 4 of chapter 117.]

SECTION 18. The first meeting shall be called by a notice signed by one or more of the subscribers to such agreement, stating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, a copy of which notice shall, seven days at least before the day appointed for the meeting, be given to each subscriber, or left at his usual place of business or place of residence, or deposited in the post office, postpaid, and addressed to him at his usual place of business or of residence. And whoever gives such notices shall make affidavit of his doings, which shall be recorded in the records of the corporation.

SEC. 20. At such first meeting, including any necessary or reasonable adjournment, an organization shall be effected by the choice by ballot of a temporary clerk, who shall be sworn, and by the adoption of bylaws, and the election, in the manner provided in section twenty-four, of directors, treasurer, clerk, and such other officers as the bylaws may provide; but at such first meeting no person shall be eligible as a director who has not subscribed the agreement of association. The temporary clerk shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the clerk has been chosen and sworn, including a record of such choice and qualification.

SEC. 21. The president, treasurer, and a majority of the directors [see section 4, chapter 117], shall forthwith make, sign, and swear to a certificate setting forth a true copy of the agreement of association with the names of the subscribers thereto, the date of the first meeting, and the successive adjournments thereof, if any, and shall submit such certificate and also the records of the corporation to the commissioner of corporations, who shall examine the same, and who may require such other evidence as to the facts of the case as he may judge necessary. The commissioner, if it appears that the requirements of the preceding sections preliminary to the establishment of the corporation have been complied with, shall certify that fact and his approval of the certificate by indorsement thereon. Such certificate shall thereupon be filed by said officers in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, who, upon payment of the fee hereinafter provided, shall cause the same with the indorsement thereon to be recorded, and shall thereupon issue a certificate in the following form:—

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Be it known that whereas [here the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association shall be inserted] have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of [here the name of the corporation shall be inserted], for the purpose [here the purpose declared in the agreement of association shall be inserted], with a capital of [here the amount of capital fixed in the agreement of association shall be inserted] [see section 4, chapter 117], and have complied with the provisions of the statutes of this commonwealth in such case made and provided, as appears from the certificate of the president, treasurer, and directors of said corporation, duly approved by the commissioner of corporations and recorded in this office: Now, therefore, I [here the name of the secretary shall be inserted], secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby certify that said [here the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association shall be inserted], their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as and are hereby made an existing corporation under the name of [here the name of the corporation shall be inserted], with the powers, rights, and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties, and restrictions, which by law appertain thereto. Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed, and the seal of the commonwealth of Massachusetts hereunto affixed, this — day of — in the year —. [In these blanks the day, month, and year of execution of the certificate shall be inserted.]

The secretary shall sign the same and cause the seal of the commonwealth to be thereto affixed, and such certificate shall have the force and effect of a special charter, and shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of such corporation. He shall also cause a record of such certificate to be made, and a certified copy of such record may be given in evidence with like effect as the original certificate.

CHAPTER 117.

SECTION 1, (as amended by chapter 243, acts of 1890). Twenty-five or more persons who associate themselves together by an agreement in writing with the intention of forming a corporation for the purpose of accumulating the savings of its members paid into such corporation in fixed periodical instalments and lending to its members the funds so accumulated shall, by and with the consent of the board of commissioners of savings banks, become a corporation upon complying with the provisions of the three following sections.

SEC. 2. The agreement shall set forth the fact that the subscribers thereto associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation, the name by which the corporation shall be known, the purpose for which it is formed, the town or city, which shall be within this commonwealth, in which it is located, and the limit of capital to be accumulated.

SEC. 3, (as amended by chapter 98, acts of 1883). The name shall be one not previously in use by any existing corporation established under the laws of this commonwealth, and shall be changed only by act of the general court. The words "cooperative bank" shall form a part of the name.

SEC. 4. The provisions of sections eighteen, twenty, and twenty-one of chapter one hundred and six shall apply to such corporations, except that, in the certificate signed by the secretary of the commonwealth, the limit of capital to be accumulated as fixed in the agreement of association shall be inserted, instead of the amount of capital, that the certificate required by said section twenty-one to be filed and recorded may be signed and sworn to by the presiding and financial officers and a majority at least of the officers possessing the powers of directors, by whatever name they may be called, and that the fees to be paid for filing and recording the certificates required by said section twenty-one, including the issuing of the certificate of organization, shall be five dollars.

SEC. 5. The capital to be accumulated shall not exceed one million dollars, and shall be divided into shares of the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each. The shares may be issued in quarterly, half-yearly, or yearly series, in such amounts and at such times as the members may determine.

No person shall hold more than twenty-five shares in the capital of any one such corporation. No shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of a new series.

SEC. 6. The number, title, duties, and compensation of the officers of the corporation, their terms of office, the time of their election, as well as the qualifications of electors, and the time of each periodical meeting of the officers and members, shall be determined by the bylaws; but no member shall be entitled to more than one vote at any election. All officers shall continue in office until their successors are duly elected, and no corporation shall expire from neglect on its part to elect officers at the time prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 7. The officers shall hold stated monthly meetings. At or before each of these meetings every member shall pay to the corporation as a contribution to its capital one dollar as dues upon each share held by him until the share reaches the ultimate value of two hundred dollars, or is withdrawn, cancelled, or forfeited. Payment of dues on each series shall commence from its issue.

SEC. 9, (as amended by chapter 216, acts of 1887). When each unpledged share of a given series reaches the value of two hundred dollars, all payments of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the corporation two hundred dollars therefor with interest at the rate of six per cent a year from the time of such maturity to the time of payment: Provided, that at no time shall more than one half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the payment of such matured shares without the consent of the directors: Provided, further, that when any series of shares, either pledged or unpledged, reaches maturity between the dates of adjustment of profits, or whenever shares are retired between such dates, the holders of such shares shall, in addition to the value thereof, be entitled to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum for all full months from the date of the preceding adjustment.

SEC. 10, (as amended by chapter 78, acts of 1890). The moneys accumulated, after due allowance made for all necessary and proper expenses and for the withdrawal of shares, shall, at each stated monthly meeting, be offered to the members according to the premiums bid by them for priority of right to a loan. Each member whose bid is accepted shall be entitled upon giving proper security to receive a loan of two hundred dollars for each share held by him, or such fractional part of two hundred dollars as the bylaws may allow. If a balance of money remains unsold after a monthly sale, the directors may invest the same in any of the securities named in the second clause of section twenty of chapter one hundred and sixteen [providing for the investment by savings banks of deposits and income derived therefrom], or may loan the same upon the shares of the corporation, on the approval of the directors or investing committee thereof, at the highest rate paid at the last preceding monthly sale of such moneys.

SEC. 11. Premiums for loans shall consist of a percentage charged on the amount lent in addition to interest, and shall be deemed to be a consideration paid by the borrower for the present use and possession of the future or ultimate value of his shares, and shall together with interest and fines be received by the corporation as a profit on the capital invested in the loan, and shall be distributed to the various shares and series of said capital as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 12. A borrowing member, for each share borrowed upon, shall, in addition to his dues and monthly premium, pay monthly interest on his loan at the rate of six per cent per annum until his shares reach the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each, or the loan has been repaid; and when said ultimate value is reached, said shares and loan shall be declared cancelled and satisfied, and the balance, if any, due upon the shares, shall be paid to the member.

SEC. 13, (as amended by chapter 159, acts of 1889). For every loan made, a note secured by first mortgage of real estate situated in this commonwealth shall be given, accompanied by a transfer and pledge of the shares of the borrower. The share so pledged shall be held by the corporation as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of said note and mortgage. Said note and mortgage shall recite the number of shares pledged and the amount of money advanced thereon, and shall be conditioned for the payment at the stated meetings of the corporation of the monthly dues on said shares, and the interest and premium upon the loan, together with all fines on payments in arrears, until said shares reach the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each, or said loan is otherwise cancelled and discharged: Provided, that the shares without other security may in the discretion of the directors be pledged as security for loans, to an amount not exceeding their value as adjusted at the last adjustment and valuation of shares before the time of the loan.

If the borrower neglects to offer security satisfactory to the directors within the time prescribed by the bylaws, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he shall be charged with one month's interest and one month's premium at the rate bid by him, together with all expenses, if any, incurred; and the money appropriated for such loan may be relented at the next or any subsequent meeting.

SEC. 14. A borrower may repay a loan at any time, upon application to the corporation, whereupon, on settlement of his account, he shall be charged with the full amount of the original loan, together with all monthly instalments of interest, premium, and fines in arrears, and shall be given credit for the withdrawing value of his shares pledged and transferred as security; and the balance shall be received by the corporation in full satisfaction and discharge of said loan: Provided, that all settlements made at periods intervening between stated meetings of the directors shall be made as of the date of the stated meeting next succeeding such settlement; And provided, that a borrower desiring to retain his shares and membership may at his option repay his loan without claiming credit for said shares, whereupon said shares shall be retransferred to him, and shall be free from any claim by reason of said cancelled loan.

SEC. 15. Members who make default in the payment of their monthly dues, interest, and premiums, shall be charged a fine not exceeding two per cent a month on each dollar in arrears. No fines shall be charged after the expiration of six months from the first lapse in any such payment, nor upon a fine in arrears. The shares of a member who continues in arrears more than six months shall, at the option of the directors, if the member fails to pay the arrears within thirty days after notice, be declared forfeited, and the withdrawing value of the shares at the time of the first default shall be ascertained, and, after deducting all fines and other legal charges, the balance remaining shall be transferred to an account to be designated the "forfeited share account" to the credit of the defaulting member. Said member, if not a borrower, shall be entitled upon thirty days' notice to receive the balance so transferred without interest from the time of the transfer, in the order of his turn, out of the funds appropriated to the payment of withdrawals. All shares so forfeited or transferred shall cease to participate in any profits of the corporation accruing after the last adjustment and valuation of shares before said first default.

SEC. 16. If a borrowing member has been in default for six months, the amount to be credited to his shares under the preceding section shall be applied as a payment upon the loan, and the balance with interest and premiums thereon from the time of first default together with an attorney's fee of five per cent on said balance shall be enforced against the security and recovered as secured debts are recovered at law. The shares the value whereof has been so applied in payment shall revert to the corporation, and be held by it free from all interest, claim, or demand on the part of the borrower or any person claiming from or under him.

SEC. 17. The general accounts of every such corporation shall be kept by double entry. All moneys received by the corporation from each member shall be receipted for by persons designated by the directors, in a pass book provided by the corporation for the use of and to be held by the member; and said pass book shall be plainly marked with the name and residence of the holder thereof, the number of shares held by him, and the number or designation of the series or issue to which said shares respectively belong, and the date of the issue of such series. All moneys so received shall be originally entered by the proper officer in a book to be called the "cash book," to be provided by the corporation for the purpose, and the entries therein shall be so made as to show the name of the payer, the number of shares, the number or designation of the series or issues of the particular share or shares so entered, together with the amount of dues, interest, premiums, and fines paid thereon, as the case may be. Each payment shall be classified and entered in a column devoted to its kind. Said cash book shall be closed after the termination of each stated meeting, and shall be an exhibit of the receipts of all moneys paid at said meeting. All payments made by the corporation for any purpose whatsoever shall be by order, check, or draft upon the treasurer, signed by the president and secretary, and indorsed by the persons in whose favor the same are drawn. The name of the payee, the amount paid, and the purpose, object, or thing for which the payment is made, together with its date, shall be entered on the margin of said order, check, or draft. The treasurer shall dispose of and secure the safe keeping of all moneys, securities, and property of the corporation, in the manner designated by the bylaws, and the treasurer and secretary shall give such security for the faithful performance of their respective duties as the bylaws may direct.

SEC. 18. The profits and losses may be distributed annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, to the shares then existing, but shall be distributed at least once in each year, and whenever a new series of shares is to be issued. Profits and losses shall be distributed to the various shares existing at the time of such distribution, in proportion to their value at that time, and shall be computed upon the basis of a single share fully paid to the date of distribution. Losses shall be apportioned immediately after their occurrence.

SEC. 19. Any such corporation may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or in which it may have an interest; and may sell, convey, lease, or mortgage, at pleasure, the real estate so purchased, to any person or persons whatsoever. All real estate so acquired shall be sold within five years from acquisition of title thereto.

SEC. 20. The commissioners of savings banks shall perform in reference to every such corporation the same duties, and shall have the same powers, as are required of or given to them in reference to savings banks, and shall annually make report to the general court of such facts and statements respecting such associations and in such form as they deem that the public interest requires. Every officer of such corporation shall answer truly all inquiries made, and shall make all returns required by the commissioners.

CHAPTER 251.

SECTION 2. Any corporation organized under said chapter one hundred and seventeen [Public Statutes of 1882] may provide in its bylaws that the bid for loans at its stated monthly meetings shall, instead of a premium, be a rate of annual interest upon the sum desired payable in monthly instalments. Such bids shall include the whole interest to be paid, and may be at any rate not less than five per centum per annum.

ACTS OF 1885.

SECTION 1. In any cooperative bank, now or hereafter formed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventeen of the Public Statutes, the offices of secretary and treasurer may be held by one and the same person.

SEC. 2. At each periodical distribution of profits, the directors shall reserve as a guaranty fund a sum not less than one nor more than five per cent of the net profits accruing since the next preceding adjustment, until such fund amounts to five per cent of the dues capital, which fund shall thereafter be maintained and held; and said fund shall be at all times available to meet losses in the business of the corporation from depreciation of its securities or otherwise.

ACTS OF 1887.

SECTION 1. The limitation of capital to be accumulated in any cooperative bank now organized or hereafter formed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventeen of the Public Statutes shall be held to apply to capital actually paid in, and no such bank shall be restrained from issuing shares so long as the capital actually paid in on shares is not in excess of one million dollars.

SEC. 2. A member may withdraw his unpledged shares at any time by giving thirty days' notice of his intention so to do, written in a book held and provided by the corporation for that purpose. Upon such withdrawal the shareholder's account shall be settled as follows:—From the amount then standing to the credit of the shares to be withdrawn there shall be deducted all fines, a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss, together with such proportion of the profits previously credited to the shares as the bylaws may provide, and such shareholder shall be paid the balance: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the demands of withdrawing members without the consent of the directors. The directors may at their discretion, under rules made by them, retire the unpledged shares of any series at any time after four years from the date of their issue, by enforcing the withdrawal of the same; but whenever there shall remain in any series, at the expiration of five years after the date of its issue, an excess above one hundred unpledged shares, then it shall be the duty of the directors to retire annually twenty-five per centum of such excess existing at said expiration of five years after the date of its issue, so that not more than one hundred unpledged shares shall remain in such series at the expiration of nine years from the date of its issue, and thereafter the directors may in their discretion retire such other unpledged shares as they consider the best interests of the bank to require: Provided, that whenever under the provisions of this section the withdrawal of shares is to be enforced the shares to be retired shall be determined by lot, and the holders thereof shall be paid the full value of their shares, less all fines and a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss; And provided, also, that shares pledged for share loans shall be treated as unpledged shares.

SEC. 3. Shares may be issued in the name of a minor, and if so issued may, at the discretion of the directors, be withdrawn, in manner as provided in section two of this act, by such minor, the parent or guardian of such minor, and in either case payments made on such withdrawals of shares shall be valid. When a share or shares are held by any one in trust for another, the name and residence of the person for whom such share or shares are held shall be disclosed; and the account shall be kept in the name of such holder as trustee for such person; and, if no other notice of the existence and terms of such trust has been given in writing to the corporation, in the event of the death of the trustee, such shares may be withdrawn by the person for whom such deposit was made or by his legal representatives.

SEC. 4. Partial payments of loans on real estate made by any cooperative bank may be received in sums of fifty dollars or any multiple thereof; and for each two hundred dollars so repaid one share of stock shall be released from pledge.

CHAPTER 159.

SECTION 2. Every cooperative bank shall annually within twenty days after the last business day of October make a return to the commissioners of saving banks in such form as may be prescribed by them, showing accurately the condition thereof at close of business on said day, which return shall be signed and sworn to by the secretary and treasurer of such corporation. The president and five or more of the directors shall certify and make oath that the report is correct according to their best knowledge and belief.

ACTS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 63.

SECTION 1. The capital stock, corporate franchises and personal estate of cooperative banks shall be exempted from taxation; but this act shall not be construed to exempt from taxation any real estate of such corporations.

CHAPTER 310.

SECTION 1. Except as is hereinafter provided, no person, association or corporation shall carry on the business of accumulating the savings of its members and loaning to them such accumulations in the manner of a cooperative bank within this commonwealth, unless incorporated under the laws thereof for such purpose.

SEC. 2. The board of commissioners of savings banks may authorize any such association or corporation duly established under the laws of another state to carry on such business in the commonwealth, but said association or corporation shall not transact such business in this commonwealth unless it shall first deposit with the treasurer of the commonwealth the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars and thereafter a sum equal to fifteen per cent of the deposits made in such association or corporation by citizens of the commonwealth, the amount of percentage of deposits so required to be determined from time to time by said board of commissioners of savings banks; or in lieu thereof the whole or any part of said sum may consist of any of the securities named in the first, second and third clauses of section twenty of chapter one hundred and sixteen of the Public Statutes and acts amendatory thereof [providing for the investment by savings banks of deposits and income derived therefrom], at their par value, and the said deposit shall be held in trust by said treasurer for the protection and indemnity of the residents of the commonwealth with whom such associations or corporations respectively have done or may transact business. Said moneys or property shall be paid out or disposed of only on the order of some court of competent jurisdiction made on due notice to the attorney general of the commonwealth, and upon such notice to the creditors and shareholders of such association or corporation as the court shall prescribe. For the purpose of ascertaining the business and financial condition of any such association or corporation doing or desiring to do such business, said board may make examinations of such associations or corporations at such times and at such places as said board may desire, the expense of such examinations being paid by the association or corporation examined, and may also require returns to be made to them in such form and at such times as they may elect. Whenever, upon examination or otherwise, it is the opinion of said board that any such association or corporation is transacting business in such manner as to be hazardous to the public, or its condition is such as to render further proceedings by it hazardous to the public, said board shall revoke or suspend the authority given to said association or corporation, but this section shall not prevent such a bank or institution, incorporated under the laws of another state, from loaning money upon mortgages of real estate located within the commonwealth.

SEC. 3. Every such person, association or corporation transacting business in the commonwealth at the time of the passage of this act shall, within sixty days after such passage, conform to the requirements of this act.

SEC. 4. Whoever violates any provision of the preceding sections shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars; and any provision thereof may on petition be enforced by injunction issued by a justice of the supreme judicial court or of the superior court.

ACTS OF 1891.

CHAPTER 360.

SECTION 1. The commissioner of corporations may authorize any corporation subject to the provisions of [chapter] * * * one hundred and seventeen * * * of the Public Statutes, and acts amendatory of * * * said [chapter], to change its name, upon notice and hearing, as hereinafter set forth: Provided, such corporation shall, previously to its application to the commissioner of corporations for change of its name, at a meeting called for that purpose have voted, by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders present and voting at the meeting, to change its name and adopt a new one.

SEC. 2. Before authorizing a change of name, as provided in section one, the commissioner shall require public notice of the application therefor to be given, that all persons may appear to show cause, if any they have, why the application should not be granted.

SEC. 3. When such change of name shall have been authorized by the commissioner of corporations, a certified copy of his authorization of the same, together with a certificate setting forth the vote of the corporation to so change its name and adopt a new one, signed and sworn to by the president, treasurer and a majority of the directors, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth. And the commissioner shall require public notice to be given of the change so authorized; and on receipt of proof thereof the secretary of the commonwealth may grant a certificate of the name which the corporation shall bear, and which shall thereafter be its legal name, subject however to the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-seven of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one.

SEC. 4. A corporation under its new name shall have the same rights, powers and privileges, and be subject to the same duties, obligations and liabilities as before such change, and may sue and be sued by its own name; but any action brought against it by its former name shall not be defeated on that account, and, on motion of either party, the new name can be substituted therefor in the action.

SEC. 5. The secretary of the commonwealth shall prepare and submit to the general court, together with the abstract of certificates required by section two of chapter one hundred and six of the Public Statutes, a statement of all names of the corporations changed under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. In the case of corporations not having a capital stock, a two-thirds vote of the persons legally qualified to vote in meetings of the corporation, and present and voting on the question of change, shall be sufficient, in lieu of the vote of the stockholders required by section one of this act; and in the case of corporations not having a president, treasurer and directors, the certificate of the vote of the corporation required by section three of this act shall be sufficient if signed and sworn to by the presiding and the financial officer and a majority of its other officers having the power of directors, by whatever name called.

Whenever, upon examination or otherwise, it is the opinion of the board of commissioners of savings banks that any association or corporation established under the laws of another state, for the purpose of carrying on the business of accumulating the savings of its members and loaning to them such accumulations in the manner of a cooperative bank, and authorized to do business in this commonwealth, is transacting such business in a manner hazardous to the public, or its condition is such as to render further proceedings by it hazardous to the public, said board shall revoke or suspend the authority given to such association or corporation if it has been authorized to do business in the commonwealth as aforesaid, and if not so authorized said board shall notify it to cease the transaction of such business; and in either case such association or corporation shall thereafter have no authority to transact such business within the commonwealth. But nothing herein contained shall prevent such association or corporation from loaning money upon mortgages of real estate located within the commonwealth.

MICHIGAN.

HOWELL'S ANNOTATED STATUTES OF 1882.

SECTION 3252. Any ten or more persons may associate and form a society, under the provisions of this act, for the purpose of receiving, loaning and investing money; but it shall not be lawful for such society to discount, buy, or sell commercial paper or exchange, to issue any letters of credit, nor to do any business pertaining to banking, except as in the receiving, loaning, and investing of money as herein provided.

SEC. 3253. The capital of such society shall consist of the amounts remaining therein, of the sums paid in on the shares which may be issued from time to time to the members thereof, and such shares may be of one or more denominations, but of amounts not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars each, and may either be paid up at once, or by periodical instalments, or by voluntary subscriptions.

SEC. 3254. Such society may receive loans or deposits of money from its members, or from other persons, partnerships or corporations, at interest not exceeding seven per centum per annum, or without interest, and for such time certain, as may be agreed upon, and may issue its bonds, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness therefor: Provided, that such society shall not receive any such loans or deposits until such society shall have actually invested fifty thousand dollars of its paid in permanent stock capital in real estate securities, as provided in sections eight and nine [3259 and 3260] of this act.

SEC. 3255. The total amount of loans or deposits received and not repaid by such society, under the provisions of the last preceding section, shall not at any time exceed two-thirds of the amount for the time being secured to such society by bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages on real estate, as provided in sections eight and nine [3259 and 3260] of this act; it being the true intent of this section that at least one-third of the amount invested in the securities as aforesaid shall consist of the capital paid in by the members of such society; and it is hereby declared that, in case of the insolvency or winding up of such society, the parties making such loans or deposits shall be preferred creditors of such society: Provided, that if such society shall receive loans or deposits in excess of the limits prescribed in its articles of association, the directors and officers of such society receiving such loans or deposits on its behalf, shall be personally liable for the amount so received in excess: And provided further, that no part of the capital of such society shall be at any time withdrawn from or repaid by such society, so as to affect or impair the amount of the capital required by this section to be invested in real estate securities, as a protection and guarantee for such loans or deposits.

SEC. 3256. It shall be the duty of every society formed under this act, to exhibit in some conspicuous place in its principal office, not later than two o'clock p. m., on the first business day of every month, and to continue the same in such place until the next exhibit shall be made, a statement showing correctly and distinctly the amount outstanding on the bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages held by such society, and the amount owing for loans and deposits made to or with such society, and what proportion such outstanding amount bears to such liabilities; such statement to be made up to the close of the next preceding month, and to be signed by the president and manager, and to be attested by the auditors of such society, and if any of such officers as aforesaid, shall wilfully make or knowingly consent to any false statement in such exhibit, he shall by so doing be deemed to have committed a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished as provided in section twenty [3271] of this act.

SEC. 3257. The amount of stock of such society to be held at any time by any person, or by persons jointly, or by partnerships and corporations, shall not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars.

SEC. 3258. The liability of any member of such society shall be limited to double the amount actually paid in and remaining with such society, together with the amount of any periodical instalments that may be due and unpaid on any share or shares issued to him, except for labor performed for such society; and the liability for such labor may be enforced against any member, by action founded on this act, at any time after an execution against such society for such labor shall have been returned unsatisfied, or at any time after winding up or bankruptcy proceedings shall have been commenced by or against such society: Provided, that if any member shall be compelled by such action to pay any claim for such labor, or any part thereof, he shall have the right to call upon all the members to pay their part of the sum so paid by him as aforesaid, and may sue them, jointly or severally, or any number of them, and recover in such action the ratable amount due from the member or members so sued.

SEC. 3259. Such society is hereby empowered to lay out and invest its capital, or other moneys intrusted or in anywise belonging to such society, in the first place, in paying and discharging all costs, charges and expenses incurred in the formation and management of such society; and the remainder of such capital or other moneys, or so much thereof as may from time to time be deemed necessary, may be advanced by way of loan to any person or persons, partnerships, or corporations in sums not exceeding two thousand dollars to any one borrower, as aforesaid, and upon security of bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages, on unincumbered real estate, of at least double the value of such loans, or any part or parts of such capital, or other moneys, may be invested in the stocks or bonds of the United States, or of any of the so-called New England, middle, or northwestern states, or in any bonds lawfully issued by any county, city, or school district in this state, and upon such terms and conditions as to such society shall seem satisfactory and expedient.

SEC. 3260. Every borrower from such society of a loan, secured by bond and mortgage or note and mortgage on real estate, in accordance with section eight [3259] of this act, shall have the right to repay such loan, together with interest, by certain periodical instalments, hereinafter called loan repayments, extending over such period not less than one nor more than ten years as shall be stated in such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage: Provided, that such interest shall not exceed ten per centum per annum, and shall be calculated on the amount or balance of principal from time to time owing: Provided also, that no such borrower shall be charged with or pay any commission in the way of premium or discount on the amount of loan so made to him on security as aforesaid.

SEC. 3261. In case any borrower of a loan from such society shall desire to redeem his property before the expiration of the time limited or mentioned in his bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, for the repayment of such loan, he shall be allowed to do so, at such time or at the end of such notice as shall be stated in or required by such society's bylaws, upon payment of any loan, repayments, or other sums of money due and unpaid, together with the amount of the present value of all loan repayments accruing or to become payable, according to the terms of such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, such present value to be found by discounting such loan repayments for the period at which each would become due, at the same rate of interest as is promised and secured to be paid for such loan, and nothing in this act shall authorize or sanction the charge or payment in such case of any other money by way of redemption fee or otherwise of such property.

SEC. 3262. In case any borrower of a loan from such society shall make default in the payment of any loan repayments or of any other moneys payable pursuant to the terms and requirements of his bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, or in the performance or observance of any duty or conditions enjoined by or contained in such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, whereby the principal and other sums of money secured by such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, are thereupon to become immediately due and payable, the sum or sums to be paid, on a sale or foreclosure, in settlement or discharge of such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, shall be the amount of any past due and unpaid loan repayments or other moneys, and the amount of such attorney fee and costs as are secured by such bond and mortgage or note and mortgage, together with the amount of the present value of all the loan repayments remaining unpaid after the payment of past due loan repayments as above, such present value to be found according to the rule set forth in the last preceding section.

SEC. 3263. When all moneys intended to be secured by any bond and mortgage, or note and mortgage, given to any society formed under this act have been fully paid or discharged, such society shall endorse upon such mortgage a receipt under the corporate seal of such society, signed by its president and manager in the presence of two witnesses, and to be acknowledged by said president and manager before a notary public, and such receipt shall discharge such mortgage without any reconveyance or resurrender whatever, and such receipt shall be in the following form:

The ——— society limited, hereby acknowledge to have received all moneys intended to be secured by the within written mortgage, given by ——— to ——— for the sum of ———, dated ——— and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of ———, in liber ———, on page ——— of mortgages.

In witness whereof the corporate seal of such society is hereto affixed this ——— day of ———, in the year ———, by order of the board of directors, duly made and recorded.

President.
—————,
Manager.

SEC. 3264. The persons proposing to form a society under the provisions of this act shall make written articles of association, which shall be signed and acknowledged before a notary public, and which shall state,

1. The name by which such society shall be known: Provided, that the word limited shall be the last word in such name;
2. The place in this state where its principal office is to be located;
3. The purpose for which such society is formed;
4. Whether its capital is fixed, and, if so, at what amount, or whether it is to be of an amount varying from time to time;
5. The amount [amounts] of its several shares, and how designated, one class of which shall be known as permanent stock;
6. How such several shares may be paid;
7. What amount of capital, if any, will be actually paid in before commencing business;
8. The maximum extent, not exceeding the limits prescribed by section four [3255] of this act, to which such society is to receive money on loan or deposit;
9. The time such society shall exist, not exceeding thirty years; and

10. The names, in full, of the persons associating, their respective residences, and the number and class of shares subscribed for by each of them.

SEC. 3265. The articles of association required by the last preceding section shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state of this state; and two copies of such original articles shall be made, which the said secretary of state shall certify, over his official signature and the seal of this state, as being correct copies of such original articles so filed and recorded; one of said copies shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal office of such society shall be located, and the said clerk shall certify, over his official signature and the seal of the circuit court of said county, that such certified copy of said original articles has been filed and recorded in his office; and the other copy of such [said] original articles shall be held by the society named therein; and the said articles or copies thereof, duly certified by either of the aforesaid officers, may be used as evidence in all courts and places of the incorporation of, as well as for or against such society; and the said secretary of state and the said county clerk shall each be paid for such filing, recording, and certifying at the rate of ten cents for each one hundred words contained in such articles.

SEC. 3266. After such articles shall have been filed and recorded as above required, the persons signing the same and such other persons, partnerships, and corporations who shall from time to time be possessed of any share or shares in the capital stock of such society, and their several successors and assigns, shall be deemed a body corporate and politic by the name mentioned in such articles; but such name shall not be identical with that of any other society already formed under this act, or so nearly resembling the same as to be calculated to deceive, unless such other society consents to the adoption and use of such name at any time within the thirty days immediately preceding the expiration of its charter.

SEC. 3267. Each society established under the provisions of this act shall have a common seal, which seal shall not be altered or imitated, and shall in all cases bear the corporate name of, together with such device or motto as may be adopted by, such society, and such seal shall be impressed upon the original articles of association of such society and shall have power in its corporate name to sue and be sued, appear, prosecute, and defend all actions and causes to final judgment and execution in any courts or elsewhere; to do all acts that may be necessary for receiving or repaying the moneys paid in from time to time by its members or other persons, partnerships, or corporations, and for crediting or paying profit dividends or interest on such moneys; for loaning or investing the moneys so received, or any part thereof, and the interest and profit arising therefrom upon such real estate, stocks, or bonds, as are stated in section eight [3259] of this act, and for receiving and obtaining repayment thereof, and for compelling the payment of any interest or other moneys due on or in connection with any sum or sums so loaned or invested; and for enforcing the observance and fulfilment of any conditions annexed to or connected with moneys so received and repayable or so loaned and invested, or the forfeiture of any term or delay of payment consequent on the non-fulfilment thereof; and to give receipts and acquittances and discharges for the same, either absolutely and wholly, or partially; and such society may, for all and every and any of the foregoing purposes, and for every and any other purpose in this act mentioned or referred to, lay out its capital or other moneys and property for the time being, or any part thereof, with power to do, authorize, and exercise all acts and powers whatsoever, in the opinion of the directors of such society requisite or expedient to be done or exercised in relation thereto.

SEC. 3268. The only real estate which it shall be lawful for any society formed under this act to acquire, by purchase or otherwise, shall be such as it may be necessary to buy or take in the enforcement of its securities and the collection of any claims or debts due to it; and all conveyances of real estate so acquired shall be taken by such society in its corporate name; and such real estate shall be sold by such society within ten years after the same shall be vested in it by purchase or otherwise, and such society shall sell and convey such real estate free from any claim thereon by any of its members, or any person claiming under them, by an instrument under its corporate seal and under the hands of its president and manager, duly authorized, and duly acknowledged: Provided, however, that such society may purchase, or hold upon lease, any land for the purpose of erecting thereon a building for its accommodation and the convenient transaction of its business, or it may purchase, build, hire, or take upon lease any building, and may adapt and furnish the same for so conducting its business, and if occasion requires may sell, exchange, or let such land or buildings, or any part thereof.

SEC. 3269. It shall not be lawful for such society to acquire, hold, or deal in any personal property other than as provided in this act and such as may be necessary for the transaction of its business.

SEC. 3270. The first meeting of such society may be called by a notice, signed by any two of the associates who signed its articles of association, setting forth the time, place, and objects of such meeting, such notice to be mailed to the residence of each associate at least ten days prior to such meeting; and a majority of such associates at such meeting shall be competent to make all such bylaws as they may deem necessary for the proper management of such society's business, so as such bylaws are not repugnant to, or inconsistent with, the provisions of this act or of any law of this state or of the United States; to elect the first board of directors, which board, and all subsequent boards, shall consist of not less than six nor more than nine members of such society, and which board shall elect from their own number the president and vice-president of such society; and also to elect two auditors who, as well as all their successors, may or may not be members of such society; such directors and auditors to hold their offices until their successors shall have been elected as is provided for in the next following section; and to transact any other business necessary for the organization of such society and appropriate to such meeting; and the secretary of such meeting shall make full and correct minutes of its proceedings upon the books or records of such society, and the same, being signed by its chairman, shall be deemed and taken to be prima facie evidence of the action of such meeting.

SEC. 3271. Every society formed under this act shall hold an annual meeting of its members on some one of the first fourteen days in the month of February in each and every year, for the purpose of considering and determining upon any matter, not requiring special notice, relating to such society's business, and for the election of directors and auditors to serve for the ensuing year, or until their successors are elected and qualified; but before such election takes place, the retiring directors shall present to such meeting a report, signed by the president, of such society's transactions during their term of office, accompanied by such information and suggestions as they may deem proper to give in relation to such society's affairs, and to the future management thereof; and they shall also present to such meeting an account of all the receipts and disbursements of such society for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December next previous thereto, and a general statement of such society's funds and effects, liabilities and assets, as at the close of the date last aforesaid; such account to state fully and clearly the amounts received on each class of shares issued, the amounts received on loans, the amounts received on deposits, the amounts received as principal and interest from bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages, the amounts received as principal and interest from stocks and bonds, the amounts received for fines from members and borrowers, and the amounts received for incidentals and for any and all other matters; and such account shall show on its contra side the amount paid out for principal and interest or dividends on each class of shares, for principal and interest on loans, for principal and interest on deposits, for amounts loaned on bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages, for amounts invested in the several stocks and bonds as allowed by this act, for amounts paid on accounts, or for any matter or thing other than general management expenses, and the amounts paid for rent, taxes, salaries, law charges, stationery, printing, advertising, and other expenses of management; and such general statement shall clearly show such society's liability for principal and interest or dividends (including periodical instalments in arrears the amount of which shall be stated in brackets) on each class of shares, for principal and interest on loans, for principal and interest on deposits, and for all indebtedness on any and every other account; and such general statement shall state fully on its contra side the amounts due and unpaid for periodical instalments and fines on shares, the amounts due and unpaid for principal, interest, and fines on bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages, the amounts due and unpaid for principal and interest on stocks and bonds, the amount outstanding and not then due (not including prospective interest) on bonds and mortgages or notes and mortgages, the amount of principal outstanding and not then due on stocks and bonds, the amount of interest accrued but not then due on said stocks and bonds, the amount [amounts] of any other moneys, claims, debts, costs, or damages owing to such society, and the amount or cash value of any and all real estate, and of any and all personal property, owned and held by such society; and in all cases the amounts for principal shall be stated in such account and general statement separate and distinct from amounts for interest or dividends; and such account and general statement shall be signed by the president, countersigned by the manager, and attested by the auditors of such society; and each member of such society shall have a printed copy of such report, account, and general statement sent to him along with the circular notice convening such annual meeting, such notice to be mailed, at least ten days before such meeting, to the registered address of each member; and such society shall also publish such report, account, and general statement in some newspaper printed in the county where the principal office of such society is located; and any director, president, or other officer who shall include, or knowingly consent to, any false statement in such statement or report, or in any other statement required to be made by this act, or by any vote of such society at any meeting thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 3272. The profits or losses of such society's business shall be ascertained as at the close of the thirty-first day of December in each and every year, and the same shall be declared by the directors in their report to the next following annual meeting of such society. The net profits, after providing for the payment of accrued interest and all liabilities other than for interest or dividends on capital, and after setting apart for the purpose of forming and maintaining a permanent reserve fund to meet future contingencies, such sum, not less in any year than two per centum upon the net profits of the business of such year, as the directors for the time being shall think fit, shall be apportioned pro rata between each class of shareholders according to the moneys paid in on their several shares, and for the average or actual time that such moneys have been in the possession and use of such society, but no such interest or dividend shall be paid to any member (except on his withdrawal from such society under the provisions of its bylaws) until his share or shares are fully paid up, and the interest or dividends on paid-up shares may be paid annually or semi-annually, as the directors for the time being may determine and order.

SEC. 3273. Every society formed under this act shall, on or before the seventh day of February in each and every year, report to the state treasurer of this state the amount of paid-up capital, an account of all the cash receipts and disbursements of such society for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December next previous thereto, and also a general statement of such society's funds and effects, liabilities and assets, as at the close of the date last aforesaid, such account and general statement to contain all the facts and information as are required by section twenty [3271] of this act, to be given in the account and general statement to be presented to such society's annual meeting in said month of February, and every such report shall be signed and verified on oath or affirmation, before a notary public, by two directors and by the president and manager of such society, and if any person signing such report shall, as to any material facts, knowingly and wilfully swear or affirm falsely, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and be punished accordingly; and such report shall be filed in the office of said state treasurer, and shall be published by him in his annual report. If any such society shall neglect to make out and transmit the report required in this section for one month beyond the period when the same is required to be made, such society may be deemed to have wilfully violated the provisions of this act, and may be proceeded against and dissolved in the same manner as any other corporation may be proceeded against and dissolved.

SEC. 3274. Whenever the state treasurer of this state shall, upon knowledge, information, or belief, derived from any report made to him by any such society, or from any other source, be satisfied that the business of such society is being conducted in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any of the laws of this state, and prejudicial to the interests of the creditors of such society, or if such society shall neglect to make the report as required by the last preceding section, he shall notify the governor and attorney general of this state of such fact, and it shall thereupon become the duty of the said attorney general to examine into the affairs, condition and management of such society, and to report such examination in writing, together with a detailed statement of facts to the said governor, who shall lay the same before the legislature; and for the purpose of making such examination, the said attorney general shall have power to call to his assistance the services of an accountant, to administer all necessary oaths to the directors and officers of such society, and other witnesses, and to examine them on oath in relation to the affairs, conditions, and management thereof, and to examine the vaults, safes, securities, books, papers and documents belonging to such society, or pertaining to its affairs, condition and management; and if the said governor on receipt and consideration of such report shall deem such society to be insolvent, or to have conducted its business in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any of the laws of this state, he shall order and it shall be the duty of the said attorney general to institute proceedings against such society for the dissolution thereof in the proper court, and in the same manner as any other corporation may be proceeded against and dissolved.

SEC. 3275. Every officer of a society formed under this act, having the receipt or charge of any money or other property belonging to such society shall, before entering upon the execution of his office, become bound with two or more sufficient sureties, in such sum as the directors shall require, and according to the following form of bond:

Know all men by these presents, that we, A B, of ———, one of the officers of the ——— society, limited, established at ——— in the county of ——— in the state of Michigan, and C D and E F, of ——— (as sureties on behalf of the said A B), are jointly and severally held and firmly bound to the said society, in the sum of ——— dollars of lawful money of the United States, to be paid to the said society, for which payment well and truly to be made we jointly and severally bind ourselves, and each of us by himself, our and each of our heirs and representatives, firmly by these presents, sealed with our seals. Dated the ——— day of ——— in the year of our Lord ———.

Whereas, the above bounden A B, hath been duly appointed to the office of ——— of the ——— society, limited, established as aforesaid, and he, together with the above bounden C D and E F as his sureties, have entered into the above written bond, subject to the condition hereinafter contained: Now, therefore, the condition of the above written bond is such, that if the said A B shall and do justly and faithfully execute his said office, and shall and do render and enter a just and true account on such society's books of all moneys received and paid by him, and shall and do pay over all the moneys remaining in his hands, and deliver all securities and effects, books, papers, and property of or belonging to such society in his hands or custody, to such person or persons as such society shall appoint, or according to the bylaws of such society, together with the proper or legal receipts or vouchers for such payments, then the above written bond shall be void and of no effect; otherwise shall be and remain in full force and virtue.

SEC. 3276. If any director, officer, clerk, agent, servant, or other person in the employment of any society formed under this act, shall embezzle or fraudulently dispose of or convert to his own use, or shall take or secrete with intent to embezzle and convert to his own use, any money or property of such society, or of any of its dealers or customers, which shall have come to his possession, or shall be under his charge by virtue of such office or employment, or otherwise, he shall be deemed by so doing to have committed the crime of larceny, and shall be punished accordingly.

SEC. 3277. Service of legal process on any society formed under this act may be made on any one of the directors or on the manager thereof, or any other officer of such society, if any such director or manager or other officer be in the county where such society's principal office is located; but if not there, by leaving a copy of such process with any officer thereof, at such office as aforesaid.

SEC. 3278. It shall be lawful for any minor above fourteen years of age to take and hold shares in, or to make loans or deposits of money to or with any society formed under this act, and for such society to pay to any minor any moneys that may be due to him in respect of any such shares, loans, or deposits standing in his name, and his receipt therefor shall be in all respects valid in law; but such minor shall not be eligible to hold any office in such society, though he may, subject to its bylaws, vote at any meeting of its members.

SEC. 3279. It shall be lawful for any society formed under this act to charge its members, borrowers, or other persons, partnerships, or corporations doing business with it, by way of fine, for any default or delay in payment of periodical instalments on shares, loan repayments on bonds and mortgages or on notes and mortgages, or of any other moneys, at the time when the same are due and payable, at a rate not exceeding ten per centum per annum on the amount so past due and unpaid, which fines, however, shall not be in addition to, but in lieu of, interest on such arrearages; and such society may charge its members, borrowers, or other persons, partnerships, or corporations doing business with it, by way of fine for any breach or non-observance of its bylaws, or any of its business rules and regulations, such reasonable sum, not exceeding five dollars for each offence, as the directors shall determine and order; and all such fines shall be due and payable to such society in one month from such default or offence.

SEC. 3280. The bylaws of every society formed under this act shall set forth—

1. When and how persons may be admitted and registered as members of such society;
2. The terms on which shares to be known as permanent stock, and which shall not be repayable or withdrawable, are to be issued;
3. The terms on which other shares may be issued, and by what name or names they shall be known, and how they may be withdrawn or converted into permanent stock;
4. The form of certificate to be issued for the several denominations of shares, and how the same shall be registered;
5. When shares may be transferred, the forms and conditions of transfer;
6. Provisions for renewing lost or destroyed share certificates;
7. How shares in default may be forfeited and disposed of;
8. The amount of stock, not exceeding the limits prescribed by section six [3257] of this act, any one person may hold in his own name or right, and what amount may be held by persons jointly, by partnerships, and by corporations;

9. The conditions on which shares may be held by persons jointly, by partnerships, and by corporations;

10. When share subscriptions, loan repayments, or other moneys may be paid by members and borrowers;

11. When and how loans to, or deposits with, such society may be made;

12. The form of bond or certificate to be issued for such loans or deposits: Provided, that there shall be printed in red ink on the face of every such bond or certificate a notice referring the holder to sections three, four, and five [3254, 3255, and 3256] of this act;

13. The terms on which borrowers may obtain loans, and how such loans may be repaid and redeemed;

14. Provisions for the registration, custody, and delivery of securities;

15. Provisions for banking and checking the funds of such society;

16. Provisions for the custody and use of the corporate seal of such society;

17. How special meetings of the members of such society shall be called, and on which of the first fourteen days of February the annual meeting of such members shall be held;

18. What members may vote, and how they may vote, at any meeting of such society, and the regulations for the use of proxies;

19. How questions shall be submitted and decided at any meeting of members;

20. Provisions for adjourning or removing any meeting of members;

21. The number of directors and how the directors and auditors shall be elected at the annual meetings;

22. How and what officers other than directors and auditors shall be appointed and removed;

23. What shall disqualify and remove directors and auditors from office;

24. How vacancies in the directors, auditors, or other officers shall be filled;

25. The powers and duties of directors, auditors, and other officers;

26. The manner of remunerating the directors, auditors, and other officers;

27. That such society shall not be responsible for any trust, express or implied, created by any member in reference to its stock, or by parties loaning or depositing money to or with such society, and such society shall not be bound to see to the execution of any such trust, nor shall notice of any trust, express, implied, or constructive, be entered upon its registers;

28. That any member, borrower, or other person doing business with such society may see and examine his account on the books thereof;

29. Such other rules and regulations as such society's business may require.

SEC. 3281. Any society formed under this act may alter or rescind any bylaw, or make any additional bylaw, with the consent of a majority of its members (holding not less than two-thirds of its capital for the time being), present at a special meeting convened for that [such] purpose, but the notice calling such meeting shall set forth fully and clearly the proposed alteration, rescission, or addition.

SEC. 3282. The bylaws of any society formed under this act shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose, and such book shall be open during business hours for the inspection of the members. The bylaws so recorded shall be binding on the several officers and members of such society, and on all persons claiming on account of any or either of them, or under such bylaws, all of whom shall be deemed and taken to have full notice thereof by such record. The entry of such bylaws in the books of such society, or a true copy of the same, examined with the original, and proved to be a true copy, shall be received as evidence thereof in all courts and places.

SEC. 3283. It shall be the duty of every society formed under this act, to print and publish in pamphlet form, the whole of this act, and the whole of such society's articles of association and bylaws, and of any amendments, alterations, or additions thereto, and to supply a copy thereof to any person on demand, on payment therefor of a sum not exceeding fifty cents.

SEC. 3284. Any society formed under this act, desiring for any reason to be dissolved prior to the expiration of the term of years specified in its articles of association, may, with the consent of a majority of its members (holding not less than two-thirds of its capital for the time being) given by resolution passed at a special meeting convened for such purpose, file a petition in the circuit court for the county wherein it is located, setting forth—

1. The reasons for such dissolution;
2. The indebtedness of such society of all kinds, with a classification of its creditors; and
3. The assets and effects belonging to such society.

Upon the filing of such petition, said court or circuit judge may make an order for the appearance in said cause of all persons interested in such society, and in such form as shall be proper and just. On proof of the publication of such order, and the entering of appearance of such persons as shall have appeared therein, said court may proceed and take the proofs in said cause, and hear the same, and make such order or orders thereon as shall be just and proper; and may appoint one or more trustees for the purpose of winding up such society, and prescribe the compensation to be paid them therefor; and may direct the payment of creditors in such order and manner as said court may deem proper, having reference to the provisions of the organic act, the articles of association, and the bylaws of such society, and to the petition in said cause; and said court may provide that the claims of all creditors, who shall have appeared and made proof of the same in said cause, shall be paid before such society is dissolved; and said court may make an order that such society shall be dissolved; and a copy of said order of dissolution shall be filed, by the parties representing such society, in the offices of the secretary of state of this state, and of the clerk of the county wherein its articles of association were filed and recorded, and such order of dissolution shall be recorded by the said secretary and clerk in like manner as the articles of association of such society were recorded.

SEC. 3961. It shall and may be lawful for any number of persons, not less than ten, to associate themselves to form with such other persons as shall afterwards associate, a body politic and corporate, under such name as the original associates may select, for the purpose of saving and investing among themselves and accumulating sums to be paid at intervals of not exceeding one month, by its members, in proportion to their interests in the funds to be invested or accumulated.

SEC. 3962. The persons associating in the first instance shall make and subscribe in duplicate an instrument in writing, stating the name, location and place of business of such corporation; the amount of each share therein, the periods for payments on the shares, and the amount of each payment thereon; the maximum number of shares; the officers it will elect, which shall include a president, secretary and treasurer, and the first officers may be named therein; the times of the annual elections; and [the] period of the corporate existence of such corporation, which shall not be less than three years nor more than ten years, and be further limited to the number of periods necessary to pay in full the shares subscribed for in the manner proposed; the minimum number of shares to be subscribed for previous to the filing of said instrument as the articles of association of said corporation, and such rules and limitations as the subscribers shall deem proper to be inserted for the security of its members.

SEC. 3963. Whenever the necessary shares shall have been subscribed, any three or more of the subscribers may annex to one of the counterparts so executed an affidavit that the subscriptions are genuine and made in good faith as they believe, and thereupon such counterpart and affidavit shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the business of the corporation is to be conducted, and upon such filing the said association shall become a body politic and corporate, and such record or a certified copy thereof shall be evidence of such incorporation.

SEC. 3964. Such corporation shall in no case borrow moneys or receive deposits, with or without interest, nor shall it execute or endorse, or buy or sell commercial paper, or in any way engage in the business of banking; it shall accept no trusts or agencies, and shall engage in no business other than that of, or connected with, the collection of the dues of members of the corporation, and of liquidating the obligations of the corporation to its members.

SEC. 3965. The shares of such corporation shall be not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred and twenty-five dollars each; the total nominal amount of all such shares shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars; no person shall become the owner of more than sufficient of said shares to amount to the nominal value of two thousand and five hundred dollars; but a parent or guardian may, if authorized by the bylaws, sign for and become personally responsible for shares to be taken in his name as trustee for his infant child or children or ward, to such extent as the bylaws may permit, but not exceeding for each child or ward the said sum of twenty-five hundred dollars: Provided, however, that this provision shall not authorize such subscription by a guardian for a ward and payment out of the moneys of the ward, except authority for that purpose be given by the proper probate court.

SEC. 3966. Every holder of one or more shares in said corporation in his own right, who is of full age, shall be entitled to one vote and no more at all meetings of the corporation, and no vote by proxy shall be allowed. A quorum shall consist of such number not less than fifteen as the articles of association or bylaws shall prescribe.

SEC. 3967. At the time of organizing the corporation an initiation fee not exceeding one dollar may be charged to each member, and the amount of the initiation fee may be from time to time increased to such sum as in the judgment of the members constituting a quorum at any regular meeting may be required to make the investment of a new member equal to that of an original corporator.

SEC. 3968. The bylaws to be adopted by such corporation shall provide for the collection of fines by way of penalty for any failure to pay periodical dues, or to carry into effect any agreement made by the corporation with a member, or for any other infraction of the reasonable bylaws of the corporation or of its articles of association, and such fines shall be a lien upon the interest of the member upon whom they are imposed in the said corporation, which lien may be enforced and collected in such mode as the articles of association or bylaws may provide: Provided, however, that the amount of all unpaid fines chargeable against any member, who is not an officer of the corporation, shall at no time exceed the annual profits of such member upon the share or shares held by him, and any member, not an officer, shall be entitled at any time, by making a demand in writing, and a surrender to the corporation of all accrued profits, to be repaid all moneys paid by him on his share or shares, except initiation fees, and with such interest, if any, as the bylaws shall in such case [cases] provide. Such surrender of profits shall cancel all fines against members who are not officers, and the corporation shall repay such moneys before it shall make other liquidations of its liabilities to members. If any member shall continuously neglect for sixty days to pay the periodic dues required of or fines imposed upon him, it shall be lawful for the corporation to pay or tender to him the amount which he may have actually paid as periodic dues, without interest, or with such interest as the bylaws may in such cases provide for, and with or without the initiation fee, as the bylaws shall provide, and thereupon all the rights and liabilities of such member in the said corporation shall cease and determine.

SEC. 3969. Any member may dispose of any share held by him to any member holding less than the maximum number of shares, or to any other person who may be approved, in such manner and upon such conditions as the bylaws shall prescribe.

SEC. 3970, (as amended by act 74, acts of 1887). All arrangements for the liquidation of shares shall be made with a member of the corporation, upon security to be given, which security shall consist either of unencumbered real estate worth not less than twice the amount depending on such security, upon a bond or note and mortgage duly executed, acknowledged and recorded, or upon shares in said corporation upon estimates according to the dues actually paid thereon, or upon both such real estate security and such shares.

SEC. 3971. It shall and may be lawful at any regular meeting of the corporation to offer of [to] purchase, with any money then or soon to be in the treasury, the [share or] shares of the member who, at an auction or bidding there to be held, shall allow the greatest discount from the par value of his share or shares, upon a purchase of the same subject to the payment by the seller of the regular periodical dues and the payment by him of such additional periodic sums not exceeding the rate of seven per cent per annum on the nominal amount of the shares, as may be prescribed by the bylaws. If at the said auction or bidding no member present or represented shall offer to allow a discount, subject to the payment by him of such original and additional periodic dues, it shall be lawful to cast lots in such manner as the bylaws shall prescribe, to determine the share in said corporation, which shall be paid and extinguished with the said moneys, and the same shall be applied according to said lot upon the like securities being given as in other cases: Provided, that in case the owner of the share so designated by lot shall not give the requisite security, then that the money shall be deposited in some bank upon such interest as can be obtained, there to remain as security for such payments till by the regular application of the same to the payment of dues the share shall be fully paid: Provided further, however, that such portion of the same shall be paid to the owner of such share as in the judgment of the committee or officers authorized by the bylaws to decide can be safely paid and leave such payments to be made to the corporation adequately secured.

SEC. 3972. Any officer not acting as auctioneer may bid at any auction authorized by this act, but if the purchase shall be struck off to any officer having anything to do with the taking of securities or if the share of such officer shall be designated by the lot mentioned in the last preceding section, the security which such officer shall offer, shall be brought before a regular meeting of the corporators, and approved before any money shall be advanced or paid thereon.

SEC. 3973. No member of such corporation shall receive any greater pecuniary benefit or advantage from his share therein than its payment in full, at its nominal or par value; every discount and sum of interest allowed or paid, and every fine or penalty collected shall, equally and ratably in proportion to their shares, be for the benefit and advantage of selling and non-selling members, and every agreement which any shareholder may make in regard to payments for his share, or for additional payments in case of [a] sale thereof, shall be construed to have been fully performed whenever he shall have contributed in dues or additional dues, his ratable proportion of the sums necessary, with the profits accruing from initiation fees, discounts, dues, fines, and all other sources, after paying all expenses, to pay in full all shares in the corporation. Whenever such payments shall have been made, the said corporation shall cease and determine for all purposes, except winding up its affairs. The cancellation and discharge of a security given by a selling shareholder, to an amount equal to his share or shares, shall be deemed the payment thereof.

SEC. 3974. The interests of the shareholders of such corporations shall be deemed personal estate, and shall be liable to taxation in the ward or township in which they reside, which taxation shall be in lieu of all taxes against said corporation, and the books of every corporation of this class shall be so kept as to show the interests of each shareholder, and shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of officers charged with the duty of making assessments for any purpose.

SEC. 3975. No corporation authorized by this act shall become the owner of any real estate except by purchase at sales made upon foreclosure of mortgages taken by it, and in such case, the land purchased shall be sold and disposed of within two years after the purchase: Provided, however, that it may rent an office and room for holding the meetings of the corporators, as may be convenient or necessary.

SEC. 3976. Any voluntary association which, before the going into effect of this act, may have been organized for like purposes, may, by the unanimous consent and agreement in writing of its members, become a body corporate under this act, upon filing the original articles of association of its members, and such consent and agreement in writing; which consent and agreement shall state all particulars required by the second section [3962] of this act, not already stated in the original articles, and modify such articles, if necessary, to conform them to this act, with the county clerk of the county, as required by the third section [3963] hereof; and such articles, consent and agreement, having first annexed to them an affidavit made by three or more of the incorporators, that the signatures to such articles and consent and agreement are genuine, that the persons signing such consent and agreement are all the members of such association, and that such original articles, consent and agreement were executed in good faith as the affiants believe, being so duly filed and recorded on the record thereof, shall be evidence of the fact of incorporation, and all acts of such association of which a proper record shall have been kept from the date of its original organization, not inconsistent with this act, shall be deemed valid and binding as though the original organization had been under this act.

SEC. 3977. Every such corporation may require, by its bylaws or otherwise, bonds from its president, treasurer, and other officers, to the amounts and to the extent which it shall judge necessary to secure the safe keeping of its moneys and the faithful performance of the duties of its officers. The duties of all officers shall be prescribed by bylaws adopted by the corporators, and all powers granted by this act, not expressly devolved thereby, or by the articles of association, or some bylaw upon one or more officers of the corporation, shall be exercised by the corporators only, at meetings where the quorum required by section six [3966] shall be present.

SEC. 3978. Every corporation formed under this act shall, in the month of January in each year make a report in writing, under the oaths of two or more of its officers, showing the condition of its affairs at the close of the pending [preceding] year to the following extent:

1. The amount of its shares which have been subscribed for;
2. The amount which has been paid upon such subscriptions in dues and penalties;
3. The number of shares which have been purchased, and the gross amount of the discounts allowed upon purchases;
4. The number of shares otherwise paid or extinguished; and
5. The gross amount of the debts of the corporation;

Which report shall be filed in the office of the clerk of said county. The attorney general of the state may at any time require further and detailed reports to be made to him as to the affairs of any or all such corporations to any extent which in his judgment the public interests [interest] may require, and he may personally make any investigation of their books, papers, and securities which he shall judge for the interest of the public.

SEC. 3979. Every member of such corporation, and every creditor whose just claim exceeds twenty-five dollars, shall at all reasonable times be allowed to inspect the records and securities of said corporation.

SEC. 3980. The shareholders of every such corporation shall be severally and jointly liable for all labor performed for such corporation, but no suit shall be brought against them, or any of them, until after an execution shall have been returned unsatisfied against said corporation, or the same shall have been judicially declared bankrupt; and any stockholder who may have been so compelled to pay such debt may collect of any other stockholder his ratable proportion thereof.

SEC. 3981. The circuit court for the county in which any corporation organized under this act shall be located may, on application of the corporation, or on petition of any member or creditor aggrieved by delay in winding up its affairs, and notice to the corporation, make such order and direction as it shall deem best calculated to secure the just and speedy disposition of its unsettled or uncompleted business.

HOWELL'S ANNOTATED STATUTES, SUPPLEMENT OF 1883-1890.

SECTION 3981a. Whenever any number of persons, not less than five, may desire to become incorporated as a mutual building and loan association, for the purpose of building and improving homesteads and loaning money to the members thereof only, they shall make a statement to that effect, under their hands and seals, duly acknowledged before some officer, in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds. Such statement shall set forth the name of the proposed corporation, its capital stock, its location, and the duration of the corporation, which shall not exceed thirty years; which statement shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall thereupon authorize such persons to open books for subscription to the capital stock of said corporation, at such time and place as they may determine; but shall not authorize two corporations having the same name.

SEC. 3981b. As soon as one hundred shares or more of the capital stock shall be subscribed, a meeting of the subscribers shall be convened for the purpose of electing directors (not less than five in number), adopting bylaws, and the transaction of such other business as shall come before them. Notice thereof shall be given by depositing in the post office, properly addressed to each subscriber, at least five days before the time fixed, a written or printed notice, stating the object, time, and place of such meeting. Directors of such corporations, organized under this act, shall be elected, classified, and hold their office for such period of time as is provided in the bylaws of such corporation or association.

SEC. 3981c. The persons authorized to receive subscriptions to the capital stock of said corporation shall make a report of their proceedings, including therein a copy of the notice provided for in the foregoing section, a copy of the subscription list, a copy of the bylaws adopted by the corporation and the names of the directors elected, and their respective terms of office; which report shall be sworn to by at least a majority of them, and shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall thereupon make a copy of all papers filed in his office in and about the organization of the corporation, and duly authenticated under his hand and seal of state, and the same shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county in which the principal office of such company is located. Upon the recording of said copy the corporation shall be deemed fully organized and may proceed to business. Unless such company shall be organized and shall proceed to business as provided in this act within two years after the date of authorization, it shall be deemed revoked, and all the proceedings thereunder void.

SEC. 3981d. Corporations formed under this act shall be bodies corporate and politic for the period for which they are organized; may sue and be sued; may have a common seal which they may alter or renew at pleasure.

SEC. 3981e. The corporate powers shall be exercised by a board of directors: Provided, the number of directors shall not be increased or diminished, nor the term of office changed, without the consent of the owners of two-thirds of the shares of stock. The officers of the corporation must be members of the board of directors, and shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, and such other officers as may be provided for in the bylaws of such corporation or association, to be elected at the annual meeting of the board of directors as may be provided for in the bylaws of the corporation: Provided, that the expense of carrying on said corporation, including compensation for officers and directors, shall be provided for in the bylaws of such corporation: And provided, that the secretary and treasurer shall give bonds and security to be approved by the board of directors.

SEC. 3981f. The shares of stock shall not exceed two hundred dollars each and shall be deemed personal property, transferable upon the books of the company in such manner as may be provided by the bylaws, and subscriptions therefor shall be made payable to the corporation, and shall be payable in such periodical instalments and at such time as shall be determined by the bylaws; but no periodical payment to be made exceeding two dollars on each share. Said stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws shall direct, and every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited, and the stock may be issued in one or in successive series, as may be provided in the bylaws, and in such amount (not to exceed the total capital stock) as the board of directors may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation shall have the power to do so by giving thirty days' notice in writing at a stated meeting of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her, and such interest thereon or such proportion of the profits thereon as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges; but payments of the stock so withdrawn shall only be due when the funds applicable to the demand of withdrawing stockholders are sufficient to meet and liquidate the same, and then only in the order of the respective times of presentation of the notices of such withdrawal: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds of the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder his or her legal representative shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her on all shares not borrowed upon or pledged to the association as collateral security and such interest thereon or such proportion of the profits thereon as are granted to withdrawing stockholders, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock; but no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his or her decease unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payment of the dues on the stock.

SEC. 3981g. Married women may become subscribers to the capital stock of such corporation, and hold, control and transfer their stock in all respects as femmes sole, and their stock shall not be subject to the control of or liable for the debts of their husbands. Minors may become subscribers to and owners of the stock of such corporations by guardian or trustee, and such guardian or trustee may withdraw the stock of such minor, as provided in section six [3981f.] of this act: Provided, however, that such guardian or trustee shall give bonds to the probate court in double the amount of the withdrawal value of such stock, for the use of such minor on his or her becoming of age; but it is hereby provided that the owner or legal representative of the stock of such association shall be entitled to vote at any election, when the stockholders are called upon to vote, in the manner provided in the bylaws of such association: And provided further, that no stockholder shall cast more than forty votes.

SEC. 3981h. The board of directors shall hold such stated meetings as may be provided by the bylaws, at which the money in the treasury, if more than the amount fixed by the bylaws as a full value of a share, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference of priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by the bylaws as the full value of a share of stock, for each share of stock held by the stockholder. The said premium bid may be deducted from loan in one amount, or may be paid in such proportional amounts or instalments and at such times during the existence of the shares of stock borrowed upon, as may be designated by the bylaws of the respective associations: Provided, that no loan shall be made by said corporation except to its own members, nor in any sum in excess of the amount of stock held by such members borrowing. Good and ample real estate security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan, but when the amount at risk shall exceed three-fourths of the appraised value of real estate other collateral security shall be required as provided in bylaws of association: Provided, how- ever, that the stock of such association may be received as security, to the amount of the withdrawal value of such stock.

SEC. 3981i. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with one month's interest, together with any expenses incurred, and the loss in premium, if any, on a resale, and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments, or interest and fines, by borrowing stockholders for the space of six months, payments of principal and interest and fines, without deducting the premium paid or the interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings against their securities, according to law, upon the order of the board of directors: Provided, that fines or penalties for the non-payment of instalments of dues, interest, and bonus of premium, shall not exceed two per centum per month on all arrearages.

SEC. 3981j. A borrower may repay a loan at any time, and in the event of the repayment thereof before the expiration of the [eighth] eight year after organization of the association, [or] on the date of issue of the series of stock in such association on which the loan may have been made, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years then unexpired: Provided, that where the said premium has not been deducted from the loan, but paid in instalments, there shall be no premium refunded, and any mutual building and loan association, which may have heretofore been incorporated under the laws of the state of Michigan, may avail itself of all the powers conferred by this act: Provided, that at the time of such repayment the stock upon which such loan is based shall be withdrawn in the manner provided in section six [3981f] of this act relative to withdrawing stockholders.

SEC. 3981k. Corporations organized under this act being of the nature of cooperative associations, therefore no premium, fines, nor interest on such premiums that may accrue to the said corporation, according to the provisions of this act, shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected as other debts of like amount may be collected by law in this state.

SEC. 3981l. No corporation or association created under this act shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect officers at the time mentioned in their bylaws, and all officers elected by such corporations shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

SEC. 3981m. Any loan or building association incorporated by or under this act is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whomsoever.

SEC. 3981n. Any loan or building association incorporated under this act, or any prior act, may extend the duration of time for which such association was organized by a vote of two-thirds of the capital stock of such association at any annual meeting of the stockholders of such association; thereupon the board of directors shall transmit a copy of the proceedings of such annual meeting, duly attested, to the secretary of state, who shall make a duly authenticated copy thereof, as provided in said section three [3981c] of this act, certifying to the extensions of time of such corporation, and the same shall be recorded as provided in said section three [3981c] of this act, and any building and loan association incorporated under any prior act, and extending the duration of the time for which it was incorporated, in the manner herein provided, shall be deemed as incorporated under and be vested with all of the power given in this act, the same as though such corporation had been originally incorporated under it.

SEC. 3981o. Each association formed under the provisions of this act shall, at the close of its first year's operations, and annually at the same period in each year thereafter, publish in at least two newspapers published in the same place where their business may be located, or if no newspaper be published in such place, then in any two newspapers published nearest such place, a concise statement, verified by the oaths of its president and secretary, showing the actual financial condition of the association, and the amount of its property and liabilities, specifying the same particularly.

SEC. 3981p. The shares held by any member, being a householder, of any association incorporated under the provisions of this act shall be exempted from levy and sale on execution or attachment to the amount of one thousand dollars in such shares, at the par value thereof: Provided, that such exemption shall not apply to any person who shall have a homestead exempted under the general laws of this state.

SEC. 3981q. The shares held by any member of any such association incorporated under the provisions of this act, and all mortgages or other securities held by such associations, shall be exempted from all municipal or other tax under the laws of this state.

MINNESOTA.

GENERAL STATUTES OF 1878, EDITION OF 1883.

CHAPTER 11.

SECTION 22, (as amended by chapter 78, laws of 1885). The president, secretary, or principal accounting officer of any company or association, whether incorporated or unincorporated, whose taxation is specifically provided for in this act, shall make out and deliver to the assessor a sworn statement of the amount of its capital stock, setting forth particularly:

1. The name and location of the company or association.
2. The amount of capital stock authorized, and the number of shares into which said capital stock is divided.
3. The amount of capital stock paid up.
4. The market value, or if they have no market value, then the actual value of the shares of stock.
5. The total amount of all indebtedness, except the indebtedness for current expenses, excluding from such expenses the amount paid for the purchase or improvement of property.
6. The value of all its real property, if any.
7. The value of its personal property.

The aggregate amount of the fifth, sixth and seventh items shall be deducted from the total amount of the fourth item, and the remainder, if any, shall be listed as "bonds or stocks," under subdivision twenty-four of section sixteen of this act. The real and personal property of such company or association shall be listed and assessed the same as other personal property.

In all cases of failure or refusal of any person, officer, company or association, to make such return or statement, it shall be the duty of the assessor to make such return or statement from the best information he can obtain. The monthly instalments deposited in building associations and subject to withdrawal on demand, or on thirty (30) or sixty (60) days' notice, as provided in the bylaws of such associations, are an indebtedness which may be deducted from the value of their stock as provided in this section. Mortgages of said associations, which are represented in their stock and assessed as stock, shall not be assessed as mortgages. They shall list their real estate and all personal property as provided in this section.

CHAPTER 23.

SECTION 8, (as amended by chapter 66, acts of 1879). * * * But none of the provisions of the act [usury law] shall apply to mutual building associations.

CHAPTER 34.

SECTION 2. They [saving fund, building, or loan associations] shall organize by adopting and signing articles of incorporation, which shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the principal place of business is to be, and also in the office of the secretary of state, in books kept for such purposes.

SEC. 3. Said articles shall contain:

1. The name of the corporation, the general nature of the business, and the principal place, if any, of the transacting [of] the same.
2. The time of commencement and the period of continuance of said corporation.
3. The amount of capital stock of said corporation, and how to be paid in.
4. The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time be subject.
5. The names and places of residence of the persons forming such association for incorporation.
6. The names of the first board of directors, and in what officers or persons the government of the corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested, and when the same are elected.
7. The number and amount of the shares in the capital stock of said corporation.

And shall be published for four successive weeks in some newspaper printed and published at the capital of the state, or in the county where such corporation is organized: Provided, that in cases where articles of incorporation have been adopted and signed, or may hereafter be adopted and signed, as provided in sections two and three of this chapter, and filed for record in the office of the secretary of state, the publication of the same for one week in some newspaper printed and published at the capital of the state, or in some newspaper printed and published in the county where such corporation is organized, shall be a sufficient publication under this chapter; and upon filing an affidavit of proof of such publication in the office of the secretary of state, the persons named in such articles shall thereupon become a corporation, with the authority and powers in this chapter provided and intended.

SEC. 4. When articles are filed, recorded and published as aforesaid, the persons named as incorporators therein become a body corporate, and are authorized to proceed to carry into effect the objects set forth in said articles in accordance with the provisions of this title, and shall have perpetual succession, sue and be sued by its corporate name, have a common seal, which it may alter at pleasure, may render the interest of its stockholders transferable, establish bylaws, and make all rules and regulations deemed expedient for the management of its affairs, in accordance with law, and not incompatible with an honest purpose; and whenever, after the adoption, filing, publication and recording of the articles of incorporation, as provided for in section three of said chapter, and the creation thereby of a body corporates the said corporation so created shall resolve to alter, modify, or change any of it, articles of incorporation, such corporation may, by resolution duly passed at any regular meeting of the directors thereof, adopt a new article or articles, altering, modifying or changing any of the original articles of incorporation: Provided, such alteration, modification or change shall only relate to and affect the name of such incorporation, the general nature of its business, and the principal place of transacting the same, the amount of its capital stock, and how to be paid in, the highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time be subject, and the number and amount of the shares of its capital stock: And provided further, that no such new and amended articles of incorporation shall be operative or valid to alter, modify or change such original articles of incorporation until the same shall be filed, published and recorded in the same manner and with like formalities that the original articles of incorporation are now required to be filed, published and recorded; and when so adopted, the said amended articles of incorporation shall be substituted for and take the place of the original articles of incorporation so amended.

SEC. 7. A statement of the amount of the capital stock subscribed, the amount of capital actually paid in, and the amount of indebtedness of the company, in a general way, shall also be kept posted up in like manner, which statement shall be corrected as often as any material change takes place in relation to any part of the subject matter of such statement.

SEC. 8. The transfer of shares is not valid, except as between the parties thereto, until it is regularly entered on the books of the company, so far as to show the names of the persons by and to whom transferred, the numbers or other designation of the shares, and the date of the transfer; but such transfer shall not in any way exempt the person making such transfer from any liabilities of said corporation which were created prior to such transfer. The books of the company shall be so kept as to show intelligibly the original stockholders, their respective interests, the amount which has been paid in on their shares, and all transfers thereof; and such books, or a correct copy thereof, so far as the items mentioned in this section are concerned, shall be subject to the inspection of any person desiring the same.

SEC. 9. The private property of each stockholder in any corporation formed as herein provided is liable for corporate debts in the following cases:

1. For all unpaid instalments on stock owned by him, or transferred for the purpose of defrauding creditors.
2. For a failure by the corporation to comply substantially with the provisions aforesaid as to organization and publicity.
3. When he personally violates any of the provisions of this title in the transaction of any business of the corporation as officer, director or member thereof, or is guilty of any fraud, unfaithfulness or dishonesty in the discharge of any official duty.

SEC. 10. The private property of no stockholder shall be levied on under the preceding section, unless such stockholder, as well as the corporation, is duly served with process in the action, and the issue involving his individual liability as aforesaid raised and determined; and in no case whatever shall such property be levied on while sufficient corporate property can be found to satisfy the execution or any part thereof.

SEC. 11. The officer holding an execution which may be levied on private property, as aforesaid, shall make demand of payment thereon of the president, secretary, or some officer of the corporation, acting, or who was one of the last acting officers thereof; and if he does not forthwith pay said execution, or point out corporate property that may be levied on, the officer shall indorse the fact of such demand, refusal or neglect upon said execution, and thereupon may levy the same upon the private property of the stockholder served and impleaded as aforesaid. Such levy may be made to satisfy any balance due upon the execution after levy upon corporate property, or part payment out of corporate funds.

SEC. 109. Any number of persons, not less than three, who have or shall, by articles of agreement in writing, associate according to the provisions of this title, under any name assumed by them, for the purpose of engaging in or carrying on the business of * * * saving fund, loan or building association, * * * and who have or shall comply with the provisions of this title, shall, with their associates, successors and assigns, constitute a body corporate and politic, under the name assumed by them in the articles of agreement: Provided, no company shall take a name previously assumed by any other company. * * * Such association or corporation is authorized to loan money and funds, and secure such loan by mortgage, or other security; and * * * any premium for preference or priority taken by any mutual building association for any loan of its funds by such building association, shall not be deemed interest within the meaning of any law of this state, nor shall any excess of such premiums over any rate of interest permitted by the laws of this state be deemed or held, in any court of law or equity, to be usury. Any association organized under this title is authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, and to hold, any real estate upon which such associates or association may have or hold any mortgage or judgment, or lien, or other incumbrance, or in which such associates or association may have an interest; and the real estate so purchased, to sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure, to any person or persons, or purchasers whatever: Provided, however, that no mutual building association, nor association for buying, selling and dealing in lands, tenements and hereditaments, shall loan its funds except to its own members.

SEC. 110. The provisions of sections two, three, four, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, * * * of title one [chapter 34], shall apply to and be observed by corporations organizing under this title.

SEC. 112, (as amended by chapter 220, laws of 1889). The amount of capital stock in any such corporation shall in no case be less than ten thousand (10,000) dollars, and shall be divided into shares of not less than two (2) dollars nor more than one hundred (100) dollars each; except that the capital stock of mutual building and loan associations may be divided into shares of two hundred (200) dollars each, and the capital stock and number of shares may be increased at any regular or special meeting of the stockholders.

SEC. 113. Every such corporation has power to acquire, hold and transfer all such real and personal estate as is necessary or convenient for the purpose of conducting, carrying on, or disposing of the business of such corporation.

SEC. 114. The stock of any such corporation shall be deemed personal property, and be transferable only on the books of such corporation, in such form as the directors prescribe; and such corporation shall at all times have a lien upon the stock or property of its members invested therein, for all the debts due from them to such corporation, which may be enforced by advertisement and sale in the manner provided for selling delinquent stock.

SEC. 115. The directors shall cause a record to be kept of all stock subscribed and transferred, and of all business transactions, and their books and records shall at all times be open to the inspection of any and all stockholders; they shall also, when required, present to the stockholders reports in writing of the situation and amount of business of the corporation, and declare and make such dividends of the profits from the business of the corporation, not reducing the capital stock while they have outstanding liabilities.

SEC. 116. The directors of any corporation organized under this title have power to establish one or more offices without this state, and transact business thereat: Provided, that an office shall always be maintained in this state where legal process may be served on the person in charge thereof.

SEC. 117. No corporation shall be formed under this title to continue more than thirty years.

SEC. 118. The shareholders or stockholders in any body politic or corporate which has been or hereafter may be incorporated pursuant to the provisions of title two of chapter thirty-four of the General Statutes of this state, may amend the articles of association of such body corporate in any respect which might have been lawfully made a part of such original articles, by adopting, by a majority vote in number and amount of such shareholders and shares, articles specifying such amendments.

SEC. 119. Any body politic or corporate amending its original articles of association, shall cause to be prepared a certificate stating the time when and the respect in which such articles were amended, which certificate shall be subscribed and sworn to by the president or other chief executive officer, and also by the secretary of such body politic or corporate, and shall also be filed, published and recorded in the same manner provided by law for the filing, recording and publication of such original articles; and thereupon such amendments shall be and become a part of the articles of such body corporate, with the same force and effect as if such amendments had been adopted as a part of such original articles.

GENERAL LAWS OF 1889.

SECTION 1, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Whenever any number of persons, not less than ten (10), desire to be incorporated as a building and loan association, for the purpose of accumulating the savings and funds of its members and lending them only the funds so accumulated, they shall make and execute a written declaration to that effect, in the form now provided by statute for the execution of deeds of real estate, to entitle the same to record. Said declaration shall state the name of such association, its principal place of business, which shall be within this state, the limit of capital to be accumulated, the time of its duration, the names and places of residence of such persons, and that it is organized under this act for the purposes herein expressed. When so executed, said declaration shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, whereupon such officer shall issue a copy of such declaration under his certificate, in proper form, setting forth the time and place of filing and recording thereof in his office, which declaration and certificate shall thereupon be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where said association is located, and published once in a daily or weekly newspaper printed and published and of general circulation in said county. Upon complying with the foregoing requirements, and upon filing an affidavit of proof of such publication in the office of the secretary of state, the persons executing such declaration, their associates and successors, shall become a corporate body.

SEC. 2, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The name shall not be the same as, nor too closely resemble, that in use by any existing corporation established under the laws of this state. The words "building and loan association," or "savings and loan association," shall form a part of the same, and no corporation not organized under this act shall be entitled to use a name embodying either said combination of words; Providing, that associations now existing may continue their present names.

SEC. 3, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The directors of such association shall adopt bylaws for its government, and therein describe the manner in which its business shall be transacted, which bylaws shall be conformable to the provisions of this act and the laws of this state, and at all times be open to the inspection of all members of the association at its home office, and a copy thereof and of any amendments thereto, duly certified by the president and secretary of the association, shall, immediately upon its adoption, be filed in the office of the public examiner. The directors may amend said bylaws from time to time in such manner as they see fit, so long as such amendments are not in conflict with the provisions of this act or the laws of the state.

Every such association which has not already done so shall, before its next annual election after the passage of this act, divide its board of directors, by resolution thereof, into three (3) classes, consisting of an equal number in each class, as nearly as may be. The term of office of the first (1st) class shall expire at the end of one (1) year from and after the next annual election, of the second (2d) class at the end of two (2) years, and of the third (3d) class at the end of three (3) years; and at each succeeding annual election after the one at which the full board is elected, there shall be elected a number of directors equal to those whose terms of office expire at that time, and the directors so elected shall hold their office for the term of three (3) years and until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 4, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). For every loan made, a note, non-negotiable, or bond, secured by first (1st) mortgage on real estate, shall be given, which security shall be in double the value of the loan and satisfactory to the directors, and shall be accompanied by a transfer and pledge of the shares of the borrowers to the association. The shares so pledged shall be held by the corporation as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of said note or bond and mortgage; Provided, that the shares, without other security, may, in the discretion of the directors, be accepted as security for the loans for an amount not exceeding their withdrawal value, as provided by this act. Stockholders who have borrowed money of an association on real estate security, and who have pledged their stock or any portion thereof as collateral thereto, as provided herein, shall not be entitled to have the value of such stock applied on the mortgage debt where the payment on such stock is more than three (3) months in arrears, unless the same has reached a withdrawal age as fixed by this act; and when such stock has reached that age the withdrawal value thereof shall be applied on said debt whenever the stock is three (3) months in arrears.

SEC. 5, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any such association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which it may have any interests, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons, and may acquire and hold a lot or lots whereon is erected a building or buildings requisite for the convenient transaction of its business, and from portions of which not required for its own use a revenue may be derived. The cost of such building and lot or lots in no case to exceed five (5) per cent of its assets; Provided, that any such association may acquire any leasehold interest necessary for the transaction of its business.

SEC. 6, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Every building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state and governed by this act shall deposit and keep with the state treasurer, or with a duly chartered trust company of this state, approved by the public examiner, in trust for all its members and creditors, all mortgages or other securities received by it in the usual course of its business. When deposited with a trust company, such company shall certify to the public examiner the possession of such securities, and the same shall not be surrendered without the authority and sanction of said public examiner. Provided, that every such corporation heretofore organized not having or owning mortgage or other securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) shall deposit with the state treasurer additional securities to make, with the securities so owned and deposited, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); and every such association hereafter organized under this act shall deposit and keep with the state treasurer in trust, as aforesaid, securities of the value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) before commencing to do business. The securities mentioned in this proviso shall consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States, or national bank stocks, or the bonds of this state, or of any other state of the United States, or of any solvent city, county or town of this state, or of any other state of the United States, having the legal authority to issue the same; and such securities may be withdrawn from time to time, when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited as provided in this act, or when securities of like character are substituted therefor, or when the same shall have been paid or are required for foreclosure or suit; and it shall be the duty of the public examiner from time to time to examine such association to ascertain whether or not its securities are deposited as required by this act.

Provided, that whenever required by the laws of any other state or territory, or nation, all securities taken in such state, territory or nation, by any association organized under the laws of this state and subject to the provisions of this act, and other securities sufficient to allow such association to enter and do business in such state, territory or nation, may be deposited with some officer authorized to receive the same in such state, territory or nation, under the laws thereof, for the benefit of its members and creditors; and to this end, upon the presentation to the public examiner of a duly authenticated copy of a resolution of the board of directors of any such association, having on deposit with the state treasurer or a duly chartered trust company securities in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), demanding the transfer and specifying the securities to be transferred, or the amount thereof, to any other state, territory or nation, for the purpose of enabling such association to comply with the laws thereof, it shall be the duty of the public examiner to cause such transfer to be made. The expense of making such transfer shall be borne by the association requiring the same, and a receipt shall be taken by the officer or trust company making the transfer, and filed and kept in the office from which the securities are transferred in lien thereof. But the securities kept on deposit in this state by any such association, as required by this act, shall at no time be reduced in amount by such transfer, or otherwise, below twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); and in every case where securities taken in another state, territory or nation are deposited in such state, territory or nation, or when other securities are removed from this state to such other state, territory or nation for the purpose aforesaid, the association to which they belong shall make a certificate of such depository, showing the amount and character of such deposit which certificate shall be filed with the public examiner, and renewed annually, together with a statement, verified by the affidavit of some officer of such association who has knowledge of the facts, showing all the securities taken or deposited by such association in such state, territory or nation at the time of the filing of such certificate; and, in case any securities taken in such state, territory or nation are not deposited there, then the same shall be deposited in this state as required by this act.

SEC. 7, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All interests and dividends and premiums which may accrue on securities held by the state treasurer or such trust company, as provided for herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are so deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all contracts with its members; and when any mortgage shall have been fully paid to said corporation, the same may be surrendered to it, upon filing with the depository the affidavit of the president or vice-president and secretary of any such association that such indebtedness has been paid in full, which affidavit shall be first presented to the public examiner and by him approved. And any mortgage upon which default has been made may be surrendered as aforesaid, for foreclosure, upon like affidavit that default exists and that such mortgage is withdrawn for the purpose of foreclosure of suit.

SEC. 8, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or nation, shall do business in this state unless such association shall have securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), and of the character mentioned in this act, on deposit in trust, for all its members and creditors, with some responsible trust company duly incorporated under the laws of such state or territory in the United States, or with some authorized officer of this or some other state of the United States. Certificates of such deposit shall be made to the public examiner of this state, certifying the possession of such securities, which shall not thereafter be surrendered without the authority or consent of the public examiner or other authorized officer of the state or territory in which said company is incorporated.

SEC. 9, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Every building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or nation, shall, before commencing to do business in this state, first, file with the public examiner of this state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation; second, file with the public examiner of this state the certificate of the authorized officer of another state showing that securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) are on deposit with such state officer or duly incorporated trust company, in trust for all the members and creditors of such building and loan association; third, file with the public examiner of this state a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association, stipulating and agreeing that if any legal process affecting such association be served on such examiner, and a copy thereof be mailed postage prepaid by the party procuring the issue of the same, or his attorneys, to said association, addressed to its home office, then such service and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association in this state, and also an agreement that said association will not remove any action commenced in any state court of this state against the same to the United States court, and will pay every judgment that may be taken against it upon any such action within sixty (60) days after the final judgment shall have been entered; fourth, pay to the public examiner twenty-five dollars ($25) as fees for filing the papers mentioned in this section.

SEC. 10, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the public examiner, the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the public examiner, and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid, to the home office of said association.

SEC. 11, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The word "process" in this act shall include any writ, declaration, summons or order whereby any action, writ or proceedings shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit or proceeding authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 12, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Service of process according to a stipulation provided in section nine (9) of this act shall be sufficient personal service on the association filing such stipulation.

SEC. 13, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). When by the laws of any other state, territory or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on building and loan associations of this state doing business in such other state, territory or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force the same obligation and prohibition, of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other state, territory or nation, doing business in this state, and upon their agents here.

SEC. 14, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state or territory, that shall remove any action that shall be commenced against it in a court of this state to the United States court, or that shall fail to pay any judgment rendered against it upon a suit in any court of the state within sixty (60) days after the rendition of final judgment in such case, or that shall fail to make yearly statements to the public examiner as hereafter mentioned, or statements of the amount and value of its stock held in this state as hereafter required, or to pay the fees of the public examiner as provided in this act, or to do any other act required in this act to be done and performed, shall upon violation of the provisions of this act have no right or authority to do or transact any further business in this state, and the public examiner shall thereupon cause notice of determination of such authority to do business to be mailed to such corporation and to be published in some newspaper of general circulation at the capital of this state, and shall communicate the facts to the attorney general of this state, who shall institute such proceedings in the matter as the case may require; Provided, any such corporation may be again authorized to commence business in this state upon such terms as the public examiner may deem just and proper, and upon full compliance with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 15, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All building and loan associations hereafter incorporated in this state shall have an authorized capital of two million dollars ($2,000,000) at the time of the incorporation. Every share of capital stock issued by any such association shall be of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100), but this provision shall not be construed to forbid the issue by any such association of paid-up certificates for a less amount in liquidation of stock surrendered for cancellation or withdrawn before reaching its maturity period; Provided, that such paid-up certificates shall be certificates of indebtedness only, and the stock in liquidation of which certificates are issued shall be thereupon surrendered and cancelled.

SEC. 16, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state may at any time increase the amount of its capital stock by a vote of at least three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of its board of directors; Provided, that no such increase shall be made unless three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the capital stock previously authorized has actually been issued, and the amount of increase made at any one time shall not exceed the amount issued previous to the time of such increase. Any amendments of the articles of incorporation of any such association in any other respect shall be done at an annual meeting, by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of stock represented and voted at such annual meeting on the question of such amendment or amendments, and only upon the notice hereinafter provided to be given.

SEC. 17, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Whenever any building and loan association increases its capital stock or otherwise amends its articles of incorporation, as provided in this act, a copy of the resolution of the board of directors or stockholders making such increase or other amendment, duly verified by oath of the president and secretary of each association, shall be filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the home of said association is located and in the office of the secretary of state, and be published four successive times in some daily or weekly newspaper published at the capital of the state or in the county where the association has its home office, proof of which publication shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 18, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). In each year every building and loan association organized under the laws of this state and doing business in this or any other territory shall, within thirty (30) days after the end of the year for which its report to its stockholders is made, deposit with the public examiner an annual report of its affairs and operations for said year. Such report shall be verified under oath of the president and secretary or by three directors of the association, and shall contain the following information:

1. The amount of authorized capital and the par value of each share of stock.
2. The number of shares sold during the year.
3. The number of shares cancelled and withdrawn during the year.
4. The number of shares in force at the end of the year.
5. A detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements during the year.
6. A detailed statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year.

Such report shall also show the total amount received as dues on stock under each separate class or kind of stock, and all deductions therefrom for expenses, withdrawals, cancellations, forfeitures, refunded or otherwise, and the amounts, if any, of such profits credited to stock or subject to such credit. The report shall also show the number of shares in force of each monthly issue or series, and the amount expended during the year in payment of salaries of officers, clerks, agents and all other employes, the amount expended for travelling expenses, rent, postage, including telegraph and express charges, printing, books and stationery, office supplies, office furniture, advertising, commission paid agents or other persons, and all other items of expense.

In addition to such annual report, and six (6) months after such report has been submitted to the public examiner, every such association shall prepare a report of its business for the preceding six (6) months, which report shall state the amount of resources included in mortgage loans, the amount of loans on stock of the association, the amount of loans on other securities, specifying the kind of such securities, the amount of unpaid dues, fines, premiums and interest, the amount due from agents, the amount due from banks, the amount invested in real estate and secured by foreclosure, the amount invested in furniture and fixtures, the amount of expenses paid during the six (6) months, the amount of cash on hand, and the amount of all other resources of the association not enumerated heretofore; and shall state as its liabilities the amount received from stock subscriptions, the amount due from stock delinquent in each class or kind of stock, and the unpaid fines on such stock, the amount set aside as an expense fund from each class or kind of stock, the amount of undivided profits at the beginning of said period of six (6) months, the amount received as interest, premiums, fees, fines or other sources as profits during said period, the amount of such interest and premium delinquent at the end of such period, the amount of all bills payable, and the amount of all other liabilities at the close of said period of six (6) months. Such report shall be made within twenty (20) days after the close of said period of six (6) months, and shall be verified by the secretary and president or vice-president of the association, and within thirty (30) days a statement of the assets and liabilities shall be published at least once in some newspaper in the city or town where the association's principal place of business is, and a copy of such semi-annual report, verified by the secretary, shall be filed with the public examiner within ten (10) days after the printing thereof. Provided, that all such statements herein required to be made shall be uniform and in accordance with a form to be prescribed therefor by the public examiner, and shall correctly show the proportion which the entire expenses of the association for the term reported bear to the gross earnings of said association for that term; And provided further, that all reports required of building and loan associations organized under the laws of this state and doing a general business, are also required of all foreign building and loan associations doing business in this state, and all the provisions of this act relating to such reports, the filing thereof and the fees therefor, shall apply to such foreign building and loan associations.

If any such association shall fail to furnish to the public examiner of the state any report required by this act at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, and the examiner may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the expenses of the department of said examiner. After receiving such annual report, the public examiner, if satisfied that such corporation has complied with all [the] provisions of this act and is entitled to do business in this state, shall issue his certificate stating the compliance with such provision, and that such corporation is entitled to do business in this state, which certificate shall be in force for the period of one (1) year, unless sooner rescinded, as provided in this act. The public examiner shall also issue such certificate to a domestic corporation which has complied with the law in regard to its articles of incorporation and the deposit of securities and in all other respects except the filing of said report, which commenced business at some intervening period in any year. Such certificate shall also be issued to any foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state, after complying with the conditions of section nine (9) of this act, and shall be in force until the time herein required for such annual report.

SEC. 19, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). It shall be the duty of such public examiner, at least once in each year and as often as he may deem necessary, to assume and exercise over every building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state, its business, officers, directors and employes, all the power and authority conferred upon him over banks and other moneyed corporations under the laws of this state; Provided, he shall not have the power to suspend the operations of any such association, except in the manner provided in the next succeeding section. And such public examiner shall have the same supervision and control over the business, within this state, of other corporations of like kind, incorporated under the laws of other states, territories or nations, doing business in this state. Upon the completion of any examination of any association made by said public examiner, or under his direction, the association so examined shall pay to said examin a fee, to be determined as follows, viz.: for the first one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of assets, a fee of ten dollars ($10), and for each additional one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of assets, or major portion thereof, an additional fee of five dollars ($5).

SEC. 20, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). If it shall appear to said public examiner, from any examination made by him, or from any report of any examination made by him, or from the annual report aforesaid, that said corporation is violating its charter or the law, or that it is conducting business in an unsafe, unauthorized or dishonest manner, he shall, by an order under his hand and seal of office addressed to such corporation, direct conformity with the requirements of its charter and of the law. And whenever such corporation shall refuse or neglect to make such report or account as may be lawfully required, or to comply with such order as aforesaid, the public examiner shall file a statement in writing with the attorney general, setting forth the facts or particulars in which such alleged violation or refusal consists, which statement shall be prima facie evidence of such violation or refusal, whereupon the attorney general shall institute such proceedings against any such corporations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law in the case of insolvent corporations, or such other proceedings as the occasion may require. And if such corporation shall have been organized under the laws of any other state or territory, said attorney general shall, upon receiving such communication, if in his judgment the facts in the case are sufficient to warrant such action, give notice to such corporation that it is no longer authorized to do business in this state, by depositing such notice in the post office, properly sealed and stamped, addressed to said corporation at its principal office in the state where incorporated, and thereupon said corporation shall cease to have any right in this state, and said notice may be published in the same manner as provided in section fourteen (14) of this act.

SEC. 21, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All officers of any building and loan association governed by this act and doing business in this state, who sign or endorse checks or handle any funds of such association, shall give such bonds or fidelity insurance for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors and the public examiner, with whom such bond shall be filed; Provided, that the public examiner may require of any association, at any time, such increase of said bond or additional security thereto or such increase of said insurance as he may deem necessary for the protection of the members. The penalty for the failure of any association to file and maintain the bonds or policy as required by the provisions of this section shall be a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day such association transacts business after such bond has become due under the provisions of this act. Said bond or policy shall be held in trust for the benefit and protection of the members of such association, and shall be enforceable by any member whenever the cause of action shall accrue thereon.

SEC. 22, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The name "building and loan association," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, organizations or associations doing a saving and loan or investment business on the building society plan, whether mutual or otherwise, and whether issuing certificates of stock, which mature at a fixed time in advance, or not.

SEC. 23, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any officer, director, or agent, or any foreign building and loan association, or any other person whatever, who shall in this state solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or who shall sell or issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued to a resident of this state any stock of such association while such association shall not have had the certificate of the public examiner authorizing it to do business in this state as herein described, or has not deposited, as required by this act, securities of the value and at the time herein prescribed, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this act, or when said association shall have been notified and required to discontinue business in this state, as hereinbefore provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment of not less than ten (10) days nor more than six (6) months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 24, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any officer, director or agent of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state, or any other person whatever, who shall sell or issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued to any person not a resident of the county in which the home office of said association is located, or in the counties immediately adjacent thereto, any stock of said association while said association does not have on deposit with the public examiner or some loan and trust company, as required by this act, securities of the value and at the time hereinafter prescribed, or while such association shall not have a certificate of the public examiner authorizing it to do business as herein prescribed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100), and not more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment of not less than ten (10) days nor more than six (6) months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 25, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any premium for loans made by any association governed by this act shall not be considered or treated as interest nor render such association amenable to the laws relating to usury.

SEC. 26, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Every such association heretofore organized under the laws of this state or incorporated under this act shall not issue preferred stock, but may issue different series of stock, and all shares of stock hereafter issued shall be of the par value when matured of one hundred dollars ($100) each. Any such association may issue instalment stock to be paid in periodical sums, and prepaid stock upon which a gross sum shall be paid in advance, and which instalment and prepaid stock shall mature when the amount so paid, together with the dividends declared upon the same, shall equal the par value of such stock (and a dividend bearing prepaid stock upon which a larger sum is paid than on the prepaid stock, and upon which a partial dividend may be paid annually out of the full dividend apportioned thereto); and may also issue full paid stock upon which the par value thereof shall be paid in advance, in the certificate of which stock the right of withdrawal may be waived for a definite time, and upon which full paid stock a full dividend or a definite dividend may be paid, which dividend shall in no case exceed the per cent of profits earned by all classes or series of stock at the time said dividend is declared. Any such association may issue from time to time a limited amount of guaranty or permanent stock, for which the full par value shall be paid at the time of issue or in instalments of five dollars ($5) one each share, from time to time, at the option of the purchaser, until the full par value of one hundred dollars ($100) is paid. Such guaranty or permanent stock to be paid a dividend on the amount paid in, such dividend not to exceed the per cent of profits earned by all classes or series of stock at the time such dividend is declared. The balance of profits (if any) and the principal paid on said stock not to be paid to holders of same until all lawful claims of every other class of stock shall have been fully liquidated and paid by such association. Provided, that the total amount of guaranty or permanent stock at its par value issued by any association shall not exceed at the time of its issue twenty (20) per cent of the amount of payments to the credit of all other classes of stock. No building and loan association shall issue any certificate of shares until the terms and conditions thereof shall have been first submitted to and approved by the public examiner.

SEC. 27, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any shareholder whose share or shares are not in arrears or pledged upon a loan, shall be entitled to withdraw such share or shares at any time twenty-four (24) months from and after the date of the first payment on such share or shares, and not before such date; Provided, that the board of directors may, if they deem it to the interest of the association, buy in the share or shares of any shareholder desiring to withdraw at a previous date, paying therefor the sum paid in on said shares, less such discount as may be agreed upon and which shall not in any case exceed eight (8) per cent. Any such shareholder may give notice of withdrawal in writing to the secretary of said association, and the liability of said shareholder to pay further instalments and right to share in future profits shall cease with said notice. Such withdrawing shareholder shall be entitled to receive, at the end of two years from the date of his first payment, all monthly payments made on account of such share or shares (not including admission fees or fines), less the following deductions:

Fifty (50) cents on each certificate in payment for issuing and cancelling the same, and two (2) per cent of the amount so paid in, for a contingent or reserve fund, to be used by the association to meet any contingency or loss in its business, from the depreciation of its securities or otherwise; Provided, that if the share or shares on which such notice of withdrawal is given are in arrears, a fine of ten (10) cents per share for each thirty (30) days such share or shares are delinquent may be deducted, in addition to the withdrawal fee and charge for the reserve fund hereinbefore provided for. All stockholders who do not give the notice as herein provided, failing to make payments, shall be subject to a fine of ten (10) cents per share per month for each month such payments are in arrears, for a period of six (6) months after the last payment made (such fines in the aggregate not to exceed the sum of sixty (60) cents per share), and at the end of such period of six (6) months, if arrearages and fines remain unpaid, the balance of such monthly payments, if any, after deducting the certificate fee, contingent fund and fines as herein provided, shall be subject to withdrawal at a period not less than twenty-four (24) months from the date of the first payment, on application of the stockholder. If such delinquent shares are not reclaimed or called for within twenty-four (24) months from the date of the last payment, the balance, if any, to the credit of such delinquent shares, shall be transferred to the contingent fund herein provided for, and the delinquent shareholder shall, from the time of such transfer, have no further claim upon the association on account of such share or shares or the payments made thereon; Provided, that such shares which may have been pledged as collateral for the payment of a loan and become delinquent, shall be adjusted as provided for in section four (4) of this act. If such withdrawing member has made twenty-four (24) or more payments and less than thirty-six (36) payments, he shall receive the amounts paid, less the deductions provided for, and interest on such amount at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum for the actual time the association has had the payments in excess of twenty-four (24) months; and if such withdrawing member has made thirty-six (36) or more payments and less than forty-eight (48) payments, he shall receive the amount paid in, less the deductions provided for, and interest on such amount at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum for the actual time the association has had the payments in excess of twenty-four (24) months; and if such withdrawing member has made forty-eight (48) payments and less than sixty (60) payments, he shall receive the amount paid in, less the deductions provided for, and interest on said amount at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum for the actual time the association has had the payments in excess of twenty-four (24) months; and if such withdrawing member has made sixty (60) or more payments, and the stock has not reached a maturity value, he shall receive the amounts paid in, less the deductions provided for, and interest on such amount at the rate of eight (8) per cent per annum for the actual time the association has had the payments; Provided, that the net profits of the association for the time the association has had the use of all of its funds shall amount to the sum of five (5), six (6), seven (7) and eight (8) per cent per annum, computed on the amounts paid in on all the shares in force at the time such withdrawals are made; and if such profits are not sufficient when so computed, then the stock so withdrawn shall be entitled to a rate per cent found to be earned as net profits during said period, such interest payments to be in all cases in lieu of such profits; Provided further, that if by reason of extraordinary losses the entire net profit is exhausted, the withdrawing member shall not be entitled to the interest herein named; and if by reason of extraordinary losses the association is compelled to charge such losses against its capital actually paid in, all withdrawing shares shall be subject to a pro rata charge of such losses with those remaining undrawn, and in such case all payment herein provided shall be considered of no effect, and the withdrawing member shall only be entitled to such sums as may be found to be due him after the adjustment of such losses among all shareholders; And provided further, that whenever the capital of an association has been impaired by losses in excess of its reserve fund and profits earned, it shall be the duty of the directors to suspend sales of all classes of stock until such losses have been adjusted and distributed pro rata as a charge upon the shares of stock in force; And provided further, that no more than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the amount received in payments on stock by such association in any month shall be used to pay withdrawals, without the consent of the board of directors; And provided further, that any association that has issued shares maturing at a definite period, which finds that its assets will not be sufficient under the mutual system to mature its stock at such period without unusual assessments, may, with the consent of any stockholder, settle and discharge his stock by paying to him at the maturity period, or sooner if its directors deem it practicable, such sum as he had paid into such association for monthly dues and withdrawal assessments, and such proportion of the profits as shall be mutually deemed by them equitable.

SEC. 28, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Upon the death of a stockholder in any such association, his heirs or personal representatives, upon giving sixty (60) days' notice to the association, shall receive from such association the then withdrawal value of his shares, agreeable to the provisions of section twenty-seven (27) of this act.

SEC. 29, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Every such association shall provide in its bylaws in what manner applications and bids for loans shall be received and who shall be entitled to loans thereunder. Such proportion of the loan fund shall be loaned upon such application as the directors shall deem advisable; Provided, the securities shall be in the character and amount as required by this act; And provided further, that the provisions of this section relating to bidding for loans shall not apply to associations which fix the rate of interest and premium in any other manner.

SEC. 30, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All associations governed by this act may, in payment of their expenses, use a sum not to exceed fourteen (14) per cent of their receipts for payments on stock. Whenever a distribution of profits is made, and at least twice in each year, each association shall charge against the profits accrued four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) of such expenses; or, if there is not a sufficient amount of the profits to pay such part of the expense incurred, then the total amount of profits shall be so charged with expense, and the balance of said four-fifths ($\frac{4}{5}$) of such expenses shall be carried as "expenses paid" until the next report or distribution of profits. The remaining one-fifth ($\frac{1}{5}$) of such expenses shall, at the time of making the charges to profits, as herein provided, be carried to an account to be called "permanent expense," which shall finally be paid as follows: Whenever any share of stock has reached a maturity value, the share of permanent expense contributed by said share of stock shall be charged against it, and the sum found after deducting such share of permanent expense shall be deemed the true maturity value of said stock. All fees and fines received by any association may be used for the payment of expenses, in addition to the amount herein provided for.

SEC. 31, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Not more than three (3) of the officers of any such association, incorporated under the laws of this state, shall be members of the board of directors of such association; Provided, that no change shall be required under this section until the next annual meeting of such association.

SEC. 32, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All corporations organized in this state, and doing business in this or any other state as building and loan associations, shall comply with and be subject to all the provisions of this act within sixty (60) days after its passage, and shall be entitled to all the privileges and benefits thereof, without reincorporating.

SEC. 33, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). This act shall not apply to any association organized under the laws of this state which confines its loaning and business operations wholly to its county and the counties adjacent and adjoining thereto; Provided, that any such association heretofore incorporated which desires to hereafter confine its business to adjacent counties, as aforesaid, may file with the public examiner a statement to that effect and also containing the names of those holding, the amount held by them of the stock of said association outside such counties, and so long as such association thereafter confines its sales of stock within the limits aforesaid it shall not be subject to the provisions hereof; and any sales of stock outside the limits of said counties, made after filing of such statements by any officers, director or agent of any association, shall subject such person to all the penalties prescribed in section twenty-four (24) of this act; Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed to prevent the bona fide sale or transfer of the individual stock of any member of such association.

SEC. 34, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Every such association shall be assessed for and pay taxes upon its office furniture and fixtures and all real estate acquired in the course of its business.

SEC. 35, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The amount standing to the credit of each member of any such association, upon its books, shall be considered and held as the individual credit of such member, and each member shall list the shares held by him for taxation, at their real value in money, in the county of his residence, the same as other credits are listed, except shares upon which loans have been made or money advanced by the association.

SEC. 36, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). It shall be the duty of every such association not incorporated under the laws of this state to make and forward to the public examiner, upon the first (1st) day of May in each year, a statement containing the names and the withdrawal value of all its stock held and owned by residents of this state, together with the place of residence of every such stockholder, except those having loans as provided in the foregoing section; and it shall be the duty of the said public examiner to make out and forward to the county auditors of the proper counties a statement of the stock held by them. And it shall be the duty of the said county auditors, upon receiving the statements provided for in this and the foregoing sections, to furnish the assessors of each town in his county having such stockholders with the names of such stockholders and the value of their stock as given in such statements, for the purpose of assessment.

SEC. 37, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). Any such association shall have authority to consolidate with one or more other corporations organized for the same purpose, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, when such consolidation shall be deemed advisable by a majority vote of its members, and to transfer to such consolidated corporation its entire assets, subject to the vested right of its members.

SEC. 38, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). All securities, cash, mortgages, certificates, bonds, notes, receipts, statements, and records heretofore deposited with or received by the state auditor pursuant to law shall, upon the passage of this act, be transferred and delivered by him to the state treasurer, who shall receive the same, and who, with his sureties, shall be liable for the safe keeping thereof. The treasurer shall deliver up such securities only upon the written order of the public examiner, except in pursuance of this act. All securities of such association heretofore required to be deposited with the state auditor shall be hereafter deposited as in this act provided. Upon filing any mortgage, the treasurer shall receive a fee of fifteen (15) cents therefor, and upon withdrawal of the same he shall receive a fee of ten (10) cents therefor, to be paid by the association so filing or withdrawing it.

SEC. 39, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). The public examiner and state treasurer respectively shall retain all the fees by this act provided to be paid to them or either of them in lieu of any allowance for clerk hire made necessary by the extra labor imposed by this act, and they are respectively hereby authorized and empowered to make and execute any and all orders, releases, or other papers which the state auditor was heretofore authorized to make or execute in the premises.

SEC. 40, (as amended by chapter 131, laws of 1891). At least thirty (30) days prior to any annual or special meeting of the stockholders of any such association governed by this act, a notice stating the time and place of such meeting shall be deposited in the post office at the headquarters of such association, directed to each member to his address as the same appears at such time on the books of the association; and when so deposited, postage prepaid, shall be deemed a legal and sufficient notice of any such meeting; and there shall be attached to and accompany such notice any proposed amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation of any such association, and a statement of any officers to be elected at such meeting. Any amendment so proposed and of which such notice shall have been duly given may be adopted at such meeting by the vote of two-thirds of the stock represented and voting thereat. Any member of such association entitled to vote at such meeting may vote in person or by proxy; but no person shall be appointed such proxy who shall not reside in the same county where the stockholder so appointing him resides at the time of such appointment, except that stockholders residing outside of this state may appoint proxies residing in any county in this state; and no person shall be appointed proxy in any case who is at the time an officer, agent or employé of any such association; and no person shall hold proxies to exceed five hundred (500) votes for any such meeting.

Upon all questions to be voted upon at such meeting the vote shall be taken by calling the roll of persons entitled to vote thereat, with the number of votes which each is entitled to cast, and the votes shall be by written or printed ballot, the form for which may be prescribed by the board of directors.

GENERAL LAWS OF 1891.

CHAPTER 27.

SECTION 1. To insure the thorough supervision of the affairs and the safety of the funds of mutual building associations in this state, every officer of any such association is hereby made subject to the same duties and penalties made applicable to the officers of public institutions of this state by an act of the legislature of this state, approved March twelve (12), one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight (1878), entitled "An act to provide for the appointment and to prescribe the duties of a public examiner for the state of Minnesota," and also the acts of said legislature amendatory thereof; and the public examiner of this state is hereby given the same powers and jurisdiction, and there is hereby imposed upon him the same duties relative to mutual building associations or societies as are now imposed upon and granted to the public examiner of this state relative to the several public institutions of this state; Provided, nothing in this act shall affect or apply to any society or association which has its principal place of business in a city or village containing less than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, and this act shall apply only to local building associations.

SEC. 2. After September first (1st), one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (1891), no building association shall receive any moneys or transact any business in this state, except to settle and close its unfinished affairs, unless it shall have obtained from the said public examiner a certificate stating its compliance with the provisions of this section; and thereafter shall keep said certificate conspicuously posted in the office of said association. Such certificate shall be in force for one (1) year, and for one (1) year only, and a new certificate shall be obtained from year to year, and for each such certificate such building association shall pay into the treasury of the state of Minnesota a license fee of ten dollars ($10) before receiving the same.

In making application for and as a basis for such certificate, the secretary and a majority of the directors of such association shall make out and report under oath to the public examiner a statement showing:

1. The full corporate articles of such association and a full copy of its bylaws then in force.

2. The name and address of each officer and the salary or fees received by each officer for the twelve (12) months next preceding its last annual meeting.

3. A copy of its last report.

Within thirty (30) days after receiving the aforesaid statement, the public examiner shall issue the yearly certificate above named; Provided, that if it appears from such verified statement that the association applying for such certificate is not complying with the law applicable thereto and such rules as said examiner may adopt for said societies, the public examiner shall refuse to issue such certificate. Said certificate may be recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county where said society has its regular place of business.

SEC. 3. No corporation doing or claiming to do the business of a mutual building society shall have authority to engage in the business of buying and selling or dealing in real estate; Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be taken as prohibiting any such association from securing the obligations due it and the repayment of its loans by taking mortgages on real estate, as provided by the laws and the statutes of this state or from purchasing, as provided by law, at any sheriff's, judicial or other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage or judgment or lien or other incumbrance, or in which such association may have an interest, or from selling, conveying, holding, leasing, mortgaging at pleasure any real estate so purchased or acquired; Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit any such association from obtaining or acquiring title, by deed or otherwise, to real estate on which it may hold any lien or security in whole or in part satisfaction thereof.

SEC. 4. All mutual building associations organized or to be organized under the laws of this state are hereby prohibited from hereafter creating or issuing any preferred or non-contributing stock, except in payment of matured contributing stock, and no stockholder in any such association shall have more than one vote. But this section shall not limit the power of such associations to create and issue different series of stock.

SEC. 5. Whenever any mutual building association shall declare any of its stock forfeited for non-compliance of the owner with any of its rules, bylaws or regulations, the said stock shall be sold at a regular monthly meeting of said association to the highest bidder; and it is made the duty of the officers of said association at any such sale to bid in the stock so offered at not less than its then withdrawal value, and thereupon the said stock shall be cancelled; but if a higher bid is received the person making the highest bid shall have said stock issued or assigned to him, and no fines or penalties shall be charged against any stock for more than twelve (12) months.

SEC. 6. Any shareholder in any such association whose share or shares are not in arrears and not pledged, may withdraw said share or shares from his association, at any time after it is six (6) months old, by giving at least sixty (60) days' notice in writing to the secretary of his intention so to do; and, upon the receipt of such notice by the secretary, the membership represented by the share or shares mentioned in such notice shall cease; Provided, not exceeding one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the subsequent monthly receipts of such association shall be used to satisfy withdrawn stock, unless the directors thereof otherwise provide.

SEC. 7. Every corporation hereafter doing business in this state which by its corporate articles or by its bylaws, or printed literature, claims to do or seeks to do the business of a mutual building association, or a mutual building society, shall be held to come under the benefits, provisions and restrictions of this act; Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be taken or construed as in any way changing or affecting chapter two hundred and thirty-six (236) of the general laws of this state for the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (1889), entitled "An act relating to building, loan and savings associations doing a general business."

SEC. 8. For the services required under this act the public examiner shall receive annually a sum equal to the aggregate amount paid into the treasury of this state under this act, said sum so paid to be in addition to such other compensation as he may be entitled to receive under any law or laws of this state, the same to be paid by the state treasurer in the same manner as other salaries of state officers are paid.

MISSISSIPPI.

ANNOTATED CODE OF 1892.

SECTION 851. A loan of money shall not be made by a corporation to any stockholder therein; * * * but banks and building and loan associations may loan money to their stockholders. * * *

SEC. 3317. A tax on privileges is levied as follows, to wit:

SEC. 3330, (as amended by act of February 10, 1894). On each building and loan association which loans money exclusively to its members, whose stock or shares represent monthly payments not exceeding five hundred dollars, $25.

On same whose stock or shares represent monthly payments of five hundred dollars or more and less than one thousand dollars, $50.

On same whose stock or shares represent monthly payments of one thousand dollars or more and less than fifteen hundred dollars, $75.

On same whose stock or shares represent monthly payments of fifteen hundred dollars or more and less than two thousand dollars, $100.

On same whose stock or shares represent monthly payments of two thousand five hundred dollars, $150.

On same whose stock and shares represent monthly payments of three thousand dollars or more, $200.

Which shall be in lieu of all other taxes, whether state, county or municipal, except on real estate; but only ten shares of stock, exclusive of the shares deposited with the association for loans, shall be exempt from taxation for any one person, and all shares in excess of ten owned by one person shall be taxed as solvent credits. Each building and loan association which does not require members to forfeit any part of their payments for inability or failure to pay dues, incorporated by any foreign country or other state of the Union, or whose principal office and domicile is not within this state, which shall establish agencies or branches in this state, shall be liable to a separate tax on each branch office or agency, and each of said agencies or places of doing business or collecting dues shall be considered, for the purpose of taxation, as a separate and distinct building and loan association, and shall pay the tax above required. But any association may pay a privilege tax of five hundred dollars and establish branches at will.

MISSOURI.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1889.

SECTION 2808. Any ten or more persons in any city or county of this state, who shall have associated themselves by articles of agreement in writing, as provided by law, for the purpose of forming a mutual saving fund, loan or building association, may be incorporated under any name or title designating such business: Provided, that no mutual saving fund, loan and building association or company, association or corporation, organized under the laws of any other state or territory to carry on a business of a like character to that authorized by this article, shall be allowed to do business or sell their stock in this state without first having deposited with the state treasurer the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, as a guaranty fund, for the protection and indemnity of the citizens of the state of Missouri with whom such companies, associations or corporations shall do business; the fund so deposited to be paid by the treasurer to the citizens of Missouri, only, and not then until, upon proof filed with the treasurer, he shall be satisfied that the claimant has sustained some loss by reason of his having done business with such foreign company, association or corporation. Any person or persons who shall be found in this state as agent or in any other capacity representing any such foreign company, association, or corporation which has not complied with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2809. The articles of agreement mentioned in section 2808 shall set out: First, the corporate name of the proposed corporation, which shall not be the name of any corporation heretofore incorporated in this state for similar purposes, and actually carrying on business; second, the name of the city or town and county in which the office of the corporation is to be located; third, the amount of the capital stock of such corporation; fourth, the number of shares into which the capital is divided, and the par value of each share; fifth, the number of shares subscribed for, and that the first payment has been made thereon; sixth, the names and places of residence of the several shareholders, and the number of shares subscribed by each; seventh, the number of directors or managers, and the names of those agreed upon for the first year; eighth, the number of years the corporation is to continue, which in no case shall exceed fifty years; ninth, the purposes for which the association is formed. The articles of agreement shall be signed and acknowledged by any ten of the parties thereto, recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county or city in which the corporation is to be located, and then filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 2810. The capital stock of any corporation created under this article shall at no time consist of more than 10,000 shares of not less than $100 each. The instalments on these shares are to be paid at such time and place as the bylaws shall appoint. The bylaws or the board of directors may, if they deem it advisable, allow interest not exceeding eight per cent on such instalments as are paid in advance. Every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments, fines and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws. The bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of the shares that have been redeemed, forfeited or matured. The stock may be issued in one or in successive series, in such amount and at such time as the board of directors, the shareholders or the bylaws may determine. Any shareholder, or the legal representative of any deceased shareholder, wishing to withdraw from the said corporation, shall have power to do so, by giving thirty days' notice of such intention to withdraw, such notice being given at a regular meeting of the board of directors. On the day following the next regular meeting, or at any time thereafter, the member so withdrawing, or if deceased, his legal representative, shall be entitled to receive, on demand, the amount paid in by him or her, and such proportion of the profits as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges. Should there have been, however, a net loss, instead of a net gain, then such withdrawing shareholder shall receive the actual amount paid, less his proportion of such net loss. At no time, however, shall more than one-half of the unloaned funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of the withdrawing shareholders without the consent of the board of directors. No shareholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is pledged as security for a loan, either from the association or from any other party. In case any member not having a loan from the association shall fail to pay dues or fines for six months, then the shares of such member may, at the option of the board, be forfeited by paying back to or crediting such member with the same amount as he would be entitled to if he had voluntarily withdrawn, less all fines and charges due. Should a member fail entirely in his payments for twelve months, then his shares shall ipso facto be cancelled, and he shall be credited with the same amount as if he had voluntarily withdrawn, less all fines and charges to date, and shall at once cease to be a member of the association. The amount so placed to his credit, either at six or twelve months, shall be paid to him or his legal representatives on demand, but shall not bear interest.

SEC. 2811. Every such corporation shall only lend its funds on real estate security, or on the security of its own shares of stock, such loans being made upon the terms and conditions and in the manner which shall be specified by its bylaws. No loans shall be made on shares of stock to an amount exceeding the instalments actually paid on such shares. Such corporation may, however, employ a portion of its capital stock in the purchase of real estate and the erection of buildings thereon for rent or otherwise. If at any time it shall happen that there is no demand by the shareholders for the funds of such corporation, then such funds may be loaned to others who are not shareholders, at such rate of interest as the directors may fix. No loans shall be made to members or others on personal security or on leasehold.

SEC. 2812. The directors of the corporation shall hold stated meetings, at which such sums of money as they may determine shall be offered for loan to all the members in open meeting. The shareholder who shall bid the highest for the preference, or priority of loan, shall be entitled to receive a loan whose amount shall not exceed the number of shares of stock held by such shareholder, multiplied by the par value thereof. A shareholder may, however, borrow on only a part of his shares, and also on such fractional part of a value as the bylaws may provide. Good and ample security shall be given by the borrower, to secure the monthly payments contracted to be paid by the borrower. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, at such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with any expenses incurred, and with interest up to the next regular meeting, when the money so loaned shall revert to the association. If at any time the unemployed funds on hand amount to one thousand dollars, the board of directors are authorized, if they deem it to the interest of the association, to draw lots among all the shares that have not borrowed, and compel them either to borrow in accordance with the bylaws, or to else sell their shares to the association at same value as received by a member who withdrew voluntarily. The manner of drawing such lots shall be fixed by the bylaws or the board of directors.

SEC. 2813. A borrower may repay a loan at any time. In case of the repayment of a loan before the expiration of the one hundredth month after the organization of the corporation, there shall be refunded to such borrower one per cent of the premium paid for every month of the said one hundred months then unexpired. If the borrower fails totally in his payments during the space of six months, or if the balance due by such borrower has been allowed to accumulate until it equals the sum of six months' dues and interest, then the board may, in its discretion, proceed at any time to advertise for sale, under deed of trust, the property pledged to the association by such borrower. In case of sale under deed of trust, the borrower shall be charged with the full amount of loan made to him, together with the dues, interest and fines for which he is delinquent. He shall, on the other hand, as an offset, be credited with the same value of his pledged shares as if he had voluntarily withdrawn same, and shall also be credited with one per cent of the premium paid for every month of the one hundred months yet unexpired since the organization of the association. If the amount realized from the sale of the property pledged for the loan, less all legal charges, shall exceed amount thus found due, the balance shall be paid to the delinquent borrower.

SEC. 2814. No premiums, fines or interest on such premiums that may accrue to the said corporation according to the provisions of this article shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now by law collected.

SEC. 2815. No corporation created under this article shall cease or expire from neglect, on the part of the corporators, to elect officers at the time mentioned in their articles of agreement or bylaws. All officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

SEC. 2816. Any savings fund, loan or building association, incorporated under the laws of this state, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sales or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other encumbrance, or in which said association may have any interest. The real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this article, the association is hereby empowered to sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure, to any person or persons whatsoever.

SEC. 2817. Whenever all the shares of any series of such corporation then actually in force shall have been redeemed by loans or advances thereon, or whenever the funds and property of the association shall be sufficient to pay the debts of such corporation and upon the unredeemed shares of such series, the value thereof, as fixed by the bylaws of such corporation, then the debts of such corporation shall first be paid, and the deeds of trust of borrowers shall be released and the free or unborrowed shares shall be paid off. The free or unborrowed shares shall in no case receive any more than the face value of their shares, less the average premium paid by the borrowers of the association up to date.

SEC. 2818. No member of any such corporation, who has borrowed money from the same, shall be allowed to vote on any question affecting the claim of such corporation against himself.

SEC. 2819. Every such corporation shall, semi-annually, in the months of January and July, publish in one or more newspapers in the city or county where such corporation is located, a statement, verified by the oath of its president or secretary, setting forth its actual financial condition and the amount of its property and liabilities, under a penalty of $500 to the state, to be recovered by indictment against the president, cashier or director. It shall also deposit a copy of said statement, verified as aforesaid, in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 2820. Every such corporation may extend the time of its duration so as to make the entire period of its corporate existence not to exceed fifty years, by a vote of three-fourths of its stockholders, at any meeting called for that purpose—notice of such meeting first having been given as provided in sections 2499 and 2500 of this chapter, and by paying into the state treasury a fee of five dollars for a certificate of such extension.

SEC. 2820a, (added by act of March 31, 1893, page 126, laws of 1893). When the unpledged shares in a series shall reach the maturity value thereof, all payments of dues thereon shall cease, and the holders thereof shall be entitled to receive, and shall then be paid out of the funds of said corporation, the maturity value thereof for each share so matured and held: Provided, however, that if there are not funds then on hand sufficient and applicable to the payment and redemption of said shares, then such shareholder shall be entitled to receive interest on the sum then due them, from the date of the maturity of said shares to the date of redemption, at a rate of not less than six nor to exceed eight per cent interest per annum, as may be provided by the bylaws of said association; And provided further, that at no time shall more than half of the funds in the treasury be applicable to the payment or redemption of said matured shares, unless by consent of board of directors.

SEC. 7539. All parties holding stock or shares as owners or in trust in any building and loan association in this state, on which no loan has been obtained from such association, shall be required to give a just and true list of the same to the assessor, with the actual cash value of each share on the first day of June in each year, and the tax shall be levied upon said shares, and collected from such holder or depositor of the same, as taxes on other personal property; and any failure on the part of such owner holder or depositor of such shares shall subject such holder to the same penalties now provided for failure to give to the assessor a true list of all taxable property, verified by affidavit.

SEC. 7540. The taxes assessed on shares of stock embraced in such list shall be paid by the corporations, respectively, and they may recover from the owners of such shares the amount so paid by them, or deduct the same from the dividends accruing on such shares and the amount so paid shall be a lien on such shares, respectively, and shall be paid before a transfer thereof can be made.

SEC. 7541. If the president or other chief officer of any such corporation fail to comply with the provisions of this article, he shall forfeit to the state the sum of one thousand dollars, to be recovered by indictment in any court of competent jurisdiction.

MONTANA.

COMPILED STATUTES OF 1887.

FIFTH DIVISION—GENERAL LAWS.

SECTION 635. When any five or more persons may desire to become incorporated as a mutual building and loan association, for the purpose of aiding in building homesteads and loaning money to the members of such association, only they shall make a certificate to that effect in writing, signed and acknowledged before a proper officer in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds, in which certificate shall be stated the name of such association and the purpose for which it is formed, the amount of its capital stock, the number of shares and the par value of each share of its capital stock, the name of the city, town or village, and county where the principal part of its business shall be transacted; the term of its existence and the name of nine persons who shall act as trustees and manage the affairs of such association until the first annual meeting of its stockholders, which certificate shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory.

SEC. 636. Upon the filing of such certificate in the office of the secretary of the territory he shall issue to such persons named therein as trustees a license to take subscriptions for the capital stock of such association at such time and place as they may determine: Provided, that such license shall not be issued to the trustees of more than one association having the same name.

SEC. 637. When fifty shares or more of the capital stock of such association shall be subscribed for, the said trustees shall call a meeting of the subscribers for the purpose of electing nine trustees, adopting bylaws for such associations and the transaction of such other business as may be required, which meeting shall be the first annual meeting of the stockholders of such association; notice of such meeting shall be given by depositing in the post office at the place where the principal part of the business of such association is to be transacted, at least five days prior to holding the same, a written or printed notice stating the time, place and object of such meeting, enclosed in an envelope or wrapper, and addressed to each subscriber, with postage thereon paid. At such meeting there shall be elected nine trustees by a vote of a majority of the persons who have subscribed for stock, represented at such meeting by subscribers in person or proxy. The trustees so elected by a majority of the stockholders shall be divided into three classes, as follows: The term of office of the three first elected shall be for the period of three years; the term of office of the second three elected shall be for the period of two years, and the term of office of the three last elected shall be for the period of one year. Thereafter, annually, at a meeting of the stockholders, three trustees shall be elected whose term of office shall be for the period of three years.

SEC. 638. In case of a vacancy in the office of any trustee, the remaining trustees may fill the same by appointment until the first annual meeting thereafter, when such a vacancy, if the term be not expired, shall be filled by the election of the stockholders.

SEC. 639. The trustees and officers of such association shall be stockholders therein.

SEC. 640. Within ten days after holding said first annual meeting of stockholders, the trustees licensed as provided in section 636 of this act shall make a certificate showing the fact of holding such annual meeting pursuant to call, and notice given as provided in section 637 of this act, the names and respective terms of office of the trustees elected thereat, the names of the subscribers for the stock of said association and the number of shares subscribed for by each, which certificate shall be subscribed and verified by at least a majority of such licensed trustees and filed in the office of the secretary of the territory.

SEC. 641. The secretary of the territory shall, upon receiving the certificate provided in section 640, file and preserve the same in his office and thereupon issue a certificate of the complete incorporation of such association attaching thereto and making part thereof a copy of all papers filed in his office relating thereto under the provisions of this act, duly authenticated under his hand and the seal of the territory; and the same shall be recorded at the expense of said association in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the principal part of the business of such association is transacted; and the recording thereof shall fully incorporate such association.

SEC. 642. In case such association be not fully incorporated as provided in this act within one year after the issuing of said license, the same shall be deemed revoked and any proceeding thereunder shall be unlawful.

SEC. 643. Every corporation formed under the provisions of this act has power to have succession by and in its corporate name for the period limited in its certificate of incorporation, to sue complain implead or defend in any court of law or equity, and may be sued or impleaded in any court of law or equity; to make and use a common seal and alter the same at pleasure, to purchase, hold, and convey at pleasure such real estate and personal property as the purposes of such corporation may require; to make bylaws not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or any existing laws for the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, and the transfer of its stock; Provided, that all its bylaws shall be approved by the holders of at least a majority of its stock subscribed for and every corporation formed under the provisions of this act shall have and may exercise such further powers and functions as are herein granted or necessarily implied by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 644. The management and control of the property and business of every association formed under the provisions of this act shall be vested in its board of trustees, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SEC. 645. Such association shall have a president who shall be chosen from the board of trustees, a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers as provided by its bylaws. All of such officers shall be chosen by the board of trustees in such manner and for such terms as may be prescribed by its bylaws: Provided, that neither the trustees nor any other [officer] of such association shall be paid any compensation for services except its secretary, who shall receive such compensation as provided by the bylaws.

SEC. 646. The treasurer of such association shall give a bond in a sum equal to double the amount of funds of such association which may come into his possession, conditioned for the safe keeping and the delivery thereof, according to the orders of the board of trustees, the amount of which bond shall be fixed by the board of trustees. Such bond shall be signed by at least three good and sufficient sureties, approved by the board of trustees. The secretary may also be required to give bonds for such amount as the trustees may determine.

SEC. 647. The par value of the shares of stock shall be one hundred dollars each, and shall be deemed personal property, transferable upon the books of the corporation in such manner as may be provided by the bylaws. Subscriptions therefor shall be made payable to the association in such periodical instalments and at such times as shall be prescribed by the bylaws: Provided, that no periodical payments shall be required exceeding two dollars on each share, and every share of such stock shall be subject to a lien for the security of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the bylaws, and the bylaws shall prescribe the manner and the time of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited. The stock may be issued in one or in successive series in the manner and in such amount not to exceed the total capital stock as the board of trustees may determine.

SEC. 648. Any stockholder desiring to withdraw from said corporation, shall have power to do so by giving sixty days written prior notice thereof, and at the expiration of sixty days from date of service of such notice, such stockholder shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him, and interest thereon at such rate per annum or such proportion of the profits thereon as the bylaws may determine, less any initiation fee, and all fines and other charges assessed against said stock pursuant to the provisions of the bylaws: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be subject to the demand of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of trustees, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. And provided further, that the withdrawing stockholders shall be paid in the order in which notice of withdrawal had been given. That upon the death of a stockholder, his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to the full amount paid in by such stockholder on all shares not borrowed upon or pledged to the corporation as collateral security and interest at such rate as prescribed by the bylaws, first deducting all fines and charges that may be due on said stock, but no fines shall be charged on the stock of a deceased member from and after his or her decease, unless the legal representative of such decedent assumes the future payment of the dues and assessments thereon.

SEC. 649. The board of trustees shall hold such stated meetings not oftener than once each month, as the bylaws may prescribe, at which meetings the money in the treasury, if one hundred dollars or more, shall be offered for loan in open meeting and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium or interest for the preference or priority of loan, shall be entitled to receive a loan not exceeding one hundred dollars per each share of stock held by such stockholder less the premium bid.

SEC. 650. The funds of such corporation shall be loaned only to bona fide stockholders therein, and in no case shall a loan be made exceeding one hundred dollars per each share of stock held by the borrower, but the bylaws of every such corporation may prescribe such fractional part of one hundred dollars per share as may be loaned to any stockholder.

SEC. 651. Every loan shall be secured by proper mortgage or conveyance of good and sufficient real estate, unencumbered except by prior loans of such corporation:

Provided, that the shares held by any stockholder may be received as security to take the amount of the withdrawal value thereof.

SEC. 652. In case of non-payment of instalments or interest and fines, by borrowing stockholders, for the space of three months, payment of principal and interest and fines, without deducting the premium paid or the interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings against the securities, according to law, upon the order of the board of trustees.

SEC. 653. A borrower of money from such association may repay the same at any time, and in that event shall be allowed such a proportionate amount of the premium paid at the time of borrowing as the board of trustees may deem equitable or the bylaws may prescribe; Provided, that the amount of premium so refunded shall be determined as nearly as practicable on the basis of the maturity of the series of stock in which the shares loaned upon were issued.

SEC. 654. Associations incorporated under the provisions of this act shall not cease or expire from neglect to elect trustees or other officers at the time mentioned in this act or its bylaws, and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

SEC. 655. Any association incorporated under the provisions of this act, is hereby authorized to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which said corporation may have or hold any mortgage, lien or encumbrance, or in which said corporation may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure.

SEC. 656. Any association incorporated under the provisions of this act may extend the duration of time for which [such] association was organized by a majority of the capital stock of such association at any annual or called meeting of the stockholders thereof. Thereupon the board of trustees shall cause to be made a certificate showing the fact of holding such meeting, the whole amount of the stock of such association outstanding, the names and amounts held by each stockholder represented at such meeting in person or by proxy, the whole amount voted in favor of the extension of the existence of such association and the time to which the same was so extended, which certificate, duly signed and verified by a majority of such board of trustees, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory, who shall thereupon issue his certificate certifying and showing the extension of time of duration of such association, and the same shall be recorded as provided in section 641 of this act.

SEC. 657. Any corporation of the nature provided for in this act, heretofore incorporated under the laws of this territory and desiring to extend the duration of time for which it was incorporated, is hereby authorized so to do in the manner provided in section 656 of this act, and thereupon it shall be deemed as incorporated under and thenceforth shall be governed by provisions of this act in the same manner as if said association had been originally incorporated hereunder so far as the same may be applicable to the conditions thereof.

SEC. 658. Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect the validity of any of the operations of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this territory prior to the passage of this act.

SEC. 659. Any corporation of the nature herein provided for, now existing in this territory, desiring to reform its condition and make the same conform to the provisions of this act, shall first obtain and preserve the written consent of all its stockholders thereto, and may thereupon call a meeting of the stockholders in the manner provided in section 637, and at such meeting elect a board of nine trustees, as therein provided, and make its bylaws and all other conditions of such corporation conform to the provisions of this act; and thereupon a majority of the trustees managing the affairs of [the] corporation thus reformed, shall make and file in the office of the secretary of the territory such a certificate as required in section 640, together with a certificate conforming to all the requirements of section 635, except the names of the persons "who shall act as trustees and manage the affairs of such association until the first annual meeting." Upon receiving the certificate mentioned in this section the secretary of the territory shall issue his certificate in the manner provided in section 641, and in addition shall state that such corporation existed theretofore and is thereby reformed to conform to the provisions of this act: Provided, the name of such corporation shall not be changed.

SEC. 660. The validity of all proceedings, contracts, deeds, mortgages or other conveyances or contracts of such corporation shall in no wise be affected by its reformation as provided in section 659 of this act.

SEC. 661. No building and loan association incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this act or previously organized shall be subject to taxation for mortgages held by such association upon property that is assessed and taxed in the hands of the mortgagors.

SEC. 662. When any building and loan association incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this act, or previously organized, shall furnish to the county clerk and recorder of the county in which its principal place of business is located a bound volume of blank mortgages such as are used by such association, the fee for filing, indexing and recording of mortgages executed to such association shall thereafter be one dollar and fifty cents, and no more.

SEC. 663. Any association incorporated under the provisions of this act, or heretofore incorporated and reformed to comply with the provisions of this act, may be dissolved by the decree of the district court having jurisdiction in the county where the principal place of business of such association is located in the manner provided in section 664 of this act.

SEC. 664. Any corporation mentioned in section 663 desiring to be dissolved, may, at any meeting of its stockholders, vote upon the proposition of its dissolution; and if it be found that a majority of its capital stock owned by individual stockholders is voted in favor of its dissolution, the trustees may file complaint in said court showing that all the provisions of this act have been substantially complied with in the organization and management of such association; that its affairs and business have been fully adjusted for dissolution; that all the property and funds thereof have been distributed justly and equitably, so far as stockholders can be found, attaching to such complaint a schedule of the names of all the stockholders, the number of shares of stock owned by each and the amount due to each, designating those paid the same and those not paid, if any; that all sums of money, if any, due to such stockholders have been deposited with the treasurer of such county, subject to their respective orders. Such complaint shall further show all debts and liabilities of such corporation, or that none exist, as the case may be, and that all debts and liabilities, if any exist, have been fully provided for. Such action shall be brought in the name of the trustees, as such, against such corporation in its corporate name, and the said complaint shall be ratified by at least a majority of the board of trustees.

SEC. 665. Upon filing the complaint mentioned in section 664 a summons shall be issued as in other cases addressed in the following terms, to wit: To all the stockholders and creditors of a corporation, (inserting the name of such corporation). Said summons shall show the cause of action, and shall be in the form required in civil cases in this territory, and the same shall be published in a newspaper in the manner required for the publication of summons in civil actions, and a written or printed copy thereof shall be sent through the mail in an envelope or wrapper addressed to each stockholder and creditor of such corporation, respectively, with postage thereon prepaid, and the same shall be deposited in the post office at the time of the first publication of said summons. Proof of publication and mailing of said summons shall be made by affidavit filed in said action.

SEC. 666. Any stockholder or creditor of such association may appear by answer and show cause why such corporation should not be dissolved.

SEC. 667. The court shall try all actions for dissolution of a corporation provided for in this act, under the usual rules of practice in civil actions, and shall require proof of all facts required to be alleged in the complaint. If the court shall find that the allegations of the complaint are true, and that such corporation may be dissolved without injury or injustice to any creditor or stockholder thereof, a decree of such court shall be rendered to that effect dissolving such corporation.

SEC. 668. Upon the dissolution of any corporation by decree of court, as provided in this act, a copy of such decree duly authenticated shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory and of the county clerk where the certificate of incorporation was filed and recorded.

SEC. 669. The dissolution of any incorporation as provided in this act shall in no way impair its obligations nor release it or its stockholders from any liabilities.

NEBRASKA.

CONSOLIDATED STATUTES OF 1891.

SECTION 359. Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves together and become a corporation as provided in chapter twenty-five of the Revised Statutes, commencing at section 123 of said chapter [section 336, Consolidated Statutes of 1891] under the title of "corporations," for the purpose of raising moneys to be loaned among the members of such corporation, for use in buying lots or houses, or in building or repairing or removing incumbrances from houses; and such corporation shall be authorized and empowered to levy, assess, and collect from its members such sums of money, by rates of stated dues, fines, interest on loans advanced, and premiums bid by members for the right of precedence in taking loans, as the corporation, by its bylaws, shall adopt; also to acquire, hold, encumber, and convey all such real estate and personal property as may be legitimately pledged to it on such loans, or may otherwise be transferred to it in the due course of its business; Provided, that the dues, fines, and premiums so paid by members of such corporation, although in excess of twelve per cent per annum, on loans taken by them, shall not be construed to make the loans so taken usurious; And provided, also, that no person shall hold more than ten shares in any such association in his own right, each share not to exceed two hundred dollars.

SEC. 360. All stockholders of any such association shall be deemed and held liable to any amount equal to their stock subscribed, or by them at any time held in addition to said stock, for the purpose of securing the creditors of said association.

SEC. 361. All contracts and loans made by any corporation or association already formed and now in existence in this state, under and by virtue of said chapter twenty-five of the Revised Statutes [chap. 9, this stat.], to and with any member of said corporation or association, and not inconsistent with the laws of this state, nor anything in this act contained, are hereby declared to be legal and binding contracts between said corporation or association and the members thereof so contracting; and the securities given by said members upon said contract or loan to said corporation or association, for the security of any loan, fine, or forfeiture, according to the terms and conditions of said security or contract, therein referred to, and not inconsistent with any law of this state or in this act contained, is hereby declared to be a legal, valid, and binding security, and contract in law in the hands of said corporation or association and with the party making the same, notwithstanding a greater rate of interest than twelve per cent per annum may have been contracted for or reserved in said contract.

SEC. 362. That in all corporations or associations now formed and in existence in this state, and doing business in this state, which said corporation or association have made loans to any of its members and taken securities therefor in pursuance of their constitution and bylaws, that any payment made after the passage of this act, by any member of said corporation or association, of any dues, forfeitures, or fines which may be due to said corporation or association according to the terms of the contract between said corporation or association and said member to said corporation or association, shall be deemed in law a waiver of anything in said contract or loan that might be deemed usurious in the same under the laws of this state at the time the same was made and securities given, and a ratification of said loan or contract, and of its present and future legality between said parties, as now existing under and by virtue of this act.

SEC. 363. Any association of not less than five persons, hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, which shall be organized within this state for the purpose of raising a fund by the collection of dues or stated payments from its members, to be loaned among its members, shall, in furtherance of such purpose, and after having complied with the requirements of this act, be authorized and empowered to levy, assess, and collect from its members such sums of money, by rates of stated dues, fines, interest on loans advanced, and premiums bid by members for the right of precedence in taking loans, as the corporation may provide for in its constitution or bylaws, also, to acquire, hold, and convey all such real estate and personal property as may be legitimately pledged to it upon said loans, or may otherwise be transferred to it in the due course of its business (subject, however, to the limitations hereinafter named). The words "loan and building association," "building association," or "building and loan association" shall form part of the corporate name of every such corporation.

SEC. 364. Every such association hereafter formed shall adopt a constitution which shall substantially give effect to the provisions of this act, and shall also adopt such bylaws for the government and management of its business as it shall deem proper; Provided, the same shall not be inconsistent with this act, and shall not contravene the laws or constitution of this state, or the United States, and may alter and amend the same from time to time in such manner as may be provided by its articles of incorporation. Such constitution shall contain equitable provisions, permitting any shareholder wishing to do so to withdraw from the association, in manner as follows: After three months from date of issue of the certificate of shares, a shareholder, or the legal representative of a deceased shareholder, wishing to withdraw from the said corporation, shall have the power to do so by giving thirty days' notice of such intention to withdraw, such notice being given in writing at the regular meeting of the board of directors. At the first regular meeting after the expiration of the thirty days' notice, or at any time thereafter, the member so withdrawing, or, if deceased, his legal representative, shall be entitled to receive, on demand, the amount paid in by him or her, less the admission fee and expense charges and such rate of interest as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges. Should there have been, however, a net loss instead of a net gain, then such withdrawing shareholder shall receive the actual amount paid in, less his proportion of such net loss. At no time, however, shall more than one-half of the unloaned funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of the withdrawing shareholders without the consent of the board of directors. No shareholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is pledged as security for a loan, either from the association or from any other party. It shall contain equitable provisions permitting the payment of loans before maturity, and for crediting borrowing members who have paid premiums in advance and who repay their loans before maturity, with an equitable share of the premiums paid by them. Such constitution shall also provide that if any member has become delinquent in his payments on any shares to an amount equal to the payments due thereon for any period named therein (not, however, less than three nor more than twelve months), such shares shall be cancelled, and he shall, as to such shares, cease to be a member, and shall become a debtor or creditor of such association as the case may be, and it shall make equitable provisions for crediting such member with the same amount as if he had voluntarily withdrawn from the association, and if any sum be due him after deducting fines and losses, if any, to date of cancellation, it shall, if he be a borrower, be credited on his loan, and if he be not a borrower it shall be held subject to his order. Such constitution may, within the limits aforesaid, fix different periods for the cancellation of shares of borrowers and non-borrowers, and may also, within said limits, leave the period for cancellation, wholly or in part, to the discretion of the board of directors.

SEC. 365. A copy of the articles of incorporation, constitution, and bylaws of every such association shall be filed in the office of the auditor of public accounts, who shall, with the state treasurer and attorney general, examine the same carefully and if they, or any two of them, shall find that they conform with the requirements of this act and contain a just and equitable plan for the management of the association's business, they, or any two of them, shall issue to such association a certificate of their approval of such constitution and bylaws; but if they, or any two of them, find their provisions to be unjust or inequitable or oppressive to any class of shareholders, they shall withhold their approval. It shall not be lawful for any association hereafter organized within this state for the purposes set forth in section 1 of this act [363] to transact any business except the execution of its articles of incorporation, the adoption of a constitution and bylaws, and the election of directors and officers, until it shall have procured the certificate of approval above provided for, nor shall any amendment of the articles of incorporation, constitution, or bylaws of any such association become operative until a copy of the same shall have been filed and a certificate of approval obtained as above provided in regard to original articles of incorporation, constitution, and bylaws.

SEC. 366. No loan shall be made by such association except to its own members, nor shall any loan be made to any member of any sum in excess of the par value of his stock, and the association shall have a lien on as many of the borrower's shares as shall equal at their face value the nominal amount of the loan; good and ample real estate security unincumbered, except by prior liens held by such association, shall also be given by the borrower; Provided, however, that the stock of such association may be received as security for a loan of the amount of the withdrawal value of such stock without other security. No evidence of indebtedness taken by such association for the return of any such loan shall be negotiable in form, and, whatever be its form, every such evidence of indebtedness shall be non-negotiable in law, and no such debt, or evidence of debt, shall be assignable or transferable in any manner so as to prevent the discharge thereof by payment made to the association.

SEC. 367. Such associations may purchase, hold, lease, and convey real estate for the following purposes, and no other: 1st. Such as it may need to occupy as a place of business. 2nd. Such as shall in good faith be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the ordinary course of business. 3rd. Such as it shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by the association, or shall purchase in good faith to secure debts due to it. But no such association shall hold the title and possession of any real estate longer than three years, except for the first purpose above named. Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid the mortgaging of real estate to such association.

SEC. 368. Shares of stock in any such association may be subscribed for, held, transferred, surrendered, withdrawn, and forfeited, and payments thereon received and receipted for, by any minor over the age of fourteen years, in the same manner and with the same binding effect as though such person were of full age, except that the said minor, or his estate, shall not be bound on his subscription to stock except to the extent of payments actually made thereon. A trustee or guardian may acquire, hold, transfer, and withdraw and receive all moneys due upon shares in such association for the use and account of any minor; but before he shall be permitted to withdraw, transfer, or receive payment upon any shares so held, such trustee or guardian shall file with the county judge where such association is located a bond for twice the value of the shares withdrawn, transferred, or money received, which bond shall be approved by said judge and shall be conditioned upon his faithfully accounting for the proceeds of the shares withdrawn, transferred, or money received, and the use thereof, and paying the same to said minor at his or her majority.

SEC. 366. Such associations shall not be subject to taxation on their capital stock, nor on their loans, advances, or mortgages, but shares in said association shall, for the purposes of taxation, be considered and held as credits, and members and holders of such shares shall list the same for taxation, and the same shall be taxed in such manner and subject to such deductions as may be provided by law for the taxation of other credits. The real estate of such associations shall be subject to taxation in the same manner as provided by law in the case of other corporations and individuals.

SEC. 370. The fees, dues, fines, interest, premiums, and other payments of money made, contracted for, or required to be made, by any member of such association, by virtue of or in conformity with the provisions of its constitution and bylaws, though the same may aggregate a greater amount, taking into account all the terms and conditions of payment to and from such member, than is or may be allowed by the laws of this state to be taken or collected as interest on ordinary contracts for the payment of money, shall not make any such payment or contract therefor usurious, but all such contracts may be enforced, and such fees, dues, fines, interest, premiums, and payments collected in the same manner as other debts on contracts not usurious; Provided, that the certificate of approval provided for in section 4 of this act [365], issued to such association, shall be conclusive evidence of such compliance with the requirements of this act as to entitle it to the benefits of this section; Provided, further, that no association hereafter formed within this state, except such as hold such certificate of approval, shall be exempt from the operation of the usury law of this state.

SEC. 371. Every such association shall annually, and at such other times as required by the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, file in the office of the auditor of public accounts a statement, verified by the oath of its president or secretary and approved by three of its directors, in such form as may be prescribed by the auditor of public accounts, setting forth its actual financial condition and the amount of its assets and liabilities, and furnishing such other information as to its affairs as the auditor of public accounts may require, and a copy of such annual statement shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where such association is located, three consecutive times, and due proof of such publication by affidavit shall be filed with the auditor of public accounts. Whenever the constitution of an association fixes a date for the close of its fiscal year, the annual report of such associations [association] shall show its condition at such date; in all other cases such report shall show the condition of the association at the close of the calendar year, and no other or further notice or statement of the amount of the existing debts of such corporation shall be required to be published or given. The auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, shall have power to call for special reports from any such association, whenever in their judgment the same may be necessary or advisable. Any association failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit its charter rights.

SEC. 372. Every person who shall wilfully or knowingly subscribe, or make or cause to be made, any false statement or false entries in any books of any association organized for the purposes set forth in section one (1) of this act [363], or exhibit false papers with the intent to deceive any person authorized to examine into the affairs of such association, or shall make, state, or publish any false statement of the financial condition of such association, shall be deemed guilty of a felony; and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding ten thousand (10,000) dollars and be imprisoned in the state penitentiary not less than one (1) nor more than five (5) years.

SEC. 373. The person or persons appointed under the laws of this state to make an examination of corporations, firms, or individuals doing a banking business shall make an examination and report of every association organized under the laws of this state for the purposes named in section one (1) of this act [363], as often as shall be deemed necessary and proper and at least once a year, and the rights, powers, duties, privileges, and compensation of such person or persons in connection with such examinations, shall be the same as is or may be provided by law with reference to examinations of banks and corporations, firms, or individuals transacting a banking business; and such association shall pay the same fees for such examinations as is or may be provided by law in case of the examinations of banks.

SEC. 374. Whenever it shall appear to the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, attorney general, or any two of them, from any examination or report provided for by this act, that any building, homestead, or other association organized under the laws of this state for the purposes set forth in section one (1) of this act [363], is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or is jeopardizing the interests of its members, or that it is unsafe for such association to transact business, they shall communicate such facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon apply to the supreme court or to the district court of the county where such association is located, or to a judge of either of said courts, for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of and wind up the business of such association; and if such fact or facts be made to appear, it shall be sufficient to authorize the appointment of a receiver and the making of such orders and decrees in such cases as equity may require.

SEC. 375. It shall be unlawful for any corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state to use the words "loan and building association" or "building and loan association" as a part of its corporate name unless it shall have complied substantially with the requirements of this act; and every such corporation using such words unlawfully as part of its corporate name shall be fined, at the discretion of the court, in any sum not exceeding twenty-five (25) dollars for each day it shall so unlawfully use such words as part of its corporate name.

SEC. 376. Any association now organized in conformity to existing laws of this state for the purposes set forth in section one (1) of this act [363], which shall voluntarily comply with all the requirements of this act, shall be entitled to all the benefits and privileges herein granted; any such association now organized shall be required to comply with the provisions of this act in the following particulars: It shall, within ninety days after this act shall have become a law, file with the auditor of public accounts a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, constitution, and bylaws, shall make and publish reports in full compliance with section ten (10) hereof [371], shall be subject to examination in all respects as provided in section twelve (12) hereof [373], and its affairs may be wound up in the manner provided in section thirteen (13) of this act [374], and before any amendment to either its articles of incorporation, constitution, or bylaws, hereafter made, shall become operative, a copy of such amendment shall be filed with the auditor of public accounts; and the auditor, together with the state treasurer and attorney general, shall examine the same, and if they or any two of them shall find that such amendment does not introduce any unjust or inequitable feature or provision, they or any two of them shall issue their certificate of approval and such amendment shall become valid; but if they or any two of them withhold such certificate, such amendment shall be of no effect.

SEC. 377. Every corporation, company, or association contemplating doing business in this state and having for a part of its title or name the words "loan and building association," "building and loan association," "savings and loan association," or "cooperative bank, saving, and investment company," and every corporation, company, or association whose stock is payable by an accumulating fund in regular or stated periodical instalments, and every corporation, company, or association doing a business in a form and character similar to that authorized to be done by section one (1) of this act [363], shall, if organized or incorporated in any country, state, or territory other than the state of Nebraska, be known in this act as a foreign building and loan association.

SEC. 378. It shall not be lawful for any foreign building and loan association, directly or indirectly, to transact any business in this state without first procuring a certificate of approval and authorization from the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them. Before obtaining such certificate such foreign building and loan association shall furnish the auditor with a statement sworn to by the president or secretary of the association, which statement shall show: The name and locality of the association and itemized account of its actual financial condition and the amount of its property and liabilities, the amount and number of shares subscribed, the amount which has been paid in on such shares, the number of shares redeemed, the estimated cash value of each share of its stock, and all such other information touching its affairs as said officers, or any two of them, may require. Such foreign building and loan association shall also file with the auditor of public accounts a certified copy of the laws of the state, territory, or government under which it is incorporated, and of its charter or articles of incorporation and of the constitution and bylaws and all amendments thereto, and shall appoint an attorney in each county in which it transacts or solicits business who shall be a resident of such county, and shall file with the auditor of public accounts a written instrument, duly signed and sealed, authorizing such attorney of such associations to acknowledge service of process in behalf of such association, consenting that service of process, mesne or final, upon such attorney shall be taken and held as valid as if served upon the association according to the laws of this or any other state, and waiving all claim or right of error by reason of such acknowledgment of service. If after examination of such statements and certified copies of instruments, and after said association shall have complied with the requirements of this act as to the appointment of an attorney or attorneys, the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, shall be satisfied that such association is solvent and that the capital and investments are secure, and that the laws, charters, articles of incorporation, constitution, and bylaws governing it afford as ample protection to the interests of its members as is afforded by the laws of this state to members of associations hereafter incorporated under the laws of the state of Nebraska for the purpose mentioned in section one [363] of this act, then the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, may grant such association a certificate of approval authorizing it to transact business till the 31st day of January of the ensuing year, in those counties of this state in which it shall have appointed a resident attorney as above provided.

SEC. 379. The statements required of foreign building and loan associations shall be renewed annually in January in such manner as required by this act and shall be made at such other times as the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, may deem it expedient to demand the same, and the auditor of public accounts, state treasurer, and attorney general, or any two of them, may at any time revoke the certificate of approval and authorization of any such association for cause.

SEC. 380. Any person doing business or attempting to do business in this state for any foreign building and loan association which shall not at the time be the holder of a valid certificate of approval and authorization, as provided for in section seventeen (17) of this act [378], shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand (1,000) dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

NEVADA.

GENERAL STATUTES OF 1885.

SECTION 948. Corporations for the purpose of aggregating the funds and savings of the members thereof, and others, and preserving and safely investing the same for their common benefit, may be formed according to the provisions of this act, and such corporations, and the members and stockholders thereof, shall be subject to all the conditions and liabilities herein imposed, and to none other.

SEC. 949. Any five or more persons who may desire to form an incorporated company for the purposes specified in the preceding section, may make, sign, and acknowledge, before some officer competent to take the acknowledgment of deeds, and file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the company is intended to be located, and a certified copy thereof in the office of the secretary of state, a certificate in writing, in which shall be stated the corporate name of the corporation, the object for which the corporation shall be formed, the time of its existence, not to exceed fifty years, the number of directors and their names, who shall manage the affairs of the company for the first six months, and the name of the city or town and county in which the principal place of business of the company is to be located.

SEC. 950. A copy of any certificate of incorporation filed in pursuance of this act, and certified by the county clerk of the county in which it is filed, or his deputy, or by the secretary of state, shall be received in all courts, actions, proceedings, and places, as presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated.

SEC. 951. When the certificate shall have been filed, the persons who shall have signed and acknowledged the same, and such persons as may thereafter become their associates or successors, shall be a body politic and corporate, and by their corporate name have succession for the period limited, and power:

1. To sue and be sued in any court.
2. To make and use a common seal, and to alter the same at pleasure.
3. To purchase, hold, sell, convey, and release from trust or mortgage, such real or personal estate as hereinafter provided in this act.
4. To appoint such officers, agents, and servants as the business of the corporation shall require; to define their powers, prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation, and to require of them such security as may be thought proper for the fulfillment of their duties.
5. To loan and invest the funds of the corporation; to receive deposits of money, and to loan and invest the same; to collect the same, with interest, and to pay such deposits, without interest, or with so much of the earnings and interest as the by-laws of the corporation may provide.
6. To make bylaws, not inconsistent with the laws of this state, for the organization of the company and the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, the conditions on which deposits shall be received, the time and manner of dividing the profits, and the time and manner in which any person may become or may cease to be a member of the corporation, and for carrying on all kinds of business within the objects and purposes of the company.

SEC. 952. No corporation, formed under this act, shall loan any money without adequate security on real or personal property, except when any such corporation shall, by a bylaw to that effect, adopted by a two-thirds vote of all the stock of the company subscribed and taken, authorize the making of loans to persons of reputed solvency, when ordered by a vote of not less than three-fourths of all the directors thereof.

SEC. 953. The corporate powers of the corporation shall be exercised by a board of not less than five directors, residents of this state, and a majority of them citizens of the United States, who shall be holders of stock, each to such amount and under such conditions as the bylaws may prescribe (if a capital is provided for in the certificate of incorporation), or members, each having deposits with the corporation to the amount of at least one hundred dollars (if the company has no capital stock). All directors to hold office after the expiration of the term of the directors named in the certificate of incorporation, shall be annually elected, at such time and place, and in such mode, and upon such notice, as shall be directed by the bylaws of the company. All such elections shall be by ballot, and each stockholder who shall be a member and shall have signed the bylaws, shall be entitled to such number of votes as shall be fixed by the bylaws, not exceeding one vote for every share of stock held by him; and the bylaws may provide what qualifications shall entitle a member, not a stockholder, or the members of a corporation having no stock, to a vote; and the persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be directors. The president of the corporation, who shall also be the president of the board of directors, shall be chosen by said board from among their own number. When any vacancy shall occur in the board of directors, by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be filled for the remainder of the term in such manner as may be prescribed by the bylaws of the company.

SEC. 954. If it should happen at any time that an election of directors shall not be made on the day designated by the bylaws of the company, the corporation shall not for that reason be dissolved, but it shall be lawful on any other day to hold an election for directors, in such manner as shall be provided for by the bylaws of the company, and the directors shall be continued in office until their successors shall be elected.

SEC. 955. The call for the first meeting of the directors shall be signed by one or more persons named directors in the certificate setting forth the time and place of meeting, which notice shall be delivered personally to each director, or published at least ten days in some newspaper of the county in which is the principal place of business of the corporation, or, if no newspaper be published in the county, then in the newspaper nearest thereto.

SEC. 956. A majority of the whole number of directors shall form a board for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the persons duly assembled as a board, or a larger number if the bylaws shall so require, shall be valid as a corporate act.

SEC. 957. It shall not be lawful for the corporation or the directors to make any dividend, except from the surplus profits arising from the business of the corporation; and the directors shall, at such times and in such manner as the bylaws shall prescribe, declare and pay dividends of so much of the profits of the company and of the interest arising from the capital stock and deposits, as may be appropriated for that purpose by the provisions of the bylaws. And it shall not be lawful for the corporation or the directors to contract any debt or liability against the corporation for any purpose whatever; but the capital stock and the assets of the corporation shall be security to depositors who are not stockholders, and the bylaws may provide that the same security shall extend to deposits made by stockholders.

SEC. 958. Corporations formed under this act may prescribe by their bylaws the time and conditions in which repayment is to be made by depositors, but whenever there is any call by depositors for a repayment of a greater amount than the corporation may have disposable for that purpose, it shall not be lawful for the directors or officers to make any new loans or investments of the funds of the depositors, or of the earnings thereof, until such excess of call shall have ceased; and the directors of any corporation formed under this act, and having no capital stock, shall retain, on each dividend day, at least five per cent of the net profits of the corporation to constitute a reserve fund, which shall be invested in the same manner as other funds of the corporation, and shall be used toward paying any losses which the corporation may sustain in the pursuance of its lawful business. And the corporation may provide by its bylaws for the disposal of any excess in the reserve fund over one hundred thousand dollars, and the final disposal, upon the dissolution of the corporation, of the reserve fund, or of the remainder thereof after payment of losses.

SEC. 959. No corporation formed under this act shall, by any implication or construction, be deemed to possess the power of creating and issuing bills, notes, or other evidence of debt, for circulation as money.

SEC. 960. The real and personal estate which it shall be lawful for any such corporation to purchase, hold, and convey, shall be: First—The lot and building in which the business of the company may be carried on; Provided, that the cost of the same shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars. Second—Such as shall have been mortgaged or pledged to it, or conveyed in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation. Third—Such as shall have been purchased at sales under pledges, mortgages, or deeds of trust made for its benefit; or upon judgments or decrees obtained or rendered for money so loaned. And the said corporation shall not purchase, hold, or convey real estate in any other case, or for any other purpose; and all such real estate as is described in the second and third subdivisions of this section, shall be sold by the said corporation within five years after the same shall be vested in it by purchase or otherwise; and the said corporation shall not, directly or indirectly, deal or trade in buying or selling any goods, wares, or merchandise whatever, except such personal property as may be requisite for its immediate accommodation for the convenient transaction of its business; and except bonds, securities, or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, gold and silver bullion, and United States mint certificates of ascertained value, and evidences of debt issued by the United States.

SEC. 961. Any married woman, being a member, or holding stock in her own name in any company formed under this act, may cast her own vote, and appoint her own proxy to vote for her. Whenever any stock or deposits are held by any person, or executor, administrator, trustee, or guardian, he shall represent such stocks or deposits, and may vote accordingly.

SEC. 962. Whenever any deposit shall be made by any minor, the directors of said corporation shall pay to such depositor such sums as may be due to him or her, although no guardian shall have been appointed by or for such minor, or the guardian of such minor shall not have authorized the drawing of the same; and the check, receipt, or acquittance of such minor shall be as valid as if the same was executed by a guardian of such minor, or the said minor was of full age, if such deposit was made personally by said minor. And whenever any deposit shall be made in her own name by any woman being, or thereafter becoming married, said directors shall pay such sums as may be due to her on her own receipt or acquittance; and any person authorized thereto, by resolution of the board of trustees or directors of any corporation, association, or society having funds deposited, or owning stock in any corporation formed under this act, shall be entitled to receive such deposit, or transfer such stock, and to cast the vote of such corporation, association, or society.

SEC. 963. Every corporation incorporated or doing business under the provisions of this act shall cause to be published annually, once a week for at least six successive weeks, in one public newspaper printed in the county in which such corporation may be located, a true and accurate statement of all depositors who shall have deposits, dividends, or interest to their credit on the books of said corporation, and concerning whom at the date of such statement the officers of the corporation shall have had no knowledge during the two years next preceding such date; such statement shall contain the name, residence, and occupation, if known, of the person making the deposit, or in whose favor the dividend was declared, and in all cases so published the expense of advertising shall be deducted from the sums unclaimed, in proportion to the amount of each respectively.

SEC. 964. Corporations formed for the purpose designated in section one [948] of this act may have a capital stock, and may issue certificates to represent shares of such capital stock; Provided, that the certificate directed by the second section [949] of this act to be executed and filed shall also contain a statement of the amount of such capital stock and number of shares of which it shall consist. The rights and privileges to be accorded to such capital stock, as distinct from those to be accorded to depositors, and the obligations to be imposed upon it, in the same relation, shall be fixed by the bylaws.

SEC. 965. It shall not be lawful for the directors to divide, withdraw, or in any way pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of the capital stock, nor to reduce the amount of the same.

SEC. 966. Whenever it is desired to increase the amount of the capital stock, a meeting of stockholders may be called by a notice signed by at least a majority of the directors, and published at least sixty days in every issue of some newspaper published in the county where the principal place of business of the company is located, which notice shall specify the object of the meeting, the time and place where it is to be held, and the amount to which it is proposed to increase the capital stock, and a vote of two-thirds of all the shares of stock represented at the meeting shall be necessary to an increase of the amount of capital stock.

SEC. 967. If, at any meeting so called, a sufficient number of votes has been given in favor of increasing the amount of capital stock, a certificate of the proceedings showing a compliance with these provisions, the amount of the capital actually paid in, and the amount to which the capital stock is to be increased, shall be made out, signed, and verified by the affidavit of the chairman and secretary of the meeting, certified by a majority of the directors, and filed as required by the second section [949] of this act. When so filed the capital stock of the corporation shall be increased to the amount specified in the certificate.

SEC. 968. The stock of the company shall be deemed personal estate, and shall be transferable in such manner as shall be prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 969. No certificate representing shares of stock shall be issued, nor shall such stock be considered as acquired until the whole sum of money which such certificate purports to represent shall have been paid into the corporation.

SEC. 970. Any stockholder may pledge his stock by a delivery of the certificate or other evidence of his interest, but may nevertheless represent the same at all meetings and vote as a stockholder.

SEC. 971. Any corporation formed under this act may dissolve and disincorporate itself by presenting to the county judge of the county in which the principal place of business of the company is situated as named in the certificate of incorporation, a petition to that effect, setting forth the reason therefor, signed by all the directors of the corporation. Notice of application shall then be given by the clerk, which notice shall set forth the nature of the application, and shall specify the time and place at which such application shall be heard, and shall be published in every regular issue of some newspaper in the county where the application is to be heard, for at least three months, and if no newspaper is published in the county where the application is made, then such notice shall be posted up at least thirty days previous to the time when such application is to be heard, in three public places in said county, one of which shall be the court house of said county. At the time and place appointed, or at any other time to which it may be postponed by the judge, he shall proceed to consider the application, and if satisfied that the members and stockholders of the corporation will be benefited thereby, and that no indebtedness of the corporation exists other than to depositors who have not demanded their deposits, he shall enter an order declaring it dissolved. The hearing of such application for dissolution shall not be had by the judge until after the expiration of twenty days from and after the last publication of the notice aforesaid. After filing the petition for dissolution no more deposits shall be received nor certificates of stock be issued by the officers of the corporation.

SEC. 972. Upon the dissolution of any corporation formed under this act, the directors, at the time of the dissolution shall be trustees for the members and others interested in the corporation dissolved, and shall have full power and authority to sue for and recover the debts due to and property of the corporation, settle all of its affairs, and divide among the members and stockholders in such proportion as the bylaws shall direct. The money and other property that shall remain after the payment of all the expenses, and all unclaimed deposits and the interest accruing thereon, and unclaimed shares and money due thereon not called for within thirty days after the collection of all solvent indebtedness, shall be paid by the said trustees into the state treasury, accompanied by a statement setting forth the time that such deposits were made, or such share acquired by the person holding the same, at the time of such dissolution, and the name and residence, if known, of the person making or holding the same, the amount of such deposit or shares, and also of the dividends not called for, and the name of the person or persons to whom the deposit, or stock, or the dividends belong, if known. All amounts of unclaimed dividends and deposits paid into the state treasury as aforesaid, shall be received, invested, and accounted for and paid out in the same manner and by the same officer as is provided by law concerning escheated estates. Upon such payment by the said trustees the state treasurer shall give to them a receipt for the amount so paid in, which shall fully discharge them from all liability to such depositors or stockholders.

SEC. 973. The misnomer of any such corporation in any instrument shall not vitiate or impair the same if it be sufficiently described to ascertain the intention of the parties.

SEC. 974. All corporations for the accumulation, preservation, and investment of funds and savings, all savings and loan societies, and all associations or societies for the like purpose, claiming in good faith to be incorporated under the laws of this state, may avail themselves of the provisions of and become incorporated under this act, by filing with the county clerk of the county in which their principal place of business is located, and a certified copy thereof in the office of the secretary of state, a certificate stating their intention and election to become so incorporated, which intention and election may be made and declared by the trustees or acting trustees of such corporation, association, or society, or a majority thereof. The certificate stating such intention and election shall be signed by the president and secretary of such corporation, association, or society, and shall be acknowledged before some officer competent to take the acknowledgment of deeds. Such certificate shall in other respects conform to the requirements of this act.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PUBLIC STATUTES OF 1891.

CHAPTER 65.

SECTION 4. The treasurer of every " " " building and loan association, and other similar corporation organized under the laws of this state, shall, on or before the first day of May in each year, transmit to the state treasurer, upon blanks to be furnished by him, a statement, under oath, of the following facts as they existed on the first day of April in such year: The amount of all general and special deposits on which the corporation pays interest and of its capital stock belonging to residents of each town in the state, including all dividends that have been declared thereon and not paid; the value of the interest of such residents in all the real estate of the corporation wherever situated, if it were divided proportionately among all the depositors and stockholders of the corporation; the difference between the two sums for each town; and the same facts in relation to depositors and stockholders who do not reside in the state, or whose residence is unknown.

SEC. 7. Every building and loan association organized under the provisions of the Public Statutes shall pay annually, to the collector of the town or city in which the association is located, a tax equal to the rate of taxation in the place where the association is located, upon the whole amount paid upon its stock or shares which are in force, less the amount of notes held by it secured by mortgages upon the homestead of the debtor, upon which the debtor pays a tax in this state, and no other tax shall be assessed upon such stock or shares or against the holders on account thereof.

SEC. 12. The taxes assessed as aforesaid upon . . . building and loan associations, and other similar corporations, . . . shall be in lieu of all other taxes against the corporations and against their stockholders and depositors on account of their interests therein.

SEC. 13. If any such corporation shall not pay its taxes when due, it shall pay interest thereon from that time at the rate of ten per cent per annum.

CHAPTER 162.

SECTION 6. The board [bank commissioners] shall have general supervision of all . . . loan and building associations, and other similar institutions in the state. The members shall examine into the condition and management of all such institutions once at least each year, and oftener when so directed by the governor. Upon such examinations they shall inspect all their books, papers, notes, bonds, and other evidences of debt, shall ascertain the quantity of specie and other money and funds on hand, and shall make all inquiries necessary to learn their ability to perform their engagements, and to learn whether they have violated any provision of law.

SEC. 7. Any commissioner may examine, under oath by him administered, any officer, agent, or servant of any such institution, or any other person, in relation to the affairs and condition of the institution.

SEC. 8. The treasurers of all institutions under the supervision of the bank commissioners shall balance their books at the close of business on the first business day in July in each year, and within fifteen days thereafter shall make reports to the commissioners upon blanks furnished by them, showing the true condition of the institutions at that time. The commissioners shall prescribe what information the reports shall contain and their form, and shall seasonably furnish blanks upon which they are to be made.

SEC. 9. The board shall file with the secretary of state, on or before the first day of October in each year, their annual report, which shall contain a statement of all items of expense of each institution under their supervision, of the names of the treasurer and clerks of each, of the amount of each treasurer's bond, of the salary or compensation paid to each treasurer, of the kinds and amounts of stocks and bonds held by each institution, with the par value, cost, and market value thereof, and of the true condition of each institution. They shall make such recommendations therein as they think will promote the public good.

SEC. 10. If any bank commissioner shall, in the annual report of the bank commissioners, make a statement which purports to be the condition of an institution under their supervision without having fully and carefully examined into the condition of such institution, or shall make a false statement of the condition of any institution with intent to deceive, he shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding five years, for each offence.

SEC. 12. If any institution placed under the supervision of the bank commissioners shall refuse to permit an examination of its affairs by the commissioners or shall refuse to furnish the necessary facilities therefor, or if it is judged by the commissioners to be necessary for the public safety that it should not continue to transact business, the commissioners shall represent the facts by petition to some justice of the supreme court.

SEC. 13. Such justice shall issue an injunction, prohibiting, so far as may be thought necessary, the transaction of business by such institution, and the commissioners shall cause the same to be duly served.

CHAPTER 165.

SEC. 30. No officer or employé of a * * * loan and building association shall directly or indirectly receive any fee, present, or benefit whatsoever from any borrower or applicant for a loan from such institution as an inducement to making the loan, or from any one negotiating securities to the institution, except the usual compensation for drawing mortgages and other papers pertaining to the loan; nor shall any such officer or employé negotiate loans in their own behalf with themselves as officials of the bank.

SEC. 31. If any officer or employé of any institution mentioned in the preceding section shall violate the provisions of the section, he shall be fined not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not more than ten years, or both.

SEC. 32. If any officer of a * * * building and loan association, shall embezzle, abstract, or wilfully misapply any of the moneys, funds, or credits of the institution, or shall make any false entry in any book, report, or statement of the institution with intent in either case to injure or defraud it or any corporation, or person, or to deceive any officer of the institution, or any committee or examiner appointed to examine the affairs of the institution, or the bank commissioners, he shall be fined not exceeding twenty thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding ten years.

CHAPTER 166.

SECTION 1. Twenty-five or more persons of lawful age may associate together by articles of agreement and form a corporation for the purpose of accumulating the savings of its members and of loaning the funds so accumulated to them to enable them to purchase homesteads and to improve their condition.

SEC. 2. The articles of agreement shall set forth the name of the corporation, the object for which it is established, the place in which its business is to be carried on, and the limit of the capital to be accumulated by it; and shall be signed by the parties who unite to form the corporation, and they shall affix to their signatures their post office addresses.

SEC. 3. The name assumed by the corporation shall indicate that it is a cooperative building and loan association, and shall not be one that is in use by any other corporation. It shall not be changed except by the legislature.

SEC. 4. The articles of agreement shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the town in which the business of the corporation is to be carried on, and in that of the secretary of state. When so recorded, the signers thereof and their associates and successors shall become and be a corporation having all the rights and powers and being subject to all the duties, liabilities, and restrictions of similar corporations, except so far as the same are limited or enlarged by this chapter.

SEC. 5. The capital stock of any such corporation shall not exceed at any time one million dollars, and shall be divided into shares of the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each. The shares may be issued in quarterly, half-yearly, or yearly series,—each series to consist of such number of shares as the members may determine,—but no shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of a new series has been begun.

SEC. 6. No person shall hold more than twenty-five shares of the capital stock of any one such corporation at a time.

SEC. 7. Each shareholder shall be entitled to give one vote upon any proposition brought before a meeting of shareholders, and no more; and no shareholder shall vote by proxy.

SEC. 8. Any such corporation may collect of its shareholders monthly dues of one dollar upon each share held by them until the ultimate value of the shares reaches two hundred dollars each, or they are withdrawn, cancelled, or forfeited; and shall loan the money so collected, together with the interest, premiums, fines, and profits arising from the business, to those of its shareholders who will pay the highest premium for such loans above the legal rate of interest, and will give satisfactory security for the payment thereof, including a pledge of shares of the capital stock of the corporation of the same amount as the loan. If it is unable to loan all its money to shareholders, it may loan it to others at a rate of interest not exceeding the lawful rate, upon mortgages of improved real estate of a value exceeding the amount of the loan by fifty per cent at least, or upon other security deemed to be equally good.

SEC. 9. It may impose fines upon its shareholders, and upon those of its borrowers who are shareholders, for the non-payment of dues, interest, and premiums as they become due, not exceeding two per cent a month upon the sums unpaid, and not extending beyond a period of six months from the time of the first default; and it shall have a lien upon the shares of delinquent shareholders for all sums due to it from them, and may dispose of the shares to enforce the lien, as provided in the bylaws.

SEC. 10. It may purchase houses, or may purchase land and erect houses thereon, and may sell or lease the same to its shareholders.

SEC. 11. The interest, premiums, fines, and profits received by the corporation, less losses and the amount paid for the necessary expenses of the business, shall be equitably distributed among the shares and added to the dues paid by the shareholders at least once a year, until the value of each share in the series reaches two hundred dollars, when it shall be paid to the shareholder and the share shall be retired.

SEC. 12. Any shareholder may withdraw from the corporation by giving notice of his intention to do so, thirty days at least prior to the withdrawal; but the directors may decline to use more than one-half of the funds in the treasury to meet the demands of withdrawing shareholders, in which case such shareholders shall wait until funds accumulate and shall be paid in the order in which they gave their notices and without interest or profits after the date fixed by them for the withdrawal.

SEC. 13. If the withdrawal takes place within a year after the shareholder became a member of the corporation, he shall be entitled to receive the amount of the dues paid by him, without interest or profits, less all fines and other charges against him and his proportionate part of any unadjusted loss; if it does not take place until after the expiration of such year, he shall be entitled to receive the value of his shares, as determined by the directors, less his fines, charges, and proportionate share of unadjusted losses, and less such proportion of the profits previously credited to the shares as the bylaws provide.

SEC. 14. At any time after four years from the date of issue, the directors may, pursuant to the provisions of the bylaws, if any, on the subject, retire unpledged shares of any series and compel their withdrawal by paying to the shareholders the amount of dues paid upon the shares, and the proportion of profits belonging to them according to the last preceding adjustment and valuation of shares, less the amounts due from such shareholders for fines and other charges and for their proportionate shares of unadjusted losses, if any. If all unpledged shares are not so retired, the directors shall determine by lot which shall be retired.

SEC. 15. Upon the death of a shareholder, his legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him, together with an equitable proportion of the interest and profits pertaining to his shares, less all fines and charges against him at the time of his decease, and a proportionate share of any unadjusted losses then existing.

SEC. 16. The officers of the corporation shall hold monthly meetings for receiving dues from and selling loans to shareholders.

SEC. 17. The contracts which such corporations are authorized to make as set forth in this chapter shall not be deemed to be usurious, but the dues, premiums, fines, and interest arising from such contracts may be collected as other debts.

SEC. 18. All building and loan associations hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter shall notify the bank commissioners of their organization before beginning business and the bank commissioners shall have power to prescribe the form of books to be used by them.

LAWS OF 1893.

CHAPTER 62.

SECTION 1. It shall not be lawful for any building and loan association not organized under the laws of this state to transact any business in this state, unless such association shall possess assets of at least five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) and shall first obtain a license from the bank commissioners authorizing the association so to do; and the bank commissioners may refuse to issue such license, or revoke the same after it is granted, if for any reason they become satisfied that the condition of said association is such as to make the transaction of its business within the state hazardous or unsafe. Before receiving such license, the association shall file with the bank commissioners a certified copy of its charter and bylaws, and a full statement, under oath, of its president and secretary, showing the financial condition and standing of the association, in accordance with blanks furnished by them, and thereafter shall file an annual statement within twenty days after the first day of May. Upon receiving such copies and statements, if the commissioners are satisfied with the same, and that the association meets and has complied with all the requirements of this chapter, they shall grant such license, authorizing such association to do business by authorized agents until the first day of May thereafter; and annually thereafter, on the first day of May, such license may be renewed, so long as such association shall comply with the requirements aforesaid and the commissioners shall regard the association as safe, reliable, and entitled to public confidence. The bank commissioners may also require returns to be made to them, showing the condition of said associations, in such forms and at such times as they may elect. For each license and renewal, as above, the association shall pay to the state treasurer the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25).

SEC. 2. The name "building and loan association," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, organizations, or associations doing a saving and loan or investment business on the building society plan, whether mutual or otherwise, and whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a fixed time in advance, or not.

SEC. 3. If any state shall, by its laws, deny any building and loan association of this state, doing business in such other state, any rights or privileges which are granted to building and loan associations of that state, then this state shall, in like manner, deny to building and loan associations of that state all such rights and privileges, and they shall be subjected in this state to all the restrictions, taxes, fines, license fees, deposits, burdens, and penalties imposed by that state upon building and loan associations of this state.

SEC. 4. Any officer, director, or agent of any foreign building and loan association, or any other person whatever, who shall in this state solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or who shall sell or issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to a resident of this state any stock of such association while such association shall not have had the certificate of the bank commissioners authorizing it to do business in this state as herein described, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this act, or when said association shall have been notified and required to discontinue business in this state as hereinbefore provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment of not less than ten (10) days nor more than six (6) months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

NEW JERSEY.

REVISION OF 1877.

SECTION 1. Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate and form an incorporated company for the purpose of assisting each other, and all who may afterwards become associated with them in acquiring real estate, making improvements thereon, and removing incumbrances therefrom, by the payment of periodical instalments; and for the further purpose of accumulating a fund to be returned to its members who do not obtain advances, for purposes above mentioned, when the funds of such association shall amount to a certain sum per share, to be specified in the articles of association.

SEC. 2. Any such persons who shall sign a certificate, setting forth that they have formed such an association under the provisions of this act, and the name adopted for such association, and the city, borough or township where it is to be located and its business transacted, and who shall cause the same to be delivered to the clerk of the county which embraces the place of its location, thereupon, together with all who may afterwards become members, their successors and assigns, shall be a body corporate and politic in law, with all the powers mentioned in the first section of the act entitled "An act concerning corporations."

SEC. 3. The said clerk shall immediately file said certificate, and record the same in a book to be kept for that purpose, for which he shall be entitled to receive the sum of twenty-five cents.

SEC. 4. Parents or guardians may take and hold shares in such associations in behalf of their minor children or wards, and trustees in behalf of married women, and may act in such association in behalf of those they represent.

SEC. 5. The right of membership in all associations formed under this act shall consist in the periodical payment of such sum of money, at such times, and subject to such penalties as shall be determined by the constitution adopted and filed as aforesaid, or in the payment of a principal sum specified in such constitution to be repaid by the company, in such way and manner as shall therein be designated, with interest, not exceeding seven per centum per annum.

SEC. 6. The funds of every association formed under this act shall be invested in the purchase of lands or building lots, and erecting buildings and improvements thereon, or in the purchase of lots and houses already built; which lands, dwellings and improvements shall be sold to the members of such associations, payable in the shares of the company, or in periodical instalments for a period such as shall be agreed upon and designated in their constitution, and which shall not exceed the term of twenty years; at the expiration of which term the lands, dwellings and improvements so sold and conveyed to the members of such associations, shall become the property of the grantees, discharged from all further payment, and clear of all encumbrance; or in loans to members on mortgage of real or personal estate, payable in shares of said company, or by such periodical instalments; or in the redemption of shares, or in all or any of these modes.

SEC. 7. It shall be lawful for married women and minors to hold shares in any associations formed under this act; Provided, said shares are paid for out of the earnings of said married women and minor children, or with money given to them by others than the husbands of said married women, or the male parents of minor children.

SEC. 8, (as amended by act of February 29, 1876, page 69, supplement of 1886). Every company formed under this act shall adopt a constitution which shall embrace all the provisions of the foregoing sections, and such articles for their government and the management of their business as they shall deem proper; Provided, the same shall not be inconsistent with this act or with the act concerning corporations aforesaid, and shall not contravene the laws or constitution of this state or the United States, and may alter and amend the same, from time to time, in the manner therein provided; the investments of every such association shall be made either in loans to, or in redemption of the shares of, or in purchasing lots and erecting dwellings for the members, or in all of said modes, or in such other ways as the constitution of the particular association shall provide; and no premium given for priority of loan or acquisition of a building, or discount given on the redemption of shares, shall be deemed to be usurious.

SEC. 9. Every company formed under this act shall furnish to the secretary of state, if required, an annual statement of the business and condition of the company, which shall be duly attested, under oath or affirmation, by the proper officers of said company.

SEC. 10. Any company formed in pursuance of this act shall have power to dispose of or sell any lands and tenements to others than those constituting the said company, on terms according to or not inconsistent with the constitution of such company; and the purchasers of said tenements so sold or disposed of shall not thereby be constituted members of any such company formed as aforesaid.

SEC. 11. The original associates, or those formed into companies under this act, or their assigns, and who shall have actually created a fund, and expended the same in acquiring lands and tenements, shall be alone deemed to have and to exercise the right of members in said companies.

SEC. 12. All deeds of conveyance of lands or tenements, granted by any company formed in pursuance of said act, shall be held to be valid and binding, with all the restrictive clauses as against nuisances, or what may be deemed nuisances by the constitutions of any companies so formed, as aforesaid, unless the same are in violation of the constitution of this state or the laws thereof, or of the United States.

SEC. 13. All matters not herein provided for shall be regulated by the constitution and bylaws of said associations, respectively.

SEC. 14. The legislature may at any time alter, amend or repeal the charter of any association created under this act.

SEC. 15. Companies organized under this act may divide or partition the lands by them owned among their members by lot in such way as to them may seem most advantageous, and all conveyances made in pursuance of such allotment, shall, for all purposes, be valid and effectual.

SUPPLEMENT OF 1886.

SECTION 2. Any mutual loan, homestead or building association heretofore organized under the laws of this state shall have power to meet and reorganize and provide for the transaction of their future business under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877], by giving notice thereof by advertisement for four weeks successively, at least once in each week, in a newspaper published or circulating where such company or association is located, which advertisement shall be signed by the secretary, and state the time, place and purpose for which such meeting is called, and also by sending a written or printed notice to each stockholder, containing the same information; when so assembled they shall have power, by a two-thirds vote of the stock present, to change, alter or repeal their present constitution and bylaws and to adopt such new constitution and bylaws as they may deem needful for their future government; Provided, the same do not conflict with the laws or constitution of this state or of the United States.

SEC. 3. Nothing in the act to which this is a supplement [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877] shall be construed to prevent any association, formed under the provisions of said act, from taking a premium for priority of loan or acquisition of real estate, or discount on the redemption of shares; and that no premium or discount so taken for such purposes shall be deemed to be usurious.

LAWS OF 1887.

CHAPTER 46.

SECTION 1. Any association which now is or hereafter may become incorporated under the provisions of the act to which this is a further supplement [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877], may issue shares of stock in different series to mature and terminate in such manner as may be designated in and by the constitution or bylaws of such association or any amendment lawfully made thereto.

SEC. 2. All shares of stock heretofore issued in different series by any such association according to the provisions of its constitution or bylaws, shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes as if this act had been in force prior to the issuing of such shares.

SEC. 3. Whenever the constitution or bylaws of any such association makes no provision for the manner in which the same may be amended, such association may amend its constitution or bylaws at any regular meeting of the association by a vote of two-thirds of its members present at such meeting; Provided, that the proposed amendment shall have been submitted in writing and entered upon the minutes of said association at least four weeks before a vote shall be taken thereon.

PREAMBLE. WHEREAS, doubts having arisen as to the legal right of associations formed or incorporated under or by virtue of the above mentioned act [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877] and the several supplements thereto, to issue new or a series of shares under their original acts of incorporation; and whereas, a number of said associations have issued new or a series of shares, believing that they had a legal right so to do; now, in order to remove all doubts on the subject, and to legalize the same and the issuing of certificates of stock therefor, and to hereafter authorize the forming of such new series,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That all new or series of shares heretofore issued by any association formed or incorporated under and by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877], and the several supplements thereto, be and the same are hereby confirmed and made valid both in law and equity, notwithstanding the issue of said new series may have increased the number of shares of said association beyond the limit fixed in its certificate of incorporation.

SEC. 2. The board of directors of all associations heretofore incorporated or which may be hereafter incorporated under and by virtue of the above named act and the several supplements thereto, are hereby empowered to authorize the formation of a new or a series of shares upon the same terms and conditions the original shares of stock were issued, whenever at least one hundred shares shall have been subscribed, and to issue certificates of stock for the shares taken in said new series, notwithstanding the issue of said new series may increase the number of shares of said association beyond the limit fixed in its certificate of incorporation.

SEC. 3. Whenever a new series has been or shall be formed under this supplement the relative value of the shares of the respective series shall be kept separate and distinct, and the value thereof reported in an annual statement to the shareholders.

LAWS OF 1888.

CHAPTER 181.

SECTION 1. Any number of persons not less than seven may associate themselves together for the purpose of enabling occupants of lands and other persons, to purchase the land or to borrow money thereon of said association by mortgage or otherwise, on the terms and conditions and subject to the liabilities prescribed in this act; the aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such company shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars, the whole amount of which as fixed, shall be subscribed for, and fifty per centum thereof actually paid in, before such company shall commence business.

SEC. 2. The persons so associating shall, under their hands and seals, make a certificate which shall specify the following matters:

1. The name they have assumed to designate such company, and to be used in its business and dealings;

2. The amount of the capital stock as fixed by them, and the number and par value of the shares;

3. The names and residences of the shareholders, and the number of shares held by each;

4. The period at which said company shall commence and terminate; which certificate shall be acknowledged or proved as required of deeds of real estate, and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and upon being so recorded said association shall be a body corporate, entitled to all the rights and privileges, and subject to all the liabilities as such under the laws of this state; and said certificate or a copy thereof duly certified by said secretary of state shall be evidence in all courts and places.

SEC. 3. Any association created under this act shall have full power and lawful authority to lend money and to secure the payment thereof and of interest thereon, in monthly or other periodical instalments extending over any number of months that may be agreed upon, giving credit at the end of every year during the existence of a loan, for all payments made and received on account of the principal; and interest shall be chargeable on the amount of such principal remaining unpaid at the beginning of such year at the legal rate per annum, but shall be payable monthly, or at such other periods as may be agreed on, and no interest received from any borrower by reason of such payments shall be deemed or taken to be usurious; Provided, that the excess shall in no case be greater than three-quarters of one per centum per annum.

SEC. 4. Any association created under this act shall have the further lawful power and authority to undertake, for a consideration and upon terms to be agreed upon by the parties, to cancel the indebtedness of the borrower and to surrender all evidences thereof in case the borrower shall die before he or she shall have paid his or her indebtedness in full; Provided, that the instalment of principal that would have fallen due next after the day of the death of the borrower, and all other charges due, by agreement, between the parties, shall be first paid in full to the lender by the personal representatives of the decedent.

SEC. 5. The business of said association shall be conducted by a board of directors of not less than seven in number, who shall be stockholders, and shall be elected annually, at a stockholder's meeting to be provided for in the bylaws of the association, and the board of directors shall elect from their number a president, and shall provide for the election and appointment of such other officers and agents as may be necessary.

LAWS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 246.

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for any association incorporated under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement [act of April 9, 1875, pages 92 and 93, revision of 1877], or otherwise lawfully existing in this state, to change the name set forth in its original certificate of incorporation, by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors of such association; Provided, that a certificate under the hands of the president and the secretary of such association, setting forth such proposed new name, and that the same was adopted by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors of such association, at a meeting regularly held on a date specified in said certificate, shall be delivered to the clerk of the county where such association is or shall be located, to be by him filed and recorded.

SEC. 2. The name so certified to have been adopted shall, from the time of filing such certificate of change, be the true and proper corporate title of such association instead of the name set forth in the original certificate of incorporation; and all deeds, mortgages, contracts, actions, judgments, transactions and proceedings whatsoever heretofore or hereafter made, received, entered into, carried on or done by said association before the adoption or certification as aforesaid of such change of name, but wherein the said association shall have been called by the name so subsequently adopted, are hereby declared to be as good, valid and effectual in law as though said association were called therein by the name set forth in its original certificate of incorporation.

SECTION 1. Every * * * loan and building corporation or association organized under the laws of other states or foreign governments, on application for authority to transact business in this state, shall file in the department of state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or certificate of organization or incorporation, and a report of its condition at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December last preceding, in such form as may be prescribed by the board of bank commissioners, constituted by "An act concerning savings banks," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which shall be verified by the affidavits of the president or vice-president, and the treasurer or cashier or secretary of such corporation, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to furnish blank forms for the report required, and the said board shall call for like reports at such other times as may seem to them expedient.

SEC. 2. If it shall appear by the report aforesaid that such corporation is possessed of an actually paid in, well invested and unimpaired capital stock of at least one hundred thousand dollars, it may be admitted to transact business in this state upon a certificate of authority to be issued by the secretary of state, under the direction of the said board, which certificate shall only be issued when such corporation shall have complied with the further requirements of this act.

SEC. 3. The bank commissioners, before directing the issue of the certificate of authority as aforesaid, shall require every such corporation to deposit with the secretary of state such securities as they may prescribe, amounting to at least thirty thousand dollars, which securities shall be held by the secretary of state in trust, for the benefit of the creditors of such corporation within this state, and the bank commissioners shall have authority to order a change of such securities or any part thereof at any time, and no change or transfer of the same shall be made without their assent; such deposit shall be maintained intact in the full sum of thirty thousand dollars at all times, but the corporation shall be at liberty to receive the dividends or interest on the securities deposited; Provided, that if any such corporation shall have and keep a deposit of at least one hundred thousand dollars with any department or officer of the state where organized, it may be admitted to the state without making the deposit herein required.

SEC. 4. Every such corporation shall file a like report in January, annually, and if such corporation shall fail to file such annual report prior to the fifteenth day of February, or to furnish such additional reports or information as may be called for by the bank commissioners, within five days after notice to do so, it shall be liable in a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars and costs of action, to be sued for and collected in the name and for the benefit of the state.

SEC. 5. Every such corporation shall pay for filing a certified copy of its charter or certificate of organization or incorporation, twenty dollars; for filing original and annual reports, twenty dollars; for certificate of authority, annually, two hundred and fifty dollars; for certificate for each agency, five dollars, and shall defray all expenses incurred in making any examination of its affairs as herein provided for; and the bank commissioners may maintain an action, in the name of the state, against such corporation, for the recovery of such expenses, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

SEC. 6. If any such corporation or association itself, or by agents, attorneys, solicitors, surveyors, canvassers, collectors or other representatives of whatever designation, or any agent, attorney, solicitor, surveyor, canvasser, collector, or other representative, or any individual or firm, whether on behalf of such corporation or not, shall solicit, negotiate or in anywise transact any business in this state, except in the enforcement of contracts by legal process, without having complied with the requirements of this act, they shall be liable in a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars and all costs of suit, to be sued for and collected on complaint, in the name and for the benefit of the state, by the bank commissioners; the first process against any corporation or person complained of may be by capias ad respondendum, and the person or persons against whom judgment may be obtained shall be committed to any county jail until such penalty and costs are paid, and the necessary expenses incurred by the bank commissioners in carrying out the provisions of this act, when not otherwise provided for, shall be paid by them out of the fees and taxes collected as herein provided for.

SEC. 7. The bank commissioners shall have authority themselves, or by such person or persons as they may designate, to examine the affairs of any such corporation whenever they may deem it expedient, and it shall be the duty of the officers and employes of every such corporation to exhibit its books, securities, records and accounts for such examination, and to otherwise facilitate the same so far as it may be in their power to do, and the bank commissioners, or any examiner appointed by them, shall have power to examine, under oath or affirmation, the officers and employes of any such corporation relative to its business and affairs, and for that purpose any such examiner shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations.

SEC. 8. Whenever it shall appear, as the result of examination or otherwise, that the affairs of any such corporation are in an unsound condition because of illegal or unsafe investments, or that its liabilities exceed its assets, or that it is transacting business without authority, or in violation of law, or for any other reason which may seem to them satisfactory, the bank commissioners shall have power to cancel the authority of any such corporation of another state to transact business in this state, and as to such corporations of this state it shall be the duty of the attorney general, on notice by the bank commissioners, to apply forthwith, by petition or bill of complaint or information, to the chancellor for an injunction restraining such corporation from the transaction of further business, or the transfer of any portion of its assets in any manner whatsoever, and for such other relief and assistance as may be appropriate to the case, and the chancellor, being satisfied of the sufficiency of such application, or that the interests of the people so require, may order an injunction, and make other appropriate orders in a summary way, and thereafter proceed in said cause according to law and the practice of the court of chancery.

SEC. 10. In all suits or actions brought in any court of this state against any such corporation, not organized under the laws of this state, process served upon the secretary of state shall be good and valid to all intents and purposes, and on service of such process in duplicate it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to notify such corporation immediately.

SEC. 11. The board of bank commissioners shall make annual report to the legislature, which shall embrace a statement of proceedings taken under this act and a summary of the annual report made by each corporation.

CHAPTER 261.

SECTION 1. Every mutual loan, homestead and building association organized under the laws of this state, or doing business therein, shall furnish, through its secretary or other appropriate agent, to the chief of the bureau of statistics of labor and industries an annual statement of its business and condition, according to the form required, and on blanks furnished by said chief, which said statement shall be duly attested, under oath or affirmation, by the treasurer and an auditing committee of the stockholders or board of directors of said association; and the said board of directors are authorized to appropriate from the current income of said association a sufficient remuneration to the secretary thereof for preparing the statement aforesaid.

SEC. 2. On any failure to make such statement, the said chief, or his authorized agent, with the approval of the governor, may make an investigation of the books, securities and accounts of any delinquent associations, which books, securities and accounts shall at all times be open to the inspection of the said chief or his duly authorized agent, as aforesaid.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of said chief of the bureau of statistics of labor and industries to publish annually a concise report on the standing and condition of all the said associations doing business in this state, and to furnish each of said associations with one or more copies of such reports.

NEW MEXICO.

LAWS OF 1886-'87.

CHAPTER 9.

SECTION 1, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). Whenever any number of persons, not less than eight, may desire to become incorporated as a mutual building and loan association, for the purpose of building and improving homesteads, and loaning money to the members thereof, they shall make a statement to that effect, under their hands and seals, duly acknowledged before some officer in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds, setting forth the name of the proposed corporation, the name of the city or town and county in which the corporation is to be located; the amount of capital stock; and the number of shares into which it is divided, and the par value thereof; the number of shares subscribed for, being not less than two hundred, and that the entrance fees thereon of not less than twenty-five cents for each share subscribed have been paid in, same not to apply as instalments in stock, the number and names of the directors who are to manage its affairs for the first six months, which number shall not be less than six; the number of years, not more than forty, for which the incorporation is to continue, and the purpose for which it was formed. Said statement shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory, and a copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary, filed in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county where the business of such corporation is to be carried on.

Upon the filing with the secretary of the territory and recorder of deeds the statement above provided, the said corporation shall be deemed fully organized, and shall be a body corporate and politic for the period for which it is organized; may sue and be sued; may have a common seal which it may alter or renew at pleasure; and shall possess all other powers incident to do business.

SEC. 2. The corporate powers shall be exercised by a board of not less than six directors. The officers of the corporation shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The board of directors shall be elected annually at the annual meeting of the stockholders; and all the officers of the corporation shall be elected by the board of directors at such time as may be provided for in the bylaws of the corporation. The secretary shall be the only officer entitled to compensation, and in such amount as the directors may designate by resolution. The treasurer shall give a bond to be approved by the board of directors.

SEC. 3, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). The shares of stock of all corporations hereafter incorporated under the provisions of this act, shall be not less than two hundred dollars each. The shares of any such corporation heretofore or hereafter organized shall be deemed personal property, transferable upon the books of the company in such manner as may be provided by the bylaws, and subscriptions therefor shall be payable in such periodical instalments and such time or times as shall be determined by the bylaws; but no periodical payment of instalments shall be made, exceeding two dollars on each share, and every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. Such lien shall be prior to all liens by attachment or otherwise. That new shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited and the stock may be issued on one or successive series, as may be prescribed in the bylaws and in such amount (not exceeding the total capital stock) as the board of directors may determine. Any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation, shall have power to do so by giving notice, at a stated meeting of the board of directors hereinafter provided for, of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive at the next stated meeting of said board the amount paid for dues and such interest thereon or so much of the profits thereon as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges; Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder, his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to withdraw his or her shares of stock upon the same terms and conditions as other withdrawing stockholders except that no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his or her decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the payment of the dues on the stock.

SEC. 4. Married women may become subscribers to the capital stock of such corporation, and hold, control, and transfer their stock in all respects as femmes soleas, and their stock shall not be subject to the control of, or liable for the debts of, their husbands. Minors may become subscribers to and owners of stock by guardian or trustee, and such guardian or trustee may withdraw the stock of such minor as provided in section three of this act.

SEC. 5, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). Every such corporation shall lend its funds on real estate security or its own stock, and upon the terms and conditions and in the manner which may be specified by its bylaws. Such corporation may, however, employ a portion of its capital stock, not exceeding fifty thousand dollars in amount at any one time, in the purchase of real estate and the erection of buildings thereon for rent or otherwise. It may also use such portion of its capital as may be necessary to purchase at any sale judicial, public or private, any real estate upon which such corporation may have or hold any mortgage, lien or other incumbrance or in which it may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased, it may sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever.

SEC. 6. The board of directors of the corporation shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if equal to one share of stock, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the shareholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan to any amount equal to the number of shares of stock held by such shareholder: Provided, a shareholder may borrow such fractional part of a share as the bylaws may provide. Good and ample security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan, which security shall be unincumbered except by prior loans of the corporation. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, by such times as the bylaws may provide, he or she shall be charged one month's interest, together with any expense incurred, and the money may be reloaned at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments of interest and fines by borrowing stockholders, for the space of six months, payment of principal and interest and fines, without deducting the premium paid or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on the securities, according to the conditions and power of sale contained in the mortgage, or by suit in equity to foreclose the same. No loan shall be made by such corporation except to its own members, unless it shall happen at any time that there is no demand by any of its shareholders for the funds; then such funds may be loaned to others who are not shareholders.

SEC. 7, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). A borrower may replace a loan at any time, and in case of the repayment thereof before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the corporation, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the eight years then unexpired; and in case of recovery of loans by process of law or foreclosure under the power of sale in the deed of trust or mortgage the excess recovered beyond the amount required to pay the loan with interest, charges, fines, costs and attorney's fees shall be returned to the borrower from whom the money was collected or his or her legal representatives:

Provided, that when a borrower shall pay monthly the premium bid for priority of loan, said borrower shall not be entitled to have refunded to him any portion of the premium so paid.

SEC. 8, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). Every such corporation shall terminate, except for the purpose of settling its affairs, whenever its shares in each and every series thereof have been redeemed by loans or advances thereon, or whenever the funds and property of the corporation shall be sufficient to pay upon the unredeemed shares the value thereof, as fixed by the bylaws of such corporation, which said bylaws and all amendments of the same shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory and the recorder of deeds in the county where the business of such corporation is carried on within thirty days after adoption. No members of such corporation shall be allowed to vote when in arrears for interest, dues or fines or upon any question affecting the claim of such corporation against him or her.

SEC. 9, (as amended by chapter 108, laws of 1889). All corporations heretofore incorporated under the laws of the territory of New Mexico for the purpose of accumulating and loaning funds to its members, or that have been so accumulating and loaning funds to its members as building and loan associations, are hereby recognized and confirmed as legal and valid corporations from their date of incorporation; all contracts made between them and their members, all loans made, at whatsoever premium, discount or interest, and all security taken for such loans are hereby declared legal, valid and binding on all parties concerned or affected thereby. No interest or premium paid on a loan of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act, no premium or interest paid or agreed to be paid on a loan made by any building and loan association heretofore organized for the purpose of accumulating and loaning funds to its members, no fines or charges assessed under the bylaws of such corporation, shall be deemed usurious or subject to the provisions of chapter 2, sections 1732 to 1739, of the compiled laws of the territory of New Mexico, and all such interest and premium incorporated in notes given to such corporation, and all fines and charges assessed against its members in accordance with its bylaws, may be collected according to law.

SEC. 11, (added by chapter 108, laws of 1889). The secretary of every association incorporated or doing business with [within] this territory shall, within twenty days after the close of each fiscal year of such association, file with the secretary of the territory of New Mexico a statement under oath of the receipts and expenditures of such association for such year its assets and liabilities, the number of shares of its capital stock issued, withdrawn and in force in each series of stock during such year, also the number of shares of stock loaned upon each series of stock. Such statement shall also be verified under oath by at least three members of such association not officers thereof.

SEC. 12, (added by chapter 108, laws of 1889). It shall be the duty of the secretary of the territory whenever five or more stockholders of any such association request in a statement of facts, made and sworn to by the same, or whenever he shall deem it expedient so to do in person or by one or more persons to be appointed by him for that purpose, not officers or agents of or in any manner interested in any such association doing business in this territory, except as stockholders, to examine into the affairs of any such association incorporated in this territory or doing business by its agents in this territory, and it shall be the duty of the officers or agents of any such association doing business in this territory to cause their books to be opened for the inspection of the secretary of the territory or the person or persons so appointed, and otherwise facilitate such examination so far as it may be in their power to do; and for that purpose the secretary, or person or persons so appointed by him, shall have the power to examine under oath the officers and agents of such association relative to the business of any such association; and when the secretary of the territory shall deem it for the best interests of the public so to do he shall publish the result of any such investigation in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this territory, and annually on or before the first day of January in each year the secretary of the territory shall report to the governor the financial condition of all such associations doing business in this territory; Provided, that said association shall not be subject to any expense in any manner by reason of such examination or publication.

SEC. 13, (added by chapter 108, laws of 1889). And whenever it shall appear to the said secretary of the territory, from such examination, that the assets of such association, incorporated or doing business in this state [territory], are insufficient to justify the continuance in business of any such association, he shall communicate the fact to the attorney general, whose duty it shall then become to apply to the district court of the county in which the principal office of said association shall be located for an order requiring it to show cause why the business of such association shall not be closed, and the court shall thereupon proceed to hear the allegations and proofs of the respective parties, either in open court or upon a reference to a master in chancery, and in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said courts that the assets and funds of said association are not sufficient as aforesaid, or that the interest of the public requires, the said court shall decree a dissolution of the said association and a distribution of its effects.

SEC. 14, (added by chapter 108, laws of 1889). Any such association may allow reasonable compensation to its auditing committees for their services as such, and may, for the legitimate purposes of such association, on a vote of a majority of all its directors, borrow money in anticipation of payment of dues.

NEW YORK.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1881, SEVENTH EDITION.

(PAGES 1762-1765.)

CHAPTER 122, LAWS OF 1851.

SECTION 1. Any number of persons not less than nine, may associate and form an incorporated company for the purpose of accumulating a fund for the purchase of real estate, the erection of buildings, or the making of other improvements on lands, or to pay off incumbrances thereon, or to aid its members in acquiring real estate, making improvements thereon, and removing incumbrances therefrom; and for the further purpose of accumulating a fund to be returned to its members, who do not obtain advances as above mentioned, when the funds of such association shall amount to a certain sum per share, to be specified in the articles of association.

SEC. 2. Such persons shall severally subscribe articles of association, in which shall be set forth the name of the corporation, the time of its regular meetings, and how special meetings may be called, and what shall constitute a quorum to transact business at meetings; the qualification of members and how constituted; what officers, trustees and attorney there shall be, and how and when chosen, and their duties, and how removed or suspended from office; the entrance fee of new members and new shares, the monthly or weekly dues per share, the redemption fee on shares on which advances shall be made, and fees to be paid on the transfer of shares; the fines and penalties for non-payment of dues or fees, or other violation of the articles of association; the manner of redemption of shares by advances made thereon, the mortgaged security to be taken on such advances, and how the same may be redeemed or changed; the manner of the transfer or withdrawal of shares; the manner of investing funds not required for advances on shares; the qualifications of voters at the meetings, and the mode of voting; the ultimate amount to be paid to the owners of unredeemed shares; the manner of altering or amending the articles of association, and such other provisions as shall be necessary for the convenient and effective transaction of the business thereof; provided that the same shall not in any respect contravene the constitution or laws of this state.

SEC. 3. A true copy of such article, signed by the officers of the association, together with a statement showing when the association was organized, and the place of the transaction of its business, and the names of the officers and trustees at the time of the making of such statement, which shall be verified by oath or affirmation before any officer authorized to take affidavits, to be used in courts of justice, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which such association shall transact its business; and thereupon the persons who have subscribed the articles of association as aforesaid, and such other persons as shall become members of such association, and their successors, shall be a body corporate by the name specified in such articles of association, and shall possess the powers and privileges, and be subject to the provisions of title third of chapter eighteen of the first part of the Revised Statutes, so far as those provisions are consistent with the provisions of this act, and they shall by their corporate name, be capable in law of purchasing, holding and conveying any real and personal estate whatever, which may be necessary to enable said company to carry on their operation named in such certificate.

SEC. 4. It shall be lawful for the trustees to call in and demand from the stockholders, respectively, all such sums of money by them subscribed, at such times and in such payments or instalments as the articles of association shall prescribe, under the penalty of forfeiting the shares of stock subscribed for, and all previous payments made thereon, if payment shall not be made by the stockholder within sixty days after a personal demand or notice requiring such payment shall have been published for six successive weeks in the newspaper nearest to the place where the business of the company shall be carried on as aforesaid.

SEC. 5. All corporations formed under this act shall have power to borrow money for temporary purposes not inconsistent with the objects of their organization; but no loan for such purposes shall have a longer duration than two years, nor shall such indebtedness exceed at any one time one-fourth of the aggregate amount of the shares and parts of shares, and the income thereof, actually paid in and received.

SEC. 6. Parents and guardians may take and hold shares in such association in behalf and for the use of their minor children or wards, provided the cost of such shares be defrayed from the personal earnings of such minor children or wards, or by gifts from persons other than their male parents; married women may take and hold shares in such associations, provided the cost of such shares be defrayed from their personal earnings, the personal earnings of their children voluntarily bestowed for this purpose, or from property bequeathed or given to them by persons other than their husbands.

SEC. 7. The trustees of any association formed under the provisions of this act may, from time to time, declare dividends from the earnings of the association, payable in such manner as may be provided in the articles of association; but no dividend shall be declared, except from the earnings of the association, and if the trustees of any such association shall declare and pay any dividend when the company is insolvent, or any dividend, the payment of which would render it insolvent, they shall be jointly and severally liable to the extent of the dividend so declared and paid, for all the debts of the association then existing or that shall be thereafter contracted while they shall respectively continue in office; Provided, that if any of the trustees shall object to the declaring of such dividend or to the payment of the same, and shall, at any time before the time fixed for the payment thereof, file a certificate of his objection in writing with the clerk of the company, and with the clerk of the county, he shall be exempt from the said liability. But no trustee who shall be present at any meeting when such dividend is declared, shall be exempt from such liability, unless he shall then and there object to the declaration or payment of such dividend, and shall also procure his objection to be noted in the book of minutes of such association. No holder of redeemed shares shall claim to be exempt from making the monthly or other stated payments provided in the articles of association, upon the ground that, by reason of losses or otherwise, the association has continued longer than was originally anticipated, whereby the payments made on such shares may amount to more than the amount originally advanced, with legal interest thereon; nor shall the imposition of fines for the non-payment of dues or fees, or other violation of the articles of association, nor shall the making of any monthly payment required by the articles of association, or of any premium for loans made to members be deemed a violation of the provisions of any statute against usury.

SEC. 8. Any existing association formed for the purposes mentioned in the first section of this act, may, on the vote of a majority of the voting shares, at any regular meeting after the passage of this act, become entitled to the benefit of this act, on complying with the second and third sections thereof, unless the second section has heretofore been complied with; in which case it shall be necessary to comply only with the said third section.

SEC. 9. No officer, trustee, attorney, agent or servant of any association hereby incorporated, shall use or dispose of any part of the funds of such association, or assign, transfer, cancel, deliver up or acknowledge satisfaction of any bond, mortgage or other written instrument belonging to such association, unless duly authorized, or be guilty of any fraud in the performance of his duties; and every person guilty of a violation of this section shall be liable civilly to the party injured, to the extent of the damage thereby incurred, and shall also be liable to an indictment for a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court by which he shall be tried.

SEC. 10. Each association formed under the provisions of this act, shall, at the close of its first year's operations, and annually at the same period in each year thereafter, publish in at least two newspapers published in the place where their business may be located, or if no newspaper shall be published in such place, then in any two newspapers published nearest such place, a concise statement verified on the oaths of its president and secretary, showing the actual financial condition of the association, and the amount of its property and liabilities, specifying the same particularly.

SEC. 11. All the shareholders of any association formed under this act, shall be individually liable to the creditors of said association, to an amount equal to the amount of stock held by them respectively, for all debts contracted by such association. The directors or other officers of every association formed under this act, shall be personally liable for any fraudulent use, disposition or investment of any moneys or property belonging to such association, or for any loss which shall be incurred by any investment made by such directors or other officers, other than such as are mentioned in and authorized by this act; but no director or other officer of any such association shall be liable as aforesaid, except he authorized, sanctioned, approved or made such fraudulent use, disposition or investment as aforesaid.

SEC. 12. No person holding stock in any such company, or executor, administrator, guardian or trustee and no person holding such stock as collateral security, shall be personally subject to any liability as stockholder of such company, but the person pledging such stock shall be considered as holding the same, and shall be liable as a stockholder accordingly; and the estate and funds in the hands of such executor, administrator, guardian or trustee shall be liable in like manner, and to the same extent as the testator or intestate, or the ward or person interested in such trust fund would have been if he had been living and competent to act, and hold the same stock in his own name.

SEC. 13. Every such executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, shall represent the share of stock in his hands at all meetings of the company, and may vote accordingly as a stockholder; and every person who shall pledge his stock as aforesaid, may, nevertheless, represent the same at all such meetings, and may vote accordingly as a stockholder.

SEC. 14. In case it shall happen at any time, that an election of officers shall not be made on the day designated by the bylaws of said company, when it ought to have been made, the company for that reason shall not be dissolved; but it shall be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election for trustees, in such manner as shall be provided for by the said bylaws; and all acts of trustees shall be valid and binding as against such company, until their successors shall be elected.

SEC. 15. The legislature may at any time alter, amend, or repeal this act, or may annul or repeal any incorporation formed or created under this act; but such amendment or repeal shall not, nor shall the dissolution of any such company take away or impair any remedy given against any such corporation, its stockholders or officers, for any liability which shall have been previously incurred.

SEC. 16. Any company which may be formed under this act, may increase or diminish its capital stock, by complying with the provisions of this act, to any amount which may be deemed sufficient and proper for the purposes of the corporation. But before any corporation shall be entitled to diminish the amount of its capital stock, if the amount of its debts and liabilities shall exceed the amount of capital to which it is proposed to be reduced, such amount of debts and liabilities shall be satisfied and reduced so as not to exceed such diminished amount of capital.

SEC. 17. Whenever any company shall desire to call a meeting of the stockholders, for the purpose of increasing or diminishing the amount of its capital stock, it shall be the duty of the trustees to publish a notice signed by at least a majority of them, in a newspaper in the county, if any shall be published therein, at least three successive weeks, and to deposit a written or printed copy thereof in the post office, addressed to each stockholder at his usual place of residence, at least three weeks previous to the day fixed upon for holding such meeting, specifying the object of the meeting, the time and place when and where such meeting shall be held, and the amount to which it shall be proposed to increase or diminish the capital, and a vote of at least two-thirds of all the shares of stock shall be necessary to an increase or diminution of the amount of its capital stock.

SEC. 18. If at any time and place specified in the notice provided for in the preceding section of this act, stockholders shall appear in person or by proxy, in numbers representing not less than two-thirds of all the shares of stock of the corporation, they shall organize, by choosing one of the trustees chairman of the meeting, and also a suitable person for secretary, and proceed to a vote of those present, in person or by proxy; and if on canvassing the votes it shall appear that a sufficient number of votes has been given in favor of increasing or diminishing the amount of capital, a certificate of the proceeding, showing a compliance with the provisions of this act, the amount of capital actually paid in, the whole amount of debts and liabilities of the company, and the amount to which the capital stock shall be increased or diminished, shall be made out, signed and verified by the affidavit of the chairman, and be countersigned by the secretary; and such certificate shall be acknowledged by the chairman, and filed as required by the first section of this act; and when so filed, the capital stock of such corporation shall be increased or diminished to the amount specified in such certificate.

SEC. 19. The shares held by the members of all associations incorporated under the provisions of this act, shall be exempt from sale on execution for debt, to an extent not exceeding six hundred dollars in such shares, at their par value.

SEC. 20. No loan made by any such association to any of its members may exceed in amount the par value of the capital stock for which such member may have subscribed.

SEC. 21. The copy of any certificate of incorporation, filed in pursuance of this act, certified by the county clerk or his deputy, to be a true copy, and of the whole of such certificate, shall be received in all courts and places, as presumptive legal evidence of the facts therein stated.

CHAPTER 564, LAWS OF 1875.

SECTION 2. Every corporation organized under the provisions of said act, and every corporation heretofore organized under the laws of this state for purposes similar to those provided for in said act, shall annually make a full report in writing of the affairs and condition of such corporation, on the first day of January in each year, to the superintendent of the banking department, in such form, and by such officers of the said corporation, as the said superintendent may designate, which report shall be in place of any report which any such corporation may now be required to make to the supreme court, the comptroller, or otherwise. Such report shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the officers making such report; and any wilful false swearing in regard to such report shall be deemed perjury, and be subject to the prosecutions and punishments prescribed by law for that offence. Every such report shall be made within twenty days after the day to which it relates, and shall be in such form, and contain such statements, returns and information, as to the affairs, business, condition, obligations and resources of such corporation as the said superintendent may, from time to time, prescribe and require. And the said superintendent may, if he be of opinion that it is desirable, require that a like report, either wholly or in part, as to the particulars aforesaid, be made to him at any time, by any such corporation aforesaid, within such period as he may designate.

SEC. 3. Whenever the stockholders of any corporation organized under the provisions of this act shall deem that a personal examination by said superintendent of the affairs of said corporation is desirable or necessary, it shall be the duty of said superintendent, on the request in writing, signed by not less than five of the stockholders of said corporation, that such examination be made, either by himself or by some person duly appointed by him for that purpose, make a full and careful examination of the affairs of said corporation and make his report thereon as herein provided. The person making such examination shall have power to administer oaths and take all testimony by him deemed necessary and proper, and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers, by like process and in the same manner as now provided by law to procure the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers in the courts of record in this state. The expense of such examination shall be borne by said corporation, but no charge shall be made therefor, when the examination is made by said superintendent personally or by one of the salaried employes of his department, except for necessary travelling and other expenses; whenever said superintendent shall appoint any person other than a salaried officer in his department to make such examination, the amount charged therefor shall not exceed the sum of ten dollars per day for the time actually expended in making the same, and the actual and necessary expenses as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 4. On every such examination inquiry shall be made as to the condition and resources of the corporation generally, the mode of conducting and managing its affairs, the action of its directors or trustees, the investment of its funds, the safety and prudence of its management, the security afforded to those by whom its engagements are held, and whether the requirements of its charter and of law have been complied with in the administration of its affairs.

SEC. 5. If it shall appear to the said superintendent from the report of any such corporation, or from any examination made by him, or from the report of any examination made to him, that any corporation has committed a violation of its charter or of law, or is conducting business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he shall by an order under his hand and seal of office, addressed to such corporation, direct the discontinuance of such illegal or unsafe practices and conformity with the requirements of its charter and of law, and with safety and security in its transactions, and whenever any corporation shall refuse or neglect to make such report as is hereinbefore required, or to comply with any such order as aforesaid; or whenever it shall appear to the superintendent, that it is unsafe or inexpedient for any corporation to continue to transact business, he shall communicate the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon be authorized to institute such proceedings against any such corporation as are now, or may hereafter be provided for by law in the case of insolvent corporations, or such other proceedings as the nature of the case may require.

SEC. 6. If any such corporation shall fail to furnish to the superintendent of the banking department any report or statement required by this act, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars per day for every day such report or statement shall be so delayed or withheld, and the said superintendent may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and when collected, the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and be applied to the expenses of the bank department.

LAWS OF 1887.

CHAPTER 556.

SECTION 1. Any fifteen or more persons, being of full age, may form an association as provided in this act. All associations formed under the provisions hereof shall be known as cooperative savings and loan associations; and the name of every association, so formed, shall contain as a part thereof, the words cooperative savings and loan association.

SEC. 2. The object and purpose of such associations shall be to encourage industry, frugality, home building and savings among its members; the accumulation of savings, the loaning of such accumulations to its members, and the repayment to each member, of his savings when they have accumulated to a certain sum, or at any time when he shall desire the same, or the association shall desire to repay the same.

SEC. 3. Said association shall become incorporated by the said fifteen or more persons making, signing and acknowledging, in the manner and form prescribed for the acknowledgment of deeds in this state, a certificate, wherein shall be stated the name of said association; that the association is formed under and for the purposes prescribed in this act; the town village or city where the association is located within this state; and the limit of the number of shares of stock it shall have outstanding at any one time. When made as aforesaid, said certificate shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and upon said certificate being so filed and recorded, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate, in proper and suitable form, declaring the facts contained in said original certificate, and the filing and recording thereof in his office, and which latter certificate shall thereupon be recorded in the county clerk's office of the county where said association is located; and upon the same being so recorded, the persons named in the certificate first above mentioned, their associates and successors, shall become a corporate body.

SEC. 4. The officers of the association shall consist of a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, who shall be ex officio members of the board of directors, which shall consist of nine members, exclusive of said ex officio members. Other officers may be authorized by the bylaws. The duties and compensation of the officers, their terms of office, the time of their election, and time of periodical meetings of the officers and shareholders shall be determined by the bylaws; except that the board of directors shall determine each year the compensation of the treasurer and secretary. Special meetings of the officers and shareholders shall be called and held as provided by the bylaws. Each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote, at all meetings of the shareholders, for each share owned by him or held by him as trustee not in arrears for dues. All officers shall hold office until their successors are duly elected and assume the duties of their office. No association shall expire from neglect on its part to elect officers at the time prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 5. The capital of said association shall consist of the accumulated savings of its members, which it holds, and shall not exceed at any time one million dollars, and shall be divided into shares of the matured value of two hundred dollars each. The total number of shares outstanding at any time shall not exceed ten thousand. The shares shall be issued in yearly or half-yearly series, in such amounts in each series, and at such times as shall be determined by the bylaws of the association. No share of a prior series shall be issued after the issuing of shares in a new series. Shares which have not been pledged as a collateral security for the repayment of a loan shall be called unpledged shares. Shares that have been so pledged, shall be called pledged shares. No person shall hold more than ten unpledged shares in any one series, nor more than twenty pledged shares in one series.

SEC. 6. Savings paid to the association upon shares shall be called dues. At, or before each stated monthly or semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors each shareholder shall pay to the board or a committee thereof, one dollar dues upon each share of stock held by him until the share reaches the value of two hundred dollars, or is withdrawn, cancelled or forfeited. Payment of dues on shares of each series shall commence from its issue. The association shall have power to impose and collect a fine, not exceeding ten per cent for each month in arrears, for every dollar of dues or interest which a shareholder shall refuse or neglect to pay at the time it is due. They shall also have power to charge an entrance fee of not exceeding twenty-five cents on every share of stock issued by the association.

SEC. 7. The accumulations upon unpledged shares may be withdrawn, and the shares cancelled after one month's written notice of such intention filed with the secretary at or before a stated monthly meeting of the board. If filed before such meeting, the one month's notice shall not be deemed to have commenced until the first regular meeting after the filing. The withdrawing shareholder shall be paid the amount of the withdrawal value of his accumulations as determined under the bylaws, at the last distribution of profits before the notice of withdrawal, together with all dues paid since such distribution, and such interest on the value of the shares at the time of the last distribution and on the dues thereafter paid, as the bylaws shall determine, less any fines unpaid and a proportionate share of any unadjusted loss; provided, that at no time shall more than one-half the receipts of the association, and when the association is indebted upon matured shares, no more than one-third shall be applicable to the payment of withdrawing shareholders, without the consent of the board of directors; and when the demands of withdrawing shareholders exceed the moneys applicable to their payment, they shall be paid in the order in which their notices of withdrawal were filed with the secretary. The board of directors may at their discretion, under rules made by them, retire the unpledged shares of any series at any time after four years from the date of their issue, by enforcing withdrawals of the same; provided that the shareholders whose shares are to be retired shall be determined by lot, and that they shall be paid the full value of their shares, less all fines and proportionate part of any unadjusted loss.

SEC. 8. When each unpledged share of a given series reaches the value of two hundred dollars, all payment of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the association two hundred dollars therefor, with such rate of interest as shall be determined by the bylaws, from the time the board of directors shall declare such share to have matured, until paid; but at no time shall more than one-third of the receipts of the association be applicable to the payment of matured shares, without the consent of the board of directors. The order of the payment of the matured shares shall be determined by the board of directors.

SEC. 9. At each monthly stated meeting, immediately following the receipt of dues and interest, the board of directors shall offer to members of the association desiring to borrow, all accumulations applicable to that purpose; the same shall be loaned in sums of two hundred dollars, the value of a matured share, or a multiple thereof, or the fractional parts of one-fourth or one-half thereof. If there shall be more than one member desiring to borrow, their right to a loan shall be determined by an open bidding of a premium per share; the member bidding the highest premium shall be entitled to the loan, upon giving proper security. From the sum loaned shall be deducted at the time of loaning the amount of the premium bid. The receiving of such premium or interest paid on the loan shall not be deemed a violation of the usury laws. No member or members can borrow a larger sum than shall be equal to the matured value of the shares held by him or them. A borrowing member, for each share or fractional part thereof, borrowed upon, shall in addition to the dues on his shares, pay monthly interest on his loan at the rate of six per cent per annum, or such lower rate as the bylaws shall name, until the shares borrowed upon, reach the matured value of two hundred dollars each, or the loan is repaid; and when such matured value is reached, the share shall cancel the loan upon it, and the proper surrenders and acquittances be made.

SEC. 10. For every loan made, a bond secured by a first mortgage upon unincumbered real estate shall be given, accompanied by a transfer and pledge to the association of the shares borrowed upon, and all accumulations that have or shall accrue thereon, as a collateral security for the repayment of the loan; or, in lieu of the mortgage, the borrower, or another, may transfer and pledge to the association, for the payment of the loan, unpledged shares, the withdrawal value of which under the bylaws, at the time of such borrowing, shall exceed the amount borrowed and interest thereon for six months. If the borrower neglects to offer security satisfactory to the board of directors, within the time provided by the bylaws, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he shall be charged with one month's interest, and all necessary expenses incurred, if any, under the bylaws, in reference to his proposed loan. All bonds and mortgages given to the association shall be deemed conditioned upon the performances of the provisions of this act relating to the repayment of loans and interest, thereon, and the bylaws of the association, although the same may not be fully expressed therein. A borrower may repay a loan, and all arrears of interest and fines thereon, or one share thereof, that is, the sum of two hundred dollars, at any stated monthly meeting, or at any other time, but when not made at a stated meeting, he shall pay interest up to the first monthly meeting after such payment. He may repay his loan in full, thereby relieving his shares from liability upon the pledge thereof, made to the association, or he may, by a proper notice and direction as to the application, have the withdrawal value of the shares borrowed upon, applied in payment or part payment of his loan.

SEC. 11. Whenever any member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues upon unpledged shares, the secretary shall give him notice thereof in writing and a statement of his arrearages, by mailing the same to him at the last post office address given by him to the association, and if he shall not pay the same at the next or second stated monthly meeting thereafter, the board of directors may, at their option, declare his shares forfeited; and at the time of such forfeiture, the withdrawal value thereof shall be determined and stated, and the defaulting member shall be entitled to withdraw the same without interest, within one year upon such notice as shall be required of a withdrawing shareholder.

SEC. 12. Whenever a borrowing member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues and interest, or either, the whole loan shall become due at the option of the board of directors; and they may proceed to enforce collection upon the securities held by the association. The withdrawal value, at the time of the commencement of the action, of all shares pledged as collateral security for the loan, shall be applied upon the loan and arrearages of interest and fines thereon, and the shares deemed surrendered to the association.

SEC. 13. Any association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which it may have any interest; and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons.

SEC. 14. Any association organized in pursuance of the provisions of this act, may borrow money for the purpose of making loans or paying withdrawals, not exceeding however, two thousand dollars, so long as its accumulated capital does not exceed ten thousand dollars; and not exceeding six thousand dollars, so long as its accumulated capital shall be over ten thousand, and does not exceed sixty thousand dollars; and whenever its accumulated capital exceeds sixty thousand dollars, it may borrow money for the purposes aforesaid not exceeding ten per cent of its accumulated capital. No money borrowed shall be for a longer term than one year. Any association having a surplus in its treasury, for which there is no demands for loans, withdrawing shareholders or matured stock, may loan the same to another association, organized under the provisions of this act, subject to the provisions of this section, on the part of the borrowing association. No association shall borrow or make loans herein authorized, except by a two-thirds vote of its board of directors. The vote to be recorded by ayes and nays in its regular minutes.

SEC. 15. Profits and losses shall be distributed at least annually, and always before issuing a new series of stock to the shares then outstanding. Profits and losses shall be distributed to all shares, in all series outstanding at the time of such distribution, in proportion to their holding value, as distinguished from their withdrawing value, except that, in addition thereto a distribution of not exceeding the amount of the entrance fee, in the discretion of the board of directors, may be made to each share outstanding in the last series issued prior to the distribution. At each periodical distribution of profits, the board of directors may reserve and carry as undistributed profits, in the nature of a guaranty fund, any sum from the net profits that in their discretion seems wise, to be applied upon any future losses that may occur from any cause whatsoever.

SEC. 16. No transfers of shares shall be binding upon the association until the same have been made upon the books of the association; and the transferee thereof shall take the same, charged with all the liabilities and conditions attaching thereto in the hands of the one transferring the same. The association may require a "transfer fee" not exceeding twenty-five cents per share.

SEC. 17. The association as soon as duly incorporated, shall possess power to adopt bylaws, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, regulating the due conduct of the business of the association, defining the duties of officers and committees, times of meetings, mode of determining and declaring the withdrawing value of shares, and in relation to all other matters having reference to the conduct of the business, although not specifically mentioned in this act. The board of directors shall have power to appoint and remove at pleasure, an attorney for the association.

SEC. 18. Any person of full age and sound mind may become a member of the association by taking one or more shares therein, and subscribing the bylaws, and annexing to his signature his post office address; and whenever he desires his post office address changed, he shall give written notice thereof to the secretary of the association; and for the purpose of giving any member notice, by mail, the last post office address given by him shall be deemed the proper one. A minor may hold shares in the name of a parent, guardian, or next friend as trustee for him. All accumulations upon shares in said association held by any person shall be exempt from execution and proceedings supplementary thereto, to the amount of six hundred dollars; and the association itself shall be deemed an institution for savings and not taxable under any corporation tax law which shall exempt savings banks, or institutions for savings from taxation.

SEC. 19. Every association organized under the provisions of this act shall annually make a full report in writing of the affairs and condition of such corporation on the first day of January in each year to the superintendent of the bank department in such form and by such officers of the corporation as the said superintendent may designate. Such report shall be verified by the oath of the officers making the same. Every association shall make any further reports which the said superintendent shall require, and in such form, and as to such matters relating to the condition and conducting of the business of the association as such superintendent shall designate. Any wilful false swearing in making and verifying said reports shall be deemed perjury.

SEC. 20. If any such association shall fail to furnish to the superintendent of the bank department any report required by this act, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld; and the superintendent may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the expenses of the bank department.

SEC. 21. All associations organized under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the visitation and examination at all times by the superintendent of the bank department, his deputies or duly appointed agents, upon the application of three or more members of said association. If it shall appear to said superintendent, from the report of any said association, or from an examination made by him, his deputies or duly appointed agents, that any such association is violating the provisions of this act, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he shall by an order under his hand and seal addressed to such association, direct the discontinuance of such illegal and unsafe practices; and whenever any association shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order, or make reports as required, he shall communicate such facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon be authorized to institute proceedings against any such association as are now, or may hereafter be provided for by law in the case of an insolvent incorporation, or such other proceeding as the nature of the case may require.

SEC. 22. Any association now existing and heretofore incorporated under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-two of the laws of eighteen hundred and fifty-one, may be entitled to the benefits of this act, on the majority vote of the shareholders of said association, directing the making and filing of the certificate mentioned in the third section of this act, and conforming the transaction of their business to the provisions of this act.

LAWS OF 1890.

SECTION 1. Every corporation, company or association contemplating doing business in this state and having for a part of its title or name the words "building association," "building and loan association," "savings and loan association," "savings association," or "cooperative bank;" and every corporation, company or association whose stock is payable by an accumulating fund in regular or stated periodical instalments; and every corporation, company or association doing a business in a form and character similar to that authorized to be done in this state by chapter one hundred and twenty-two of the laws of eighteen hundred and fifty-one, and the laws amendatory thereof, and chapter five hundred and fifty-six of the laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, shall, if organized or incorporated in any country, state or territory other than the state of New York, before doing business within this state, transfer and assign to the superintendent of the banking department of the state of New York, in trust, registered public stocks of the United States, or of the state of New York, or of any incorporated city of this state, legally issued, or the bonds of any county, town, village, or free school district of this state, legally issued, of the par value of one hundred thousand dollars. And the said deposit shall be held in trust by said superintendent as a guarantee fund for the protection and indemnity of residents of the state of New York, with whom such corporations, companies or associations respectively have done or may do business. The superintendent to pay over to the said corporation the interest received on any such deposit of securities, or he may authorize the corporation to receive and receipt for the same. With the approval of the superintendent of the banking department, such deposit may be made by any company, either wholly or in part, in bonds and mortgages, satisfactory to the said superintendent, on improved, unincumbered, productive real estate in this state worth at least twice the amount loaned thereon; and all the provisions of this section shall apply to such deposit. It is expressly provided, however, that the said bonds and mortgages shall not be of the class known as building and loan association mortgages.

SEC. 2. Every such corporation, company or association organized or incorporated without the state of New York, and doing business within said state shall, in January of each year, before the twentieth day of that month, make to the said superintendent of the banking department a report, in detail, of its financial condition, covering the calendar year last past, showing its assets and liabilities and their nature in detail; the total amount of receipts from all sources in detail, including membership or initiation fees; the total disbursements during the term in detail, including the salaries, commissions or other compensation received by officers or agents; the total number of shares issued and the total amount of receipts from all sources and of disbursements to date; the total number of shares issued during the year; the total number of members or stockholders, with a separate statement of the number of members or shareholders residing in the state of New York with the total number of shares held by them and the total amounts paid by them on such shares, which report shall be in such form and verified by such officers as shall be prescribed by the said superintendent of the banking department and the oaths to the verification shall be taken in this state.

SEC. 3. Every corporation, company and association, described in section one of this act and organized or incorporated without the state of New York, before doing any business within this state, shall, by an instrument in writing duly executed, appoint the superintendent of the banking department of this state the true and lawful attorney of such corporation, company or association, upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding by any resident of this state against such corporation, company or association may be served, with the same effect as if such corporation, company or association existed in this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. A certificate of such appointment, duly certified and authenticated, shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of the banking department, and copies certified by him or his deputy shall be deemed sufficient evidence in regard thereto. Service in favor of a resident of this state upon such attorney shall thereafter be deemed a personal service upon such corporation, company or association.

SEC. 4. Whenever lawful process against such corporation, company or association shall be served upon the superintendent of the banking department, under the provisions of this act, he shall forthwith forward a copy of the process served on him by mail prepaid and directed to the secretary of the corporation, company or association, at the last known post office address of such corporation, company or association. For each copy of process the superintendent shall collect the sum of two dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of such service, the same to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable disbursements if he succeeds in the suit or proceeding.

SEC. 5. The term "process" in this act includes any writ, summons, petition or order whereby any suit, action or proceeding shall be commenced by a resident of this state.

SEC. 6. All corporations, companies and associations described in section one of this act, and organized and incorporated without the state of New York, and doing business within the state of New York at the date of the passage of this act, shall, within sixty days after such passage, conform to and comply with the provisions of this act by making the deposit herein provided for, by appointing the superintendent of the banking department its attorney, and shall also make to the superintendent of the banking department a verified report, in form and detail as provided in this act.

SEC. 7. Upon receiving as a guaranty and indemnity fund the sum specified in section one of this act, and upon receiving the power of attorney specified in section three of this act, the superintendent of the banking department shall issue to the corporation, company or association making such deposits, a certificate that such deposit has been made and power of attorney given and a license to said corporation, company or association authorizing it to do business in the state of New York. And at the same time the said superintendent shall designate to such corporation, company or association a form of report required to be made by such corporation, company or association, and shall designate the officers required to verify the same.

SEC. 8. Every corporation, company or association, subject to the provisions of this act, shall be assessed by the said superintendent of the banking department to pay its proper proportion of the expenses of conducting the business of the banking department, as provided for by section six of chapter four hundred and nine of the laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-two, and shall be considered in all respects as embraced within the provisions of the said section of said act. And if such charges are not paid after due notice, the superintendent may apply to such payment any dividends or interests received or any securities deposited by the corporation, company or association neglecting to make the payment of such charges, with interest at the rate of six per centum, and if said deposit shall at any time, in any manner, be reduced below said sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and the same shall not be made good within thirty days after notice so to do given by said superintendent, either personally or by mail, to such corporation, company or association the license of such corporation, company or association shall thereby be revoked.

SEC. 9. Any agent, publisher or other person, who, in person, by advertisement or otherwise, shall solicit subscriptions to, or who shall sell, or advertise to be sold in this state the shares of stock of any corporation, company or association, described in section one of this act, and organized or incorporated without the state of New York, or who shall receive moneys or deposits for the same, or act for the same in any other capacity in this state, unless such corporation, company or association shall at the time have fully complied with the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall also be personally liable in case of loss for all subscriptions obtained or moneys paid through his solicitation, advertisement or agency.

SEC. 10. If it is made to appear upon application of any creditor or shareholder in such corporation, company or association residing in the state of New York, that the funds on deposit with the superintendent of the banking department are insufficient to pay in full the creditors and shareholders residing in this state, or that said corporation, company or association is insolvent, has suspended business, or that insolvency or bankruptcy proceedings have been taken against it, either voluntary or involuntary, the supreme court may, upon due notice to the attorney general and upon such notice to said corporation, company or association, as the said court shall prescribe, appoint a receiver of said moneys; and pending such application the said court or any judge thereof may enjoin the commencement or prosecution of any other actions or proceedings against such corporation, company or association. Upon the qualification of such receiver, the superintendent of the banking department shall pay over to such receiver the funds remaining in his hands, less any charges which he may have against the same; and thereupon the receiver shall distribute said funds among the creditors and shareholders of such corporation, company or association residing in this state, in the manner prescribed by law for the payment of creditors in case of the voluntary dissolution of a corporation.

SEC. 11. The sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to enable the superintendent of the banking department to comply with the provisions of this act, to be paid on the approval of the superintendent, by the treasurer, on the warrant of the comptroller.

SEC. 12. The provisions of this act shall not affect nor apply to contracts or payments made or received upon certificates of stock in force at the date of the passage of this act.

LAWS OF 1892.

CHAPTER 689.

SECTION 1. This chapter shall be known as the banking law, and shall be applicable to all corporations and individuals specified in the next section.

SEC. 2. * * * The term, building and mutual loan corporations or associations, when so used, means a corporation formed for the purpose of accumulating a fund for the purchase of real property, the erection of buildings, or the making of other improvements on lands, or to pay off incumbrances thereon, or to aid its members in acquiring real property, making improvements thereon or removing incumbrances therefrom, or of accumulating a fund to be returned to its members in specified cases.

The term, cooperative loan association, when so used means a corporation formed for the purpose of encouraging industry, frugality, home building and the saving of money by its members, the accumulation of savings, the loaning of such accumulations to its members, and the repayment to each member of his savings when they have accumulated to a certain sum, or at any time when he shall desire the same, or the association shall desire to repay the same.

The term, building and mutual loan corporations or associations, and cooperative loan associations, shall include every corporation, company or association doing business in this state and having for a part of its title or name the words building association, building and loan association, savings and loan association, savings association or cooperative bank, and every corporation, company or association whose stock is wholly or in part payable by a cumulative fund in regular or periodical instalments, or which is doing business in the form and of a character similar to that authorized by articles five and six of this chapter organized or incorporated in any state or country outside of this state. * * *

SEC. 3. There shall continue to be a banking department charged with the execution of the laws relating to the corporations and individuals to which this chapter is applicable.

The chief officer of such department shall continue to be the superintendent thereof, to be known as the superintendent of banks, * * *

SEC. 7. All the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the department, including the salary of the superintendent and clerks, shall be charged to and paid by the corporations and individuals required to report to the superintendent under the provisions of this chapter in such proportions as the superintendent shall deem just and reasonable.

The expenses incurred and services performed on account of any such corporation or individual shall be charged to and paid by the corporation or individual for whom they were incurred or performed. If any corporation or individual shall not, after due notice, pay any such charges, the superintendent may apply the proceeds of the sale of or the dividends on any stock or the interest on any bonds and mortgages in his hands deposited by such corporation or individual to the payment of such charges, with interest, at the rate of six per cent.

The moneys so applied, and all moneys received by him in payment of such charges, shall be deposited and paid by him into the treasury of the state, to reimburse all sums advanced from the treasury for such expenses, except moneys received from any corporation or individual banker for expenses incurred or services performed on account of any such corporation or individual, which moneys shall be applied by the superintendent in payment of such expenses and a verified account thereof included in his annual report.

If any such corporation or individual shall fail to pay such charges as herein required, and there are no stocks, bonds or mortgages in the department, the dividends or interest on which can be applied in payment thereof, the superintendent shall report to the attorney general the failure of any such corporation or individual to pay such charges, and the attorney general shall thereupon bring an action in the name of the people for the recovery of such charges.

SEC. 8. Every corporation * * * specified in section two of this chapter shall be subject to the inspection and supervision of the superintendent of banks. He shall, either personally or by some competent person or persons to be appointed by him, to be known as examiners, visit and examine every such corporation * * * at least once in each year, * * *. On every such examination inquiry shall be made as to the condition and resources of the corporation, the mode of conducting and managing its affairs, the action of its directors, the investment of its funds, the safety and prudence of its management, the security afforded to those by whom its engagements are held, and whether the requirements of its charter and of law have been complied with in the administration of its affairs; and as to such other matters as the superintendent may prescribe.

He shall have power in like manner to examine every corporation * * * specified in section two, whenever, in his judgment, its condition and management is such as to render an examination of its affairs necessary and expedient.

The superintendent and every such examiner shall have power to administer an oath to any person whose testimony may be required on any such examination, and to compel the appearance and attendance of any such person for the purpose of any such examination.

If the examination shall be made by the superintendent, or by one or more of the regular clerks in the department, no charge shall be made except for necessary travelling and other actual expenses. * * *

SEC. 9. The president or cashier of every such corporation * * * shall once or more during each fiscal year, and at such time or times during ordinary business hours as he may select, examine and compare all securities deposited by such corporation * * * in the office of the superintendent with the books of the department, and, if found correct, execute to the superintendent a receipt stating the different kinds of such securities and the amounts thereof, and that they are in the custody and possession of the superintendent at the date of the receipt. * * *

If any such corporation * * * shall refuse or neglect to make such examination during any fiscal year, the comptroller, secretary of state and superintendent shall appoint some suitable and discreet person as agent for such corporation * * * who shall make such examination, and if the securities so held by the superintendent shall be found to agree with the books of the department, such agent shall execute the receipt before mentioned, and it shall be of like force and effect as if executed by the president or cashier of any such corporation, * * *. Such corporation * * * shall pay on demand to the person so appointed and making such examination and executing such receipt, such compensation for his services and expenses in making such examination as the superintendent shall certify to be just and reasonable.

SEC. 11. Every examiner appointed by the superintendent shall, before entering upon the duties of his appointment, take and file in the office of the clerk of the county where he resides, the constitutional oath of office; and he shall forthwith examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the corporation * * * specified in his appointment, and report on oath to the superintendent the result of such examination. No such examiner shall be appointed receiver of any corporation * * * whose books, papers and affairs he shall have examined pursuant to such appointment.

SEC. 13. No such corporation shall commence its corporate business until its president and cashier or treasurer or secretary, or its two principal officers, by whatever name known, shall have made and subscribed an affidavit stating that the whole of its capital stock, or such portion thereof as by law shall be required to be paid or secured before the commencement of its operations, has been actually paid or secured to be paid, according to law. Such affidavit may be made before any officer authorized to administer oaths in the county where the corporation has its principal place of business, and shall be filed in the clerk's office of such county. Every such corporation shall cease to be a corporation if the affidavit above required shall not be made and filed within one year from the time its charter shall be granted.

SEC. 14. Every such corporation, except * * * domestic corporations specified in articles five [and] six [building and mutual loan corporations, and cooperative loan associations] * * * of this chapter, engaged in receiving deposits of money in trust in this state, and required to make a report of its affairs to the superintendent of banks, shall, if it has not already done so, within six months from the passage of this chapter; and every such corporation hereafter proposing to engage in such business in this state shall, before engaging in such business, transfer and assign to the superintendent registered public stocks or bonds of the United States, or of this state, or of any city, county, town, village or free school district in this state, authorized by the legislature to be issued, to the amount in value, and to be at all times so maintained by the corporation, of ten per cent on its paid-up capital stock, but not less in any case than one hundred thou-and dollars in cities the population of which exceeds five hundred thousand inhabitants and not less than fifty thousand dollars in cities containing more than one hundred thousand inhabitants and less than five hundred thousand inhabitants, and not less than thirty thousand dollars in cities containing more than twenty-five thousand inhabitants and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, and not less than twenty thousand dollars in cities of less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, the number of inhabitants in each city to be ascertained by the last federal census or state enumeration. Such stocks must be registered in the name of the superintendent, officially, as held in trust under and pursuant to this chapter, and the same shall be held by the superintendent in trust, as security for the depositors with and creditors of such corporation, and subject to sale and transfer, and to the disposal of the proceeds thereof by the superintendent, only on the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Until the order of such court, authorizing such sale or transfer or other disposition thereof, the superintendent shall pay over to such corporation the interest which may be received on such securities. Should any corporation, at any time, have deposited with the superintendent more than the amount hereby required, the excess may be refunded. With the approval of the superintendent, such a deposit may be made by the corporation, either wholly or in part, in bonds or mortgages satisfactory to the superintendent on improved, unincumbered, productive real property in this state, worth at least seventy-five per cent more than the amount loaned thereon.

If any foreign corporation doing business in this state shall refuse or neglect to make the deposit herein required with the superintendent, the fact shall be reported by the superintendent to the attorney general, who shall forthwith take such proceeding as may be necessary to enjoin and restrain such corporation from transacting any business in this state, and the court to which such application shall be made shall be authorized to make such order or decree, and to issue such process in the premises to enforce compliance by the corporation with the provisions of this chapter, or to restrain the transaction of business by it in this state as it may deem proper.

SEC. 15. The securities deposited by any corporation pursuant to the provisions of this chapter with the superintendent of banks in trust for any purpose, may be exchanged from time to time for other securities receivable as provided in this chapter; and so long as the corporation so depositing shall continue solvent and comply with the laws of the state, it may be permitted by the superintendent to collect the interest or dividends on such deposits, and from time to time to withdraw any of such securities on depositing with the superintendent other like securities, the par and market value of which shall be equal to the par and market value of such as may be withdrawn.

When any such deposit consists of bonds and mortgages, the president or authorized agent of every corporation depositing the same shall annex to every such mortgage his affidavit that the mortgage was made and taken in good faith for money loaned by the corporation which he represents, to the amount therein named, and that no part thereof has been since paid or returned; or if any part has been paid, the amount unpaid and that he has reason to believe and does believe that the premises thereby mortgaged are worth at least seventy-five per cent more than the amount of the mortgage thereon; and the superintendent shall prescribe such regulations for ascertaining the title and value of the real property mortgaged as he may deem necessary.

SEC. 16. Whenever the superintendent shall deem it proper, a copy of any report made by any examiner shall be published in the state paper and in at least one daily newspaper in the city of New York, and in one newspaper published in the county where the principal place of business of such corporation or individual is located.

SEC. 17. Whenever the superintendent shall have reason to believe that the capital stock of any corporation * * * , subject to the provisions of this chapter, is reduced by impairment or otherwise below the amount required by law, or by its certificate or articles of association, he shall require such corporation * * * to make good the deficiency. He may examine or cause to be examined any such corporation to ascertain the amount of such impairment or reduction of capital, and whether the deficiency has been made good as required by him.

The directors of every such corporation upon which such requisition shall have been made shall immediately give notice of such requisition to each stockholder of the corporation, and of the amount of the assessment which he must pay for the purpose of making good such deficiency, by a written or printed notice mailed to such stockholder at his place of residence, or served personally upon him. If any stockholder shall refuse or neglect to pay the assessment specified in such notice within sixty days from the date thereof, the directors of such corporation shall have the right to sell to the highest bidder at public auction the stock of such stockholder, after giving previous notice of such sale for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the place or county where such corporation is located; but such stock shall not be sold for a smaller sum than the valuation put on it by the superintendent in his determination and certificate; and the necessary costs of the sale shall be paid out of the avails of the stock sold.

If any such corporation * * * shall neglect for sixty days after the superintendent shall have required such deficiency to be made good, to comply with such request, the superintendent shall report the fact to the attorney general, who shall institute such action or proceeding against such corporation * * * as is now authorized in the case of insolvent corporations. * * *

SEC. 18. If any such corporation * * * shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of any examiner, or if any officer thereof shall refuse to submit to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of such corporation * * *, or if it shall be found to have violated its charter, or any law of the state binding upon it, the superintendent may report the fact to the attorney general, who shall institute such action or proceeding against such corporation * * * as is authorized in case of insolvent corporations.

If it shall appear to the superintendent that any such corporation * * * has violated its charter or any law of this state, or is conducting business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he shall, by an order under his hand and official seal, addressed to such corporation * * * direct a discontinuance of such illegal or unsafe practices, and conformity with the requirements of its charter, and with safety and security in its transactions; and whenever it shall appear to the superintendent that it is unsafe and inexpedient for such corporation * * * to continue business, he shall communicate the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon institute such proceedings against the corporation * * * as are authorized in the case of insolvent corporations, or such other proceedings as the nature of the case may require.

SEC. 19. The creditors and shareholders of any such corporation whose debts or shares shall amount to one thousand dollars may make application to the supreme court by a verified petition setting forth facts showing that an examination of the affairs of the corporation should be made, and the court may thereupon, in its discretion, order such an examination to be made by a referee for the purpose of ascertaining the safety of the investments and the prudence of the management of the corporation. The result of every such examination, together with the opinion of the referee thereon, shall be published in such manner as the court shall direct. The court shall make such order in respect to the expenses of the examination and publication as it may deem proper.

SEC. 20. Every corporation * * * subject to the provisions of this chapter shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks, in such form and containing such matters as he shall prescribe. * * *

If a cooperative loan association, or a building and mutual loan corporation, * * * such report shall be made annually on or before February first in each year, and shall contain a statement of its condition on the first day of January preceeding. The superintendent may, for good cause shown, extend the time for making any such report not exceeding thirty days.

Every such report shall be verified by the oath of the president and cashier or treasurer of such corporation * * * to the effect that the same is true and correct in all respects, and that the usual business of such corporation * * * has been transacted at the location required by this chapter, and not elsewhere. * * *

SEC. 21. * * * Every [building and mutual loan corporation, and cooperative loan association] * * * subject to the provisions of this chapter which shall fail to make such report within the time herein required, or to include therein any matter required by the superintendent to be stated, shall forfeit to the people the sum of ten dollars for every day for which such report shall be delayed or withheld, and for every day that any such omitted matter may remain unreported.

The moneys forfeited by this section, when recovered, shall be paid into the state treasury to be used to defray the miscellaneous expenses of the department.

If any corporation * * * shall fail to make two successive reports as herein required, every such corporation shall forfeit its charter, * * * and every such corporation * * * may be proceeded against and the affairs of such corporation closed * * * in the same manner as an insolvent corporation * * * may be proceeded against.

In case of the failure of any corporation * * * to make any report required of him [it] by law, the superintendent shall immediately cause the books, papers and affairs of such corporation * * * to be examined as directed by section eight of this chapter.

SEC. 22. Within thirty days after any such report shall be made, the superintendent shall * * * publish a summary statement thereof in a paper at Albany in which notices by state officers are required by law to be published, and the separate report of each corporation * * * shall be published by such corporation * * * in at least one newspaper of the place where its principal place of business is located, if there be one; if not then in the newspaper published nearest where the bank is located. Such summary statement shall contain the items of capital, circulation, if any, and deposits, specie, and cash items, public securities and private securities and such other matters as may be necessary to inform the public as to the financial condition and solvency of any such corporation * * * or which the superintendent may deem proper to include therein. * * *

SEC. 23. The superintendent shall report annually to the legislature, at the commencement of its first session:

1. A summary of the state and condition of every corporation * * * required to report to him and from which reports have been received the preceding year, at the several dates to which such reports refer, with an abstract of the whole amount of capital returned by them, the whole amount of their debts and liabilities, specifying particularly * * * the total amount of means and resources, specifying * * * such other information in relation to such corporations * * * as, in his judgment, may be useful. Such corporations shall be divided into classes so as to correspond with the designations thereof in section two of this chapter.

2. A statement of all * * * corporations * * * authorized by him to do business during the previous year, with their names and locations and dates of incorporation, and particularly designating such as have commenced business during the year. * * *

Such report shall be made by or before the last day of the year, and the usual number of copies for the use of the legislature shall be printed and in readiness for distribution by the printer employed to print legislative documents, and one thousand copies shall be printed for the use of the department, the expense of which shall be charged among the general expenses of the department.

Such report may be divided into parts, and the part or parts containing the reports of corporations other than banks may be made on or before the first day of March in each year.

SEC. 26. Interest unpaid, although due or accrued on debts owing to the corporation * * * shall not be included in the calculation of its profits previous to a dividend.

The surplus profits, from which alone a dividend can be made, shall be ascertained by charging in the account of profit and loss and deducting from the actual profits:

1. All expenses paid or incurred, both ordinary and extraordinary, attending the management of its affairs and transaction of its business.

2. The interest paid, or then due and accrued, on debts owing by it.

3. All losses sustained by it. In the computation of such losses, all debts owing to it, shall be included which shall have remained due, without prosecution, and upon which no interest shall have been paid for more than one year, or on which judgment shall have been recovered that shall have remained for more than two years unsatisfied, and on which no interest shall have been paid during that period.

SEC. 27. All losses sustained by any corporation * * * subject to this chapter, in excess of its undivided profits then realized and possessed, shall be charged as a reduction of its capital stock, and no dividend shall thereafter be made on its shares of stock until the deficit of capital so created shall be made good, either by the recovery of the moneys charged as lost or from the subsequently accruing profits of the corporation.

SEC. 29. Any corporation * * * to which this chapter is applicable may make application to the superintendent of banks for leave to change its place of business to another place in the same or an adjoining county. Notice of intention to make such application, signed by the two principal officers of the corporation * * *, shall be published once a week for four weeks in a newspaper published in the city of Albany and in a newspaper published in the county in which such place of business is located, to be designated by the superintendent of banks. The application shall state the reasons for such proposed change, and be signed by a majority of the board of directors of the corporation and be accompanied by the written assent thereto of at least two-thirds in amount of the stockholders of the corporation * * *.

If the superintendent shall be satisfied that there is no reasonable objection to such change of location, he shall make a certificate authorizing such change, which shall be filed in the office of the superintendent, and a certified copy thereof with the clerk of the county in which the place of business of the corporation * * * is located, and with the clerk of the county to which its place of business is changed, if in another county, and published once in each week for four successive weeks in the newspapers in which the notice of application was published.

When the requirements of this section shall have been fully complied with, the corporation * * * may, upon or after the day specified in the certificate, remove its property and effects to the location designated in the certificate; and thereafter its sole business location shall be the location so specified; and it shall have all the rights and powers in such new location to which it was entitled at its former location; but no such change of location shall in any manner lessen or impair any liability of the corporation * * * incurred or existing at the time such change was made.

SEC. 30. No corporation to which this charter [chapter] is applicable shall be incorporated hereunder, or transact any business in this state other than such as relates to its formation, without the written approval of the superintendent of banks and without his written certificate stating that it has complied with the provisions of this chapter and with all the requirements of law, and that it is authorized to transact within this state the business specified therein, and that such business can be safely intrusted to it; which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the superintendent in a book to be kept by him for that purpose and a certified copy thereof filed in the office of the clerk of the county where the corporation is to have its principal business office.

SEC. 31. No foreign corporation incorporated for the purpose of carrying on the business specified in articles five [and] six [building and mutual loan corporations, and cooperative loan associations] * * * of this chapter shall transact business in this state without the written permission of the superintendent of banks and a written certificate from him stating that such corporation has complied with all of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it and with all the requirements of law, and that it is authorized to transact the business within this state specified therein and that such business may be safely intrusted to it. Such permission and certificate shall continue in force only for the period of one year from the date thereof, but may be renewed by the superintendent from time to time for a like period if satisfied that the corporation has complied with all of the provisions of this chapter and with the requirements of law and that such business can be safely intrusted to it.

SEC. 32. No foreign corporation, company or association, to which this chapter is applicable, shall transact any business in this state until it has executed and filed with the superintendent of banks a written instrument appointing such superintendent its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all process in any action or proceeding by any resident of the state against it may be served with the same effect as if it existed in this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. Service in favor of a resident of this state upon such attorney shall be deemed a personal service upon such corporation, company or association. The superintendent of banks shall forthwith forward a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this section by mail, prepared [prepaid] and directed to the secretary of such corporation, company or association at its last known post office address. For each copy of process the superintendent shall collect the sum of two dollars which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of such service to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable disbursements if he succeeds in the suit or proceeding. The term process in this section includes any writ, summons, petition or order whereby any suit, action or proceeding shall be commenced by a resident of the state.

SEC. 33. If it is made to appear upon application of any creditor or shareholder in any such corporation, company or association, residing in this state that the funds on deposit with the superintendent of banks are insufficient to pay in full the creditors and shareholders residing in this state, or that it is insolvent, or has suspended business, or that insolvency or bankruptcy proceedings have been taken against it either voluntarily or involuntarily, the supreme court may, upon due notice to the attorney general, and upon such notice to the corporation, company or association as the court shall prescribe, appoint a receiver of such funds; and pending such application, the court or any judge thereof may enjoin the commencement or prosecution of any other action or proceeding against such corporation, company or association. Upon the qualification of such receiver, the superintendent of banks shall pay over to him the funds remaining in his hands less any charges which he may have against the same, and the receiver shall distribute such funds among the creditors and shareholders of the corporation, company or association residing in this state in the manner prescribed by law for the payment of creditors in the case of voluntary dissolution of a corporation.

SEC. 170. Nine or more persons may become a corporation for the purpose of accumulating a fund for the purchase of real property, the erection of buildings, or the making of other improvements on lands, or to pay off incumbrances thereon, or to aid its members in acquiring real property, making improvements thereon, and removing incumbrances therefrom, and for accumulating a fund to be returned to its members, who do not obtain such advances, when its funds shall amount to a certain sum per share, to be specified in the certificate of incorporation, or for all or any of such purposes; by making, acknowledging and filing a certificate of incorporation, setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The location of its principal business office.
3. When its regular meetings shall be held and how special meetings may be called.
4. What shall be a quorum to transact business at its meetings.
5. How members shall be admitted and their qualifications.
6. What officers, directors or attorneys of the corporation there shall be and how and when chosen.
7. The duties of such officers, directors or attorneys and how removed or suspended from office.
8. The names of the persons who shall be such officers and directors for its first year, and until others are chosen or appointed in their places.
9. The entrance fee of new members and new shares.
10. The amount of each share.
11. The monthly or weekly dues per share.
12. The redemption fee on shares on which advances shall be made.
13. The fees to be paid on the transfer of shares.
14. The penalties for non-payment of dues or fees, or other violations of the provisions of the certificate.
15. The manner of redemption of shares by advances made thereon.
16. The mortgage security to be taken on such advances and how the same may be changed.
17. The manner of the transfer or withdrawal of shares.
18. The manner of investing funds not required for advances on shares.
19. The qualification of voters at its meetings and the mode of voting.
20. The ultimate amount to be paid to the owners of unredeemed shares.
21. The manner of altering or amending the certificate of incorporation.
22. Such other provisions not inconsistent with law as shall be necessary for the convenient and effective transaction of its business.

Such certificate must be approved by the superintendent of banks and filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which such corporation shall have its principal business office, and a certified copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks. Thereupon the persons who have subscribed such certificate and such other persons as shall become members of the corporation, and their successors shall be a corporation by the name specified in such certificate.

SEC. 171. The directors of every such corporation may call in and demand from the members and stockholders thereof, all sums of money by them subscribed, at such times and in such payments or instalments as the certificate of incorporation shall prescribe, under the penalty of forfeiting the shares of stock subscribed for and all previous payments made thereon, if payment shall not be made by the member or stockholder within sixty days after a personal demand made or notice requiring such payment shall have been published for six successive weeks in the newspaper nearest to the principal place of business of the corporation.

Every such corporation shall have power to borrow money for temporary purposes not inconsistent with the objects of its organization, but no such loan shall have a longer duration, than two years, nor shall its indebtedness for money so borrowed exceed at any one time one-fourth of the aggregate amount of its shares and parts of shares and the income thereof actually paid in and received.

No loan made by any such corporation to any of its members or stockholders shall exceed in amount the par value of the capital stock for which such member or stockholder may have subscribed.

SEC. 172. Parents and guardians may take and hold shares in such corporation in behalf and for the use of their minor children or wards, if the cost of such shares be defrayed from the personal earnings of such minor children or wards, or by gifts from persons other than their parents.

SEC. 173. Dividends declared from the earnings of the corporation shall be payable in such manner as may be provided in the certificate of incorporation.

No holder of redeemed shares shall claim to be exempt from making the monthly or other stated payments provided in the certificate of incorporation on the ground that by reason of losses or otherwise, the corporation has continued longer than was originally anticipated, whereby the payments made on such shares may amount to more than the amount originally advanced, with legal interest thereon; nor shall the imposition of fines for non-payment of dues or fees or other violation of the certificate of incorporation, nor the making of any monthly payment required by the certificate of incorporation, or of any premiums for loans made to members be deemed a violation of the provisions of any statute against usury.

SEC. 174. All the stockholders of any such corporation shall be individually liable to the creditors to an amount equal to the amount of stock held by them respectively for all debts contracted by it. The directors or other officers of every such corporation shall be personally liable for any fraudulent use, disposition or investment of any moneys or property belonging to it, or for any loss which shall be incurred by any investment made by any such directors or officers, other than such as are mentioned in and authorized by this article; but no director or other officer shall be so liable unless he authorized, sanctioned, approved of or made such fraudulent use, disposition or investment.

The shares held by the members and stockholders of every such corporation shall be exempt from sale on execution for debt to an extent not exceeding six hundred dollars in such shares at their par value.

SEC. 175. Any existing corporation formed solely for the purposes mentioned in this article, or any of them, may, by a vote of the persons holding a majority of the voting shares of stock of such corporation at any regular meeting after this article shall take effect, become entitled to the benefit of this article on complying with section 170 of this chapter, or such portions thereof as have not been previously complied with.

SEC. 180. Fifteen or more persons may become a corporation for the purpose of encouraging industry, frugality, home building and savings among its members, the accumulation of savings, the loaning of such savings to its members, and the repayment to each member of his savings when they have accumulated to a certain sum, or at any time when he shall desire the same, or the corporation shall desire to repay the same, or for any or all of such purposes, by making, acknowledging and filing a certificate stating the name of the corporation, which shall contain as a part thereof the words "cooperative savings and loan association," the purpose or purposes for which it is formed, the town, city or village where its principal place of business is located within this state and the minimum number of shares of stock it shall have outstanding at any one time.

Such certificate must be approved by the superintendent of banks and filed and recorded in his office, and a certified copy thereof filed in the office of the clerk of the county where its principal business office is to be located, and upon the filing of such certificate and the certified copy thereof, the persons named therein, their associates and successors, shall become and be a corporation by the name specified therein.

SEC. 181. The officers of the corporation shall be a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, who shall be ex officio members of the board of directors, which shall consist of nine members exclusive of such ex officio members, and such other officers as may be authorized by the bylaws. Bylaws shall be adopted prescribing the terms of office, duties and compensation of the officers, the time of their election and of periodical meetings of the officers and shareholders, how special meetings may be called, regulating the due conduct of the business of the corporation, defining the duties of its officers and committees, the mode of determining and declaring the withdrawing value of shares, and making such other regulations in regard to the transaction of the business of the corporation as are not inconsistent with law.

The board of directors shall each year determine the compensation of the treasurer and secretary, and they may appoint and remove at pleasure an attorney for the corporation.

SEC. 182. The capital of every such corporation shall consist of the accumulated savings of its members, which it holds, and shall not exceed at any time one million dollars; and shall be divided into shares of the matured value of two hundred dollars each.

The total number of shares outstanding at any time shall not exceed ten thousand. The shares shall be issued in yearly or half-yearly series in such amounts in each series and at such times as shall be prescribed by the bylaws. No shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issuing of shares in a new series. Shares which have not been pledged as a collateral security for the repayment of a loan shall be called unpledged shares. Shares which have been so pledged shall be called pledged shares. No person shall hold more than ten unpledged or twenty pledged shares in any one series. Each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote at all meetings of the shareholders for each share owned by him or held by him as trustee, not in arrears for dues.

SEC. 183. Savings paid to the corporation upon shares shall be called dues. At or before each stated monthly or semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors, each shareholder shall pay to the board or a committee thereof, one dollar dues upon each share of stock held by him until the share reaches the value of two hundred dollars, or is withdrawn, cancelled or forfeited. Payment of dues on shares of each series shall commence from its issue. Fines may be imposed and collected, not exceeding ten per cent for each month in arrears, for every dollar of dues or interest which a shareholder shall refuse or neglect to pay at the time it is due. An entrance fee may also be charged not exceeding twenty-five cents on every share of stock issued by the corporation.

SEC. 184. The accumulations upon unpledged shares may be withdrawn, and the shares cancelled, after one month's written notice of such intention filed with the secretary at or before a stated monthly meeting of the board.

If filed before such meeting, the one month's notice shall not be deemed to have commenced until the first regular meeting after filing. The withdrawing shareholder shall be paid the amount of the withdrawal value of his accumulations as determined under the bylaws at the last distribution of profits before the notice of withdrawal, together with all dues paid since such distribution, and such interest on the value of the shares at the time of the last distribution and on the dues thereafter paid as the bylaws shall determine, less any fines unpaid and a proportionate share of any unadjusted loss; but not more than one-half of the receipts of the corporation, and when the corporation is indebted on matured shares not more than one-third of such receipts, shall be applicable to the payment of withdrawing shareholders without the consent of the board of directors. When the demands of withdrawing shareholders exceed the moneys applicable to their payment, they shall be paid in the order in which their notices of withdrawal were filed with the secretary. The board of directors may in their discretion, under rules made by them, retire the unpledged shares of any series at any time after four years from the date of their issue by enforcing withdrawals of the same; but the shareholders whose shares are to be retired shall be determined by lot, and they shall be paid the full value of their shares, less all fines and proportionate part of any unadjusted loss.

SEC. 185. When each unpledged share of a given series reaches the value of two hundred dollars, all payment of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the corporation, two hundred dollars therefor, with such rate of interest as shall be determined by the bylaws from the time the board of directors shall have declared such shares to be matured until paid; but at no time shall more than one-third of the receipts of the corporation be applicable to the payment of matured shares without the consent of the board of directors. The order of the payment of matured shares shall be determined by the board of directors.

SEC. 186. At each monthly stated meeting, immediately following the receipt of dues and interest, the board of directors shall offer to members of the corporation desiring to borrow, all accumulations applicable to that purpose, in sums of two hundred dollars, the value of a matured share, or a multiple thereof, or the fractional parts of one-fourth or one-half thereof. If more than one member desires to borrow, the right to the loan shall be determined by an open bidding of a premium per share, and the member bidding the highest premium shall be entitled to the loan upon giving proper security; and the amount of the premium paid shall be deducted from the sum loaned at the time of loaning, and the receipt thereof shall not be deemed a violation of the usury laws. No member can borrow a larger sum than shall be equal to the matured value of the shares held by him. A borrowing member, for each share or fractional part thereof borrowed upon, shall, in addition to the dues on his shares, pay monthly interest on his loan at the rate of six per cent per annum, or such lower rate as the bylaws shall name, until the shares borrowed upon reach the matured value of two hundred dollars each, or the loan is repaid; and when such matured value is reached, the loan upon it shall be paid out of the share, and the proper surrender and acquittances be made.

SEC. 187. Every loan made shall be secured by a bond and a first mortgage upon unincumbered real property, with a transfer and pledge to the corporation of the shares borrowed upon, and all accumulations that have or shall accrue thereon; but in lieu of the mortgage the borrower, or another, may transfer and pledge to the corporation for the payment of the loan, unpledged shares, the withdrawal value of which, under the bylaws, at the time of such borrowing, shall exceed the amount borrowed and interest thereon for six months. The right to the loan shall be forfeited if the borrower neglects to offer security satisfactory to the board of directors within the time provided by the bylaws, and he shall be charged with one month's interest and all necessary expenses incurred, if any, under the bylaws, in reference to his proposed loan. All bonds and mortgages given to the corporation shall be deemed conditioned upon the performance of the provisions of this chapter relating to the repayment of loans and interest thereon, and the bylaws of the corporation, although not fully expressed therein. A borrower may repay the loan and all arrears of interest and fines thereon, or one share thereof, at any stated monthly meeting, or at any other time, but when not made at a stated meeting he shall pay interest up to the first monthly meeting after such payment. He may repay his loan in full and release the shares from liability upon the pledge thereof, or he may, by a proper notice and direction as to the application have the withdrawal value of the shares borrowed upon applied in payment or part payment of his loan.

SEC. 188. When any member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of dues upon unpledged shares, the secretary shall give him notice thereof in writing, and a statement of his arrearages by mailing the same to him at the last post office address given by him to the corporation, and if he shall not pay the same on or before the second stated monthly meeting thereafter, the board of directors may, at their discretion, declare his shares forfeited; and at the time of such forfeiture, the withdrawal value thereof shall be determined and stated, and the defaulting member shall be entitled to withdraw the same without interest within one year, upon such notice as shall be required of a withdrawing shareholder. If a borrowing member shall be six months in arrears in the payment of his dues and interest, or either, the whole loan shall become due at the option of the board of directors, and they may proceed to enforce the collection upon the securities held by the corporation. The withdrawal value at the time of the commencement of the action of all shares pledged as collateral security for the loan shall be applied upon the loan and arrearages of interest and fines thereon, and the shares deemed surrendered to the corporation.

SEC. 189. Any such corporation may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real property upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien or any other incumbrance, or in which it may have any interest, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons. It may also borrow money, but not for a longer period than one year, for the purpose of making loans or paying withdrawals, not exceeding two thousand dollars, when its accumulated capital is less than ten thousand dollars; and not exceeding six thousand dollars when its accumulated capital shall be ten thousand dollars and over, and not more than sixty thousand dollars; and if its accumulated capital exceeds sixty thousand dollars, it may borrow money for such purposes not exceeding ten per cent of its accumulated capital.

If any such corporation has a surplus in its treasury for which there is no demand for loans, withdrawing shareholders or matured stock, it may loan the same to any other corporation organized under the provisions of this article, subject to the provisions of this section on the part of the borrowing corporation. No corporation shall borrow or make loans authorized by this section except by a two-thirds vote of its board of directors, which shall be recorded by ayes and nays in its regular minutes.

SEC. 190. Profits and losses shall be distributed at least annually and always before issuing a new series of stock to all shares in all series outstanding at the time of such distribution, in proportion to their holding value as distinguished from their withdrawing value, except that, in addition thereto, a distribution of not exceeding the amount of the entrance fee, in the discretion of the board of directors, may be made to each share outstanding in the last series issued prior to the distribution. At each periodical distribution of profits, the board of directors may reserve and carry as undistributed profits, in the nature of a guaranty fund, any sum from the net profits that in their discretion seems wise, to be applied upon any future losses that may occur from any cause whatever.

SEC. 191. Any person of full age and sound mind may become a member of the corporation by taking one or more shares therein and subscribing the bylaws, and annexing to his signature his post office address; and when he desires his post office address changed, he shall give written notice thereof to the secretary of the corporation; and for the purpose of giving any member notice by mail, the last post office address given by him shall be deemed the proper one. A minor may hold shares in the name of a parent, guardian or next friend as trustee for him.

No transfer of shares shall be binding upon the corporation until the same has been made upon its books; and the transferee thereof shall take the same charged with all the liabilities and conditions attaching thereto in the hands of the person transferring the same; and the corporation may require a transfer fee not exceeding twenty-five cents per share.

All accumulations upon shares held by any person shall be exempt from execution and proceedings supplementary thereto to the amount of six hundred dollars; and the corporation shall be deemed an institution for savings and not taxable under any corporation tax law, which shall exempt savings banks or institutions for savings from taxation; and no such corporation shall be liable to pay any tax upon its organization or as a condition thereof.

NORTH CAROLINA.

CODE OF 1883.

SECTION 2294. It shall be lawful for any individuals or persons in any city or county in this state, under any name by them to be assumed, to associate for the purpose of organizing and establishing homestead and building associations, and being so associated shall, on complying with this chapter, be a body politic and corporate, and as such shall be capable in law to hold and dispose of property, both real and personal, may have and use a common seal, may choose a presiding and other officers, may enact bylaws for the regulation of the affairs of such corporation, and compel the due observance of the same by fines and penalties, may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, answer and be answered in any court in this state, and do all acts necessary for the well ordering and good government of the affairs of such corporation, and shall exercise all and singular the powers incident to bodies politic or corporate: Provided, that before any such corporation shall be entitled to the privileges of this chapter, they shall lodge with the clerk of the superior court of the county where such corporation is designed to act, a copy of the articles of association of such corporation, signed by at least seven members and certified by the secretary thereof, to be recorded in the office of such clerk, and shall pay a tax of twenty-five dollars to said clerk, which tax shall be paid over by the clerk to the treasurer of the county, to the use of the school fund of the county.

SEC. 2295. Any addition, alteration or amendment of, the articles of association of any such corporation shall be signed, certified and recorded as is provided in the preceding section of this chapter.

SEC. 2296. Any corporation created under and by virtue of this chapter, shall have power to declare in their articles of association the number of shares of which the capital stock of such corporation shall consist, the par value of the same, to limit the number which each stockholder may be allowed to hold, to prescribe the entrance fee to be paid by each stockholder at the time of subscribing, to regulate the instalments to be paid on each share, and the times at which the same shall be paid and payable.

SEC. 2297. Any such corporation shall have power to issue to each member of such corporation a certificate of the shares of stock held by him, and to enforce the payment of all instalments and other dues due to said corporation from the members or stockholders by such fines and forfeitures as the corporation may, from time to time, provide in the bylaws or articles of association of such corporation.

SEC. 2298. Any person applying for membership or stock in any such corporation after the end of a month from the date of its incorporation, may be required to pay, on subscribing, such sums or assessments as may from time to time be fixed, and assessed in manner as may be provided by said corporation, in order to place such new member or stockholder on like footing with the original members and others holding stock at the time of such application: Provided, that any association that has been or may be organized under this chapter shall be authorized and empowered to establish one or more additional class or classes of shares, under such rules, regulations and restrictions for issuing, paying and redeeming the same as to them shall appear expedient and proper, not inconsistent with this chapter, or laws of the state.

SEC. 2299. It shall be lawful for any such corporation at any time in advance of the time at which such corporation shall cease to exist, according to the plan contained in the articles of association thereof, to advance to any member thereof for such premium as may be agreed upon, the sum which he would be entitled to receive upon the dissolution thereof, for any number of shares therein held by him, or to purchase from any member the share or shares of stock held by him at such price or sum as, according to the articles of association, such member may agree to receive, and on payment of said sum of money, to receive from such member security as is hereinafter mentioned for the payment by such members to said corporation of the unpaid instalments, to be paid on the share or shares of stock so sold or redeemed, together with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, on the sum of money so paid or advanced to such member at such times, and under and subject to such fines and penalties for non-payment thereof as may be prescribed by the articles of association of such corporation.

SEC. 2300. The payment of the unpaid instalments on the share or shares so purchased or redeemed, with interest upon the sum of money paid therefor as aforesaid, at the rate heretofore mentioned, and all fines and penalties incurred in respect thereof by any such member, shall be secured to such corporation by way of mortgage on real or leasehold property, or by hypothecation of stock of such corporation held by such member as may be provided in the articles of association of any such corporation: Provided, in case of hypothecation of stock, no greater sum of money shall at any time be drawn out by any member than shall have already been paid in by him on all his shares at the time of such hypothecation.

SEC. 2300a, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). Every non-resident building and loan association doing business in this state shall appoint a general agent or attorney, who shall be a citizen and resident of this state, and file a certificate of such appointment with the auditor of state, and copies of such certificates of appointment, certified by the said auditor, shall be received as sufficient evidences of such appointment before any court in this state, and such certificate shall contain a stipulation agreeing that so long as there may be any liability on the part of the applicant under any contract entered into in pursuance of any law of this state, process may be served in the absence of the principal upon such general agent or attorney: Provided, that service may be made upon the auditor of state, and it shall be his duty in such case to transmit at once a copy of the process to the home office of the association.

SEC. 2300b, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). Every association doing business under this chapter shall file in the office of the auditor of state, on or before the first day of March in each year, in such form as he shall prescribe, a statement of the business standing and financial condition of the applicant on the preceding thirty-first day of December, signed and sworn to by said principal or by the chief managing agent, attorney or officer thereof before the auditor of state, or before a commissioner of affidavits for North Carolina, or before some notary public.

SEC. 2300c, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). Every association doing business under this act shall file in the office of the auditor of state a copy of the charter, articles of association, or other statement, showing the mode in which the applicant proposes to do business.

SEC. 2300d, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). It shall be the duty of the auditor of state to receive and thoroughly examine each annual statement required by this act, and if made in compliance with the requirements of this act to publish an abstract of the same in one of the newspapers of the state, to be selected by the general agent or attorney making such statement, and at the expense of his principal. The auditor of state shall be entitled to a fee of five dollars, to be paid by the association filing such statement.

SEC. 2300e, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). If the auditor of state shall become satisfied at any time that any statements made by any association licensed under this act shall be untrue, or in case a general agent shall fail or refuse to obey the provisions of this act, the auditor of state shall notify the state treasurer of such default, and the state treasurer shall thereupon have power to revoke and cancel such license.

SEC. 2300f, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). It shall be the duty of any person having in his possession or control any books, accounts or papers of any association licensed under this act to exhibit the same to the auditor of state on demand, and on refusing so to do, or knowingly or wilfully making any false statement in regard to the same, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2300g, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). Every general agent or attorney who shall fail or refuse to perform any duty required of him by this act shall forfeit and pay to the auditor of state fifty dollars for every such refusal, to be recovered before any justice of the peace at the suit of the said auditor.

SEC. 2300h, (added by chapter 434, public laws of 1893). Any person who shall solicit or transact any business for or concerning any association not duly licensed as in this act provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court.

PUBLIC LAWS OF 1893.

CHAPTER 294.

SECTION 30. * * * Every building and loan association conducting business in the state shall pay annually to the state treasurer a tax according to the paid in capital as follows: A paid in capital of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or more, one hundred dollars ($100); on paid in capital of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and less than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), fifty dollars ($50); on a paid in capital of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) and less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), twenty-five dollars ($25); on a paid in capital of five thousand dollars ($5,000) and less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), ten dollars ($10); on a paid in capital of less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), five dollars ($5): Provided, that no counties or corporation shall be allowed to add any additional tax, license or other fee. Any building and loan association which does business in this state without paying such tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 434.

SECTION 2. No building and loan association shall be required to pay any tax or license except such as are specified in the "Act to raise revenue" [chapter 294, public laws of 1893], passed at this session of the general assembly.

NORTH DAKOTA.

COMPILED LAWS OF 1887 (TERRITORIAL).

SECTION 3166. At any time when ten or more persons may desire to form a building and loan association under the provisions of this act, they shall make application to the secretary of the territory in the manner prescribed by section 3175. The said secretary is hereby fully empowered to grant charters to said associations, provided that no charter granted under or by virtue of the provisions of this act shall be for a longer period than twenty years.

SEC. 3167, (as amended by chapter 40, territorial laws of 1889). The capital stock of any corporation created by this act shall be paid in at such times, amounts and places as the bylaws shall appoint; every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments, and other charges incurred thereon under provisions of the charter and bylaws and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien; new shares of stock may be issued in lieu of the shares withdrawn or forfeited, the stock may be issued in one or more successive series in such amounts as the board of directors or stockholders may determine and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation shall have power to do so by giving thirty days notice of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her and such proportion of the profit as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges; Provided that at no time shall more than one-half the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors; and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of the stockholder his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock. No fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from or after his decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payment on stock.

The capital stock of any building and loan association heretofore incorporated or to be incorporated may be increased or diminished and the other provisions of this act made operative and applicable to building and loan associations incorporated or to be incorporated by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors of such corporation upon publishing in two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which such association is located for two weeks notice of intention to increase capital stock and upon filing with secretary of the territory a certified copy of the minutes of the meeting of the board of directors of such association at which it was voted to increase the capital stock together with proof of publication of the notice hereinbefore provided for.

SEC. 3168. The number, titles, functions and compensation of the officers of any corporation created by virtue of this act, their terms of office, the times of their election, as well as the qualifications of electors, and the votes and manner of voting, and the periodical meetings of said corporation, and the manner and terms upon which loans shall be made and repaid shall be determined by the bylaws.

SEC. 3169. The said officers shall hold stated meetings at which the money in the treasury, if equal to the amount of one share of stock in such corporation shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of the full amount for each share of stock held by such stockholder; Provided, that good and ample security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security that is approved by the board of directors by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with one month's interest at the rate charged by the association on loans, and a fine not to exceed one dollar per share, together with any expenses incurred, and the money shall be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments, or interest or premium by borrowing stockholder, for the space of six months, payment of principal and interest, without deducting the premium paid or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities according to law.

SEC. 3170. A borrower may repay a loan at any time by the payment to the corporation of the principal sum borrowed, together with interest, not to exceed twelve per cent per annum, together with such per cent of premium per annum as may have been bid for the preferences or priority of such loan and any fines or charges that may be imposed upon such stockholder at the time of such repayment; or in case the amount of premium bid for the priority of such loan be deducted in advance, and the repayment thereof is made before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the corporation, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years unexpired; Provided, that when the stock is issued in separate series, the time shall be computed from the date of the issuing of the shares of stock on which the loan was made; Provided further, that when the series of stock has a less period than eight years to complete full payment thereof, there shall be refunded only pro rata for the unexpired term of the series; And, provided further, when the bylaws of the corporation prescribe a different manner and terms upon which a loan may be repaid, then the repayment can only be made in accordance with the bylaws of such corporation.

SEC. 3171. No premiums, fines or interest on such premiums that may accrue to the said corporation according to the provisions of this act shall be deemed usurious; and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now by law collected in this territory.

SEC. 3172. No corporation created under this act shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect officers at the time mentioned in their charter or bylaws, and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

SEC. 3173. Any building or loan association incorporated by or under the provisions of this act, or any one heretofore or hereafter incorporated, accepting of the provisions of the same, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this act to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever, and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such association to any person or persons not members of the association so selling are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 3174. All mortgages heretofore given to the building and loan associations organized under the laws of this territory before the passage of this act or subsequent hereto, but such associations subsequently accepting the provisions hereof, be and the same are hereby declared good and valid to all intents and purposes, as though they had been made to corporations organized under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3175. The charter of an intended corporation under the provisions of this act, must be subscribed by ten or more persons, a majority of whom must be citizens of this territory, and set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal office, or the business is to be transacted.
4. The time for which it is to exist.
5. The names and residences of the subscribers, and the number of shares subscribed by each.
6. The number of its directors, and the names and residences of those who are selected as directors, and who shall hold their office until the next annual election, or until their successors are elected and qualified.
7. The amount of its capital stock, and the number and par value of its shares.

SEC. 3176. Notice of the intention to apply for any such charter shall be inserted in two newspapers of general circulation printed in the proper county for three weeks, setting forth briefly the character and object of the corporation to be formed, and the intention to make application therefor. The certificate for a corporation under the provisions of this act, shall set forth all that is hereinbefore required to be set forth, the same shall be acknowledged by at least five of the subscribers thereto before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths, and they shall also make and subscribe an oath or affirmation before him, to be indorsed on said certificate that the statements contained therein are true. The said certificate, accompanied with proof of publication of the notice as hereinbefore provided, shall then be produced to the secretary of the territory, who shall examine the same and if he find it to be in proper form, as specified in the foregoing sections, he shall approve thereof, and indorse his approval thereon, and issue letters patent in the usual form incorporating the subscribers and their associates and successors into a body politic and corporate in deed and in law, by the manner chosen; and the said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of the territory, in a book to be by him kept for that purpose, and a certified copy of the said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the principal business of the association is transacted. Certified copies of the records thereof shall be competent evidence for all purposes in the several courts of this territory.

SEC. 3177. The bylaws of every corporation created under the provisions of this act or of those accepting the provisions of the same, shall be deemed and taken as its law, subordinate to this statute. They shall be made by the stockholders, or the board of directors, at their annual meeting or at any stated meeting of the board of directors. They shall prescribe the time and place of meeting of the corporation, the power and duty of its officials, the fines and penalties to be imposed upon delinquents and borrowers for the non-payment of dues, interest, and premiums, and such other matters as may be pertinent and necessary for the business to be transacted.

SEC. 3178. The business of every corporation created hereunder, or of those accepting the provisions of the same, shall be managed and conducted by a president, a board of directors or trustees, a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers or agents as the bylaws may provide. The directors or trustees shall be elected annually by the stockholders or members, at the time fixed by the bylaws, and shall hold their office until others are chosen and qualified in their stead; the manner of such choice, and of the choice or appointment of all other agents or officers, shall be prescribed by the bylaws. The number of directors or trustees shall not be less than five, one of whom shall be chosen president by the directors, or by the members of the corporation, as the bylaws may direct; the members of said corporation may, at a meeting called for that purpose, determine, fix or change the number of directors or trustees that shall thereafter govern its officers, and a majority of the whole number of such directors or trustees shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. The treasurer shall give bond in such sum, and with such sureties as shall be required by the bylaws, for the faithful discharge of his duties, and he shall keep the moneys of the corporation in a separate bank account, to his credit as treasurer, and if he shall neglect or refuse so to do, he shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for every day he should fail so to do, to be recovered at the suit of any informer in an action of debt.

SEC. 3179. The directors of such corporation shall procure certificates or evidences of stock, and shall deliver them signed by the president and secretary and sealed with the common seal of the corporation to each person or party entitled to receive the same according to the number of shares by him, her or them respectively held, which certificate or evidence of stock shall be transferable at the pleasure of the holder in person or by attorney duly authorized as the bylaws may prescribe, subject, however, to all payments due or to become due thereon, and the assignee or party to whom the same shall have been so transferred shall be a member of said corporation, and have and enjoy all the immunities, privileges and franchises, and be subject to all the liabilities, conditions and penalties incident thereto, in the same manner as the original subscriber or holder would have been, but no certificate shall be transferred so long as the holder is indebted to said company, unless the board of directors shall consent thereto.

SEC. 3180. No person acting as judge or officer for holding an election for any such corporation shall enter upon the duties of his appointment until he take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before a notary public or other person qualified by law to administer oaths, that he will discharge the duties of his office with fidelity, that he will not receive any vote but such as he really believes to be legal, and if any such judge or officer shall knowingly or wilfully violate his oath or affirmation he shall be subject to all the penalties imposed by law upon the officers of the general election of this territory for violating their duties, and shall be proceeded against in like manner and with like effect.

SEC. 3181. In case of the death, removal or resignation of the president, or any of the directors, secretary, treasurer or other officer of such company, the remaining directors may supply the vacancy thus created until the next general election.

SEC. 3182. It shall be lawful for any building and loan association now incorporated under the general laws of this territory and accepting the provisions of this act, or that may hereafter be incorporated, in addition to dues and interest to charge and receive the premiums or bonus bid by a stockholder for preference or priority of right to a loan in periodical instalments, and such premium or bonus so paid in instalments shall not be deemed usurious, but shall be taken to be a payment as it falls due, in contradistinction to a premium charged and paid in advance, in so far as said premium or bonus so charged and paid, in addition to dues and interest, shall be in excess of two dollars for each periodical payment, the same shall be lawful, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding; Provided, that the certificate of incorporation of each association hereafter to be incorporated, and the certificate provided in section 3184, for those heretofore incorporated, shall set forth whether the premium or bonus bid for the prior rights to a loan shall be deducted therefrom in advance or paid in periodical instalments.

SEC. 3183. The bylaws of such association may provide for the voluntary withdrawal and cancellation at or before maturity of shares of stock not borrowed on; Provided, that such withdrawal and cancellation shall be pro rata among the shares of the same series of stock; And provided, further, that not less than twelve per cent per annum shall be credited and allowed to each share so withdrawn and cancelled.

SEC. 3184. Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the provisions of any law of the territory shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities, franchises and powers, conferred by this article upon filing with the secretary of the territory a certificate to be by him recorded as provided in section 3176 of their acceptance of the same, in writing under the duly authenticated seal of the said association, which certificate shall also prescribe their mode or plan of charging premiums or bonus for priority of loan as set forth in section 3182, and upon such acceptance and approval thereof by the secretary of the territory he shall issue his certificate to said corporation reciting the same.

SEC. 3185. Any company heretofore incorporated under any general law of this territory, or by virtue of any special charter heretofore granted by the legislature thereof, incorporating any company for the purpose of doing a banking, loan or other business provided for in chapter 3 of title 2 [part 3, division second] of the civil code of this territory, relative to private corporations; or any building and loan association heretofore incorporated, and having accepted the provisions of article 16 of said chapter, as therein provided, shall be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers mentioned in said chapter 3, and the privileges, immunities and powers recited in said article 16, upon filing with the secretary of the territory a certificate to be by him recorded, which certificate shall be under the duly authenticated seal of such corporation, and shall set forth such corporation's acceptance of the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to amend section 384 [section 2902 of this compilation] of chapter 3 of the civil code," approved February 7, 1887.

SEC. 3186. Upon the acceptance and approval of said certificate, by the secretary of the territory, such corporation shall thenceforth be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers conferred by said act to amend section 384 [2902 of this compilation] of chapter 3 of the civil code, approved February 7, 1887, in the same manner as if incorporated under the provisions thereof.

SEC. 3187. And it is further provided, that all the acts of such incorporations previously done under and by virtue of their then existing charters shall be and are hereby ratified and made legal.

SEC. 3188. Any corporation existing at the passage of this act, formed under the laws of this territory, may elect to continue its existence under the provisions of this chapter applicable thereto, and it may, at any time thereafter, make such choice or election, at any meeting of the stockholders or members, or at any meeting called by the directors or trustees expressly for considering the subject, if voted for by stockholders representing a majority of the capital stock, or by a majority of its members; or it may be made by the directors or trustees upon the written consent of that number of such stockholders or members. A certificate of the action of the directors or trustees, signed by them and their secretary, with the seal of the corporation, when the election is made upon such written consent, or, a certificate of the proceedings of the meeting of the stockholders or members, when such election is so made, signed by the chairman and secretary of the meeting, and a majority of the directors and trustees, must be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory, and thereafter the corporation shall continue its existence under the provisions of this chapter which are applicable thereto, and shall possess all the rights and powers, and be subject to all the obligations, restrictions and limitations prescribed thereby.

SEC. 3190. No corporation created or organized under the laws of any other state or territory shall transact any business within this territory, or acquire, hold, and dispose of property, real, personal or mixed, within this territory, until such corporation shall have filed in the office of the secretary of the territory, a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, and shall have complied with the provisions of this article; Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to corporations or associations created for religious or charitable purposes solely.

SEC. 3191. Such charter or articles of incorporation shall be recorded in a book to be kept by the secretary of this territory for that purpose.

SEC. 3192. Such corporation shall appoint an agent, who shall reside at some accessible point in this territory, in the county where the principal business of said corporation shall be carried on, duly authorized to accept service of process, and upon whom service of process may be made in any action in which said corporation may be a party; and service upon such agent shall be taken and held as due service upon such corporation. A duly authenticated copy of the appointment or commission of such agent shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of the territory and register of deeds of the county where said agent resides, and a certified copy thereof by the secretary or register of deeds shall be conclusive evidence of the appointment and authority of such agent.

TERRITORIAL ACTS OF 1889.

CHAPTER 40.

SECTION 1. Any building and loan association or corporation incorporated or to be incorporated under and by virtue of the laws of the territory of Dakota that wishes to extend its business outside of and beyond the boundaries of the said territory of Dakota may do so upon complying with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. Such corporation or association shall insert in its articles of incorporation a statement of its intention to do business within and without the territory of Dakota, or it shall amend its articles of incorporation by adding such a statement to them.

SEC. 3. Such corporation shall have a board of directors of not less than five nor more than thirteen, who shall constitute the managing board of such corporation for all series issued.

SEC. 4. Such corporation may in its bylaws fix a per cent premium at less than which it will not be obliged to accept loans.

SEC. 5. Not less than 83 per cent of all monthly dues collected from members of said corporation shall be put into a fund to be known as the loan fund, no part of which shall be used by said company for the purpose of paying its expenses or the expense of carrying on its business, excepting interest, taxes and insurance.

SEC. 6. Any such corporation which may hereafter be incorporated shall designate a national bank as its treasurer and shall appoint a trust company as trustee to receive from it and from its treasurer all moneys of said corporation belonging to its loan fund to hold its securities and to perform such other acts of trust and guarantee as the directors of said loan corporation under its bylaws may authorize and direct.

SEC. 7. Any funds of such corporation not loaned for a period of more than 30 days and for which there is no sufficient demand under the provisions of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the corporation may be loaned by the corporation at any rate of interest allowed by law upon any security approved and accepted by the board of directors of said corporation.

SEC. 8. Such corporation shall have power to borrow money upon debentures issued to it by the trust company holding its securities or it may borrow upon its securities direct under such restrictions and regulations as its bylaws may provide.

SEC. 9. The board of directors of such corporation shall have power in their discretion to retire the unpledged shares of stock of such corporation at any time after the third year from the date of issue of such stock and to enforce the withdrawal of the same in such manner and under such regulations as they may deem best for the interest of the corporation. They shall determine by lot or in any other impartial manner which shares shall be thus retired, but no unmatured stock shall be retired while any matured stock remains in force.

SEC. 10. All the laws of the territory of Dakota respecting building and loan associations shall apply equally to corporations herein provided for except wherein such laws may conflict with the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 41.

SECTION 1. All building and loan corporations created by virtue of the laws of Dakota territory, shall annually on the first day of January, make a true and correct statement, verified by the oath of its president or secretary, setting forth its actual financial condition, and the amount of its property and liabilities, which statement shall be forwarded to the secretary of the territory, not later than the tenth day of January, under a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) to the territory, to be recovered by indictment against the president, secretary or directors. And the secretary upon receipt of such statement, if he be satisfied from the same, that such association be solvent and conducting its business in a safe and conservative manner, shall issue to such association a certificate authorizing it to continue business for the ensuing year, and the secretary shall be entitled to a fee therefor of $5 to be paid by such association. Any such association shall also cause to be published for one month, a copy of said statement in at least one newspaper of general circulation, published in the county where the principal office or place of business of such association is located.

SEC. 2. No foreign building and loan association or corporation, having the words "building and loan" as a part of its name, shall be entitled to do business in the territory of Dakota, until it shall have made application to the secretary for permission to do business in the territory; and the secretary shall have examined into the financial condition of such associations and its method of doing business, and if the secretary be satisfied upon such examination, that such association is solvent and its method of doing business, such as is likely to be beneficial to all of its members alike, he shall issue a certificate of authority to such association as provided for in section 1, of this act, such association having first published for three weeks, a true and complete statement of its financial condition, sworn to by its president and secretary, in at least one newspaper of general circulation, in each county in which such association wishes to transact business, and having furnished the secretary an affidavit of such publication made by the publishers of such newspaper. For such examination the secretary shall be entitled to the sum of ten dollars ($10) per day, and ten cents per mile for the distance actually travelled in making such examinations. The said certificate, shall entitle such association to transact business in the territory for one year only from its date, and annually thereafter during the month of January, such association shall publish said statement in the manner above described and it shall be the duty of the secretary to make an examination of such associations as above stated, for which he shall receive the compensation above specified. No such association shall be entitled to transact business until having first fully complied with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. As building and loan corporations are aggregations of laborers, mechanics, workmen and working women, which start without any paid-up capital, and as these members only pay each month an assessment in proportion to shares, for the purpose of furnishing a home to each of its members in turn, which assessment stops the moment that every member has thus been furnished with such a home, these associations are hereby declared to be benevolent institutions within the meaning of section 2, chapter 28, of the Political Code of 1877, and as the monthly assessments paid in by the members of these associations are immediately given to one member, to enable such member to build a home, and as such member immediately begins to pay taxes on the home thus erected, and as the shares held by such members merely entitle them, in the future, in their turn to get money to build homes, shares issued by such associations shall be exempt from taxation.

LAWS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 132.

SECTION 5, (as amended by chapter 100, acts of 1891). All property described in this section to the extent herein limited shall be exempt from taxation, that is to say:
 * * * Seventh. The shares of stock in all building associations organized under the laws of this state where the loans of such association are, by the bylaws thereof, confined strictly to members of the county in which such association is located. * * *

OHIO.

LAWS OF 1891.

(PAGES 469-477.)

SECTION 1. A corporation for the purpose of raising money to be loaned among its members shall be known in this act as a building and loan association. Associations organized under the laws of this state shall be known in this act as "domestic" associations, and those organized under the laws of other states or territories, as "foreign" associations. Associations may be organized and conducted under the general laws of Ohio relating to corporations, except as otherwise provided in this act.

SEC. 2. The capital stock named in the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to refer to the authorized capital, and the organization may be completed and business commenced when five per cent thereof is subscribed. Directors may be elected for any term, not less than one year nor longer than three years, but if such term be longer than one year, it shall be so arranged that the term of office of an equal number of directors, as nearly as may be, will expire each year.

SEC. 3. Such corporation shall have power: To receive money on deposit from time to time to the extent necessary to meet the demands made on it by its members and depositors, but shall not pay interest thereon, exceeding the legal rate. To issue stock to members on such terms and conditions as the constitution and bylaws may provide; but no person shall vote more than twenty shares in any such corporation in his own right. To assess and collect from members and depositors such dues, fines, interest and premium on loans made, or other assessments, as may be provided for in the constitution and bylaws. Such dues, fines, premiums or other assessments shall not be deemed usury, although in excess of the legal rate of interest. To permit members to withdraw all or part of their stock deposits at such times and upon such terms as the constitution and bylaws may provide. Any member, however, who withdraws his entire stock or whose stock has matured, shall be entitled to receive all dues paid in and dividends declared, less all fines or other assessments, and less a pro rata share of all losses, if any have occurred. To cancel shares of stock upon which all payments have been withdrawn, or upon which loans have been cancelled, and reissue them as new stock. To issue stock to minors and permit the same to be withdrawn as other stock, and the receipt of such minor shall be a valid acquittance, if his rights have been fully secured to him. To acquire, hold, encumber and convey such real estate and personal property as may be necessary for the transaction of its business or necessary to enforce or protect its securities. To borrow money, not exceeding twenty per cent of the assets, and issue its evidences of indebtedness therefor. To make loans to members and depositors on such terms, conditions, and securities as may be provided in the constitution and bylaws. To cancel such loans and release the securities on such terms as the board of directors may provide. But any member may have his loan cancelled upon the following terms, to wit: After the premium for one year has been paid, and also the interest and premium up to the date of cancellation, the borrower shall pay the sum actually borrowed, less the dues paid and dividends credited. He shall pay also any fines or other assessments required by the constitution or bylaws. To accumulate from the earnings and invest as the board of directors may determine, a reserve fund, for the payment of contingent losses. To make such annual or semi-annual distribution of the earnings (after paying expenses and setting aside a sum for the reserve fund as hereinafter provided), as the constitution and bylaws may prescribe. To increase or decrease its authorized capital or the face value of its shares at any time, by a majority vote of its board of directors; and a certificate of such action shall be made by the president and secretary, and duly filed with the secretary of state. To dissolve the corporation when its continuance shall be deemed, by a majority vote of its members, to be no longer desirable, subject, however, to the vested rights of members. To provide, by constitution adopted by its members, and bylaws adopted by its board of directors, for the proper exercise of the powers herein granted, and the conduct and management of its affairs. All such other powers as are necessary and proper to enable such corporation to carry out the purpose of its organization.

SEC. 4. The board of directors shall designate a bank or banks in which the treasurer shall deposit all funds in the name of such corporation. Such funds can then be withdrawn only by check signed by the president and financial secretary, or such other officers as the board of directors may designate. The treasurer's bank book shall be open to the inspection of any director at any time. No president or secretary or other officer shall sign any check unless the expenditure has been authorized by the board of directors. All officers of such association who have charge or possession of money, securities, or property, shall give bond before entering upon their duties to the satisfaction of the board of directors, for the faithful performance of the same, and the safe keeping and proper application of all moneys or property coming into their hands. All officers of such corporations on being reelected to office shall renew their bonds. The bond may be increased or additional sureties required at any time by the board of directors. Directors shall not be eligible as bondsmen, and shall be individually liable for any loss to members, caused by their neglect to comply with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 5. The amount to be set aside to the fund for contingent losses shall be determined by the board of directors, but in all permanent or perpetual associations, at least five per cent of the net earnings shall be set aside each year to such fund until it reaches at least five per cent of the outstanding loans. All losses shall be paid out of such fund until the same is exhausted, and whenever the amount in said fund falls below five per cent of the loans as aforesaid, it shall be replenished by annual appropriations of at least five per cent of the net earnings as hereinbefore provided until it again reaches said amount.

SEC. 6. All expenses of such associations shall be paid out of the earnings only, and so much of the earnings as may be necessary shall be set aside each year for such purpose. But charges incident to a loan, if paid by the borrower, shall not be deemed a part of the current expenses. A portion of the earnings, to be determined by the board of directors, shall also be reserved annually or semi-annually, for the payment of contingent losses, as provided in section five of this act, and the residue of such earnings shall be transferred as a dividend annually, or semi-annually, in such proportion to the credit of all members, as the corporation by its constitution and bylaws may provide, to be paid to them at such time and in such manner in conformity with this act as the corporation by its constitution and bylaws may provide. All losses shall be assessed in the same proportion and manner on all members after the amount in the reserve fund has been applied to the payment of the same.

SEC. 7. The shares and loans, advanced to its members, shall be exempt from taxation, except shares or stock upon which no loans have been made or money advanced by the company, shall be considered and held as credits, and the said members individually shall list for taxation the number of shares held by them, and the true value thereof in money, on the day preceding the second Monday in April in each year, and the same shall be assessed at such valuation for taxation and taxes as other property.

SEC. 8. There is hereby established in the department of insurance a bureau to be known as the bureau of building and loan associations, which shall be charged with the execution of the laws of this state relating to building and loan associations.

SEC. 9. The chief officer of said bureau shall be known as the inspector of building and loan associations; the superintendent of insurance, shall, ex officio, be also the inspector of building and loan associations, and as compensation for his services as such inspector he shall be entitled to receive the sum of one thousand dollars per annum. Before entering upon his duties, he shall give bond to the state of Ohio in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the governor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, and the bond, with his oath of office and the approval of the governor indorsed thereon, shall be filed with the secretary of state.

The inspector may appoint a deputy, who shall be authorized to perform the duties attached by law to the office of inspector, during his absence or disability, and shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per year. He shall also appoint such other clerks or examiners as may be provided for by law.

SEC. 10. The adjutant general shall provide suitable accommodations for the conduct of the business of the bureau in the office of the superintendent of insurance and furnish the necessary furniture, etc., and the expense for the same shall be paid out of the state treasury, on the certificate of the inspector and the warrant of the adjutant general.

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of the inspector to see that all the laws of this state, relating to building and loan associations, are faithfully executed.

SEC. 12. Foreign building and loan associations doing business in this state, shall conduct the same in accordance with the laws of the state governing domestic associations, and no such association shall do any business in this state until it procures from the inspector a certificate of authority to do so. To procure such authority, such association shall comply with the following provisions:

1. It shall deposit with the inspector one hundred thousand dollars, either in cash or bonds of the United States or of the state of Ohio, or of any county or municipal corporation in the state of Ohio, satisfactory to the inspector.

2. It shall file with the inspector a certified copy of its charter, constitution and bylaws, and other rules and regulations showing its manner of conducting business together with a statement such as is required annually from all associations.

3. It shall also file with the inspector a written instrument, duly executed, agreeing that a summons may issue against it from any county in this state directed to the sheriff of the county in which the office of inspector is situate, commanding him to serve the same by certified copy personally upon the inspector or by leaving a copy thereof at his office. The inspector shall, however, mail a copy of any papers served on him, postage prepaid, to the home office of such association.

SEC. 13. Whenever such association has complied with the provisions of this act, and the inspector is satisfied that such association is doing business according to the laws of this state, and is in sound financial condition, he shall issue his certificate of authority to such association to do business in this state. Annually thereafter, upon the filing of the annual statement herein provided for, if the inspector shall be satisfied as aforesaid, he shall issue a renewal of such certificate of authority.

SEC. 14. Such foreign association may collect and use the interest on any securities so deposited, so long as it fulfils its obligations and complies with the provisions of this act. It may also exchange them for other securities of equal value and satisfactory to the inspector.

SEC. 15. The deposit made with the inspector shall be held as a security for all claims of residents of this state against said association, and shall be liable for all judgments or decrees thereon, and subjected to the payment of the same in the same manner as the property of other non-residents. Should any association cease to do business in this state, the inspector may release securities in his discretion, retaining sufficient to satisfy all outstanding liabilities.

SEC. 16. Every building and loan association doing business in this state shall, annually, at the end of each fiscal year, or within forty days thereafter, make a full and detailed report in writing of the affairs and business of the association for the preceding year, and showing its financial condition at the end of said fiscal year. With the first report made by any association it shall also file a certified copy of its constitution and bylaws, or other rules and regulations, showing its manner of doing business.

SEC. 17. The statement shall be in such form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the inspector of building associations. It shall be sworn to by the secretary, and its correctness attested by at least three directors, or an auditing committee appointed by the board. The original shall be filed with the inspector of building associations within forty days after the close of the fiscal year, and such an abstract thereof as the inspector may require shall be posted for sixty days in the office or meeting place of such association, and also published in some paper regularly issued in the county in which said association is located.

SEC. 18. The inspector, when he has reason to suspect the correctness of any statement of an association doing business in this state, or that its affairs are in an unsound condition, or that it is not conducting its business in accordance with law, may make or cause to be made by some person by him appointed for that purpose, an examination into the affairs of such association. The expense of all examinations shall be paid by the associations examined, except that the actual expense of the examination of an association organized under the laws of this state, shall be paid out of the fees paid by such associations to the inspector as hereinbefore provided.

Should the inspector, upon examination, find any domestic association conducting its business in whole or in part contrary to law, or failing to comply with the law, he shall so notify the board of directors of such association in writing, and if, after thirty days, such illegal practices or failure continue, he shall communicate the facts to the attorney general, who shall cause proceedings to be instituted in the proper court to revoke the charter of such association.

Should the inspector find, upon examination, that the affairs of any such association are in an unsound condition, and that the interests of the public demand the dissolution of such association, and the winding up of its business, he shall so report to the attorney general, who shall institute the proper proceedings for that purpose.

SEC. 19. Such examiners shall have access to and may compel the production of all the books, papers, securities and moneys, etc., of the association, under examination. They shall have power to administer oaths to, and examine the officers and agents of such association as to its affairs.

SEC. 20. When the inspector deems it to the interest of the public, he may publish the results of such examination in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which such association is located, if it be a domestic association, and in some newspaper in the city of Columbus, Ohio, if it be a foreign association.

SEC. 21. Should the inspector find, upon examination, that any foreign association does not conduct its business in accordance with the law, or that the affairs of any such association are in an unsound condition, or if such association refuses to permit examination to be made, he may cancel the authority of such association to do business in this state, and cause a notice thereof to be mailed to the home office of the association, and to be published in at least one newspaper published in the city of Columbus. After the publication of such notice it shall be unlawful for any agent of said association to receive any further stock deposits from members residing in this state, except payments on stock on which a loan has been taken.

SEC. 22. Foreign building and loan associations shall pay to the inspector the following fees, which shall be paid into the state treasury, to wit: For filing each application for admission to do business in this state, one hundred dollars. For each certificate of authority and annual renewal of same, fifty dollars; both foreign and domestic associations shall pay to the inspector for filing each annual statement, as follows: If the assets of the association, as shown by the statement filed, amount to $50,000 or less, $3; if more than $50,000 and less than $100,000, $5; if more than $100,000 and less than $250,000, $10; if more than $250,000 and less than $500,000, $20; if more than $500,000 and less than $1,000,000, $30; and if more than $1,000,000, $50. For each copy of a paper filed in his office, twenty-five cents per folio. For affixing the seal of office and certifying any paper, one dollar. Provided however, that the inspector may retain from the fees so received by him up to the close of the fiscal year ending November 15, 1892, a sum sufficient to pay the salaries and necessary expenses of the bureau of building and loan associations up to said time, which sum is hereby appropriated for that purpose.

SEC. 23. All securities of cash deposited with the inspector shall be immediately deposited with the treasurer of state, who, with his sureties, shall be responsible for the safe keeping thereof. The treasurer shall deliver such securities only upon the written order of the inspector of building associations.

SEC. 24. It shall be unlawful for any building and loan association to do business in this state without having first complied with the provisions of this act, and any association violating any of the provisions of this act, or failing to comply with any of its provisions, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, to be recovered by an action in the name of the state, and on collection paid into the state treasury; Provided, that building and loan associations organized in other states, having heretofore transacted business in this state, which shall not have complied with the provisions of this act, shall have the right to close up their business, and fulfil their contracts, heretofore entered into with citizens of this state, through their duly authorized agents, without being subject to the penalties prescribed by this act.

SEC. 25. Every president, director, trustee, member of any committee, secretary, treasurer, attorney or any other officer at any time created, or agent of any such corporation, who embezzles, abstracts or wilfully misapplies any of the moneys, funds or credits of such corporation, or who issues or puts into circulation any warrant or other order, or who assigns, transfers, cancels or delivers up any note, bond, draft, mortgage, judgment, decree, or any other written instrument belonging to such corporation, or raises money otherwise, or receives money from any member or other person for and in the name of such corporation, unless duly authorized by the board of directors of such corporation; or who shall sign the name of any person to any order or warrant for the payment of money without proper power of attorney or written order from such person to whose order such warrant or order is made payable; or any member or members of the board of directors who shall vote to declare, or any financial or first secretary of such corporation who shall declare or advise the board of directors of such corporation to declare a greater dividend than what has been actually earned by the corporation, for the purpose of deceiving the people or defrauding the members of such corporation; or who certifies to or makes any false entry on any book, report, or statement of or to such corporation, with intent in either case to deceive, injure or defraud the corporation or any other company, body politic or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any one appointed to examine the affairs of such corporation; and every person who with like intent aids or abets any president, secretary, treasurer, committee or other officer or person in any violation of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned not less than one year nor more than ten years, and shall be liable civilly to the party injured, to the extent of such damage thereby incurred, and suit may be brought against such person and the sureties on his bond given to such corporation for the faithful performance of his duty. Any officer whose duty it is, failing to make the reports required by this act, and any officer, employé, or other person, who solicits business for, aids or assists any building and loan association to do business contrary to the provisions of this act, or without having complied with its provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. Such fines, when collected, to be paid into the state treasury.

SEC. 26. The inspector shall keep and preserve in permanent form a full record of his proceedings, including a concise statement of each association examined, and he shall, annually, make a report to the legislature of the general conduct and condition of the building and loan associations doing business, in this state, with such suggestions as he may deem expedient. Such report shall also include the information contained in the statements required of the associations, and arranged in tabulated form. He shall also report the names and compensation of the clerks employed by him, the whole amount of the income, the source whence derived, and the expenses in detail, during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December.

SECTION 1. Building and loan associations shall be authorized to provide in their constitutions and bylaws for the time and terms of the dissolution of such corporations; also for the consolidation of two or more of such corporations into one, upon such terms and conditions as may be determined upon by their boards of directors; also, in the case of the dissolution of any such corporation, its board of directors may, by a majority vote, be authorized to sell and transfer its mortgage securities or other property, or both, to another corporation, person or persons, subject always to the vested and accrued rights of the mortgagors.

OKLAHOMA.

STATUTES OF 1893.

PARAGRAPH 1143. At any time when ten or more persons may desire to form a building and loan association under the provisions of this act, they shall make application to the secretary of the territory in the manner prescribed by section 1229 [1152]. The said secretary is hereby fully empowered to grant charters to said associations, provided that no charter granted under or by virtue of the provisions of this act shall be for a longer period than twenty years.

PAR. 1144. The capital stock of any corporation created by virtue of this act shall at no time consist of more than two thousand five hundred shares, of two hundred dollars each, or five thousand shares of one hundred dollars each, the instalments on which stock are to be paid at such time and place as the bylaws shall appoint, no periodical payment to be made exceeding two dollars on each share. Every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon, under the provisions of the charter and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of the shares withdrawn or forfeited. The stock may be issued in one or more successive series, in such amount as the board of directors or stockholders may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation shall have power to do so by giving thirty days notice of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her, and such proportion of the profits as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder, his or her legal representative shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock. No fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from or after his or her decease, unless the legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payments of the stock.

PAR. 1145. The number, titles, functions and compensation of the officers of any corporation created by virtue of this act, their terms of office, the times of their election, as well as the qualifications of electors, and the votes and manner of voting, and the periodical meetings of said corporation, and the manner and terms upon which loans shall be made and repaid shall be determined by the bylaws.

PAR. 1146. The said officers shall hold stated meetings at which the money in the treasury, if equal to the amount of one share of stock in such corporation shall be offered for loan in open meeting and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan of the full amount for each share of stock held by such stockholder: Provided, that good and ample security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security that is approved by the board of directors by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with one months interest at the rate charged by the association on loans, and a fine not to exceed one dollar per share, together with any expenses incurred, and the money shall be resold at the next stated meeting. In case of non-payment of instalments, or interest or premium by borrowing stockholder, for the space of six month's, payment of principal and interest, without deducting the premium paid or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities according to law.

PAR. 1147. A borrower may repay a loan at any time by the payment to the corporation of the principal sum borrowed, together with interest, not to exceed twelve per cent per annum, together with such per cent of premium per annum as may have been bid for the preferences or priority of such loan and any fines or charges that may be imposed upon such stockholder at the time of such repayment; or in case the amount of premium bid for the priority of such loan be deducted in advance, and the repayment thereof is made before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the corporation, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium paid for every year of the said eight years unexpired; Provided: that when the stock is issued in separate series, the time shall be computed from the date of the issuing of the shares of stock on which the loan was made: Provided further, that when the series of stock has a less period than eight years to complete full payment thereof, there shall be refunded only pro rata for the unexpired term of the series: And, provided further, when the bylaws of the corporation prescribe a different manner and terms upon which a loan may be repaid, then the repayment can only be made in accordance with the bylaws of such corporation.

PAR. 1148. No premiums, fines or interest on such premiums that may accrue to the said corporation according to the provisions of this act shall be deemed usurious; and the same [same] may be collected as debts of like amount are now by law collected in this territory.

PAR. 1149. No corporation created under this act shall cease or expire from neglect on the part of the corporation to elect officers at the time mentioned in their charter or by laws, and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

PAR. 1150. Any building or loan association incorporated by or under the provisions of this act, or any one heretofore or hereafter incorporated, accepting of the provisions of the same, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at the sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this act to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever, and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such association to any person or persons not members of the association so selling are hereby confirmed and made valid.

PAR. 1151. All mortgages heretofore given to the building and loan associations organized under the laws of this territory before the passage of this act or subsequent hereto, but such associations subsequently accepting the provisions hereof, be and the same are hereby declared good and valid to all intents and purposes, as though they had been made to corporations organized under the provisions of this act.

PAR. 1152. The charter of an intended corporation under the provisions of this act must be subscribed by ten or more persons, a majority of whom must be citizens of this territory, and set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purpose for which it is formed.
3. The place where its principal office, or the business is to be transacted.
4. The time for which it is to exist.
5. The names and residences of the subscribers, and the number of shares subscribed by each.
6. The number of its directors, and the names and residences of those who are selected as directors, and who shall hold their office until the next annual election, or until their successors are elected and qualified.
7. The amount of its capital stock, and the number and par value of its shares.

PAR. 1153. Notice of the intention to apply for any such charter shall be inserted in two newspapers of general circulation printed in the proper county for three weeks, setting forth briefly the character and object of the corporation to be formed, and the intention to make application therefor. The certificate for a corporation under the provisions of this act, shall set forth all that is hereinbefore required to be set forth, the same shall be acknowledged by at least five of the subscribers thereto before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths, and they shall also make and subscribe an oath or affirmation before him, to be indorsed on said certificate that the statements contained therein are true. The said certificate, accompanied with proof of publication of the notice as hereinbefore provided, shall then be produced to the secretary of the territory, who shall examine the same and if he find it to be in proper form, as specified in the foregoing sections, he shall approve thereof, and indorse his approval thereon, and issue letters patent in the usual form incorporating the subscribers and their associates and successors into a body politic and corporate in deed and in law, by the manner chosen; and the said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of the territory, in a book to be by him kept for that purpose, and a certified copy of the said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the principal business of the association is transacted. Certified copies of the records thereof shall be competent evidence for all purposes in the several courts of this territory.

PAR. 1154. The bylaws of every corporation created under the provisions of this act or of those accepting the provisions of the same, shall be deemed and taken as its law, subordinate to this statute. They shall be made by the stockholders or the board of directors, at their annual meeting or at any stated meeting of the board of directors. They shall prescribe the time and place of meeting of the corporation, the power and duty of its officers, the fines and penalties to be imposed upon delinquents and borrowers for the non-payment of dues, interest and premiums, and such other matters as may be pertinent and necessary for the business to be transacted.

PAR. 1155. The business of every corporation created hereunder, or of those accepting the provisions of the same, shall be managed and conducted by a president, a board of directors or trustees, a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers or agents as the bylaws may provide. The directors or trustees shall be elected annually by the stockholders or members, at the time fixed by the bylaws, and shall hold their office until others are chosen and qualified in their stead; the manner of such choice, and of the choice or appointment of all other agents or officers, shall be prescribed by the bylaws. The number of directors or trustees shall not be less than five, one of whom shall be chosen president by the directors, or by the members of the corporation, as the bylaws may direct; the members of said corporation may, at a meeting called for that purpose, determine, fix or change the number of directors or trustees that shall thereafter govern its officers, and a majority of the whole number of such directors or trustees shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. The treasurer shall give bond in such sum, and with such sureties as shall be required by the bylaws, for the faithful discharge of his duties, and he shall keep the moneys of the corporation in a separate bank account, to his credit as treasurer, and if he shall neglect or refuse so to do, he shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for every day he should fail so to do, to be recovered at the suit of any informer in an action of debt.

PAR. 1156. The directors of such corporation shall procure certificates of evidence of stock, and shall deliver them signed by the president and secretary and sealed with the common seal of the corporation to each person or party entitled to receive the same according to the number of shares by him, her or them respectively held, which certificate or evidence of stock shall be transferable at the pleasure of the holder in person or by attorney duly authorized as the bylaws may prescribe, subject, however to all payments due or to become due thereon, and the assignee or party to whom the same shall have been so transferred shall be a member of said corporation, and have and enjoy all the immunities, privileges and franchises, and be subject to all th[e] liabilities, conditions and penalties incident thereto, in the same manner as the original subscriber or holder would have been, but no certificate shall be transferred so long as the holder is indebted to said company, unless the board of directors shall consent thereto.

PAR. 1157. No person acting as judge or officer for holding an election for any such corporation shall enter upon the duties of his appointment until he take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before a notary public or other person qualified by law to administer oaths, that he will discharge the duties of his office with fidelity, that he will not receive any rate but such as he really believes to be legal, and if any such judge or officer shall knowingly or wilfully violate his oath or affirmation he shall be subject to all the penalties imposed by law upon the officers of the general election of this territory for violating their duties, and shall be proceeded against in like manner and with like effect.

PAR. 1158. In case of the death, removal or resignation of the president, or any of the directors, secretary, treasurer or other officer of such company, the remaining directors may supply the vacancy thus created until the next general election.

PAR. 1159. It shall be lawful for any building and loan association now incorporated under the general laws of this territory and accepting the provisions of this act, or that may hereafter be incorporated, in addition to dues and interest to charge and receive the premiums or bonus bid by a stockholder for preference or priority of right to a loan in periodical instalments, and such premium or bonus so paid in instalments shall not be deemed usurious but shall be taken to be a payment as it fall due, in contradiction [contradistinction] to a premium charged and paid in advance, in so far as said premium or bonus so charged and paid, in addition to dues and interest, shall be in excess of two dollars for each periodical payment, the same shall be lawful, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided, that the certificate of incorporation of each association hereafter to be incorporated, and the certificate provided in section 1238 [1161], for those heretofore incorporated, shall set forth whether the premium or bonus bid for the prior rights to a loan shall be deducted therefrom in advance or paid in periodical instalments.

PAR. 1160. The bylaws of such association may provide for the voluntary withdrawal and cancellation at or before maturity of shares of stock not borrowed on: Provided, that such withdrawal and cancellation shall be pro rata among the shares of the same series of stock: And provided further, that not less than twelve per cent per annum shall be credited and allowed to each share so withdrawn and cancelled.

PAR. 1161. Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the provisions of any law of the territory shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities, franchises and powers, conferred by this article upon filing with the secretary of the territory a certificate to be by him recorded as provided in section 1230 [1153] of their acceptance of the same, in writing under the duly authenticated seal of the said association, which certificate shall also prescribe their mode or plan of charging premiums or bonus for priority of loan as set forth in section 1236 [1159], and upon such acceptance and approval thereof by the secretary of the territory he shall issue his certificate to said corporation reciting the same.

PAR. 1162. Any company heretofore incorporated under any general law of this territory, or by virtue of any special charter heretofore granted by the legislature thereof, incorporating any company for the purpose of doing a banking, loan or other business provided for in chapter 18 [chapter 17]; or any building or loan association heretofore incorporated, and having accepted the provisions of article 16 [article 17] of said chapter, as therein provided, shall be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers mentioned in said chapter 18 [chapter 17], and the privileges, immunities and powers recited in said article 16 [article 17], upon filing with the secretary of the territory a certificate to be by him recorded, which certificate shall be under the duly authenticated seal of such corporation, and shall set forth such corporation's acceptance of the provisions of section 957 [932].

PAR. 1163. Upon the acceptance and approval of said certificate, by the secretary of the territory, such corporation shall thenceforth be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers conferred by section 957 [932], in the same manner as if incorporated under the provisions thereof.

PAR. 1164. And it is further provided, that all the acts of such incorporations previously done under and by virtue of their then existing charters shall be and are hereby ratified and made legal.

OREGON.

LAWS OF 1891.

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for cooperative corporations, engaged in the business of loaning their own money only to their own stockholders and only in proportion to the amount of stock held by such stockholders in case there are two or more applicants for the money offered for loan, to make the loan to such stockholder or stockholders as shall offer the highest premium of any nature for such loan, and the giving and receiving of such premium shall not be regarded as contrary to the laws of the state in regard to the rate of interest on money, but only the means of determining which of two or more stockholders, equally entitled to such loan, shall receive the same.

PENNSYLVANIA.

BRIGHTLY'S PURDON'S DIGEST OF 1883.

(PAGES 223-227.)

SECTION 1. Building and loan associations incorporated under the provisions of this act, shall have the powers, and from the date of the letters patent creating the same, when not otherwise provided in this act, be governed, managed and controlled as follows:

SEC. 2. I. They shall have the power and franchise of loaning or advancing to the stockholders thereof the moneys accumulated, from time to time, and the power and right to secure the repayment of such moneys, and the performance of the other conditions upon which the loans are to be made, by bond and mortgage or other security, as well as the power and right to purchase or erect houses, and to sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to their stockholders, or others for the benefit of their stockholders, in such manner also that the premiums taken by the said associations, for the preference or priority of such loans, shall not be deemed usurious; and so also that in case of non-payment of instalments, premiums or interest by borrowing stockholders, for six months, payment of principal, premiums and interest, without deducting the premium paid, or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities according to law.

SEC. 3. II. The capital stock of any corporation created for such purposes, by virtue of this act, shall at no time consist in the aggregate of more than one million dollars, to be divided into shares of such denomination, not exceeding five hundred dollars each, and in such number as the corporators may, in the application for their charter, specify: Provided, that the capital stock may be issued in series, but no such series shall at any issue exceed in the aggregate five hundred thousand dollars, the instalments on which stock are to be paid at such time and place as the bylaws shall appoint; no periodical payment of such instalments to be made exceeding two dollars on each share, and said stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws shall direct; every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien; new shares of stock may be issued in lieu of the shares withdrawn or forfeited; the stock may be issued in one or in successive series, in such amount as the board of directors or the stockholders may determine; and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation, shall have power to do so, by giving thirty days' notice of his or her intention to withdraw, when he or she shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him or her, less all fines and other charges; but after the expiration of one year from the issuing of the series, such stockholder shall be entitled, in addition thereto, to legal interest thereon: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders, without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw, whose stock is held in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder, his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him or her, and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock; no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account, from and after his or her decease, unless his legal representatives of such decedent assume the future payments on the stock.

SEC. 4. III. The number, titles, functions and compensation of the officers of any such corporation, their terms of office, the times of their elections, as well as the qualifications of electors, and the ratio and manner of voting, and the periodical meetings of the said corporation, shall be determined by the bylaws, when not provided by this act.

SEC. 5. IV. The said officers shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if over the amount fixed by charter as the full value of a share, shall be offered for loan, in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority of loan, shall be entitled to receive a loan of not more than the amount fixed by charter as the full value of a share, for each share of stock held by such stockholder: Provided, that a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of the amount fixed by charter as the full value of a share, as the bylaws may provide; good and ample security, as prescribed by the bylaws of the corporation, shall be given by the borrower, to secure the repayment of the loan; in case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, by such time as the bylaws may prescribe, he or she shall be charged with legal interest, together with any expenses incurred, and the loss in premium, if any, on a resale, and the money may be resold at the next stated meeting; in case of non-payment of instalments or interest by borrowing stockholders, for the space of six months, payment of principal and interest, without deducting the premium paid or interest thereon, may be enforced, by proceeding on their securities according to law.

SEC. 6. VI. No premiums, fines, or interest on such premiums, that may accrue to the said corporation, according to the provisions of this act, shall be deemed usurious; and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now by law collected in this commonwealth.

SEC. 7. VII. No corporation or association created under this act shall cease or expire, from neglect on the part of the corporators to elect officers at the time mentioned in their charter or bylaws; and all officers elected by such corporation shall hold their offices until their successors are duly elected.

SEC. 8. VIII. Any loan or building association incorporated by or under this act, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase, at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate, upon which such association may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or ground rent, or in which said association may have an interest, and the real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold or be entitled to at the passage of this act, to sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever; and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such associations to any person or persons not members of the association so selling, are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 9. IX. All such corporations shall have full power to purchase lands and to sell and convey the same, or any part thereof, to their stockholders or others in fee simple, with or without the reservation of ground rents, but the quantity of land purchased by any one of said associations hereafter incorporated, shall not, in the whole, exceed fifty acres; and in all cases the lands shall be disposed of within ten years from the date of the incorporation of such associations respectively.

SEC. 10. X. All land and building associations are hereby authorized to make sale of, and assign or extinguish, to any person or persons, the ground rents created as aforesaid.

SEC. 11. It shall be lawful for any mutual savings fund, or building and loan association, now incorporated or hereafter to be incorporated, in addition to dues and interest, to charge and receive the premium or bonus bid by a stockholder for preference or priority of right to a loan, in periodical instalments: and such premium or bonus so paid in instalments shall not be deemed usurious, but shall be taken to be a payment as it falls due, in contradistinction to a premium charged and paid in advance; and in so far as said premium or bonus so charged and paid, in addition to dues and interest, shall be in excess of two dollars for each periodical payment, the same shall be lawful, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding. It shall also be lawful for any mutual savings fund or building and loan association to charge and deduct interest in advance, in lieu of premiums for preference or priority of right to a loan: Provided, that the certificate of incorporation of each association hereafter to be incorporated, and the certificate provided in section nine of this act for those heretofore incorporated, shall set forth whether the premium or bonus bid for the prior right to a loan shall be deducted therefrom in advance or paid in periodical instalments, or whether interest in advance shall be deducted from the loan in lieu of premium or bonus.

SEC. 12. Stockholders withdrawing voluntarily, shall receive such proportion of the profits of the association, or such rate of interest as may be prescribed by the bylaws, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; but payment of the value of stock so withdrawn, shall only be due when the funds now by law applicable to the demand of withdrawing stockholders are sufficient to meet and liquidate the same, and then only in the order of the respective times of presentation of the notices of such withdrawals, which must have been presented in writing at a previous stated meeting, and have been then and there indorsed as to times of presentation, by the officer designated by the bylaws of the association.

SEC. 13. The bylaws may provide for the involuntary withdrawal and cancellation at or before maturity of shares of stock not borrowed on: Provided, that such withdrawal and cancellation shall be pro rata among the shares of the same series of stock: And provided further, that not less than legal interest shall be credited and allowed to each share so withdrawn and cancelled.

SEC. 14. A borrower may repay a loan at any time, and in case of the repayment thereof before the maturity of the shares pledged for said loan, there shall be refunded to such borrower (if the premiums, bonus or interest shall have been deducted in advance) such proportions of the premiums, bonus or advance interest bid, as the bylaws may determine: Provided, that in no case shall the association retain more than one one-hundredth of said premiums or bonus for each calendar month that has expired since the date of the meeting upon which the loan was made, or if interest in advance, it shall retain only the interest due on the loan up to the time of settlement: And further provided, that such borrower shall receive the withdrawing value of the shares pledged for said loan, and the shares shall revert back to the association.

SEC. 15. In case of non-payment of instalments of stock, premiums, dues or interest, by borrowing stockholders, for the space of six months, payment of the same, together with the full principal of the loan, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities, according to law; and the moneys so recovered shall be paid into the treasury of the association for such uses (loans or otherwise) as may be deemed proper by the association; and if the said moneys so recovered, together with the withdrawal value of the shares of such defaulting borrower, shall exceed the amount it would have required, according to the preceding section, to have voluntarily repaid the loan, together with all the expenses incurred by the association, such excess shall be repaid to such defaulting borrower.

SEC. 16. Fines or penalties for the non-payment of instalments of dues, interest, and bonus or premium, shall not exceed two per centum per month on all arrearages.

SEC. 17. It shall be lawful for any married woman of full age to hold stock in any of said saving funds, building or loan associations; and as such stockholder, she shall have all the rights and privileges of other members, including the right to borrow money from said associations and bid premiums therefor, and shall also have the right and power to secure such loan by transferring her said stock or other securities to said association from which the same was borrowed, or by executing bond and mortgage upon her separate real estate to secure said loan: Provided, however, that the husband of such married woman join in the execution of such bond and mortgage; and such married woman shall also have the right to sell, assign and transfer her said stock, or withdraw the same, without joining the husband in such transfer or withdrawal; and it shall be lawful for any such savings fund, building or loan association to collect such loan made to such married woman, including the dues, interest, premium and fines, as loans made by such associations to other members are now by law collected; and such stock, or interest in such stock, shall not be liable for the debts of any husband of such married woman.

SEC. 18. The bonus or tax due to the commonwealth upon the capital stock of corporations, as provided for by act of first of May 1868, or by any other act, shall not apply to or be due from mutual savings fund, or building and loan associations; nor shall the registry for corporations, prescribed by the first section of the act of first of May 1868, the first section of the act of 24th of April 1874, and the 26th section of the act of 29th of April 1874, apply to or be required of mutual savings fund, or building and loan associations.

SEC. 19. Mutual savings fund, or building and loan associations, heretofore incorporated under the provisions of any law, shall be entitled to all the privileges, immunities, franchises and powers conferred by this act, upon filing with the secretary of the commonwealth a certificate of their acceptance of the same in writing, under the duly authenticated seal of said association, which certificate shall also prescribe their mode or plan of charging premiums, bonus or advance interest, as set forth in the first section of this act; and upon such acceptance and approval thereof by the governor, he shall issue letters patent to said corporation, reciting the same.

SEC. 20. All deeds of conveyance of lands situate within this commonwealth, made by any savings fund, building, or loan association, after the term for which it was incorporated shall have expired, shall be as good and effectual, and have the same force and effect for passing title to the lands so conveyed, as though executed during the period of its chartered existence.

SEC. 21. All purchases of land heretofore made by building and loan associations, incorporated by virtue of any law of this commonwealth, and also all sales of the same, made by them, to their stockholders or others, are hereby confirmed; and the titles of said associations and their vendees are hereby declared good and valid, to all intents and purposes; and the said associations, their successors or assigns, may sell, convey or lease, at pleasure, at any time within five years from the passage of this act, the undisposed of portions of the real estate so hereto purchased.

SEC. 22. Mutual loan and building associations shall be exempt from the provisions of each and every law imposing taxes for state purposes on their capital stock or mortgages, and other securities for moneys loaned to their own members; but the real estate owned by said association shall be subject to the same rates of taxation as the real estate of other corporations and persons: Provided, however, that the right of the commonwealth to collect taxes already accrued is hereby reserved.

SEC. 23. On the petition of any twelve or more citizens of Pennsylvania, the court of common pleas of the county of Philadelphia shall have all powers conferred by the acts relating to loan and building associations, to incorporate them and their associates as a perpetual corporation, for the purposes following, to wit: to purchase, hold and build upon and sell in fee simple, houses and lots in the city of Philadelphia, and also to make loans on bonds and mortgages to others to build and improve, and the same to sell and assign, and to borrow moneys upon bonds and mortgages or otherwise for said purposes; and in making sales or leases, or loans on mortgages, it shall be lawful for such corporation, and borrowers of them, to agree upon, and insert in the deeds of conveyance, a condition against the use of any granted or leased premises for the sale of any intoxicating liquors, or unlawful immoral purposes, the carrying on any noxious or unhealthful business, with right of reentry for breach of such condition: Provided, that no corporation chartered under this act, shall have a greater capital than one-half million of dollars, and shall stipulate by their articles to devote their capital to improve or promote the improvement of parts of said city most needing physical, healthful and moral reform, which shall be defined and prescribed in the charter, and not exceed eight main squares, and shall apply all their profits, over their expenses, and a return of eight per centum per annum to the shareholders, to and for the construction of substantial stone, or brick or iron habitations for homes for respectable persons of limited means, either as lessees or purchasers: And provided, that the said court shall be satisfied of the benevolent purposes of the petitioners; and that the legislature may at any time repeal this act, and such charters, if the powers hereby granted should be found prejudicial to the community, but in manner to do no injustice to the corporators.

SEC. 24. All building, saving and loan associations may bring and maintain suits, and carry on those already brought, in their corporate names, on all judgments, bonds, mortgages, notes or other evidences of debt or obligations due them, or for monthly dues, interest or any demand owing to them, and proceed to judgment and execution, notwithstanding their charter may have expired: and the officers last elected, or the survivors of them, shall be the officers to represent said corporations for such purpose; and if no officers survive, the stockholders may elect others under their bylaws.

SEC. 25. This act shall only be construed so as to enable said associations to collect up and divide their assets and wind up their affairs, and not to allow them to transact new business: Provided, that this act [sections 24 and 25] shall only apply to the city of Philadelphia.

SEC. 145. In all cases, where payment has been made of all the money or amount due or to become due in any mortgage, and the legal holder or holders thereof have failed, from any cause whatever, to enter satisfaction upon the record of the same, and shall so continue for six months, in such case, the mortgagor or mortgagors, his, her or their legal representatives, or the owner or owners of the mortgaged premises, or any or either of them, may petition the court of common pleas where the mortgaged premises are situate, setting forth the premises; whereupon the said court shall direct the sheriff of said county to serve a notice, stating the facts set forth in the petition, on the legal representative or representatives, if to be found in the county; and in case the parties can not be found in the said county, then the sheriff shall give public notice as aforesaid, in one or more newspapers published within or nearest to the said county, once a week for four weeks successively, prior to the then next term after the petition has been presented, requiring the said parties to appear at the next term and answer the petition aforesaid; at which term, or any subsequent term, the said court, on due proof being made that the full amount for which the said mortgage was given has been paid, are hereby authorized and required to decree and direct that satisfaction shall be entered upon the record thereof, by the recorder of the proper county, in [on] payment of the costs due relative to the entry of said mortgage, or any proceedings thereon; which said satisfaction, so entered, shall forever thereafter discharge, defeat and release the same, and shall likewise bar all actions brought or to be brought thereon, as fully and effectually, to all intents and purposes, as if the satisfaction had been entered by the legal holder or holders of the said mortgage; but if either of the parties shall desire any matter of fact that is affirmed by one and denied by the other, to be tried by a jury, an issue shall be formed, and the same shall be tried accordingly, and if the jury shall find that the full amount for which the said mortgage was given has been paid, then satisfaction shall be entered on the record as aforesaid; and in all cases where the legal holder or holders of such mortgage, at the time of such payment, shall have been a building and loan association, or other corporation, whose existence in law has terminated or become doubtful, or whose affairs have been wound up, the notice required by this act shall be served on either the president or treasurer last in office in said association or corporation, if he is to be found in the county, otherwise public notice shall be given in one or more newspapers within or nearest to the county, in the manner aforesaid.

SEC. 189. * * * moneys loaned by building and loan associations shall be subject to tax, the same as money loaned by individuals.

SECTION 1. In addition to the corporate powers conferred on building and loan associations by the thirty-seventh section of the act of twenty-ninth April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four [Brightly's Purdon's Digest of 1883, page 223], they shall have the right, when applications for loans by the stockholders thereof shall exceed the accumulations in the treasury, to make temporary loans of such sum or sums of money to meet such demands, not exceeding in the aggregate of such loan at any time fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), at a less rate of interest than six per centum, and secure the payment of the same by note, bond, or assignment of its judgments and mortgages as collateral; said loans to be repaid out of the accumulations in the treasury, as soon as sufficient is paid in and there is no demand therefor by borrowing stockholders.

LAWS OF 1893.

ACT No. 50.

SECTION 1. Cooperative banking associations may be incorporated under this act upon compliance with the requirements of section eleven, article sixteen, state constitution, when ten or more persons of lawful age, citizens of this commonwealth, who shall have associated themselves together by written articles of association for the purpose of carrying on a cooperative banking business where the profits derived from the business shall, after paying all legitimate expenses, be divided pro rata among the depositors and borrowers of the bank in proportion to their deposits or loans to each class, one-half of the net profits; and a dividend not to exceed six per centum per annum on original subscribed stock may be considered legitimate expenses.

SEC. 2. Such persons so associating may adopt any corporate name indicating their cooperative character and which has not been previously adopted by any other corporation formed under this act: Provided, the last three words of such name shall be Cooperative Banking Association, and it shall not be lawful to use in such name either of the words "society" or "company," and that any violation of this proviso by any corporation formed under this act shall render each member thereof personally liable for all its debts.

Before any company formed under this act shall commence its business its articles of association shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, and two copies of said articles shall be made which the said secretary of the commonwealth shall certify by his official signature and the seal of this commonwealth as being correct copies of said articles so filed and recorded; one of said certified copies shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the office of the association shall be located and the said clerk shall certify by his official signature and seal of his office that the said certified copy of said articles has been filed and recorded in his office and the other certified copy of said articles shall be held by the association named therein, and the said articles or copies thereof, duly certified by either of the aforesaid officers, may be used as evidence in all courts and places of the incorporation of as well as for or against such association, and the said secretary of the commonwealth and the said county clerk shall be paid for said filing and recording and certifying at the rate of ten cents for each hundred words contained in said articles, and after such articles of association shall have been made, filed and recorded as herein required, the person signing the same and such other persons, partnerships or corporations who shall, from time to time, own or possess any share in the stock capital of such association, and their several successors and assigns, shall be deemed and taken to be a body corporate and by the name and for the purposes mentioned in such articles of association.

SEC. 3. The articles of association shall be signed by the persons originally associating themselves together and shall be acknowledged by at least five of them before a notary public, and shall state distinctly (a) the name by which this association shall be known, (b) the place in this state where its principal office is to be located, (c) the purpose or object for which it is formed, (d) amount of its stock capital, (e) the amount of each share of stock of such capital, such shares not to exceed ten dollars per share, and how such share may be paid for, (f) the amount of capital that will be actually paid in before commencing business; also amount of preferred stock to be assigned to stockholders who may hereafter earn stock from custom dividends, (g) whether, and if so to what extent, loans or deposits of money are to be received for use in its business, (h) the terms upon which persons may become members, (i) on what days in January regular annual meetings of the members are to be held, (j) such other matters not repugnant to this act as may be deemed proper and necessary, (k) the term of its existence not to exceed twenty years, and (l) names of the first associates, their respective residences and the number of shares held by each of them. No such association shall commence business until the financial standing, responsibility and character of the original stockholders shall have been approved and certified by the superintendent of the banking department of the commonwealth.

SEC. 4. The stock capital of any such association shall consist of the amounts standing to the credit of the members on account of the shares allotted to them, certificates of which shall be issued from time to time as shares shall be fully paid up or earned.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of such company to exhibit in some conspicuous place in its principal office at all times a list of stockholders and the amount of stock held by each stockholder, the amount of stock subscribed or earned at the time of each last annual meeting; also the amount of preferred stock which shall not be a liability stock only as it becomes assigned to individual stockholders.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the auditors to audit all books, papers and vouchers of the company annually, or at any time when called upon in writing so to do by the president or any ten of the stockholders, or twenty of the depositors when joined by at least five of the stockholders, and each of these audits shall be rendered in writing which shall give a statement of the assets and liabilities of said company; also a detailed statement of the character and nature of all the notes and securities held by the association, and such statement shall be posted conspicuously in the office.

SEC. 7. No profits shall be paid out to any stockholder until the total registered amount of stock shall be fully paid in cash, or earned from the net profits of the company.

SEC. 8. It shall be lawful, if the bylaws so provide, for any minor to take and hold shares in, or to make loans or deposits of money to or with any such corporation, and for such association to pay any minor any moneys that may be due to him in respect of any shares, loans or deposits standing in his name, and his receipt therefor shall be in all respects valid in law, but such minor shall not be eligible to hold any office in such association though he may be subject to its bylaws and vote at any meeting of its members.

SEC. 9. Depositors and borrowers to whom dividends are due shall not withdraw the same, but shall take full paid stock in lieu thereof, until the registered and preferred stock of the company becomes fully paid up, and as each share of stock becomes fully paid up this class of stockholders may become voting members, but each shareholder shall be entitled to but one vote on each share of stock.

The company shall be controlled by a board of six directors who shall serve for three years, two of which shall be elected annually, and provision shall be made at the first election to elect two to serve one year, two to serve two years, and two for three years. Said directors shall elect a president and secretary from their number and said directors shall have full control of all employes and business of the association, subject to bylaws, but no employe shall be a director. The bylaws shall provide rules and regulations for the loaning or discounting of the capital and deposits of the association and the nature of its securities and no loan shall be made to any individual, firm or company, either singly or collectively, in excess of ten per centum of the deposits of the association at the time of making such loan, and any violation of this provision will render the person or cashier so making liable upon his bond and the directors sanctioning such a loan will render them individually liable, unless a protest be entered at the first monthly meeting subsequent to the making of such loan.

Two auditors shall be elected annually by the stockholders from their number at their annual meeting in January, and one auditor shall be elected by the depositors from their number on first Monday of each December, notice of which election shall be posted conspicuously in the bank room for at least three weeks prior to the election of such auditor, all of which shall serve for one year.

SEC. 10. The members shall be severally and jointly liable for all deposits, debts for labor, or service of any kind performed for such association, and for any other debts lawfully incurred under the provisions of this act; each of the members shall be liable to twice the amount of his subscribed or earned stock capital, and no more, but no suit shall be brought or any execution issued against any member individually until a judgment be first obtained for such deposits, labor, services, or other lawful debts against such association and execution thereon be returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, and in case any member shall be compelled to pay any such judgment, or any part thereof, beyond his pro rata liability therefor, he shall have the right to call upon all the members to pay their pro rata share of the same, or up to their pro rata liability therefor, and may sue them jointly, or severally, or any member of them, and recover in such action the ratable amount due from the member or members so sued.

SEC. 11. Any such association may take, hold, lease and convey such real estate as may be necessary for the purpose of its organization, and may sue and be sued in its corporate name, and may submit any matter in dispute to arbitration, and shall have a common seal, which shall not be altered or imitated, and shall bear the corporate name of, together with such device or motto as may be adopted by such association, and such seal shall be impressed upon the articles of association.

SEC. 12. Any person appointed to any position in any such association requiring the receipt, payment, management, or use of money belonging to such association, shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, become bound with two or more good and sufficient sureties, or insurance bonds, in such sum and form as the directors shall require and approve; and the directors may also require from any other employes of such association, bonds with good and sufficient sureties for the faithful discharge of duties.

SEC. 13. The first meeting of any such association may be called by a notice signed by any two of the associates who signed its articles of association, setting forth the time and place and objects of such meetings, such notice to be mailed to the address of each associate, at least four days clear prior to such meeting, and a majority of such associates at such meeting shall be competent to make all such bylaws as they may deem necessary for the proper management of the association, so that any such bylaws are not repugnant to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or any law of the state or United States, and to elect such officers as are heretofore provided by this act, and such officers shall hold office until their successors shall have been elected and installed.

SEC. 14. Any association may alter or amend its articles of association and may alter or rescind any bylaws, or make any additional bylaws with the consent of the majority of its members present at a special meeting convened for such purpose, but the notice calling such meeting shall set forth fully and clearly the proposed alterations, amendment, rescission or addition; and any alteration or amendment of the articles of association shall be approved, filed, recorded and certified in the same manner as the original articles of association.

RHODE ISLAND.

The laws of this state contain no general legislation relating especially to building and loan associations.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

ACTS OF 1886.

[NOTE.—Building and loan associations are governed by the general incorporation law (act No. 288, acts of 1886). The sections of said law in which building and loan associations are specifically mentioned are given below.]

ACT No. 288.

SECTION 5, (as amended by act No. 439, acts of 1890). Upon the completion of the organization of the company, and the payment to the treasurer of the company, or some officer designated for that purpose, in cash, of at least twenty per cent of the capital subscribed, payable in money, and the payment of the remainder of the capital stock so subscribed for payable in money being secured, to be paid in such instalments and at such times as may be provided in the written declaration required by section 1, and also the delivery to such officer or officers at least twenty per cent of the property so subscribed to the capital stock, with security for the delivery of the remainder of said property so subscribed to the capital as may be promised in said declaration required by section 1, the board of corporators shall, in writing, over their signatures, certify the same to the secretary of state, who shall issue to the company a certificate that they have been fully organized according to the laws of South Carolina, under the name and for the purpose indicated in their written declaration, and that they are fully authorized to commence business under their charter, a copy of which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the register of mesne conveyance for each county where such company shall have a business office: Provided, that in cases of building and loan associations and other like corporations, when by the terms of the declaration the capital stock is to be paid in in instalments, the certificate herein provided for may be issued when 50 per cent of the first instalment of such capital stock shall have been paid in and the provisions of this act in other respects complied with, and the certificate so issued may make such provisions for the winding up of such corporation as is embodied in such written declaration.

SEC. 14, (as amended by act No. 17, acts of 1888). The corporation shall have a lien upon the stock of each shareholder for all amounts which may be due upon his subscription for stock, and in case of failure by him to pay within thirty days after the time appointed any instalment required to be paid by the terms of the subscription, such corporation, after thirty days' personal notice, or, if that can not be given, notice by mail, addressed to the place of residence of the subscriber, if known, and by advertisement by publication in the public newspaper published nearest to the place of business of such corporation once a week for four successive weeks, may, at its option, consolidate into as many par shares as the money paid by such defaulting subscriber will amount to, and issue to such stockholder a certificate therefor, and declare the fraction of a share remaining unpaid forfeited to the corporation, or may proceed to collect what may remain unpaid of the original subscription by suit; but if such subscriber be dead at the time of the default, such forfeiture shall not be declared till after the expiration of the time when the representative is exempt from suit. If such subscription for stock be declared forfeited, such corporation may proceed and sell the forfeited share, and the shares subscribed but not paid for by such defaulting subscriber, at public or private sale, and the purchaser shall become the owner thereof, subject to the terms of the original subscription. No stock shall be issued by any company incorporated under the provisions of this act until fully paid according to the terms of the subscription, except in cases of building and loan associations and other corporations, when by the terms of the charter the capital stock is to be paid in instalments, and no transfers of stock shall be valid, except as between the parties thereto, until the same shall have been regularly entered upon the books of the company, so as to show the name of the person by whom and to whom the transfer is made, the number and other designation of the shares and the date of the transfer.

SEC. 34, (as amended by act No. 17, acts of 1888). The following acts and sections, and all acts and parts of acts amendatory thereof, be, and the same are hereby, repealed: * * * an act to provide for and regulate the incorporation of building and loan associations in this state, approved the 22d day of December, 1885: Provided, the provisions of this act shall not affect the corporate existence of any corporation heretofore formed under any general or special law; but all such corporations shall be subject to all the provisions of this act that are made applicable thereto.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

LAWS OF 1891.

CHAPTER 39.

SECTION 1. Any building and loan association incorporated or to be incorporated under and by virtue of the laws of the state of South Dakota may permit parents and guardians to take and hold shares in such association in behalf and for the use of their minor children or wards, providing the costs of such shares be defrayed by such parent, guardian, child or ward in such manner as the costs in other shares are defrayed.

SEC. 2. Minors who have no guardians and who support themselves by their own exertions, who make their own contracts and transact their own business may take and hold shares so long as they comply with the bylaws of said corporation, and may withdraw said stock at any time as otherwise provided and may demand the redemption of their certificates of stock at their maturity.

LAWS OF 1893.

CHAPTER 40.

SECTION 1. Any nine or more persons being of full age, two-thirds of whom shall be citizens of this state, may form an association as provided in this act. All associations formed under the provisions hereof or that may hereafter comply with th-same, as hereinafter provided, shall be known as cooperative building and loan associations, and the name of every such association shall contain as a part thereof either the words "building and loan association," "savings and loan association," or "savings association."

SEC. 2. The object and purposes of such associations shall be to encourage industry, frugality, home building and savings among their members; the accumulation of savings and the loan of such accumulations to their members, the purchase of real estate, the erection of buildings and the making of improvements thereon and on the lands of their members, and removing incumbrances therefrom, and the accumulation of a fund to be returned to such of their members as do not obtain loans, when they have accumulated a certain sum, or at any time when such members shall desire the same or the association shall desire to repay the same, and such association shall have power to accomplish said purposes.

SEC. 3. Such associations shall become incorporated by the said nine or more persons making, signing and acknowledging in the manner and form prescribed for the acknowledgment of deeds in this state, a certificate wherein shall be stated the name of said association, that the association is formed under and for the purpose prescribed in this act, the location within this state of its principal office or place of business, the amount of its authorized capital stock, the limit of the number of its shares, and the time for which it is to exist, the names and residences of the subscribers and the number of shares of its capital stock subscribed by each, the number of its directors and the names and residences of those who are selected as directors who shall hold their office until the next annual election or until their successors are elected and qualified. Said certificate shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and upon such certificate being so filed the secretary of state shall issue letters patent in the usual form incorporating the subscribers into a body corporate by the name chosen, which letters patent shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where said association is located.

SEC. 4. The officers of the association shall consist of a board of directors or trustees of not less than five (5) nor more than thirteen (13), who shall be members of the association, and such board shall elect a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer and such other officers as may be authorized by the bylaws. The duties and compensation of the officers, their terms of office, the time and manner of their election, and the time of regular meetings of the officers and shareholders, shall be determined by the bylaws, except that the board of directors may determine each year the compensation of the treasurer and secretary. Special meetings of the officers and shareholders may be called and held as provided by the bylaws. Each shareholder, not in arrears for dues, shall be entitled to one vote at all meetings of the shareholders for each share of stock owned by him or held by him as trustee. All officers shall hold office until their successors are duly elected and assume the duties of their office. No association shall expire from neglect on its part to elect officers at the time prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 5. The authorized capital stock of such association shall be divided into such number of shares of such par value as shall be provided for by the articles of association or the bylaws, and shall be paid in at such times, amounts, and at such places as the bylaws shall provide. Every share of stock issued by such association shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments, fines, taxes and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the articles of association and bylaws, and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited. The stock may be issued in one or more successive series in such amounts as the board of directors or stockholders may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw the amount paid in by him to such association shall have the right to do so by giving thirty (30) days notice of his intention to so withdraw, when such stockholder shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in and such proportion of the profits as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges: Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds in the treasury of the association be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and also that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held as security for a loan. Upon the death of a stockholder, his legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid on his stock and legal interest thereon, after deducting all charges against said stock. No fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account from and after his decease, unless the legal representatives of such member assume the future payments on the stock. The authorized capital stock of such association may be increased, by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors, a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors authorizing such increase being filed with the secretary of state.

SEC. 6. The officers of the association shall hold stated meetings at which the moneys in the treasury shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority right of loan shall be entitled to receive a loan equal to the par value of the shares of stock held by him; Provided, that good and ample security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security that is approved by the board of directors within such time as the bylaws prescribe, such member may be charged with one month's interest upon the amount of the loan so bid for, and a fine not to exceed one (1) dollar per share, together with any expense incurred, and the money shall be resold at the next regular meeting. In case of non-payment of any instalment of dues, interest, premiums, fines, insurance, taxes or other sums due from the borrower to the association for the space of six (6) months after such delinquency occurs, the whole sum loaned, together with the unpaid premium bid therefor, and all interest, fines, insurance, taxes and dues on stock pledged for said loan, shall become due and payable and may be at once collected for the full period for which the same were contracted to be paid.

SEC. 7. Any borrower may voluntarily repay a loan at any time by the payment of the principal sum borrowed, together with the interest to the date of such repayment, and such per cent of premium per annum as may have been bid for the preference or priority right to such loan, together with any fines or other charges that may be due by such borrower at the time of the repayment, and in case the amount of premium bid for the priority right to such loan be deducted in advance, and the repayment thereof is made before the expiration of the eighth year after the organization of the association, there shall be refunded to such borrower one-eighth of the premium bid for every year of the said eight years unexpired, providing that when the stock is issued in separate series the time shall be computed from the date of issuing the shares of stock on which the loan was made, and when the series of stock has a less period than eight years to complete the full payment thereof, or a longer period than eight years from the date of said series to complete the full payment thereof, there shall be refunded only pro rata for the unexpired term of the series. But the bylaws of such association may prescribe different terms upon which loans may be repaid, and the voluntary repayment of loans can only be made in accordance with the bylaws of the association. Loans made in accordance with the provisions of this act shall become due and payable upon the date of the maturity of the stock of the borrowing member pledged as collateral security to such loan, but the payments made by the borrowing member upon the stock so pledged shall not be considered as payments upon the principal of the loan.

SEC. 8. Such associations may contract for and collect from their members the premiums or bonus bid by their stockholders for preference or priority right to loans in periodical instalments, and such premiums or bonus so paid in instalments shall not be deemed usurious, and shall be taken to be a payment as it falls due in contradistinction to a premium offered and paid in advance.

SEC. 9. Such associations shall have the right to impose fines upon their members for the non-payment of dues, interest, premiums, taxes, insurance or other sums which may be due such associations at the times and in the manner provided for the payment of the same by their bylaws, which fines shall be a lien upon the stock of such defaulting member, or upon any other property or security held by the association and belonging to such member, and no fine, premium, bonus or premiums paid by members for preference or priority right to loans, fines or interest on such premiums shall be deemed a violation of any statute against the taking of usury, and they may be enforced and shall be collectible from the members of the associations in accordance with the provisions of its bylaws.

SEC. 10. Any association incorporated by or under the provisions of this act, or any one heretofore incorporated accepting of the provisions of the same, as herein-after provided, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase at any sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which such associations may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or in which said association may have an interest; and the real estate so purchased, or any other that such association may hold, they shall have power to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure to any person or persons whatsoever, and all sales of real estate heretofore made by such association to any person or persons, are hereby confirmed and made valid.

SEC. 11. The associations may by proper bylaws provide for the retirement of unpledged shares of any series at any time by enforcing withdrawals of same, provided that the shares to be so retired shall be determined by lot, and that the holders of the same shall be paid the full value of their shares as determined by the last annual or semi-annual distribution of profits, less all fines and a proportionate part of any unadjusted loss.

SEC. 12. When each unpledged share of a given series reaches its par value, all payments of dues thereon shall cease, and the holder thereof shall be paid out of the funds of the association its par value with such rate of interest as shall be determined by the bylaws, from the time the board of directors have declared such shares to have matured until the time of payment. Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) the receipts of the association be applicable to the payment of matured shares without the consent of the board of directors. The order of payment of matured shares shall be determined by the board of directors.

SEC. 13. Whenever any member shall be six (6) months in arrears for non-payment of dues upon unpledged shares the secretary of the association shall give him notice thereof in writing, with a statement of his arrearages, by mailing the same to him at the last post office address given by him to the association, and if he shall not pay the same at the second regular monthly meeting thereafter, the board of directors may at their option declare his shares forfeited, and at the time of such forfeiture the withdrawal value thereof shall be determined and stated, and the defaulting member shall be entitled to withdraw the same without interest within one (1) year, upon the same conditions as shall be required of withdrawing shareholders.

SEC. 14. Such association may borrow money for the purpose of making loans, paying withdrawals or refunding existing indebtedness, not exceeding, however, fifty (50) per cent of its then accumulated assets and as security for the same its board of directors may pledge or mortgage such portion of its mortgage loans or other assets as they may deem expedient. Any association having a surplus in its treasury for which there is no demand for loans, withdrawing shareholders, matured stock or other obligations, may loan the same to another similar association organized under the provisions of this act, or having accepted of the same as hereinafter provided, subject to the provisions of this section on the part of the borrowing association. No association shall borrow or make loans authorized by this section except by a two-thirds vote of its board of directors, such vote to be recorded by ayes and nays in its regular minutes, and such association at any time when it shall have a surplus of money in its treasury may make loans to persons not members of the association upon real estate security on such terms and at such rates of interest, not in excess of twelve (12) per cent per annum, as its board of directors may determine.

SEC. 15. Profits and losses shall be distributed at least annually to the shares then outstanding in proportion to their holding value, as distinguished from their withdrawing value. At each periodical distribution of profits, the board of directors may reserve and carry as undistributed profits, in the nature of a guaranty fund any sum from the net profits that in their discretion seems wise to be applied upon any future losses that may occur, which fund shall not be deemed a part of the full value of stock in liquidating, surrendering or withdrawing shares.

SEC. 16. No transfer of shares shall be binding upon the association until the same shall have been made upon its books; and the transferee thereof shall take the same charged with and shall be responsible for all the obligations, liabilities and conditions attaching thereto, or secured by said stock.

SEC. 17. Such association shall have power to adopt bylaws not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, defining the duties of officers and committees, times of meetings, mode of determining and declaring the withdrawal value of shares, and regulating all other matters pertaining to their business. Such associations may in their original bylaws confer authority on their board of directors to make amendments thereto.

SEC. 18. Any person of sound mind may become a member of such association by taking one or more shares therein, and having his name and post office address recorded upon the books of the association, and whenever he desires his post office address changed he shall give written notice thereof to the secretary of the association, and in all matters requiring notice to be given to the members of such associations it shall be sufficient to mail such notice or a copy thereof, prepaid, and directed to the member to be notified at his last furnished post office address.

SEC. 19. The filing by a member of his application for withdrawal of stock held by him shall not sever his relation to the association as a stockholder, but such relation shall continue and he shall be subject to all the duties and obligations of a stockholder until the final payment to him by the association of the withdrawal value of his stock; and upon such payment his obligation and liability as a stockholder shall cease, as to the stock so withdrawn.

SEC. 20. All mortgages given to associations formed under this act for loans made or to be made, shall have priority over liens upon the mortgaged premises, and upon the buildings and improvements on such premises, which shall be filed subsequent to the recording of such mortgage in the office of the register of deeds of the county where such premises are situated.

SEC. 21. Any association shall have authority to consolidate with one or more corporations organized under this act or accepting of its provisions, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, when such consolidation shall be deemed advisable by the unanimous vote of the directors of each of the associations so consolidating, and to transfer to such consolidated corporation its entire assets, subject to the vested rights of its members.

SEC. 22. Such associations shall annually in January of each year make to the secretary of state a full report in writing of their affairs and financial condition, setting forth in detail their assets and liabilities as they appeared on the thirty-first (31st) day of December preceding. Such report shall be filed not later than the fifteenth day of January, and be verified by an officer of the association. Every association shall make any further reports which the secretary of state shall require, and in such form and as to such matters relating to the condition and conduct of the business of the association, as the secretary of state shall designate. And it shall be the duty of the public examiner to examine at least once in each year the financial condition of every such association and to make such report of said examination as he is now required to make regarding the examination of banks. Any wilful false swearing in making and verifying such reports by the officers of such association shall be deemed a perjury.

SEC. 23. If any such association shall fail to furnish to the secretary of state any report required by this act, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of ten (10) dollars per day for every day such report shall be wilfully delayed or withheld. The secretary of state may maintain action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the expenses of his department.

SEC. 24. All associations organized under the provisions of this act shall be subject to visitation and examination at all times by the public examiner or his deputies, upon the application of three (3) or more members of said association. If it shall appear to said examiner, from the report of any such association, or from any examination by him, that any such association is violating the provisions of this act, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he shall by an order under his hand and seal addressed to such association, direct the discontinuance of such illegal and unsafe practices; and whenever any association shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order, or make reports as required, he shall communicate such facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon be authorized to institute such proceeding as the nature of the case may require.

SEC. 25. All mortgages, obligations, undertakings or conveyances of real property heretofore given to, or mortgages, obligations, undertakings or conveyances of real property, given by, and all contracts entered into with any building and loan association heretofore organized or doing business under the laws of the territory of Dakota or state of South Dakota before the passage of this act, such association having first accepted the provisions of this act, as hereinafter provided, are hereby made and declared to be good and valid to all intents and purposes, the same as though they had been made to associations organized under the provisions hereof.

SEC. 26. No such association shall ever issue any preferred or non-contributing stock except fully paid debenture and deposit stock.

SEC. 27. Any building and loan association which has made and filed its articles of incorporation under the laws of the territory of Dakota, or state of South Dakota, and received its certificate of incorporation as by such laws provided, and whose principal place of business is within the state of South Dakota, shall be entitled to all the benefits of this act, and have all the rights, powers and privileges by this act conferred, upon accepting the same by a unanimous vote of its board of directors at a regular meeting thereof, and filing with the secretary of state the certificate of its president and secretary, showing such acceptance, and thereafter such association so accepting shall be deemed to have been duly incorporated at and from the time of the issuing of its certificate of incorporation under the laws of the territory of Dakota, or state of South Dakota, and a certified copy of such certificate of its president and secretary under the hand of the secretary of state, shall be prima facie evidence of such acceptance.

SEC. 28. Any corporation, company or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or nation, and having for its title, or for a part thereof, the words "building association," "building and loan association," "savings association," "homestead association," or whose stock is payable by an accumulative fund in regular or stated periodical instalments, or whose business is done in a manner similar to that authorized to be done by the laws of this state relating to building and loan associations, shall transact no business of any kind within this state until it shall have complied with the requirements of this act.

SEC. 29. Every such corporation, company or association shall, before transacting any business within this state, make and file with the secretary of state, a statement verified by its president or secretary, showing the assets and liabilities of such corporation, company or association, its principal place of business, the names and addresses of its officers, with a copy of its articles of incorporation, and shall accompany the same with an application for permission to transact business within this state, and shall at the time of filing such report and application pay to the secretary of state a fee of twenty-five (25) dollars.

SEC. 30. Every corporation, company or association described in section 28 of this act and organized or incorporated without the state of South Dakota, before doing any business within this state, shall by an instrument in writing, duly executed, appoint the secretary of state the true and lawful attorney of such corporation, company or association upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding by any resident of this state against such corporation, company or association, may be served with the same effect as if such corporation, company or association existed in this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. A certificate of such appointment, duly certified and authenticated, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and copies certified by him or his deputy shall be deemed sufficient evidence in regard thereto. Service in favor of a resident of this state upon such attorney shall thereafter be deemed a personal service upon such corporation, company or association.

SEC. 31. Whenever lawful process against such corporation, company or association shall be served upon the secretary of state, under the provisions of this act, he shall forthwith forward a copy of the process served on him by mail, prepaid and directed to the secretary of the corporation, company or association, at the last known post office address of such corporation, company or association. For each copy of process, the secretary of state shall collect the sum of five (5) dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of such service, the same to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable disbursements if he succeeds in the suit or proceeding.

SEC. 32. No such foreign association shall do business in this state unless it has first mortgage securities of the bona fide value of fifty thousand (50,000) dollars; the ownership of which amount of said securities, by such foreign association shall be authenticated by evidence satisfactory to the secretary of this state.

SEC. 33. When any such corporation, company or association shall have complied with all the requirements of this act, the said secretary shall issue to such corporation, company or association a certificate stating that it has complied with the same and is entitled to do business in the state of South Dakota until the thirty-first day of January of the year succeeding. Provided, however, that said secretary of state may at any time revoke such license if it shall by satisfactory evidence appear either:

1. That any statement or report, required or authorized by this act to be made as a condition of doing or continuing such business in this state, is untrue, or

2. That such corporation, company or association is insolvent or the security of its shareholders in this state, by mismanagement or otherwise is rendered unsafe or insecure, or

3. That such corporation, company or association has violated the laws of this state or failed to comply therewith. If such license shall be revoked, as aforesaid, on notice thereof, such association shall cease to do business in this state, but such revocation shall not effect any of the provisions of this act in regard to the service of process.

SEC. 34. Such corporation, company or association shall annually make and file with the secretary of state on or before the twentieth day of January of each year, a statement verified by the oath of its president or secretary, showing in detail its assets and liabilities as they existed on the thirty-first day of December previous; and shall accompany the same with a fee of ten (10) dollars, and on receipt of such report, it appearing that such corporation is solvent, the secretary of state shall issue to said company, a certificate authorizing it to do business within this state until the thirty-first day of January of the succeeding year.

SEC. 35. When by the laws of any other state, territory or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or securities or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatever kind shall be imposed on the corporations or companies described in section twenty-eight of such other state, territory or nation doing business in this state and upon their agents here.

SEC. 36. Any agent or other person who shall solicit subscriptions to, or sell or advertise to be sold in this state, shares of stock of any corporation, company or association described in section twenty-eight (28) of this act or who shall receive money or deposits for such corporation, company or association, unless such corporation, company or association shall have fully complied with the provisions of this act, and shall hold uncanceled the certificate of authority provided for by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand (1,000) dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twelve months or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall also be personally liable in case of loss for all subscriptions obtained or moneys paid through his solicitations or agency.

TENNESSEE.

CODE OF 1884.

SECTION 1742. The charter for a building association shall be in the following form:

"State of Tennessee—Charter of Incorporation.

"Be it known, that (here copy the names of five or more corporators above the age of twenty-one years,) are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate by the name and style of" (here insert the name of the corporation.)

SEC. 1743. The general powers, of said corporation are:

1. To sue and be sued by the corporate name.
2. To have and use a common seal, which it may alter at pleasure; if no common seal, then the signing of the name of the corporation, by any duly authorized officer, shall be legal and binding.
3. To purchase and hold, or receive by gift, in addition to the personal property owned by said corporation, any real estate necessary for the transaction of the corporate business, and also to purchase or accept any real estate in payment, or part payment, of any debt due to the corporation, and sell realty for corporation purposes.
4. To establish bylaws, and make all rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws and the constitution, deemed expedient for the management of corporate affairs.
5. To appoint such subordinate officers and agents, in addition to the president, secretary or treasurer, as the business of the corporation may require.
6. To designate the name of the office, and fix the compensation of the officers.
7. To borrow money, and issue notes or bonds upon the faith of the corporate property, and also to execute a mortgage or mortgages, as further security for repayment of money thus borrowed.

The following provisions and restrictions are coupled with said grant of powers:

1. A failure to elect officers at the proper time, does not dissolve the corporation, but those in office hold until the election or appointment and qualification of their successors.
2. The term of all officers may be fixed by the bylaws of the corporation; the same not, however, to exceed two years.
3. The corporation may, by bylaws, make regulations concerning the subscription for, or transfer of stock; fix upon the amount of capital to be invested in the enterprise; the division of the same into shares; the time required for payment thereof by the subscribers for stock; the amount to be called at any one time; and in case of failure of any stockholder to pay the amount thus subscribed by him at the time and in the amounts thus called, a right of action shall exist in the corporation to sue said defaulting stockholder for the same.

SEC. 1744. The funds of said corporation may be loaned out to the stockholders in such manner, on such terms and conditions, and under such regulations as the said corporation, by its constitution and bylaws may prescribe: Provided, the same be secured by real estate, and any funds of the said corporation, which may remain after the stockholders have borrowed all they desire, may be loaned out to other persons, the same being secured by a lien on real estate.

SEC. 1745. The members of said corporation shall have the power to adopt a constitution, and the constitution adopted, the bylaws and regulations, shall have the force and effect of a legal enactment on the members of said corporation: Provided, the same are not in conflict with the general laws of the land.

SEC. 1746. The corporation shall have the power to take and hold all such real estate as may be mortgaged to it, or conveyed in trust, to secure any debt due to the corporation for loan of its funds; and the said corporation shall have power to purchase any such real estate at any sale thereof, and the same to hold, sell or otherwise dispose of, as the said corporation may deem expedient.

SEC. 1747. The bylaws may prescribe the amount of shares and the time of payment thereof by instalments, but the monthly call for payment of said instalments shall not exceed two dollars on each and every share. Every share of stock shall be made liable for and subject to a lien for the satisfaction of any unpaid instalments, and the bylaws may prescribe the mode and manner of enforcing said lien.

SEC. 1748. New shares may be issued in lieu of any shares withdrawn or forfeited. The shares may be issued in one or successive series, in such amounts as the board of directors may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw, as he or she may have the right, shall give thirty days' notice thereof, when said withdrawing stockholder shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in, and such proportion of the profits as may have accumulated.

SEC. 1749. At no time shall more than one-half the funds in the treasury be subject to the demands of withdrawing stockholders, without the consent of the board of directors; nor shall any stockholder be entitled to withdraw, whose shares are pledged to the corporation.

SEC. 1750. The personal representative, upon the death of a stockholder, shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by the deceased, and all profits which have been realized. If said stock is pledged to the company, the same shall be redeemed by said personal representative.

SEC. 1751. The board of directors shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if over two hundred dollars, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, at a rate not in conflict with the law of the state, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the preference or priority, shall be entitled to receive a loan of two hundred dollars for each share held by such stockholder.

SEC. 1752. A stockholder may borrow such fractional part of two hundred dollars as the bylaws may provide, and good security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved, the proposed borrower thus failing to give security, shall be charged with one month's interest, and the money resold at the next stated meeting.

SEC. 1753. In case of non-payment of instalments or interest by borrowing members for the period of six months, payment of principal and interest, without deducting the premium paid, or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities, according to the terms of the contract under which the same were pledged.

SEC. 1754. The premium bid by borrowing stockholders for the preference or priority of loan shall be paid before the loan is consummated, not as a part of the loan, nor as interest, but as a means of determining which one of the shareholders shall receive the loan, whenever there are a number of stockholders who may simultaneously desire to effect a loan.

SEC. 1755. Said corporation may purchase at judicial or execution or trustee's sale, any real estate, mortgaged or conveyed to it to secure a debt, and said real estate or any other real estate the corporation may be entitled to hold, the said corporation shall have the power to sell, convey, lease or mortgage at pleasure.

SEC. 1756. Said corporation may determine by an express provision of bylaws, that when each share of stock reaches a certain value, to be specified thereby, not exceeding two hundred dollars, the stockholders shall be paid such value for each share they respectively own, and that upon such payment the stock shall revert to the corporation.

SEC. 1757. Married women may hold stock in such corporation, free from the claims or debts of their husbands. No one person shall hold more than fifty shares.

ACTS OF 1889.

CHAPTER 267.

SECTION 1. In addition to the form of charter for a building association given in said section [1742, Code of 1884], the charter for a building association may be in the following form:

CHARTER OF INCORPORATION.

Be it known that (here copy the names of five or more corporators above the age of twenty-one years) are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate by the name and style of (here insert the name of the corporation).

The general powers, etc., of said corporation are (here set forth the powers, etc., as declared in section 5 [1746] of the act to which this is amendatory): The funds of said corporation may be loaned out to the stockholders in such manner, on such terms and conditions, and under such regulations as the said corporation, by its constitution and bylaws, may prescribe; Provided, the same be secured by real estate, and any funds of the said corporation which may remain after the stockholders have borrowed all they desire may be loaned out to other persons, the same being secured by a lien on real estate.

The members of said corporation shall have the power to adopt a constitution, and the constitution adopted, the bylaws and regulations shall have the force and effect of a legal enactment on the members of said corporation; Provided, the same are not in conflict with the general laws of the land.

The corporation shall have the power to take and hold all such real estate as may be mortgaged to it, or conveyed in trust to secure any debt due to the corporation for loan of its funds, and the said corporation shall have the power to purchase any such real estate at any sale thereof, and the same to hold, sell, or otherwise dispose of, as the said corporation may deem expedient. The bylaws may prescribe the amount of shares and the time of payment thereof by instalments, but the monthly call for payment of said instalments shall not exceed two dollars on each and every share. Every share of stock shall be liable for, and subject to a lien for the satisfaction of any unpaid instalments, and the bylaws may prescribe the mode and manner of enforcing said lien. New shares may be issued in lieu of any shares withdrawn or forfeited. The shares may be issued in one or successive series in such manner and in such amounts as the board of directors may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw, as he or she may have the right, shall give thirty days' notice thereof, when said withdrawing stockholder shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in, and such proportion of the profits as has been accumulated; Provided, that at no time shall more than one-half the funds in the treasury be subject to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors. Stockholders who are borrowing members, and who desire to have their mortgages or deeds of trust cancelled and leave the association before their stock matures, may do so on the following terms, to wit: If a loan is repaid within one year from the date on which it is made the borrowers must pay the premiums for one year and pay to the association an amount which, when added to the dues and earnings credited to his stock, will aggregate the sum actually borrowed, together with the legal rate of interest up to the date of repayment and all delinquent assessments.

If, after the expiration of one year, a borrowing member desire to repay his loan he will only be compelled to pay premiums and interest up [to] the time of repayment, and the cancellation of his mortgage or deed of trust will be adjusted as above stated.

The personal representatives, upon the death of a stockholder, shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by the deceased, and any profits which have been realized: Provided, that if said stock is pledged to the company the same shall be redeemed by said personal representative.

The board of directors shall hold stated meetings, at which the money in the treasury, if over two hundred dollars, shall be offered for loan in open meeting, at a rate not in conflict with the law of the state, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium (payable in regular weekly or monthly rates or instalments) for the preference shall be entitled to receive a loan of two hundred dollars for each share held by such stockholder; Provided, that a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of two hundred dollars as the bylaws may provide, and good security shall be given by the borrower to secure the repayment of the loan.

In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security, or shall offer security that is not approved, the proposed borrower thus failing to give security shall be charged with one month's interest, and the money resold at the next stated meeting.

In case of non-payment of instalments or interest by borrowing members for the period of six months, payment of principal and interest, without deducting the premium paid, or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceeding on their securities, according to the terms of the contract under which the same are pledged.

The premium bid by borrowing stockholders for the preference or priority of loan may be paid in regular weekly or monthly instalments, not as a part of the loan, not as interest, but as a means of determining which one of the shareholders shall receive the loan, whenever there are a number of stockholders who may simultaneously desire to effect a loan. Said corporation may purchase, at judicial, or execution, or trustee's sale, any real estate mortgaged or conveyed to it to secure a debt, and said real estate or any other real estate, the corporation may be entitled to hold, the said corporation shall have the power to sell, convey, lease, or mortgage at pleasure. Said corporation may determine by an express provision of bylaws that when each share of stock reaches a certain value, to be specified thereby, not exceeding two hundred dollars, the stockholders shall be paid such value for each share they respectively own, and that upon such payment the stock shall revert to the corporation.

Married women may hold stock in said corporation free from the claims or debts of their husbands. No one person shall hold more than fifty shares.

SEC. 2. Building associations operating under any other form of charter may be permitted to be operated in accordance with the terms of the foregoing charter after the adoption by a vote of the stockholders owning two-thirds of the stock of a resolution to that effect, and the procuring of a new charter containing the provision above set forth. Such stockholders as do not favor the change may be permitted to withdraw on the terms set forth in the act to which this is amendatory, for settlements between the corporation and the personal representatives of deceased stockholders.

ACTS OF 1891.

SECTION 1. Every building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state which loans its funds outside of the county in which it has its domicile, shall deposit and keep on deposit with the treasurer of the state, or with a trust company legally incorporated and duly organized under the laws of this state, to be selected by the board of directors of such association, in trust for all its members and creditors, mortgages (or other securities), received by it in the usual course of its business, amounting to not less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars nor more than fifty thousand (50,000) dollars, at the discretion of the state treasurer. When such mortgages (or other securities) are deposited with the said trust company, such company shall certify to the treasurer of the state that the said securities have been and are deposited with it under this act, and the same shall not be surrendered to or returned to the said building and loan association without the authority or sanction of the said treasurer of the state. Provided, that every such corporation heretofore organized, whose mortgages or other securities so deposited do not amount to twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, shall, within six months from the passage of this act, deposit with the treasurer of the state, or trust company, such additional securities, as with the securities so deposited, shall equal in value the sum of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars; and every such corporation hereafter organized, before commencing to do business, shall deposit with the said treasurer of the state, or trust company in trust, as aforesaid, securities of the value of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars. The securities mentioned in this proviso shall consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States, national or state bank stocks or bonds of this state, or any other state of the United States, or of any solvent city, county or town of this state, or of any state of the United States having legal authority to issue the same, or first mortgages on real estate, or other legal securities aggregating in value twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, and such securities may be withdrawn from time to time when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited in lieu and place thereof as provided in this act, or when other securities of like character and value are substituted thereof [therefor], and it shall be the duty of the treasurer of the state to examine the affairs of the said association from time to time to ascertain whether said associations have deposited all their securities and otherwise complied with the requirements of this act.

SEC. 2. All interest and dividends and premiums which may accrue on securities held by the treasurer of the state, or such trust company as provided herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stocks pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are so deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities as mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all contracts with members, and when any mortgage shall have been fully paid to said corporation, the same shall be surrendered by said treasurer of the state or under his order, upon filing with him a certificate of the register of deeds of the county where the real estate is situated, to the effect that the satisfaction of such mortgage has been filed of record. Any mortgage upon which default in the payment due has been made, shall be surrendered to, or returned to, the said building and loan association as aforesaid, for the purpose of collection or foreclosure. Bonds or stocks deposited with said treasurer of the state, or trust company as aforesaid shall, if deemed advisable by the association, be surrendered to the association depositing the same, for the purpose of being converted into cash and loaned on real estate. Securities needed for deposit in any other state, territory or nation shall, subject to the provisions of section 1 of this act, be surrendered upon request to the association depositing the same for the purpose of making such deposit. No securities required to be withdrawn by said association from the said treasurer of the state or trust company, shall be withdrawn except upon filing with the said treasurer of the state, before the same are surrendered, an affidavit of the president and secretary of the association, stating the reason for desiring to withdraw such securities, and such securities shall not be used for any purpose other than that stated in said affidavit.

SEC. 3. No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, shall do business in this state unless said association shall (deposit and continually thereafter) keep deposited in trust for all of its members and creditors, with some responsible trust company, or with some state officer of this or some other state of the United States, mortgages (or other securities) received by it in the usual course of its business, amounting to not less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars nor more than fifty thousand (50,000) dollars, at the discretion of the state treasurer. All of the personal obligations of its members taken in the ordinary course of business of such association and secured on first mortgage on real estate, all dividends and interest which may accrue on securities held in trust, as aforesaid, by the trust company or the state, as provided herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are on deposit in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent, and faithfully performs all contracts with its members. Any securities on deposit, as provided herein, may from time to time be withdrawn, if others of equal value are substituted therefor. Every building and loan association organized under the laws of any state, territory or foreign government shall, before commencing to do business in this state—

1. File with the treasurer of this state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation.

2. File with the treasurer of this state the certificate of the proper state officer of another state or the president and treasurer of some responsible trust company, certifying that it has on deposit securities, not less than $25,000, taken in the regular course of business, as mentioned in this act, in trust for all the members and creditors of such building and loan association.

3. File with the state treasurer a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association, stipulating and agreeing, that if any legal process affecting such association be served on said state treasurer, and a copy thereof be mailed, postage prepaid, by the party procuring the issuing of the same or his attorney to said association, addressed to its home office, then such service and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association of this state.

4. Pay the state treasurer twenty-five (25) dollars as fees for filing the papers mentioned in this section.

SEC. 4. When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the state treasurer, the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of said state treasurer, and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid, to the home office of said association. The word process in this act shall include any writ, summons, complaint, declaration or order whereby an action, suit or proceeding shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit or proceeding at law or in equity authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 5. When by the laws of any other state, territory or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, securities or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on building and loan associations of this state doing business in such other state, territory or nation, or upon their agents therein so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations or prohibitions of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other state, territory or nation, doing business in this state and upon their agents here.

SEC. 6. The name "building and loan association," as used in this act, shall include all corporations, societies, or organizations or associations doing a savings and loan investment business on the building society plan, viz.: Loaning its funds to its members, whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a fixed time in advance or not.

SEC. 7. No officer, director or agent of any foreign building and loan association shall, in this state, solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or sell, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to a resident of this state any stock of an association while said association has not on deposit securities as required by section 3 of this act, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this act. License to agents of such companies or associations shall be issued by the treasurer, annually, on the first of January, and said treasurer is authorized to collect from each agent for said license $2 fee. Any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than fifty dollars.

SEC. 8. No officer, director or agent of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state shall sell, issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued to any person not a resident of the state, in which the home office of said association is located, any stock of said association, while said association does not have on deposit securities as required by section 1 of this act. Any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, the offender shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not less than ten days or more than six months, or by both, such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 9. On or before the first day of September in each year every building and loan association doing business in this state, and governed by this act, shall deposit with the treasurer of the state a report of its affairs and operations for the year ending on the 30th day of June immediately preceding; such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary, or by three directors of the association, and shall contain answers to the following questions:

1. The date when the association was incorporated and the par value of each share of stock.

2. The number of shares sold during the year.

3. The number of shares cancelled and withdrawn during the year.

4. Number of shares in force at the end of the year.

5. A statement of the receipts and disbursements of the loan fund during the year.

6. A statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year.

Such association shall pay to the treasurer of the state $50 on filing such report. If any such association shall wilfully fail to furnish to the treasurer of the state any report required by this act, at the time so required, it shall, in the discretion of the state treasurer, forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld, and the treasurer of the state may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state for the benefit of the state.

SEC. 10. Every association depositing securities with the treasurer of the state, as provided for in this act, shall annually pay to said treasurer of state a fee of fifty dollars ($50).

SEC. 11, (as amended by chapter 114, acts of 1893). It shall be the duty of the treasurer of the state, once in each year, at such time as he may select, to have the books and statements of each association governed by this act, and doing business under the laws of this state, examined and verified, and, for that purpose, he is hereby authorized and empowered to employ an agent or expert to do same, who shall be subject to removal at any time by the treasurer.

SEC. 12. All of the officers of any building and loan association governed by this act, and doing business in this state, who handle any of the funds of such associations, shall give sufficient bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors, with whom such bonds shall be filed; Provided that the state treasurer may require of any association, at any time, such increase of said bond, or additional sureties thereto, or such increase of said insurance as he may deem necessary for the protection of the members. The penalty for a failure of any association to file and maintain the bonds or policy, as required by the provisions of this section, shall be a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day such association transacts business after such bond has become due under the provisions of this act, said bond or policy shall be held in trust for the benefit and protection of the members of such association, and shall be enforceable by any member whenever cause of action shall accrue thereon.

SEC. 13. This act shall take effect and be in force after its passage, provided that any association heretofore incorporated under the laws of this state, and subject to section 1 of this act, not having at the time this act takes effect, securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand (25,000) dollars, may have until October 1st, 1891, in which to make a deposit of said sum, as provided in section 1 of this act. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 95.

SECTION 1. * * * sections 1992 to 2003 [general provisions relating to foreign corporations] of Milliken and Vertrees' compilation of the laws of Tennessee, be so amended as to apply to corporations chartered under the laws of other states known as "building and loan associations," * * *

ACTS OF 1893.

SECTION 1. Building and loan associations authorized and permitted to be incorporated under the provisions of chapter 142 of the acts of 1875 [sections 1742 to 1757, inclusive, Code of 1884], and chapter 267 of the acts of 1889, may be invested with the following powers, and subject to the following duties and restrictions, viz.: Said association may issue stock in different series, provided the par value of the shares shall not exceed two hundred dollars, and provided no person shall own more than one hundred shares of stock of the par value of two hundred dollars. Said association may issue instalment stock, to be paid for in periodical sums, and prepaid and paid-up stock, upon which a gross sum shall be paid in advance in cash, as may be prescribed by the bylaws, and cash dividends may be paid on the said stock, authorized to be issued, out of the net earnings, as the bylaws may prescribe, provided such dividends shall not exceed the per cent of profits earned. Every share of stock shall be liable for and subject to a lien, for the satisfaction of any unpaid instalments and other proper charges, such as fines, premiums, and interest on loans. Any stockholder whose stock is not pledged for a loan, shall be entitled to withdraw upon such conditions as may be prescribed in the bylaws, upon thirty days' written notice. The board of directors shall have the power to loan the funds of the association to its stockholders, either in open meeting or by action on written application and bids at a rate of interest not in conflict with the laws of the state, and the premium may be payable in instalments or otherwise. The board of directors shall have the right, for sufficient reason, to reject any bid or application, but such action shall not be arbitrary. The board of directors shall have the power, should they elect to do so, to establish or maintain by its officers or agents branch offices for the conduct of its business at as many places as may be desired.

SEC. 2. This act shall not apply to any existing building or loan association or associations organized under chapter 142, acts of 1875 [sections 1742 to 1757, inclusive, Code of 1884], or chapter 267, acts of 1889; Provided, however, that any association heretofore incorporated and organized under chapter 142 of the acts of 1875 [sections 1742 to 1757, inclusive, Code of 1884], or chapter 267 of the acts of 1889, may avail themselves of the benefits of this act, and obtain the powers herein granted in the manner and form prescribed in section 19 of chapter 163 of the acts of 1883, brought into Milliken & Vertrees' compilation of the laws of Tennessee by section 1695 [providing for amendments and change of name].

SECTION 2. Said expert or agent [provided for in section 11, chapter 2, acts of 1891] shall be allowed a fee of twenty-five dollars for examining each association, and three dollars per day as travelling and other expenses, which said associations are hereby required to pay.

SEC. 3. Any and all parties violating any of the requirements of this act, are hereby declared guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of twenty-five dollars per day for each day's violation thereof, and the treasurer of the state may maintain action in his name for the recovery of said fine.

TEXAS.

The laws of this state contain no general legislation relating especially to building and loan associations.

LAWS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 12.

SECTION 1. Whenever any number of persons not less than five, residents of the territory, may desire to become incorporated as a mutual building, loan and homestead association, for the purpose of loaning money to the members thereof only, and for building and improving homesteads, they shall make a statement to that effect, under their hands and seal, duly acknowledged before some officer in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds, such statement shall set forth the name of the proposed corporation, its capital stock, its location, and the duration of the corporation, which statement shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the probate court of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation is located. The clerk of said court shall thereupon issue to such persons a license as commissioners to open books for subscription to the capital stock of said corporation at such time and place as they may determine, but no license shall be issued to two associations having the same name.

SEC. 2. As soon as fifty shares or more of the capital stock shall be subscribed, the commissioners may convene a meeting of the subscribers for the purpose of electing directors, officers, adopting a charter and bylaws and the transaction of such other business as shall come before them. Notice shall be given by depositing in the post office, properly addressed to each subscriber, at least ten days before the time fixed a written or printed notice, stating the objects, time and place of such meeting. The number of directors and the number and kind of officers of corporations organized under this act, with their respective qualifications and term of office and the time and manner of their election, removal and resignation shall be as agreed or stated in the charter and bylaws.

SEC. 3. The commissioners shall make a full report of their proceedings including therein a copy of the notice provided for in the foregoing section; a copy of the subscription list, a copy of the charter and bylaws adopted by the association, and the names of the directors and officers elected, and their respective terms of office, which report shall be sworn to by at least a majority of the commissioners, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the said probate court, said clerk shall thereupon issue a certificate of the complete organization of the corporation, making a part thereof a copy of all papers filed in his office in and about the organization of the corporation, including a copy of the license issued as provided for in section 1 of this act, and duly authenticated under his hand and seal of said court, which certificate and papers shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the territory, who shall thereupon issue to said association a certificate of incorporation under the great seal of the territory in the manner and form prescribed in section 14 of this act which certificate of incorporation shall be evidence of the due incorporation of the association. Upon the issuance of such certificate of incorporation, the corporation shall be deemed fully organized and may proceed to business, and unless such company shall be organized and proceed to business as provided in this act within two years after the date of such license, the license and all proceedings thereunder shall be void.

SEC. 4. Corporations formed under this act shall be bodies corporate for the period of not less than ten, nor more than fifty years, may sue and be sued; may have a common seal which they may alter or renew at pleasure.

SEC. 5. The corporate powers shall be exercised by a board of directors elected by and from the stockholders at their annual meeting who shall qualify as required by section 2270 of the Compiled Laws of Utah 1888. Provided, the number of directors shall not be increased or diminished, nor the term of office changed, without the consent of the owners of two-thirds of the shares of stock. The officers of the company shall consist of a president, a vice-president, a treasurer, and a secretary, who shall be elected by the stockholders at such annual meeting from the members of such board and as provided in the charter or bylaws of the association. Provided; further that the secretary only shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by the board of directors, And provided, further that the treasurer and secretary shall give bonds, with at least two sufficient sureties to be approved by the board of directors, which shall be filed with the clerk of said court.

SEC. 6. The shares of stock shall be one hundred dollars each, and shall be deemed personal property transferable upon the books of the company in such manner as may be provided by the bylaws, and subscriptions therefor shall be made payable to the corporation and shall be payable in such periodical instalments, and at such time or times as shall be determined by the charter and bylaws; but no periodical payment to be made exceeding two dollars on each share; and every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the payment of unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon under the provisions of the charter and bylaws and the bylaws may prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. New shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited and the stock may be issued in one or in several successive series as may be provided in the charter and bylaws, and in such amount (not to exceed the total capital stock) as the board of directors may determine, and any stockholder wishing to withdraw from the said corporation, shall have power to do so by giving thirty day's notice of his intention to withdraw, when he shall be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him, and such interest thereon or such proportion of the profits thereon as the bylaws may determine, less all fines and other charges. Provided; that at no time shall more than one-half of the funds of the treasury of the corporation be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders without the consent of the board of directors, and that no stockholder shall be entitled to withdraw whose stock is held by the association in pledge for security. Upon the death of a stockholder, his legal representative shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him on all shares not borrowed upon or pledged to the association as collateral security and legal to its stockholders, and award or lend to any member or stockholder the value of any shares held by him, less such premium or bonus, and the mode of making the disposal, loan or award shall be fixed by the bylaws, and to charge and receive said premium in advance or in instalments, or in default of application for said money by stockholders it shall be lawful for such companies or associations to lend the same to other persons on such terms as may be agreed upon and in such manner as may be fixed by the bylaws.

SEC. 3. Every association may levy, assess and collect from its stockholders dues or payments upon every share of its stock, the amount, time and manner of payment of the same to be fixed by the bylaws, and the said stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws shall direct; and may levy, assess and collect from members to whom loans have been made interest upon the par value of the shares redeemed; and may levy, assess and collect fines for the non-payment of dues or for failure to comply with or perform any other obligation or duty to the association. The amount of the respective fines shall be fixed by the bylaws, and they shall be imposed under regulations to be made by the bylaws.

SEC. 4. A borrower from such associations may repay the loan at any time; but in case of the repayment thereof before the maturity of the loan the borrower shall pay such an amount for the privilege as may have been agreed upon or is provided for in the bylaws; and there shall be refunded to such borrower, in case the premium shall have been deducted in advance, such proportion of the premium bid as the bylaws may determine. Stockholders withdrawing voluntarily shall receive such proportion of the profits of the association or such rate of interest as may be prescribed by the bylaws.

SEC. 5. Every such association shall adopt bylaws for its government and the management of its business not inconsistent with this act.

SECTION 1. No building and loan association or company shall be allowed to conduct any business or solicit the sale of stock or offer to lend money in this state without having first obtained a license therefor by payment of the tax herein specified, nor shall any person act as an agent for such company, incorporated in this or any other state, unless the company he represents has obtained a license in accordance with this act.

SEC. 2. The specific license tax upon every such company or association for the privilege of doing any business in this state shall be fifty dollars, provided the capital of such company actually paid in, whether from paid-up stock or partially paid stock, is not less than twenty-five thousand dollars; if the capital paid in is twenty-five thousand dollars and not more than fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be seventy-five dollars; if the capital paid in is not less than fifty thousand dollars nor more than one hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be one hundred dollars; if the capital paid in is not less than one hundred thousand dollars nor more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be one hundred and twenty-five dollars; if the capital paid in is not less than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars nor more than two hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be one hundred and fifty dollars; if the capital paid in is not less than two hundred thousand dollars nor more than three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be one hundred and seventy-five dollars; if the capital paid in is four hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be two hundred and fifty dollars, but on capital exceeding four hundred thousand dollars the tax shall be fifty dollars for each additional one hundred thousand dollars thereof: And provided that as to any non-resident building company or association doing business in this state, and which has otherwise complied with the laws of Virginia, shall pay the license tax under this act upon the capital invested by such company in this state. It shall be the duty of each asso-elation on the first day of April of each year, or within ten days thereafter, to make a report in writing, under oath of its chief accounting officer or agent, to the commissioner of revenue for the district in which the principal office or agency is situated, of the amount of the capital of said association as provided in this act. Any association or agent doing business in this state without having first obtained a license therefor shall pay a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars. The shares of any building fund company which has been assessed with and has paid the specific tax provided for in this bill shall not be taxable in the hands of the holder, nor shall any additional tax be imposed upon the capital of the said companies. And it is provided that no city or corporation shall impose a greater tax than is provided by this bill, which tax can only be levied where the principal office of the company is located: it is further provided that upon any company doing business on a purely mutual plan and whose business is confined solely to the city or county where organized the tax shall be fifty dollars.

WASHINGTON.

HILL'S ANNOTATED STATUTES AND CODES OF 1891.

VOLUME I.—GENERAL STATUTES.

SECTION 1599. Whenever any member [number] of persons not less than ten desire to be incorporated as a building and loan association for the purpose of accumulating the savings and funds of its members and lending them only the funds so accumulated, they shall make and execute a written declaration to that effect in the form now provided by statute for the execution of deeds of real estate, to entitle the same to record. Said declaration shall state the name of such association, its principal place of business, which shall be within this state, the limit of capital to be accumulated, the time of its duration, the names and places of residence of such persons, and that it is organized under this chapter for the purpose herein expressed. When so executed said declaration shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, whereupon such officer shall issue a copy of such declaration under his certificate, in proper form, setting forth the time and place of filing and recording thereof in his office, which declaration and certificate shall thereupon be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where such association is located, and published once in a daily or weekly newspaper, printed and published and of general circulation in said county. Upon complying with the foregoing requirement, and upon filing an affidavit of proof of such publication in the office of the secretary of state, the persons executing such declaration, their associates and successors, shall become a corporate body.

SEC. 1600. The name shall not be the same as, nor too closely resemble that in use by any existing corporation established under the laws of this state. The words "building and loan association," or "savings and loan association," shall form a part of the name, and no corporation not organized under this chapter shall be entitled to use a name embodying either [of] said combination[s] of words; Provided, that associations now existing may continue their present names.

SEC. 1601. Each association shall adopt bylaws for its government, and therein describe the manner in which its business shall be transacted, which bylaws shall be in conformity with the provisions of this chapter and the laws of this state, and at all times be open to the inspection of the state auditor, and the members of the association at its home office. All bylaws shall be subject to the approval of the state auditor before going into effect, and every corporation heretofore organized and brought under the provisions of this chapter shall, within sixty days from the passage hereof, present its bylaws to said auditor for approval, and in case any provision in such bylaws shall be contrary to the provisions of this chapter or to the laws of this state, or be detrimental to the interests of the members of such organization, or against public policy, he may, under the advice and consent of the attorney general, require the same to be stricken out.

SEC. 1602. For every loan made, a note non-negotiable or bond secured by first mortgage on real estate shall be given, which security shall be double the value of the loan, and satisfactory to the directors, and shall be accompanied by a transfer and pledge of the shares of the borrowers to the association. The shares so pledged shall be held by the corporation as collateral security for the performance of the conditions of said note or bond and mortgage; Provided, that the shares, without other security, may, in the discretion of the directors, be accepted as security for the loans for an amount not exceeding their withdrawal value as provided by this chapter.

SEC. 1603. Any such association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or in which it may have any interest, and may sell, convey, lease, or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons, but shall not otherwise acquire or deal in real estate; Provided, that any such association may acquire any leasehold interest necessary for the transaction of its business.

SEC. 1604. Every building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, and governed by this chapter, shall deposit and keep with the state auditor, or with a duly chartered trust company of this state, approved by the state auditor, in trust for all its members and creditors, all mortgage or other securities received by it in the usual course of business. When deposited with a trust company, such company shall certify to the state auditor the possession of such securities, and the same shall not be surrendered without the authority or sanction of the state auditor; Provided, that every such corporation heretofore organized not having or owning mortgage or other securities to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars shall deposit with the state auditor additional securities, to make, with the securities so owned and deposited, equal in value to said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and every such corporation hereafter organized under this chapter shall deposit and keep with the state auditor, in trust, as aforesaid, securities of the value of twenty-five thousand dollars before commencing to do business. The securities mentioned in this proviso shall consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States or national bank stocks, or bonds of this state, or any other state of the United States, or of any solvent city, county, or town of this state, or any other state of the United States, having a legal authority to issue the same, and such securities may be withdrawn, from time to time, when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited, as provided in this chapter, or when other securities of like character are substituted therefor; and it shall be the duty of the state auditor, from time to time, to examine said associations, to ascertain whether all its securities are deposited, as required by this chapter; Provided, that whenever required by laws of any other state, territory, or nation, all securities taken in such state by any association organized under the laws of this state, and subject to the provisions of this chapter, may be deposited with some officer authorized to receive the same in such state under the laws thereof, for the benefit of its members and creditors; but in every such case a certificate of such deposit, showing the amount and character of such deposit, shall be filed with the auditor of this state, and renewed annually, together with a statement, verified by the affidavit of some officer of such association who has knowledge of the facts, showing all of the securities taken by such association in such state at the time of the filing of such certificate; and in case any securities taken in any such state are not deposited there, then the same shall be deposited here, as required by this chapter.

SEC. 1605. All interest, and dividends, and premiums, which may accrue on securities held by the state auditor, or such trust company as provided for herein, and all dues or monthly payments which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are so deposited in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent, and faithfully performs all contracts with its members, and when any mortgage shall have been fully paid to said corporation, the same may be surrendered by said state auditor, or under his order, upon filing with him a certificate of the auditor of the county where the real estate is situated, to the effect that the satisfaction of such mortgage has been filed for record, or in case no mortgage was taken, then the affidavit of the secretary or treasurer of said corporation showing judgment. Any mortgage upon which default has been made may be surrendered as aforesaid, upon filing with the state auditor an affidavit sworn to by the president and secretary of the association owning the same, stating that such mortgage is in default, and that it is withdrawn for the purpose of foreclosure.

SEC. 1606. No building or loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or nation shall do business in this state unless such association shall have securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars, and of the character mentioned in this chapter, on deposit in trust for all its members and creditors with some responsible trust company, duly incorporated under the laws of such state or territory in the United States, or with some authorized officer of this or some other state of the United States; Provided, that foreign companies now doing business in this state shall have until August first, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety, to deposit the last one-half of the required one hundred thousand dollars. Certificate of such deposit shall be made to the auditor of this state, certifying the possession of such securities, which shall not thereafter be surrendered without the authority or consent of the auditor or other authorized officer of the state or territory in which said company is incorporated; And provided further, that all such foreign companies shall make a deposit of their mortgages and other securities taken in this state, in the same manner and amount, and for the same purpose, as provided for home companies in section sixteen hundred and four of this volume of general statutes.

SEC. 1607. Every building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or nation shall, before commencing to do business in this state,—

1. File with the state auditor of this state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation;

2. File with the state auditor of this state the certificate of the authorized officer of another state showing that securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars are on deposit with such state officer or duly incorporated trust company, in trust for all the members and creditors of such building and loan association;

3. File with the auditor of this state a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association, stipulating and agreeing that if any legal process affecting such association be served on such examiner, and a copy thereof be mailed, postage prepaid, by the party procuring the issue of the same, or his attorney, to said association, addressed to its home office, then such service and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association in this state, and also an agreement that said association will not remove any action commenced in any state court of this state against the same to the United States court, and will pay every judgment that may be taken against it upon any such action within sixty days after the final judgment shall have been entered;

4. Pay to the state auditor twenty-five dollars as fees for filing the papers mentioned in this section.

SEC. 1608. When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the state auditor, the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the state auditor, and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid, to the home office of said association.

SEC. 1609. The word "process," in this chapter, shall include any writ, declaration, summons, or order whereby any action, writ, or proceedings shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit, or proceeding authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 1610. Services of process, according to a stipulation provided in section sixteen hundred and seven of this volume of general statutes, shall be sufficient personal service on the association filing such stipulation.

SEC. 1611. When, by the laws of any other state, territory, or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory, or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions, of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other state, territory, or nation doing business in this state, and upon their agents here.

SEC. 1612. Any building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state or territory that shall remove any action that shall be commenced against it in a court of this state to the United States court, or that shall fail to pay any judgment rendered against it upon a suit in any court of the state within sixty days after the rendering of final judgment in such case, or that shall fail to make yearly statements to the state auditor, as hereafter mentioned, or statements of the amount and value of its stock held in this state, as hereafter required, or to pay the fees of the state auditor as provided in this chapter, or to do any other act required in this chapter to be done and performed, shall, upon failure or violation of the provisions of this chapter, have no right or authority to do or transact any further business within the limits of this state, and the state auditor shall thereupon cause notice of the termination of such authority to do business to be mailed to such corporation and to be published in some newspaper of general circulation at the capital of the state, and shall communicate the facts to the attorney general of this state, who shall institute such proceedings in the matter as the case may require; Provided, any such corporation may be again authorized to commence business in this state upon such terms as the state auditor may deem just and proper, and upon full compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 1613. All building and loan associations hereafter incorporated in this state shall have an authorized capital of two million dollars at the time of the incorporation.

SEC. 1614. Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state may at any time increase the amount of its capital stock, or amend its articles of incorporation in any other respect, by a vote of at least three-fourths of its board of directors; Provided, that no such increase shall be made unless three-fourths of the capital stock previously authorized has actually been issued, and the amount of increase made at any one time shall not exceed the amount issued previous to the time of such increase.

SEC. 1615. Whenever any building and loan association increases its capital stock, or otherwise amends its articles of incorporation, as provided in this chapter, a copy of the resolutions of the board of directors making such increase or other amendment, duly verified by oath of the president and secretary of such association, shall be filed in the office of the auditor of the county in which the home office of said association is located, and in the office of the secretary of state, and be published four successive times in the same daily or weekly newspaper published at the capital of the state, or in the county where the association has its home office. Proof of such publication shall be filed in [the] office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 1616. On or before the first day of September in each year every building and loan association doing business in this state shall deposit with the state auditor a report of its affairs and operations for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding. Such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary, or by three directors of the association, and shall contain answers to the following questions:—

1. The amount of authorized capital, and the par value of each share of stock;
2. The number of shares sold during the year;
3. The number of shares cancelled and withdrawn during the year;
4. Number of shares in force at the end of the year;
5. A detailed statement of receipts and disbursements during the year;
6. A detailed statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year, and shall pay to the state auditor a fee of twenty-five dollars on filing such report. If any such association shall fail to furnish to the auditor of the state any report required by this chapter, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld; and the auditor may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the expenses of the department of said auditor. After receiving such report, the auditor, if satisfied that such corporation has complied with all the provisions of this chapter, and is entitled to do business in this state, he shall issue his certificate stating the compliance with such provisions, and that [such] corporation is entitled to do business in this state, which certificate shall be in force for the period of one year, unless sooner rescinded, as provided in this chapter. Such certificate shall also be issued to any foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state after complying with the conditions of section sixteen hundred and seven of this volume of general statutes, and shall be in force until the time herein required for such annual report.

SEC. 1617. It shall be the duty of such state auditor, at least once in each year, and as often as he may deem necessary, to assume and exercise over every building association incorporated under the laws of this state, its business, officers, directors, and employes, all the power and authority conferred upon him over banks and other moneyed corporations under the laws of this state; Provided, he shall not have the power to suspend the operation of any association, except in the manner provided in the next succeeding section.

SEC. 1618. If it shall appear to the said state auditor, from any examination made by him, or from any report of any examination made by him, or from the annual report aforesaid, that said corporation is violating its charter or the law, or that it is conducting business in any unsafe, unauthorized, or dishonest manner, he shall, by an order under his hand and seal of office, addressed to such corporation, direct conformity with the requirements of its charter and of the law; and whenever such corporation shall refuse or neglect to make such report or account as may be lawfully required, or to comply with such order as aforesaid, or whenever it shall appear to the said auditor that it is unsafe or inexpedient for any such corporation to continue to transact business, he shall communicate the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon be authorized to institute such proceedings against any such corporations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law in the case of insolvent corporations, or such other proceedings as the occasion may require. And if such corporation shall have been organized under the laws of any other state or territory, the said attorney general shall, upon receiving such communication, if in his judgment the facts in the case are sufficient to warrant such action, give notice to such corporation that it is no longer authorized to do business in this state, by depositing such notice in the post office, properly sealed and stamped, addressed to the said corporation at its principal office in the state where incorporated, and thereupon said corporation shall cease to have any right in this state, and said notice may be published in the manner as provided in section sixteen hundred and twelve of this volume of general statutes.

SEC. 1619. All officers of any building and loan association governed by this chapter and doing business in this state, who sign or indorse checks, or handle any of the funds of such association, shall give bonds or fidelity insurance for the faith-tion, summons, or order whereby any action, writ, or proceedings shall be commenced, or which shall be issued in or upon any action, suit, or proceeding authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 1610. Services of process, according to a stipulation provided in section six hundred and seven of this volume of general statutes, shall be sufficient personal service on the association filing such stipulation.

SEC. 1611. When, by the laws of any other state, territory, or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on building and loan associations of this state, doing business in such other state, territory, or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions, of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other state, territory, or nation doing business in this state, and upon their agents here.

SEC. 1612. Any building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state or territory that shall remove any action that shall be commenced against it in a court of this state to the United States court, or that shall fail to pay any judgment rendered against it upon a suit in any court of the state within sixty days after the rendering of final judgment in such case, or that shall fail to make yearly statements to the state auditor, as hereafter mentioned, or statements of the amount and value of its stock held in this state, as hereafter required, or to pay the fees of the state auditor as provided in this chapter, or to do any other act required in this chapter to be done and performed, shall, upon failure or violation of the provisions of this chapter, have no right or authority to do or transact any further business within the limits of this state, and the state auditor shall thereupon cause notice of the termination of such authority to do business to be mailed to such corporation and to be published in some newspaper of general circulation at the capital of the state, and shall communicate the facts to the attorney general of this state, who shall institute such proceedings in the matter as the case may require; Provided, any such corporation may be again authorized to commence business in this state upon such terms as the state auditor may deem just and proper, and upon full compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 1613. All building and loan associations hereafter incorporated in this state shall have an authorized capital of two million dollars at the time of the incorporation.

SEC. 1614. Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state may at any time increase the amount of its capital stock, or amend its articles of incorporation in any other respect, by a vote of at least three-fourths of its board of directors; Provided, that no such increase shall be made unless three-fourths of the capital stock previously authorized has actually been issued, and the amount of increase made at any one time shall not exceed the amount issued previous to the time of such increase.

SEC. 1615. Whenever any building and loan association increases its capital stock, or otherwise amends its articles of incorporation, as provided in this chapter, a copy of the resolutions of the board of directors making such increase or other amendment, duly verified by oath of the president and secretary of such association, shall be filed in the office of the auditor of the county in which the home office of said association is located, and in the office of the secretary of state, and be published four successive times in the same daily or weekly newspaper published at the capital of the state, or in the county where the association has its home office. Proof of such publication shall be filed in [the] office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 1616. On or before the first day of September in each year every building and loan association doing business in this state shall deposit with the state auditor a report of its affairs and operations for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding. Such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary, or by three directors of the association, and shall contain answers to the following questions:—

1. The amount of authorized capital, and the par value of each share of stock;
2. The number of shares sold during the year;
3. The number of shares cancelled and withdrawn during the year;
4. Number of shares in force at the end of the year;
5. A detailed statement of receipts and disbursements during the year;
6. A detailed statement of the assets and liabilities at the end of the year, and shall pay to the state auditor a fee of twenty-five dollars on filing such report. If any such association shall fail to furnish to the auditor of the state any report required by this chapter, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld; and the auditor may maintain an action in his name of office to recover such penalty, and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state and applied to the expenses of the department of said auditor. After receiving such report, the auditor, if satisfied that such corporation has complied with all the provisions of this chapter, and is entitled to do business in this state, he shall issue his certificate stating the compliance with such provisions, and that [such] corporation is entitled to do business in this state, which certificate shall be in force for the period of one year, unless sooner rescinded, as provided in this chapter. Such certificate shall also be issued to any foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state after complying with the conditions of section sixteen hundred and seven of this volume of general statutes, and shall be in force until the time herein required for such annual report.

SEC. 1617. It shall be the duty of such state auditor, at least once in each year, and as often as he may deem necessary, to assume and exercise over every building association incorporated under the laws of this state, its business, officers, directors, and employes, all the power and authority conferred upon him over banks and other moneyed corporations under the laws of this state; Provided, he shall not have the power to suspend the operation of any association, except in the manner provided in the next succeeding section.

SEC. 1618. If it shall appear to the said state auditor, from any examination made by him, or from any report of any examination made by him, or from the annual report aforesaid, that said corporation is violating its charter or the law, or that it is conducting business in any unsafe, unauthorized, or dishonest manner, he shall, by an order under his hand and seal of office, addressed to such corporation, direct conformity with the requirements of its charter and of the law; and whenever such corporation shall refuse or neglect to make such report or account as may be lawfully required, or to comply with such order as aforesaid, or whenever it shall appear to the said auditor that it is unsafe or inexpedient for any such corporation to continue to transact business, he shall communicate the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon be authorized to institute such proceedings against any such corporations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law in the case of insolvent corporations, or such other proceedings as the occasion may require. And if such corporation shall have been organized under the laws of any other state or territory, the said attorney general shall, upon receiving such communication, if in his judgment the facts in the case are sufficient to warrant such action, give notice to such corporation that it is no longer authorized to do business in this state, by depositing such notice in the post office, properly sealed and stamped, addressed to the said corporation at its principal office in the state where incorporated, and thereupon said corporation shall cease to have any right in this state, and said notice may be published in the manner as provided in section sixteen hundred and twelve of this volume of general statutes.

SEC. 1619. All officers of any building and loan association governed by this chapter and doing business in this state, who sign or indorse checks, or handle any of the funds of such association, shall give bonds or fidelity insurance for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors may require, and no such officer shall be deemed qualified to enter upon the duties of his office until his bond is approved by the board of directors and the state auditor, with whom such bonds shall be filed; Provided, that the state auditor may require of any association, at any time, such increase of said bond or additional sureties thereto, or such increase of said insurance, as he may deem necessary for the protection of the members. The penalty for a failure of any association to file and maintain the bonds and policy as required by the provisions of this section shall be a fine of one hundred dollars for each day such association transacts business after such bonds have become due under the provisions of this chapter. Said bonds or policy shall be held in trust for the benefit and protection of the members of such association, and shall be enforceable by any member whenever cause of action shall accrue thereon.

SEC. 1620. The name "building and loan association," as used in this chapter, shall include all corporations, societies, organizations, and associations doing a saving and loan or investment business on the building society plan, whether neutral or otherwise, and whether issuing certificates of stock which mature at a time fixed in advance or not.

SEC. 1621. Any officer, director, or agent, or [of] any foreign building and loan association, or any other person whomsoever who shall, in this state, solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or who shall sell or issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to a resident of this state any stock of such association while such association shall not have had the certificate of the state auditor authorizing it to do business in this state, as herein prescribed, or has not deposited, as required by this chapter, securities of the value and at the times herein prescribed, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this chapter, or when said association shall have been notified and required to discontinue business in this state, as hereinbefore provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than ten days nor more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 1622. Any officer, director, or agent of any building and loan association incorporated under the laws of this state, or any other person whatever, who shall sell or issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to any person not a resident of the county in which the home office of said association is located, or in the counties immediately adjacent thereto, any stock of said association while said association does not have on deposit with the state auditor, as required by this chapter, securities of the value and at the time herein prescribed, or while such association shall not have the certificate of the public examiner, authorizing it to do business as herein prescribed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than ten days nor more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 1623. Any premiums taken for loans made by any association governed by this chapter shall not be considered or treated as interest, nor render such association amenable to the laws relating to usury.

SEC. 1624. Every such association heretofore organized under the laws of this state, or incorporated under this chapter, is hereby prohibited from hereafter creating or issuing any preferred or non-contributing stock; but this section shall not prevent the issue of different series of stock.

SEC. 1625. Any shareholder whose stock has not been declared forfeited in such association, and whose share or shares are not pledged upon a loan, may withdraw such share or shares from the association at any time after one year, by giving at least sixty days' notice in writing to the secretary of his intention to do so. Upon receipt of such notice, the same may be considered a withdrawal by such person, and the association may, within sixty days, dispose of said stock, and the members shall assign them for that purpose. At the end of said sixty days the association shall pay to the members so surrendering as follows: If said stock is more than two years old, all amounts paid in by such members upon such stock, except the sums paid as membership fees and fines, and the amount set apart upon such shares by said association as an expense fund, which expense fund, however, shall not exceed the amount fixed in this chapter; if said stock is more than two years old, the member, upon such surrender, shall receive, in addition to the amount above specified, at least three-fourths of all profits standing to the credit of such shares; Provided, that not more than one-half of the monthly instalments received by such association for any month shall be used to pay withdrawals without consent of the board of directors.

SEC. 1626. Whenever any such association shall declare any of its stock forfeited for non-compliance of the holder with any of its laws or regulations, the said stock shall, if one year old, be sold by said association at a monthly meeting thereof to the highest bidder, and it is made the duty of such association, at any such sale, to bid in the stock so offered at its then withdrawal value, and thereupon said stock shall be cancelled; but, if a higher bid is received, the person making the highest bid shall have such stock assigned to him, and upon such sale, said association shall pay to the member so forfeiting his stock the withdrawal value thereof as fixed in the next preceding section of this chapter, less all fines and arrearages against him.

SEC. 1627. Upon the death of a stockholder in any such association, except in cases where the stock matures at a fixed and definite time as aforesaid, his heirs or personal representatives shall, upon giving sixty days' notice to the association, receive from such association the then withdrawal value of his shares, agreeable to the provisions of section sixteen hundred and twenty-five of this volume of general statutes.

SEC. 1628. Every such association shall provide in its bylaws in what manner applications and bids for loans shall be received and who shall be entitled to loans thereunder; such bids shall be opened at stated times, and all the money in the loan funds shall be loaned upon such bids; Providing, that the securities shall be in the amount and of character stated in this chapter, and the amount bid shall not be less than the rate for any legal indebtedness under the laws of this state, the object of this section being to prevent such association from retaining in its loan fund any moneys actually bid for, for the purpose of securing better bids or inducing the bidders to raise their bids, and to compel said association to loan their funds to the highest and best bidders therefor; Provided, that the provisions of this section relating to bidding for loans shall not apply to associations which fix the rate of interest and premium annually, by resolution of the board of directors, at a rate which will keep the money of such association at all times safely invested, and in which the system of bidding is not allowed.

SEC. 1629. No association governed by this chapter shall set apart as an expense fund, exclusive of admission fees, to exceed one dollar per year upon each share of its stock, or assess any fines for non-payment of monthly instalments, or otherwise, in excess of ten cents per share for the first month that the same shall be in arrears, and fifteen cents per share per month for every month thereafter.

SEC. 1630. Not more than three of the officers of any such association incorporated under the laws of this state shall be members of the board of directors of such association; Provided, that no change shall be required under this section until the next annual meeting of such association.

SEC. 1631. All corporations organized in this state and doing business in this or any other state, as building and loan associations, shall comply with and be subject to all the provisions of this act within sixty days after its passage, and shall be entitled to all its privileges and benefits thereof without reincorporating; Provided, that all such companies or associations, organized in the state prior to the passage of the act of which this act is amendatory, shall only be required to deposit all their securities in the manner provided by the act of which this act is amendatory, but shall not be required to deposit any other or further securities than are provided by this section as hereby amended.

SEC. 1632. This chapter shall not apply to any association organized under the laws of this state which confines its loaning and business operations wholly to its county and the [counties] adjacent and adjoining thereto; Provided, that any such association heretofore incorporated which desires to hereafter confine its business to adjacent counties, as aforesaid, may file with the state auditor a statement to that effect, and also containing the names of those holding, and the amount held by them, of the stock of said association outside such counties, and so long as such association thereafter confines its sales of stock within the limits aforesaid, it shall not be subject to the provision[s] hereof, and any sales of stock outside the limits of said counties made after filing all such statement[s] by any officers, director, or agent of any such association, shall subject such person to all the penalties prescribed in section sixteen hundred and twenty-two of this volume of general statutes; Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed [as] to prevent the bona fide sale or transfer of the individual stock of any member of such association.

SEC. 1633. Every such association shall be assessed for and pay taxes upon its office furniture and fixtures and all real estate acquired in the course of its business, and every stockholder in such association shall be assessed and pay taxes upon the share[s] held by him therein, the value of which said shares for the purpose of taxation shall be fixed at the withdrawal value thereof, as provided in section sixteen hundred and twenty-five of this volume of general statutes, except in case of such associations the stock of which heretofore or hereafter issued shall mature at a fixed time, and the value of the shares in any such association of all stocks so issued as aforesaid for the purpose of taxation shall be fixed upon the basis of the aggregate amount paid in by a member, together with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, computed on annual risks.

SEC. 1634. It shall be the duty of the secretary of every such association incorporated under the laws of this state to make out and transmit to the auditor of every county in this state in which said association shall have shareholders, on the first day of May in each year, a statement containing the names of every person holding stock in such association in such county, and the amount and value of the respective shares of such stock at such date, upon the basis of its value as fixed in this chapter, and any failure to comply with the provisions of this section by any such association shall be deemed sufficient cause for proceedings under this chapter for forfeiture of the charter of the association so offending. The books and papers of every such association shall also be open at all convenient times for inspection by any assessor desiring to make examination thereof for purposes of taxation; Provided, that no report shall be required under this section upon stock pledged as collateral security for a loan, so long as the amount of such loan exceeds the withdrawal value of such stock as fixed in this act, and when it shall exceed such value, then only as to such excess.

SEC. 1635. It shall be the duty of every such association not incorporated under the laws of this state to make and forward to the public examiner, upon the first day of May in each year, a statement containing the names and the withdrawal value of all its stock held and owned by residents of this state, together with the place of residence of every such stockholder, except those having loans as provided in the foregoing section, and it shall be the duty of the said state auditor to make out and forward to the county auditor of the proper counties a statement of the stock held by them; and it shall be the duty of the said county auditor, upon receiving the statements provided for in this and the foregoing sections, to furnish the assessors of each township in his county having such stockholders with the names of such stockholders, and the value of their stock, as given in such statements, for the purpose of assessment.

SEC. 1636. The state auditor shall receive and retain all the fees mentioned in this chapter, and the same shall be in lieu of any allowance of clerk hire made necessary by the extra labor required by the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 1637. At least thirty days prior to any annual or special meeting of any such association, a notice, stating the time and place of such meetings, shall be deposited in the post office at the headquarters of such association, directed to each member at his address as the same appears at the time on the books of the association; and when so deposited, postage prepaid, shall be deemed a legal and sufficient notice of any such meeting; and there shall be attached to and accompany such notice any proposed amendment or amendments to the articles of association, or bylaws of such association, and a statement of any officers to be elected at such meeting, any member of such association entitled to vote in person or by proxy.

WEST VIRGINIA.

CODE OF 1891, THIRD EDITION.

CHAPTER 54.

SECTION 2. Such companies [joint stock companies] may be incorporated for the following purposes: * * * 3. For establishing * * * building and loan associations, and transacting the business properly pertaining thereto. * * *

SEC. 25. Any number of persons, not less than nine, may form a building and loan association for the purpose of encouraging industry, frugality and home building, and saving among its members. Building and loan associations formed under this chapter shall have the right and power of loaning to its stockholders thereof, the moneys accumulated from time to time, as well as the right and power to purchase land or erect houses, and to sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at their pleasure to their stockholders, or others for the benefit of their stockholders. Such associations may acquire, hold, convey and encumber all such property, real and personal, as may be taken as security, or may be otherwise transferred to it in the due course of its business, and may secure the payment of loans and the performance of the other conditions upon which loans are to be made, or the payment of the purchase money for any property sold, by taking personal security, or by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real or personal property, or by a transfer or pledge of its stock.

SEC. 26. Every such association shall have the power to provide by its bylaws for selling to the stockholders, who shall bid the highest premium therefor, the money in the treasury, or in default of bidders at or above a minimum premium, may award to a member the value of any shares held by him less such minimum premium; the minimum premium, and the mode of making the award to be fixed by the bylaws. Or such association may charge and receive the premium bid by a stockholder for the priority of rights to such loans, in periodical instalments; but the bylaws of every association shall set forth whether the premium bid for the prior right to a loan shall be deducted therefrom in advance, or be paid in periodical instalments. But whether the premium be deducted from the loan, or paid in periodical instalments, the transaction shall not be deemed usurious, although any and all the dues, fines, premium and interest, shall exceed the legal rate of interest on the amount of money received by the stockholders.

SEC. 27. Every such association may levy, assess and collect from its stockholders, periodical dues upon every share of its stock; the amount of such dues to be fixed by the bylaws; but no periodical payment to exceed two dollars upon each share; and said stock may be paid off and retired as the bylaws shall direct; and may levy, assess and collect from members to whom loans have been made interest upon the par value of the shares so loaned; and may levy, assess and collect fines for the non-payment of periodical dues, or for failure to comply with or perform any other obligation or duty to the association. The amount of the respective fines shall be fixed by the bylaws, and they shall be imposed under regulations to be made by the bylaws; but such fines shall be uniform, and where they are imposed for default in the payment of dues, shall be in proportion to the amount of the dues for the failure to pay which they are imposed; but no member shall be fined more than once for the same default.

SEC. 28. A borrower from such association may repay the loan at any time; and in case of the repayment thereof before the maturity of the shares pledged for said loan, there shall be refunded to such borrower, in case the premium shall have been deducted in advance, such proportions of the premium bid, as the bylaws may determine; but the borrower shall receive the withdrawing value of the shares pledged for said loan, and the shares shall revert back to the association. Stockholders withdrawing voluntarily shall receive such proportions of the profits of the association, or such rate of interest as may be prescribed by the bylaws. In case of default of a borrower to pay dues, interest or premium, for the period of three months, payment of the same, together with the full principal of the loan, may be enforced by proceedings on the securities according to law; and the money so received shall be paid into the treasury of the association; and if the moneys so recovered shall exceed the amount it would have required to repay the loan under the first part of this section, together with all the expenses incurred by the association, such excess shall be paid to such borrower.

SEC. 29. Every such association shall adopt bylaws, which shall embrace all the provisions of the four preceding [preceding] sections, and such further provisions for its government and the management of its business, not inconsistent with these sections, as it may deem proper.

WISCONSIN.

ANNOTATED STATUTES OF 1889.

SECTION 2009. Any five or more persons may form a mutual savings fund, loan or building corporation, in the manner prescribed in chapter 86 [concerning the organization of corporations], and thereupon such corporations shall have all the powers and privileges and be subject to all the liabilities conferred and prescribed by this chapter, and such other powers conferred on corporations by these statutes as are necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes prescribed by its articles of organization.

SEC. 2010. The capital stock of any such corporation, shall not exceed five million dollars in the aggregate, and no single series of stock, shall exceed five hundred thousand dollars, and shall be divided into shares of not less than twenty-five, nor more than two hundred dollars each. If any such corporation, heretofore or hereafter organized, shall have a capital stock less than the sum of five million dollars, it may in the manner prescribed in section 1774, increase its capital stock to any amount, not exceeding the limit heretofore fixed. But the resolution proposing such increase must be offered at the regular meeting, next preceding the meeting at which the same shall be voted upon; payments for such stock shall be made in instalments, not exceeding two dollars each, on each share, at such time and place as the bylaws shall prescribe; and every share of stock shall be subject to a lien for the unpaid instalments and other charges incurred thereon. The bylaws shall prescribe the form and manner of enforcing such lien. The stock may be issued in one or more successive series, in such amount as the board of directors or the stockholders may determine; and new shares of stock may be issued in lieu of shares withdrawn or forfeited. Any stockholder, wishing to withdraw from the corporation may do so by giving thirty days' notice of such intention, and shall then be entitled to receive the amount paid in by him and such proportion of the profits as the bylaws may prescribe, less all fines and other charges due such corporation; but no stockholder, whose stock is held in pledge for security, shall be allowed to withdraw; and at no time shall more than one-half of the funds then in the treasury be applicable to the demands of withdrawing stockholders, without the consent of the board of directors. Upon the death of a stockholder, his legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the full amount paid in by him and legal interest thereon, first deducting all charges that may be due on the stock; but no fines shall be charged to a deceased member's account, after his decease, unless his legal representative shall have assumed the future payments on the stock.

SEC. 2011. The bylaws of every such corporation shall provide for the ratio and manner of voting by its members, and fix the time of holding periodical meetings at which the money in the treasury shall be offered for loan in open meeting, and the stockholder who shall bid the highest premium for the loan shall be entitled to a loan of at least the full amount of a share for each share of stock held by him, but not exceeding the sum then in the treasury and offered for a loan, upon giving good and ample security upon property situate in the county where such corporation is located, or such other ample security as the board of directors may accept, for the repayment of the loan; Provided, that a stockholder may borrow such fractional part of the full amount of a share as the bylaws may prescribe. In case the borrower shall neglect to offer security or shall offer security that is not approved by the board of directors, within the time prescribed by the bylaws, he shall be charged with one month's interest, together with any expense incurred, and the money shall be reloaned at the next periodical meeting. The premium bid by a borrower may be by a certain sum or percentage on the loan, to be deducted in advance from the loan, or may be by certain periodical payments during the existence of such loan, as the bylaws may prescribe. In case of the non-payment of instalments on shares, interest or premium by borrowing stockholders for the space of six months after due, payment of the whole principal and interest, without deduction of any premium paid, or interest thereon, may be enforced by proceedings on their securities according to law.

SEC. 2012. A borrower may repay a loan at any time, and in case of repayment thereof before the expiration of the term for which the loan was made, there shall, in all cases where such premium was deducted from the loan in advance, be refunded to such borrower such proportion of the premium paid as the part of the term unexpired bears to the whole term of the loan; and when a loan is collected by process of law, and the amount collected by the corporation exceeds the amount of the loan taken by the borrower, with the interest and charges, the money shall be reloaned at the next periodical meeting, and the excess recovered beyond the amount required to pay the loan, with interest and charges, shall be returned to the borrower from whom the money was collected, or his legal representatives; but in case the corporation shall have issued its stock in series, such reloan shall be made only to stockholders of the same series, and if the premium received for the reloan shall be greater than that originally given by the defaulting borrower, no part of such excess of premium shall be paid to him. Any defaulting borrower may, at any time after the securities given by him have been collected by such corporation, withdraw his stock upon the same terms prescribed in section two thousand and ten, but the corporation may retain out of the moneys due upon such withdrawal so much as may be requisite to save it from loss in case the amount so collected shall not be sufficient to pay his loan with interest and charges.

SEC. 2013. No premiums, fines or interest on such premiums that may accrue to any such corporation under the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed usurious.

SEC. 2014. Every such corporation may purchase at sheriff's or other judicial sale, or at any other sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have or hold any mortgage, judgment, lien or other incumbrance, or ground rent, or in which it may have any interest, and sell, convey, lease or mortgage, at pleasure, the real estate so purchased, and such real estate owned by such corporation shall be subject to assessment and taxation in the same manner as provided in case of other corporations or individuals, but such mutual corporations shall be exempt from the payment of taxes on their capital stock, instalments paid in, or securities taken for moneys loaned or advanced to their own members pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 2014a, (as amended by chapter 469, laws of 1891). No foreign building and loan association of any kind, and no foreign association or corporation representing itself to be "a building and loan association," or doing business on the building society plan, and no association or corporation organized under the laws of any other state or territory and doing business in the manner provided for "mutual, loan and building corporations," by chapter 93, of the Revised Statutes of this state, or upon any similar instalment plan, shall issue its shares, receive moneys or transact any business in this state unless such association shall have and keep on deposit with the state treasurer of Wisconsin, in trust, for the benefit and security of all its members in this state, one hundred thousand dollars to be held in trust as aforesaid, until all shares of such association, held by residents of this state shall have been fully redeemed and paid off by such association, and until its contracts and obligations to persons and members residing in this state shall have been fully performed and discharged; and upon such deposit the state treasurer shall renew his certificate for such deposit, and thereupon the commissioner of insurance may renew his certificate of authority to said association as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2014b, (as amended by chapter 469, laws of 1891). The amount to be deposited as mentioned in section 1 [2014a], of this act, may consist of bonds or treasury notes of the United States, or national bank stock or bonds of this state or any other state of the United States, or any city, town or county of this state or any other state of the United States having legal authority to issue the same. All dividends and interest which may accrue on securities held by the state treasurer as provided for herein, and all dues or monthly payments which become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, the mortgages for which are on deposit with the state treasurer, in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all contracts with its members. Any securities on deposit as provided herein, may from time to time be withdrawn if others of equal value and of the character named in this section are substituted therefor. If any securities, as provided in this act, shall depreciate in value for any cause, new securities must be added so that the deposit may at all times be kept good, and of the value of one hundred thousand dollars.

SEC. 2014c. No building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or nation, shall do business in this state without having first paid the fees prescribed in this act, and obtained from the state treasurer of Wisconsin a certificate for the deposit so made as required by the foregoing provisions, and from the commissioner of insurance of this state a certificate of authority or license, authorizing said association to do business in Wisconsin, stating that such association has complied with all the provisions of this chapter and such certificate shall be in force one year unless sooner revoked and shall be renewed from year to year, and unless so renewed and continued in force such association shall not do business in this state, and the state treasurer and commissioner may revoke such license whenever the deposit of sureties [securities] shall not be kept good and of the value of one hundred thousand dollars as provided in section 2 [2014b] of this act.

SEC. 2014d. Every building and loan association organized under the laws of any other state, territory or nation shall, before commencing to do business in this state:

1. File with the secretary of this state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation.

2. File with the state treasurer of this state the certificate of some financial officer of another state, or the president and secretary of some responsible trust company, in trust for all the members of such building and loan association.

3. File with the secretary of this state, a duly authenticated copy of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of such association stipulating and agreeing that if any legal process affecting such association be served on said secretary of state, and a copy thereof be mailed, postage prepaid, by the party procuring the issue of the same, or his attorney, to said association addressed to its home office, then such service and mailing of such process shall have the same effect as personal service on said association in this state.

4. Pay to the secretary of state twenty-five dollars for filing the papers mentioned in this section.

SEC. 2014e. When process against or affecting any foreign building and loan association is served on the secretary of state the same shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of said secretary of state and the other by him immediately mailed, postage prepaid, to the home office of said association. The word "process" in this act shall include any writ, declaration, summons or order whereby an action, writ or proceeding shall be commenced, or which be issued in or upon any action, suit or proceeding authorized by law in this state.

SEC. 2014f. Service of process according to a stipulation provided in section 4 [2014d], of this act shall be sufficient personal service on the association filing such stipulation.

SEC. 2014g. When by the laws of any other state, territory, or nation any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits, or money or securities or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on building and loan associations of this state doing business in such other state, territory, or nation, or upon their agents therein, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all building and loan associations of such other territory or nation doing business in this state and upon their agent here.

SEC. 2014h. The name "building and loan association" as used in this act shall include all corporations, societies, or organization or association doing a savings and loan or investment business, on the building society plan, whether mutual or otherwise, and whether issuing certificates of stock which matures at a time fixed in advance or not.

SEC. 2014i. Any officer, director, or agent of any foreign building and loan association, who shall in this state solicit subscriptions to the stock of such association, or who shall sell or issue, or knowingly cause to be sold or issued, to a resident of this state, any stock of such association, while said association has not on deposit as required by section 3 [2014c], of this act, securities of the value of one hundred thousand dollars, or before said association has complied with all the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or by fine and imprisonment of not less than ten days or more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2014j. Any officer, director, or agent of any building and loan association, incorporated under the laws of any other state, territory or nation who shall sell, issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued to any person in this state, any shares or stock of such association, or solicit any business for the same in this state while said association does not have in force a certificate of authority or license from the commissioner of insurance of this state authorizing such association to do business in Wisconsin, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than ten days or more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2014k. No fines or any premiums offered or paid to secure preference or priority in making loans in any mutual building and loan association, shall be deemed usurious and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now collected by law in this state.

Sec. 2014L. The president or vice-president and secretary of each building and loan association, doing business in this state, shall, annually, at the close of their respective fiscal year prepare and deposit in the office of the commissioner of insurance, a statement verified by their oath of the business of the association during the year, exhibiting the following items:

First. The amount of capital stock of the association in good standing, stating the amount subscribed during the preceding year.

Second. The amount of stock which has lapsed or been forfeited.

Third. The property or assets of the association, specifying:

1. The value of the real estate held by such association.
2. The amount of cash on hand in such association's office and, also the amount deposited in bank to credit of such association, specifying in what bank or banks the same is deposited.

3. The amount of loans secured by bonds or mortgages constituting first lien on real estate on which all interest is paid.

4. The amount of loans on which the interest shall be in arrears.

5. The amount due the association on which judgments have been obtained.

6. The amount of interest actually due and unpaid.

7. Any other property, rights, or credits of which the association may be possessed.

8. The amount derived from fines, forfeitures, lapses, or otherwise.

Fourth. The liabilities of such association, specifying:

1. The value of the shares which shall consist of a statement of all monthly dues paid thereon, together with accumulated profits, showing the amount of each.

2. Losses arising from foreclosure of mortgages or otherwise.

3. The amount of money borrowed and security given for the payment thereof.

4. The amount of all other existing claims against the association.

Fifth. The income of the association during the preceding year, specifying:

1. The amount of monthly instalments received.

2. The amount of interest money received.

3. The amount of income derived from other sources.

Sixth. The expenditures during the preceding year, specifying:

1. The amount paid officers' salaries.

2. The amount paid agents.

3. The amount paid for office expenses and rent.

Seventh. Any other items which the commissioner of insurance may require. The said commissioner shall cause said report to be published in a newspaper published in the village or city wherein is located the principal office of such association, the cost of such publication to be paid by such association. For any failure to make and deposit such annual statement, or to promptly reply in writing to any inquiry addressed by the commissioner of insurance in relation to the business of any such association, or for wilfully making any false statement therein, every such association or officer so failing or making false statement shall forfeit five hundred dollars, and for neglecting to file such annual statement an additional five hundred dollars for every month that such association shall continue thereafter to transact any business in this state, until such statement be filed, and no such statement shall be deemed to be complete under the provisions of this act unless it shall be accompanied, at the time of filing, by a payment of twenty-five dollars to the commissioner of insurance for the benefit of the state.

WYOMING.

LAWS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 29.

SECTION 1. Whenever any number of persons not less than five desire to be incorporated, as a building and loan association for the purpose of accumulating the savings and funds of its members and lending them only the funds so accumulated, they may make and execute articles of incorporation in accordance with section five hundred and one of the Revised Statutes of this territory, concerning the formation of corporations, and when they have complied with the requirements of said section and shall have filed their certificate with the secretary of the territory and otherwise as required by the general incorporation act, the persons who have so executed said certificate in duplicate with their associates and successors, shall be a body politic and corporate with the powers given to other corporations as to suing, adopting a common seal and acquiring real and personal property by the general incorporation laws of Wyoming and shall continue in existence until the stock, by payment of dues, interest and other charges shall attain a par value.

SEC. 2. Such incorporations when formed, are authorized and empowered, to levy, assess and collect from its members, such sums of money, by rates of stated dues, fines, interest on loans, and premiums bid by members for the right of precedence in taking loans, as the corporation by its bylaws may adopt; also to acquire, hold, encumber and convey all such real estate and personal property as may be legitimately pledged to it on such loans or may otherwise be transferred to it in the regular course of its business.

SEC. 3. The shares of stock of mutual loan and building associations shall be assessed at their cash value, but only the unredeemed shares of such stock shall be taxed and these shall be listed to the individual owners thereof.

SEC. 4. Whenever any number of persons not less than five desire to be incorporated as a benefit, building, loan and trust association, for the purpose of accumulating the savings and funds of its members, and lending the same to its members and others, they may make and execute certificates of incorporation in accordance with section five hundred and one of the Revised Statutes of Wyoming, concerning the creation and regulation of corporations and shall have filed one of said duplicate certificates with the secretary of the territory and the other with the county clerk of the county within which the principal office and place of business is located, and fully comply with the requirement of section five hundred and two of the Revised Statutes of Wyoming, the persons who have so executed said certificate, with their associates and successors, shall be a body politic and corporate with powers conferred on corporations by the general incorporation statutes of Wyoming.

SEC. 5. Corporations formed under the provisions of section four of this act, may issue the stock thereof in series, and with such number of shares in each series as may suit the convenience of the corporation and as may be provided by the bylaws, Provided, that each series shall have its equitable share and participation in the profits and accumulations of the corporation according to the amount paid thereon.

SEC. 6. Such corporation may issue a certain number of its shares as full paid stock to be called series "A," and the moneys arising from such full paid stock shall be used and retained by the corporation as a perpetual fund for purposes of loans and investments; Provided, that the full paid stock of any association formed under this act shall not be issued for a less amount than fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 7. Corporations formed under section four of this act shall have power to loan the funds of the association accumulated for that purpose to the members of the association and to others when thought advisable, taking notes secured by mortgage or trust deed; to buy in real estate where sold on forfeiture or otherwise; to make a debt secured thereby; to sell or otherwise encumber such real estate as the interests of the corporation may require; to buy real estate, erect buildings thereon for sale to the members of the association or others; and generally to use the funds of the associations for loans on real estate or the purchase thereof, as the interests of the corporation may seem to require and as may be provided by the bylaws, and to raise money for these purposes, may levy, assess and collect from the members whose stock is not full paid, such sums of money by rates of stated dues, fines premiums on loans, and interest on loans, as may be provided by the bylaws, and shall have and exercise all other powers incident to, and proper to be exercised to carry into effect the general purposes of the corporation.

SEC. 8. So much of the earnings of the association as may be necessary shall be set apart for the payment of expenses, including salaries to officers, servants and employes, and also the board of directors shall set aside annually or semi-annually, as may be required, from the earnings of the association, a sufficient sum to provide for any losses that may have occurred in the meantime, and the residue of the earnings and profits shall be transferred to the members borrowing and non-borrowing, ratably, according to the amount paid on the stock of such members, and to be paid to the members at such time and in such manner as the association by its bylaws shall provide.

SEC. 9. The shares of stock of an association formed under said section four of this act, shall not be subject to taxation, but all moneys accumulated by the association and all property owned by it shall be assessed to the corporation as like property is assessed to individuals and such assessment shall be made in the county where the principal office and place of business of such corporation is located.

LAWS OF 1891.

SECTION 1. Any corporation association or society, organized under the laws of any other state or government, and which is now permitted to do business in this state as a building and loan association, shall on complying with the provisions of this act, be licensed by the auditor, on the payment to him of a fee of twenty-five dollars, to do business in this state; Provided, such corporation, association or society shall first deposit with the auditor, a certified copy of its charter, articles of incorporation, bylaws and a copy of its statement of business for the preceding year, sworn to by its president and secretary or like officers, showing a detailed account of expenses and income, the number of its stockholders, the number of shares of stock retired during the preceding year, the amount of its liabilities and assets, as well as any other information required by the auditor; and said corporation shall designate a person or agent residing in this state to receive service or process for said corporation.

The license herein provided, shall be withheld, or revoked by the auditor whenever upon investigation he is satisfied that such corporation is not solvent, and in the event of any such license being revoked, the auditor shall give notice thereof by mail to the president and secretary of the corporation, and publish a notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the city of Cheyenne, and no new business shall be thereafter done by it or its agents in this state.

SEC. 2. Such corporation or association shall pay to the auditor, upon filing each annual statement, a fee of ten dollars; and in the event of its failure to make and file such statement on or before the first day of April of each year, the auditor shall revoke its license, and thereafter, or until such statement is made, it shall be deemed to be doing business unlawfully, in this state. When the auditor shall have good reason to doubt the solvency of any foreign corporation, association or society acting under the provisions of this act, and when he is not fully satisfied with the certificate of the president and secretary, or other like officer, he may proceed to make an examination of such corporation as provided by the insurance laws of this state; and should he find that it has made fraudulent or untrue statements, or that it is conducting its business in an irregular manner, or if he shall be of the opinion that any such corporation in this state is conducting its business fraudulently, or is not, in good faith, carrying out its contracts with its members and stockholders in this state, he shall report the same to the governor, who shall thereupon commence proceedings by writ of quo warranto, against such corporation, or association, requiring it to show cause why its license to do business in this state should not be revoked. And any such foreign corporation or association, now doing business in this state, that shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, within the space of ninety days after the passage thereof, shall be deemed to be doing business unlawfully; and if any agent, officer or employé of any such corporation or association shall do business in this state, or assist in, or knowingly permit the same, unless such corporation or association has complied with the provisions of the laws of this state, applicable to the same, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court. Any and all fees received by the auditor under the provisions of this act, shall be covered into the state treasury.
